PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Federal Highway Administration

[ 49 CFR Part 396 ]

[Docket No. MC-48; Notice No. 73-12]

INSPECTION AND MAINTENANCE OF COMMERCIAL MOTOR VEHICLES

Advance Notice of Proposed Rule Making

The Director of the Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety is considering the issuance of extensive amendments to Part 396 of the Motor Carrier Safety Regulations, which deals with inspection and maintenance of commercial motor vehicles which are used in interstate or foreign commerce.

Part 396 requires motor carriers who conduct operations in interstate or foreign commerce to inspect and maintain their equipment on a systematic basis. In particular, it provides that carriers must maintain prescribed records detailing the servicing, inspection, and repair that each piece of equipment has undergone (§ 396.2), and that drivers must make a daily written report to employing carriers setting forth any defects or deficiencies in their vehicles that the drivers have encountered during the day's work (§ 396.7). Part 396 also contains recommended maintenance practices and forms for use by motor carriers (§ 396.9).

Proper maintenance of commercial motor vehicles is obviously essential to safety of motor carrier operations, which the Bureau is charged by law with promoting. The basic technique used to monitor the quality of vehicle maintenance and condition is roadside inspections of commercial motor vehicles during the course of their operations. In 1971, the Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety's field staff inspected nearly 38,000 property-carrying vehicle units at roadside checkpoints in all sections of the country.

The results of these inspections do not inspire much confidence in the efficacy of current maintenance practices of some members of the motor carrier industry. Some 23.8 percent of the vehicles inspected in 1971 were found to be mechanically unsafe to the point where they were declared out of service by the inspector. These vehicles were not allowed to depart from the place of inspection until repairs to restore them to safe operating condition had been made. The proportion of inspected vehicles that has been found unserviceable has been on the increase in recent years, reaching a high point of 24.2 percent in the first half of 1971. In 1970, the out-of-service rate was 24.0 percent. In 1969 and 1968, the out-of-service rate was 23.1 percent and 22.3 percent, respectively. The historical trend, in terms of the percentage of vehicles inspected that were placed out of service, indicates that carriers' vehicle inspection and maintenance practices are becoming less and less effective as time goes on.

accident reports from for-hire carriers which indicated that one or more mechanical defects or failures were causative factors in the accidents. These accidents resulted in 50 fatalities, 962 injuries, and $7,774,110 in property damage. Faulty brake systems were by far the largest single mechanical defect: over 24 percent of the accidents involving mechanical defects reported by property carriers were attributed, in whole or in part, to brake system defects, and over 54 percent of the mechanical defect bus accidents involved failures or defects of the vehicles' brake systems. Since brake system defects rarely arise suddenly after dispatch as the result of external causes, the Bureau has concluded that a large percentage of the motor carrier accidents which are caused by defects or mechanical failures could have been prevented or had their consequences mitigated by proper vehicle inspection and maintenance practices.

Complaints to the Bureau by truck and bus drivers who allege that their employers are following poor maintenance practices are becoming commonplace. The most disturbing feature of the complaints is the frequent allegation by drivers that the carriers exhibit indifference to drivers' reports of unsafe mechanical conditions. Even if one assumes that a number of unjustified reports of this nature are made, the fact remains that the driver is one of the best sources of information about the mechanical performance of vehicles operating on the highway, and simple prudence would seem to dictate that carriers should investigate these reports. Yet, the Bureau is receiving a steadily increasing volume of complaints that drivers have repeatedly called mechanical defects to the attention of the employing carriers, and the carriers have failed to take any action in response to the reports.

For these reasons, the Director is considering revision of Part 396 of the Motor Carrier Safety Regulations for the purpose of producing better vehicle inspection and maintenance practices.

One suggestion that will be considered was made by the Professional Drivers Safety and Health Organization (PROD) in a recent petition for rulemaking seeking an amendment to § 396.7 of the regulations. The PROD petition asks the Director to amend § 396.7, which deals with the drivers' daily vehicle condition reports, so that the drivers' vehicle condition reports for the preceding 3 weeks or a complete vehicle maintenance log, or both, would have to be located on each vehicle at all times while it is being operated in interstate or foreign commerce. The maintenance log would contain a description of any mechanical repairs or maintenance work performed on the vehicle, the date when the repairs or work was performed, and the name of the mechanic who performed the work or made the repairs. In support of the petition, PROD says that drivers are presently unable to detect most safety defects by visual inspection before they are dispatched from their terminals. Requiring carriers to maintain a maintenance log in a place where a driver can examine it prior to dispatch will, according to the petition, make it possible for a driver to learn the true condition of his equipment before it is too late to do something about an unsafe vehicle.

The Director invites interested persons to comment on the amendment sought by the petitioner. In addition, interested persons are invited to submit their comments on other ideas which may form the basis for rulemaking in this area. The Director particularly invites the submission of comments on the following questions: (1) Should written pre-trip and post-trip inspection reports be required? If so, who should perform the inspection? (2) Should carriers be required to locate on each vehicle a summary of maintenance and inspection records pertaining to that vehicle, including a record of pre- and post-trip inspections and a summary of general repair and maintenance services performed? (3) Should the regulations require carriers to have a general maintenance and inspection program based on length of time or miles traveled? (4) Should the regulations prescribe specific maintenance and inspection forms for periodic vehicle inspections? If so, what should be the content of those forms? (5) What, if any, maintenance requirements should be specified for nonowned vehicles, i.e., vehicles used under trip leases, leases for less than 30 days, and permanent leases? (6) Should the regulations require that, when a motor carrier acquires a used motor vehicle, he must also acquire all maintenance and inspection records pertaining to that vehicle? If so, should the regulations require motor carriers who sell used vehicles to transfer maintenance and inspection records to the buyers? (7) What procedures should be used to resolve driver-mechanic disputes concerning whether specific conditions constitute a safety defect? (8) What safeguards or sanctions should be employed against a driver or motor carrier for willful destruction, alteration, or obliteration of data on required inspection and maintenance records?

Comments on pertinent subjects, other than those specified above, would also be welcome. Although further action in this docket may include the issuance of a notice of proposed rule making, interested persons are urged to submit their comments, even if tentative, at as early a stage as possible.

All comments should refer to the docket number and the notice number appearing at the top of this document and should be submitted in three copies to the Director, Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety, Washington, D.C. 20590. All comments received before the close of business on August 1, 1973, will be considered before further action is taken. If, after review of the comments and other available information, the Bureau concludes that an amendment to the existing regulations may be appropriate, the Director will issue a notice of proposed rule making. All comments on this advance notice will be available for public inspection in the docket room of the Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety, Room 4136, 400 Seventh Street SW., Washington, DC, both before and after the closing date for comments.

This advance notice of proposed rule making is issued under the authority of section 204 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, 49 U.S.C. 304, section 6 of the Department of Transportation Act, 49 U.S.C. 1655, and the delegations of authority by the Secretary of Transportation and the Federal Highway Administrator at 49 CFR 1.48 and 389.4, respectively.

Issued on March 8, 1973.

GATEWAY COAL CO.

Petition for Modification of Application of Mandatory Safety Standard

Notice is hereby given that Gateway Coal Co. (Petitioner) in accordance with the provisions of section 301(c) of the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969, petitions for modification of the following mandatory safety standards as they apply to the main belt haulageway at the Gateway Mine.

I. Mandatory Safety Standard, Title 30—Mineral Resources, Part 75—Mandatory Safety Standards, Underground Coal Mines.

Section 75.1103—Automatic fire warning devices. On or before May 29, 1970, devices shall be installed on all such belts which will give a warning automatically when a fire occurs on or near such belt. The Secretary shall prescribe a schedule for installing fire suppression devices on belt haulageways.

Section 75.1103-1—Automatic fire sensors. A fire sensor system shall be installed on each underground belt conveyor. Sensors so installed shall be of a type which will (a) give warning automatically when a fire occurs on or near such belt; (b) provides both audible and visual signals that permit rapid location of the fire.

The following implementing regulation sections are also applicable and the company requests a variance from these implementing regulations describing the details required in automatic sensor equipment on belt haulageways which became effective on the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, namely, August 16, 1972, and were required to be installed 180 days from the date of publication:

Section 75.1103-2—Automatic fire sensors and warning device systems, minimum requirements; general.

Section 75.1103-4—Automatic fire sensors and warning device systems; installation; minimum requirements.

Section 75.1103-5—Automatic fire warning devices, manual resetting.

Section 75.1103-6—Automatic fire sensor; actuation of fire suppression systems.

Section 75.1103-7—Electrical components; permissibility requirements.

Section 75.1103-8—Automatic fire sensors and warning device systems; inspection and test requirements.

Section 75.1103-10—Fire suppression systems; additional requirements.

II. Alternate method. Petitioner requests a modification of the aforementioned mandatory safety standards and implementing regulations as they apply to the main belt haulageway at the Gateway Mine.

The Gateway Mine has installed and presently operates a closed-circuit TV system on its main belts which monitors conditions on the belt. This closed-circuit TV system is monitored constantly during every working shift and for 4 hours after a belt is shut down by a trained man located in a control room. Because of the airflow in the mine and the location of the TV cameras monitoring each belt transfer point on the main belt, smoke can readily be detected if it occurs anywhere along the main belt and the location of a fire can be quickly determined. The control room operator can stop any belt by merely opening a switch. Through the use of a dial telephone system, men anywhere in the mine can be alerted if a fire occurs. In addition, the TV cameras monitor control boxes which indicate conditions of the belt-drive equipment for all main and face belt drives. Petitioner indicates that in all probability, before a fire would start on the belt line, conditions would be detected. Further, the belt-drive equipment has special shutdown devices built in which will, in most instances, automatically shut down the belt before fire conditions occur.

III. Measure of protection. This alternate fire detection method, on the main belt haulageway, allegedly, will detect smoke by a monitored closed-circuit TV system. This TV system also monitors control panels indicating the conditions at the belt drives. Petitioner states that this, coupled with excellent means of communication in the mine, will at all times guarantee no less than the same measure of protection afforded the miners at Gateway Mine by the mandatory safety standard and implementing regulations requiring an automatic fire sensor and warning device system on a belt haulageway.

Parties interested in this petition shall file their answer or comments and, if they wish a hearing, their request for one, on or before April 16, 1973, with the Office of Hearings and Appeals, Hearings Division, U.S. Department of the Interior, Ballston Tower No. 3, 4015 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, VA 22203. Copies of the petition are available for inspection at that address.

cated hereinabove. Issuance of Amendment No. 3 to DPR-27 is also authorized by and is pursuant to an initial decision and supplemental initial decision of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board dated December 8, 1972, and February 28, 1973, respectively, and a memorandum and order by the Atomic Safety and Licensing Appeal Board dated March 7, 1973.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

EASTERN AIR LINES, INC.

Order Regarding Engagement in Capacity Reduction Discussions in New York/Newark-San Juan Market

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 9th day of March 1973.

Eastern Air Lines has requested authority to engage in renewed capacity reduction discussions with American Airlines and Pan American World Airways, looking toward a continuation of the multilateral capacity agreement in effect in the New York/Newark-San Juan market. Eastern's request has been supported by American, Pan American, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. It is opposed by Delta Air Lines, Northwest Airlines, the National Air Carrier

NOTICES

Association and the Department of Justice.<sup>1</sup>

After consideration of Eastern's application and the comments received thereon, we have decided to allow the requested discussions. We will require, as in the past, that all discussions regarding an eventual agreement be conducted openly and that a full transcript be maintained.<sup>2</sup>

Since we will not permit the implementation of an agreement of this type prior to our approval, the position of the opposition parties appears to be adequately safeguarded at this time. Any agreement which may result shall be fileable with the Board within 15 days of consummation, after which time we will consider the merits of any objections lodged in this docket, whether technically addressed to the discussions or the agreement. We would note, however, that this market is still an exceptionally low yield one, thus requiring well above average load factors for economically sound operations; that even the relatively short duration of the present agreement has demonstrated its efficacy in dampening excessive capacity; that excessive capacity may require higher fares; and that the continued maintenance of low fares in this market constitutes a serious transportation need.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That:

1. The application of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., for approval of discussions regarding capacity reductions in the New York/Newark-San Juan market be and it hereby is approved, subject to the following conditions:

(a) Discussions shall be held in Washington, D.C., the hour and date of such meetings to be determined by the discussing carriers. A notice of such meetings shall be served upon the Civil Aeronautics Board and the persons stated in the appendix at least 7 calendar days prior to such meetings;

(b) Participation in the discussions shall be limited to carriers certificated to provide single-plane scheduled service in the New York/Newark-San Juan market;

(c) Representatives of the Civil Aeronautics Board and may other local, State, or Federal Government agency; civic trade, or consumer association or group; any air carrier expressing an interest; and the press shall be permitted to attend and view the discussions as observers;

(d) A full transcript shall be maintained of all meetings, at the expense of the carriers, and a copy of this transcript shall be filed with the Board within 10 days after the conclusion of each day's meeting, and shall be available for purchase by any person;

(e) Any agreement reached as a result of the discussions authorized herein shall be filed with the Board for approval under section 412 of the Act within 15 days of consummation thereof, accompanied by an explanatory statement and a statement of justification, and shall be served on the persons listed in the appendix hereto within the same period; Provided, That no agreement shall be implemented without having been previously approved by the Board.

<sup>2</sup> The conditions imposed herein are similar to those contained in Order 72-9-13, dated Sept. 6, 1972.

(f) Comments pertaining to any agreement filed pursuant to subparagraph (e) shall be filed within 20 days from the date of the filing of such agreement with the Board;

(g) Comments in reply to any previously filed document authorized to be filed in subparagraphs (e) and (f) shall be filed within 10 days of filing of such document;

(h) The relief granted herein shall expire within 60 days of the date of this order and may be revoked or amended at any time in the discretion of the Board; and

(i) This authorization does not extend to discussions of rates, fares, charges, or inflight or other services pertaining to air transportation.

2. Copies of this order shall be served on the persons named in the attached appendix below;

3. The motion of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., to file an otherwise unauthorized document is granted; and

4. Except to the extent granted or deferred herein the application and all other requests in this proceeding be and they hereby are denied.

This order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

DELAWARE RIVER BASIN COMMISSION

COMPREHENSIVE PLAN RELATING TO THE TOCKS ISLAND AND DELAWARE WATER GAP NATIONAL RECREATION AREA

Notice of Public Hearing

Notice is hereby given that on Thursday, March 29, 1973, the Delaware River Basin Commission will hold a public hearing on two proposed amendments to its Comprehensive Plan relating to the Tocks Island and Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area project. Texts of the proposed amendments are attached. The hearing will be held in the New Jersey Cultural Center Auditorium (adjacent to the State House) on West State Street in Trenton beginning at 2 p.m.

On September 13, 1972, the Governor of New Jersey proposed certain modifications to the Tocks Island and Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area project designed to minimize the environmental impact on communities and public facilities in the surrounding area. The subject amendments respond to two of these proposals. Hearing Item No. 1 would modify the regional liquid waste control system designed for Tocks Island area, as adopted by the Commission on March 29, 1972. Hearing Item No. 2 would conform the Commission's Comprehensive Plan to the limitations established by existing congressional authorizations for recreation development at the project.

Persons wishing to testify are requested to register with the Secretary to the Commission not later than 5 p.m. on March 27.

W. BRINTON WHITALL,
Secretary.

MARCH 6, 1973.

HEARING ITEM NO. 1

A Resolution to amend the Comprehensive Plan in relation to the protection of water quality in the Tocks Island area.

Whereas, the Commission, on March 29, 1972, incorporated in its Comprehensive Plan a regional liquid waste collection and treatment system for the Tocks Island area based upon plan Alternative V of the "Tocks Island Region Environmental Study" (TIRES), prepared for the Commission by the consulting firm of Roy F. Weston, Inc.; and

Whereas, the State of New Jersey, on September 13, 1972, proposed certain modifications to the Comprehensive Plan so as to provide for a system of local collection and treatment facilities in Warren and Sussex Counties as generally described in the TIRES report, Alternative I; and

Whereas, joint technical studies by Commission staff, in consultation with State and Federal water pollution control agencies, have developed a modified water quality management plan for the Tocks Island area that will afford adequate protection of the reservoir and the free-flowing streams within the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area; now therefore

Be it resolved by the Delaware River Basin Commission:

The Comprehensive Plan is hereby amended by deleting the plans and policies incorporated therein on March 29, 1972, by Resolution No. 72-2, and substituting therefor a new part to read as follows:

REGIONAL WATER QUALITY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM, TOCKS ISLAND AND DELAWARE WATER GAP NATIONAL RECREATION AREA

1. An areawide waste treatment management plan, based upon the policy of protection of the Tocks Island Reservoir and free-flowing streams within and adjacent to the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area, is required and approved.

2. The area to be protected is that portion of the Delaware River Basin in Orange, Pike, Monroe, Northampton, Sussex and Warren Counties above the mouth of the Paulins Kill, including the watershed of Paulins Kill, as described in Appendix K of the TIRES report and shown on a map entitled "Tocks Island Region—Water Quality Management System," dated February 1973, which map is annexed hereto and made a part hereof.

3. The areawide waste treatment management plan is based upon (a) waste flows generated by development of recreation use areas inside the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area having a combined design capacity of 42,000 persons per day and an estimated annual visitation of 4 million visitor-days; and (b) waste flows generated outside the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area as projected in Appendix K of the TIRES report for the 1980-2000 period.

4. Except as otherwise provided in this part, the level of waste treatment required by the areawide waste treatment management plan will be as follows:

A. All existing or proposed discharges of wastewaters to surface waters shall be renovated prior to such discharge by advanced waste treatment which shall include not less than 95 percent removal of BOD and soluble phosphorus, not later than July 1, 1983.

B. Land disposal of treated wastewater, to the extent authorized by the areawide waste treatment management plan, will follow secondary treatment including disinfection before the wastewater is applied to the land.

C. The use and development of groundwaters, and the disposal of treated wastewaters into the ground, will be in accordance with Commission policy contained in Resolutions 64-8 and 72-14 dated September 23, 1964, and December 12, 1972, respectively.

5. The areawide waste treatment management plan, as delineated on the map referenced in paragraph 2 of this part, is as follows:

NEW JERSEY

A. Construction prior to closure of the Tocks Island dam of public waste treatment facilities in Montague and Sandyston Townships to serve population centers tributary to the reservoir.

B. Construction of public waste treatment facilities at the Sandyston and Vancampens recreation use areas inside the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area not later than the opening of each respective recreation use area.

C. Construction of on-site public sewerage facilities at authorized upland recreation use areas within the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area not later than the development of each area. Upland recreation use areas will be served by connection to subregional plants where feasible or, alternatively, by on-site facilities.

D. Staged development of waste collection and treatment facilities in the Paulins Kill watershed to meet specific needs and schedules as they develop. Subregional waste treatment plants will be located in the vicinity of Newton, Middleville, Blairstown and Columbia. The level of waste treatment within this subregion will meet not less than current standards until July 1, 1983; thereafter the level of waste treatment will be not less than the general requirements specified in paragraph 4 of this part.

A. Construction prior to closure of the Tocks Island Dam of (a) interceptor sewers serving the region between Milford and Bushkill generally along the alignment of relocated Route 209, (b) public waste treatment facilities at Milford or, alternatively, Bushkill, and (c) public waste treatment facilities at Matamoras. These treatment facilities and the interceptor sewers will provide service on a sub-regional basis to adjacent population centers tributary to the reservoir.

B. Construction of public waste treatment facilities at the Poxono and Dingmans Creek recreation use areas inside the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area not later than the opening of the respective recreation use area.

C. Construction of on-site waste sewerage facilities at authorized upland recreation use areas within the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area not later than development of each area. Upland recreation use areas will be served by connection to sub-regional systems where feasible or, alternatively, by on-site facilities.

D. Staged development of waste collection and treatment facilities in the Brodhead Creek watershed on a regional basis. A waste treatment plant will be located near the confluence of Brodhead Creek and the Delaware River and will be available for service on a regional basis, both within and without the Brodhead Creek watershed, including the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area. The level of waste treatment within this subregion will be not less than current standards until July 1, 1983; thereafter the level of waste treatment will be not less than the general requirements specified in paragraph 4 of this part.

NEW YORK

A. Upgrading of the Port Jervis sewage treatment plant not later than closure of the Tocks Island Dam to the level provided for in the general requirements set forth in paragraph 4 of this part. At that time sewerage service by the Port Jervis system will be provided on an interim basis to immediately adjacent areas within the limits of existing facility's capacity, in accordance with section X, Article 4, of the Comprehensive Plan relating to regional requirements.

B. Prior to 1995, in areas of Orange County outside Port Jervis, phased development as needed of small-scale waste treatment plants or, alternatively, on-site disposal units. These facilities will be designed so as not to preclude possible future incorporation within subregional collection and treatment systems.

C. After about 1995, further phased extension of the Port Jervis waste treatment system into a subregional facility to serve adjacent areas in Orange County or, alternatively, construction of two new subregional waste treatment systems with a capacity of about 0.5 million gallons a day each in the Neversink subbasin and on the main Delaware River immediately upstream from Port Jervis.

6. The areawide waste treatment management plan outlined in paragraphs 4 and 5 of this part is subject to further change by the Commission in order to maximize the advantages of new technology, or adjust to changed rates and patterns of growth in the area, or conform to new water quality standards; provided, however, that any modification will meet the Commission's overall policy of providing protection to the Tocks Island Reservoir and free-flowing streams within and adjacent to the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area.

7. The siting of waste collection and treatment facilities, and the selection among alternative techniques, will be based upon engineering studies and environmental impact reviews required by statute and the Commission's regulations. Such determinations will be at the discretion of the Commission and will be based upon the policy of maximum feasible preservation of the natural physical environment and the application of sound watershed management standards.

8. Management of nonpoint sources of liquid waste in the area, and streams tributary thereto, will be in accordance with EPA policy dated January 14, 1972, and with applicable regulations, including without limitation thereto, erosion and sediment control, fertilizer application and land disposal of animal wastes.

9. Use of land application techniques to the extent provided for by paragraphs 4 and 5 of this part will not conflict with soil suitability data and criteria contained in a report entitled "Potential Use of Spray Irrigation in the Tocks Island Region" dated December 2, 1972, prepared for the Delaware River Basin Commission by William E. Sopper and Louis T. Kardos.

HEARING ITEM NO. 2

A Resolution amending the Comprehensive Plan with regard to recreation development at the proposed Tocks Island Reservoir and Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area.

Whereas, the Tocks Island Reservoir and the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area were authorized by Congress in 1962 (Public Law 85-624), and 1965 (Public Law 89-158), respectively, and have been included as part of the Commission's Comprehensive Plan; and

Whereas, the Delaware River Basin Compact (75 Stat. 688) provides for the use of the Commission's Comprehensive Plan as a means of coordinating state and federal interests in projects having a substantial effect on the basin's water resources and this authority is recognized by Public Law 89-158; and

Whereas, the Commission desires that development of recreation at the Tocks Island and Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area project shall proceed in closest consonance with Federal and State policies relating to the protection of the natural environment; and

Whereas, the National Park Service and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, in consultation with the Commission, have prepared a program designed to implement the master recreation plan for the area to the full extent of existing congressional authorizations, and to protect the natural environment of the area from adverse project impacts; now therefore

Be it resolved by the Delaware River Basin Commission:

Section VI, Part 5, Paragraph (4), of the Comprehensive Plan, relating to recreation development at the Tocks Island Reservoir and Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area is amended and supplemented to read as follows:

(4) Recreation. The Tocks Island Reservoir area and Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area together will provide recreation capacity to accommodate 4 million visitor-days annually under existing authorizations (1972). Studies by the National Park Service demonstrate that recreation benefits at the project will be of widespread regional and national significance. Accordingly, project lands are being developed under Public Law 89-158 as the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area. The lands being acquired for recreation will retain the shore area in public ownership and will provide space for development of significant recreation areas. The outstanding scenic and recreation resources of the project will thus be preserved in public trust. Various facilities will be provided for 1-day outings as well as camping. Operation of the project will consider the fishing requirements of the impoundments and the flow requirements for the stream fisheries downstream from the dam. Facilities will be provided for moving anadromous fish above the dam and consideration will be given to augmenting flows in the month of October for the purpose of moving young fish populations through the zone of low dissolved oxygen in the Delaware estuary. Hunting will be permitted during appropriate season and in accordance with reasonable regulation to assure public safety. A specific program for development of recreation use areas and facilities is delineated on a map entitled "Tocks Island Lake—Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area" dated March 5, 1973, and on file in the offices of the Delaware River Basin Commission. This program will be scaled to a total design capacity of not more than 42,000 persons, which is calculated to result in the maximum annual visitor load of not more than 4 million person-days. Any additional development of recreation use areas and facilities shall not proceed without further amendment of the Comprehensive Plan and such action by the Congress as may be required.

dian, James B. Boyle, Robert M. Vallancourt and Edwin Earl, doing business as Crown City Broadcasting Co., Pasadena, Calif., Docket No. 15762, File No. BP-16168; Voice in Pasadena, Inc., Pasadena, Calif., Docket No. 15764, File No. BP-16172; Western Broadcasting Corp., Pasadena, Calif., Docket No. 15765, File No. BP-16173; Pasadena Broadcasting Co., Pasadena, Calif., Docket No. 15766, File No. BP-16174; for construction permits. (See 38 FR 4802.)

1. Before the Commission for consideration is a request filed on March 1, 1973 by Goodson-Todman Broadcasting, Inc., that the Commission's order scheduling oral argument in this case (FCC 73-164, released February 15, 1973) be modified to permit each of the parties to reserve a portion of its allotted time for rebuttal. Goodson-Todman asserts that the parties to this proceeding represent divergent views as to several points upon which argument will be presented; that parties scheduled to argue early in the proceeding will be at a distinct disadvantage because the parties who follow will be in a position to rebut points raised by those who precede them but those scheduled for earlier presentations will have no opportunity to reply.

2. We find that there is merit to Goodson-Todman's contention and that its request should be granted. Each of the parties who is authorized to present oral argument in this proceeding will therefore be permitted to reserve a maximum of fifteen (15) minutes of its allotted time for rebuttal. In view of this modification, however, we believe that all of the principal arguments of the parties should be presented on Monday, March 19, 1973, and all rebuttals on Tuesday, March 20, 1973.

3. Accordingly, it is ordered, That our order, FCC 73-164, released February 15, 1973, which schedules oral argument in this proceeding is modified in the following respects:

(a) The principal argument of each of the parties authorized to present an oral argument in this proceeding shall be made on Monday, March 19, 1973; and that the presentation of arguments shall commence at 9 a.m., in the order specified in our February 15, 1973, order, except that Donnelly C. Reeves (KPOP) shall argue after Pasadena Broadcasting Co.;

(b) Each of the said parties is authorized to reserve a maximum of fifteen (15) minutes of its allotted time for rebuttal; and

(c) Rebuttal arguments shall be made on Tuesday, March 20, 1973, commencing at 9 a.m., in the same order as that specified for the presentation of the parties' principal arguments.

Adopted: March 7, 1973.

Released: March 9, 1973.

WESTERN COMMUNICATIONS, INC., AND LAS VEGAS VALLEY BROADCASTING, INC.

Memorandum Opinion and Order Enlarging Issues

In regard applications of Western Communications, Inc. (KORK-TV) Las Vegas, Nev. Docket No. 19519, File No. BRCT-327; for renewal of license; Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co., Las Vegas, Nev., for construction permit for new television broadcast station. Docket No. 19581, File No. BPCT-4465;

1. Western Communications, Inc.'s (Western) application for renewal of license for Television Station KORK-TV, Las Vegas, Nev. was designated for hearing by Commission Order FCC 72-503 (38 FR 1530), released June 12, 1972, 37 FR 12346, to determine whether it had engaged in certain fraudulent billing practices. There was also pending at that time a mutually exclusive application for a new television station, filed by Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. (Valley). The Commission, by Order FCC 72-767, released September 1, 1972, 37 FR 19670, redesignated Western's application and Valley's application for consolidated hearing on the issues previously designated as to Western and on a standard comparative issue. Western has now filed a motion to enlarge the issues as follows:

1. To determine whether a loan commitment from the Nevada State Bank has been withdrawn and, if so, whether Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. (a) is financially qualified, (b) has misrepresented facts to the Commission concerning the existence of the loan commitment, and (c) failed to comply with 1.65 of the Commission's rules by not reporting the withdrawal of the loan commitment;

2. To determine whether Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. will be able to obtain, or has reasonable expectations of being able to obtain, an NBC network affiliation as proposed in its application, and, if not, whether Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. (a) has misrepresented facts to the Commission concerning the existence of an affiliation agreement with the NBC Television Network, (b) can effectuate its program proposals, and (c) is financially qualified;

3. To determine the facts and circumstances surrounding the criminal convictions of Sam Cohen, a Director and subscriber to at least 10 percent of the stock of Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co., for violation of the Internal Revenue Code by filing a false wagering excise tax return (26 U.S.C. 7207) and for bookmaking, in violation of the California gambling laws, whether Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. should have informed the Commission of such facts and circumstances, and whether Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. is legally qualified to be a licensee;

4. To determine with respect to Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co.:

a. Whether, if the loan commitment it relies on from the Nevada State Bank has not been withdrawn, Las Vegas Valley Broad-

* The motion was filed on Oct. 6, 1972. Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. filed its opposition Nov. 27. The Broadcast Bureau filed comments on Nov. 24, 1972 and Western filed its reply Dec. 23, 1972. On Feb. 28, 1973, Las Vegas filed a motion for leave to file a response, which will be denied, infra, and a response to reply which will be dismissed.

casting Co., is able to meet the terms and conditions of the proposed loan;

b. Whether stock subscribers Harry E. Fichtlin, Aaron S. Gold, Addeilar D. Guy, Eugene L. Kirshbaum, James E. and Marie E. McMillan, James E. Rogers, Elizabeth W. Scott, and Clark Henry Tester, are financially qualified to meet their respective stock subscription commitments;

c. To what extent Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. proposes to rely on credit from RCA;

d. Whether the estimated revenues are reasonable in light of the absence of an NBC affiliation agreement and any reasonable expectation of such an affiliation;

e. Whether the estimated costs of construction and operation are reasonable, in view of the omission of substantial items of expense and the absence of an NBC affiliation and any reasonable expectation of such an affiliation.

f. Whether, in view of the evidence adduced pursuant to this issue and pursuant to issues 1, 2, 5, and 6, Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. is financially qualified to construct, own, and operate the proposed television broadcast station;

5. To determine whether Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. has proposed adequate studio and office facilities, and, if not, whether it can effectuate its proposal;

6. To determine with respect to the transmitter site proposed by Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co.:

a. Whether the necessary rights of access to the site can be obtained and, if so, on what terms and conditions;

b. Whether the site is suitable for use as proposed;

7. To determine whether the plans, if any, which Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. has made to comply with the Commission's equal employment opportunity requirements are in fact adequate to comply with those requirements; or, if the foregoing issue is not designated, to determine on a comparative basis the significant differences between the applicants with respect to the plans made by each applicant to comply with the Commission's equal employment opportunity requirements;

8. To determine whether Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. has failed to maintain its local public file in compliance with 1.526 of the Commission's rules;

9. To determine whether Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. has violated 1.513(b) of the Commission's rules in connection with an amendment to its application that was filed October 26, 1971;

10. To determine whether Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. has demonstrated such ineptness and/or failures to comply with 1.514 and 1.65 of the Commission's rules as to warrant disqualification of Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. to be a licensee of the Commission;

11. To determine whether in light of the evidence adduced under the preceding issues, Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. is qualified to be a licensee of the Commission;

12. To determine in the event that it is concluded that Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. is not disqualified to be a licensee of the Commission, what impact, if any, the evidence adduced under the preceding issues would have upon its comparative evaluation.

ISSUES WITH RESPECT TO VALLEY'S LOAN COMMITMENT

2. Valley proposes to rely to a substantial extent on a $1 million loan from the Nevada State Bank. Western contends that this commitment has been withdrawn and that Valley has been so advised by the Bank. In support of this contention, Western submits an affidavit from Mr. Fred W. Smith, executive vice president of Don Rey, Inc.* In that affidavit Mr. Smith states that on September 5, 1972, Mr. Harley Harmon, president of the Nevada State Bank of Las Vegas stated to him that the Nevada State Bank had withdrawn its $1 million loan commitment to Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. and that a letter advising Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. of the withdrawal had been sent by the Bank. In a later telephone conversation, Smith continues, Harmon told Smith that he could not find the letter but that Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. had been advised of the withdrawal verbally. Smith further states that he had requested Harmon to sign an affidavit concerning Nevada State Bank's withdrawal of its loan commitment to Las Vegas Valley Broadcasting Co. but Harmon declined to sign such an affidavit until he had checked with his counsel; Mr. Harmon then left the city for an extended visit but instructed Smith to check with his counsel on the matter. Smith further asserts that he had made repeated requests of Mr. Harmon's counsel but he has not been provided with such an affidavit nor has Mr. Harmon or his counsel declined to provide one. Finally, Smith notes that a copy of his affidavit is being served on Harmon. Western contends that in view of this state of affairs, issues to determine whether or not the loan relied upon by Valley will be available to it and also issues to determine whether Valley has failed to report a substantial change of decisional significance as required by 1.65 of the Commission's rules or whether it has deliberately misrepresented facts to the Commission must be added to this proceeding.

3. This showing by Western does not warrant the addition of the issues requested. Section 1.229 of the Commission's rules requires that allegations be supported by affidavits of persons with personal knowledge of the facts. Mr. Smith's affidavit is clearly hearsay. Moreover, Valley's opposition is supported by an affidavit of Mr. James E. Rogers, its president, who states that he is fully familiar with all aspects of the loan commitment from Nevada State Bank, that he personally arranged for the loan commitment, and that he has not been advised that the commitment has been withdrawn and has not had any contact with any officer of the bank concerning this matter. We cannot accept the Bureau's suggestion that even though the Smith affidavit does not comply with the requirements of the Commission's rules, Western has raised sufficient questions to warrant the inclusion of an issue to determine whether the loan will be available to Valley. Nor are we persuaded by Western's suggestion that Valley's failure to submit a current letter of commitment from the bank justifies a presumption that the bank has withdrawn its commitment.

THE NETWORK AFFILIATION ISSUE

4. Western points out that Valley has reported to the Commission that it will operate as an NBC affiliate. Yet, petitioner asserts, Valley has not discussed the possibility of affiliation with NBC or any of its officers or directors.* Moreover, Western contends that NBC would not even consider a request for a network affiliation before the applicant has a construction permit from the Commission. Western argues that, since there are four operating VHF broadcasting stations in Las Vegas, Valley has no real assurance that it will have any network affiliation whatsoever. Petitioner contends that, since Valley's entire programming proposal and a very substantial part of its financing proposal is dependent upon the acquisition of an NBC affiliation, an issue should be specified to determine (a) whether Las Vegas has misrepresented facts to the Commission concerning the existence of an affiliation agreement with NBC Television, or (b) whether it can effectuate its program proposal without a network affiliation and (c) whether it is financially qualified. Both Valley and the Broadcast Bureau oppose the addition of such an issue. They contend that Valley does not purport to have a network affiliation agreement but that the representation in its application is merely a proposal. Furthermore, they contend that in the circumstances of this case, i.e. where Valley seeks the facilities of an existing station which is now an NBC affiliate, Valley can reasonably expect to obtain such an affiliation.

5. It is clear from the documents filed by Valley that it does not now have a firm network affiliation agreement. Moreover, in the circumstances of this case, there is no real assurance that Valley will in fact be able to obtain a network agreement. Since there are four VHF stations in operation in Las Vegas, it is entirely possible that NBC could choose to affiliate with one of the other operating stations. Moreover, it is equally possible that the other networks might well choose to affiliate with the other operating stations, thus leaving Valley to operate an independent station. Such a change in circumstances may well have a very substantial effect on Valley's ability to meet its financial obligation and its ability to effectuate its proposed programming. In these circumstances, the Board will add an issue to determine whether Valley can reasonably expect to obtain a network affiliation and to ascertain, should such a station not be affiliated with a network, the effect on Valley's financial qualifications and its ability to effectuate its proposed programming. We do not believe, however, that a misrepresentation issue regarding this

Yet, petitioner asserts, Valley has not discussed the possibility of affiliation with NBC or any of its officers or directors.* Moreover, Western contends that NBC would not even consider a request for a network affiliation before the applicant has a construction permit from the Commission. Western argues that, since there are four operating VHF broadcasting stations in Las Vegas, Valley has no real assurance that it will have any network affiliation whatsoever. Petitioner contends that, since Valley's entire programming proposal and a very substantial part of its financing proposal is dependent upon the acquisition of an NBC affiliation, an issue should be specified to determine (a) whether Las Vegas has misrepresented facts to the Commission concerning the existence of an affiliation agreement with NBC Television, or (b) whether it can effectuate its program proposal without a network affiliation and (c) whether it is financially qualified. Both Valley and the Broadcast Bureau oppose the addition of such an issue. They contend that Valley does not purport to have a network affiliation agreement but that the representation in its application is merely a proposal. Furthermore, they contend that in the circumstances of this case, i.e. where Valley seeks the facilities of an existing station which is now an NBC affiliate, Valley can reasonably expect to obtain such an affiliation.

5. It is clear from the documents filed by Valley that it does not now have a firm network affiliation agreement. Moreover, in the circumstances of this case, there is no real assurance that Valley will in fact be able to obtain a network agreement. Since there are four VHF stations in operation in Las Vegas, it is entirely possible that NBC could choose to affiliate with one of the other operating stations. Moreover, it is equally possible that the other networks might well choose to affiliate with the other operating stations, thus leaving Valley to operate an independent station. Such a change in circumstances may well have a very substantial effect on Valley's ability to meet its financial obligation and its ability to effectuate its proposed programming. In these circumstances, the Board will add an issue to determine whether Valley can reasonably expect to obtain a network affiliation and to ascertain, should such a station not be affiliated with a network, the effect on Valley's financial qualifications and its ability to effectuate its proposed programming. We do not believe, however, that a misrepresentation issue regarding this mitment from the bank justifies a presumption that the bank has withdrawn its commitment.

THE NETWORK AFFILIATION ISSUE

4. Western points out that Valley has reported to the Commission that it will operate as an NBC affiliate. Yet, petitioner asserts, Valley has not discussed the possibility of affiliation with NBC or any of its officers or directors.* Moreover, Western contends that NBC would not even consider a request for a network affiliation before the applicant has a construction permit from the Commission. We do not believe, however, that a misrepresentation issue regarding this matter is warranted since Valley did not represent that it already had an affiliation agreement, and the good faith of its proposal to obtain such an agreement has not been challenged.

ISSUE CONCERNING THE CONVICTIONS OF SAM COHEN

6. Western alleges that in 1940, Sam Cohen, a principal of Valley, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of bookmaking, a violation of the California gambling laws, and was sentenced to 50 days in prison or a $1,000 fine, and that Cohen in fact paid the fine. Moreover, Western alleges that on September 25, 1964, Cohen entered a plea of nolo contendere to an alleged violation of the Internal Revenue Code for filing a false gambling Federal excise tax return, and that Cohen in fact paid a $1,000 fine for this offense. Neither of these criminal convictions were disclosed in Valley's application, petitioner points out. Western contends that Cohen should have reported this information pursuant to the requirements of FCC Form 301, section II, paragraph 10(d), which asks:

Has the applicant or any party to this application been found guilty by any court of (1) any felony, (2) any crime, not a felony, involving moral turpitude, (3) the violation of any State, territorial or local law relating to unlawful lotteries, restraints and monopolies and combinations, contracts or agreements in restraint of trade, or (4) using unfair methods of competition?

Western contends that the California bookmaking offense falls within the scope of the Commission's request for information concerning violations of the State, territorial, or local law relating to unlawful lotteries and that, while the Federal conviction for filing a false gambling tax return does not constitute a felony, it must fall within the definition of a crime involving moral turpitude; thus it should have been reported.

7. In opposition, Valley contends that the information with respect to Cohen was not reported because neither crime was a felony, neither involved moral turpitude, and neither was a violation of unlawful lottery laws. Valley points out that at the time of Cohen's conviction for bookmaking, the State of California had a separate and distinct section of its code dealing with lotteries and that bookmaking does not fall within the definition of a lottery in the State of California. With respect to the filing of a false excise tax return, Valley contends that it was not a crime involving moral turpitude, that the Internal Revenue Service brought the action as a misdemeanor because the false return was the result of a clerical error rather than any deliberate attempt on the part of Cohen to evade the payment of tax, and that the nolo contendere plea indicates that all the parties involved agree that the allegations involved were not such that a full trial was necessary. For these reasons, Cohen did not report the violations concerned. The Bureau in its comments suggests that since Western has supported its allegations with appropriate documentation the issue should be added. 8. The requested issue will not be added by the Board. Valley has demonstrated that the 1940 California conviction is not a violation of the state's lottery laws. Moreover, the Board is satisfied by Valley's explanation of the circumstances surrounding Cohen's nolo contendere plea in the false gambling excise tax return case that Valley's failure to regard this conviction as a crime involving moral turpitude was not unreasonable and that an evidentiary inquiry into this matter would not be decisive as to Valley's qualifications.

THE GENERAL FINANCIAL QUALIFICATIONS ISSUE

THE ABILITY OF VALLEY TO COMPLY WITH TERMS OF THE BANK LETTER

9. Western contends that, as a condition precedent to the issuance of its loan, the principals of Valley must have paid in $200,000 of unencumbered capital. Further, Western notes that the Valley application does not show what collateral would be available to meet this requirement. Petitioner points out that, as of the date of its petition, $92,000 of the $200,000 proposed to be paid by the principals had already been paid in; that of this amount $45,000 has already been expended in organizational costs; and that Valley estimates that its legal costs will amount to $175,000. Thus, Western contends, the paid in capital cannot be used to meet the $200,000 collateral requirement. Moreover, Western contends that the equipment which Valley proposes to purchase for its station cannot serve as collateral because it is to be purchased on credit and will be encumbered to assure the payment of the balance due on the purchase price. In these circumstances, Western argues that even if the loan commitment has not been withdrawn, as it contends, Valley will not be able to produce the necessary $200,000 in unencumbered capital. Western also contends that, even if Valley is able to meet the collateral requirements, the loan may not be available because the commitment letter refers to a corresponding bank that would participate in the loan without identifying that bank or advancing any commitment from it to participate in the proposed loan.

10. In opposition, Valley argues that the Commission found it financially qualified and that Western has advanced no evidence that it is not so qualified or that the bank loan will not be available to it. Particularly, Valley argues that Western's concept of unencumbered collateral is not warranted by the terms of the commitment letter which does not specify the nature of the collateral which will be required at the time the loan is taken down. Nor is the absence of a specific commitment on the part of a particular corresponding bank necessary for the validity of the loan commitment, Valley urges. The Bureau notes that the bank loan is an essential part of Valley's proposed financing plan and agrees that Valley may not have the necessary $200,000 in unencumbered capital as collateral for the loan.

11. An issue inquiring into the availability of the bank loan will be added. It is not clear precisely what the bank will require by way of collateral nor is it apparent what unencumbered collateral Valley will have available. Since the loan is essential to Valley's financial qualifications, an issue to clarify the matter is appropriate.

ABILITY OF WESTERN'S STOCK SUBSCRIBERS TO MEET THEIR COMMITMENTS

12. Western also contends that the financial information submitted with respect to eight of Valley's stock subscribers indicates that they are not financially qualified to meet their stock subscriptions. Insofar as Western's allegations are directed to the qualifications of Aaron S. Gold, the matter has become moot since Valley amended its application prior to designation for hearing to delete Mr. Gold as a stock subscriber and the Commission denied Western's motion to strike prejudicial portions of an amendment by memorandum opinion and order, FCC 72-1155, released December 26, 1972. FCC 2d -----

RR 2d ----- Western contends that the balance sheets of Harry E. Fichtlin, Adelaire D. Guy, Elizabeth W. Scott, Eugene L. Kirshbaum, and James E. Rogers, indicate that they do not have sufficient liquid assets in excess of current liabilities to meet their stock subscriptions. Petitioner argues that stocks and bonds listed by these stock subscribers may not be regarded as liquid assets since they have not identified those securities, the markets upon which they are traded or their current market value. Moreover, Western argues, those stock subscribers who purport to rely upon bank loans to meet their subscription obligation have not submitted sufficient information concerning the terms of the proposed loans to enable a finding that they are qualified to meet their subscriptions.

13. Each of the above-named stock subscribers now purports to rely upon a commitment for a personal loan to meet their respective subscription obligations; and have submitted personal balance sheets which afford the Board an opportunity to determine that the bank commitments are not unreasonable. See Calajay Enterprises, Inc., 32 FCC 2d 690. Stock subscribers, as distinguished from applicants, are not required to show the terms of repayment or other details of the loan agreement. Thus, as to stock subscribers Fichtlin, Guy, Scott, Kirshbaum, and Rogers, the Board finds no need to inquire further concerning their ability to meet their stock subscriptions.

14. As to stock subscribers James B. and Marie E. McMillan, Western contends that just 2 weeks after the date of their joint balance sheet showing net assets of almost one-half a million dollars, James B. McMillan was discharged in bankruptcy. The inherent inconsistency in the financial position represented by the bankruptcy proceeding as opposed to the current McMillan balance sheet warrants an issue, petitioner urges, to determine whether the McMillans have misrepresented their financial position to the Commission or whether the McMillans are able to meet their stock subscriptions. In opposition, Valley submits an affidavit from James B. McMillan which explains that in 1969, he filed a petition in bankruptcy and that he was subsequently discharged in bankruptcy. McMillan states further that the assets shown on the joint balance sheet of James B. and Marie E. McMillan were largely the personal assets of Marie McMillan before she married James and any additional assets were jointly acquired by James B. and Marie E. McMillan after the petition in bankruptcy had been filed. In these circumstances the Board is satisfied that the McMillans can meet their stock subscriptions. We are not persuaded by Western's argument that, because the assets shown on the joint balance sheets were principally the personal assets of Marie McMillan, James will not be able to meet his subscription obligation, since the assets shown on the balance were not subject to the bankruptcy. Thus, inquiry into the ability of the McMillans to meet their stock subscription is therefore not warranted. Moreover, the uncontradicted explanation proffered by McMillan clearly establishes that the balance sheet did not misrepresent the facts and accordingly no basis for a misrepresentation issue in this regard is present.

15. Western urges that, based on his balance sheet, Clark Henry Tester will not be able to meet his stock subscription. Tester will be program director of Valley's proposed station. He plans to rely upon loans from other stock subscribers to meet his $5,000 obligation. In his affidavit attached to Valley's opposition, Tester states that the repayment for this loan will be made out of current income. In light of these circumstances, an issue concerning Tester's ability to meet his stock subscription is not warranted. It is not unreasonable to assume that the entrepreneurs who are applying for a new television station are willing to lend their proposed program director the relatively small sum required to be paid by him for his stock. Nor is it improbable that Tester can meet his obligation to make repayment out of his current income. In light of the foregoing, the Board will add no issues concerning the ability of Valley stock subscribers to meet their obligations to the corporation.

ESTIMATED REVENUE ISSUE

16. Western notes that Valley's financial proposal encompasses only the costs of constructing its proposed station and operating it for 3 months. Western argues that since Valley cannot be assured of an NBC network affiliation, it cannot rely on proposed revenues to cover the remaining costs of operation during the first year. The Board agrees that, in the absence of an adequate showing that Valley can rely on an NBC network affiliation, its estimated income is too uncertain to be relied on. We do not agree with Valley's contention that the Commission precedent which requires an applicant preparing to replace existing facilities to show sufficient funds to construct and operate its station for 3 months, is applicable here. It is clear that in making determinations as to whether an applicant has sufficient funds to construct and operate its station, the Commission will take into consideration any factors which are peculiar to the given case, see Ultra-vision Broadcasting Co., 1 FCC 2d 544, 5 RR 2d 343 (1965). In this case Western has pointed out that there is a serious question as to whether Valley will be able to obtain a network affiliation, and, absent such an affiliation, there is no basis for according its estimate of revenues more weight than that ordinarily given to applicants for new facilities. In these circumstances, an appropriate issue will be added to this proceeding.

RCA CREDIT ISSUE

17. Western also argues that an examination of Valley's equipment proposal indicates that it will not require $1,470,000 worth of equipment from RCA and thus it cannot rely on $1,042,287 of deferred credit from RCA. The Board cannot accept this contention. There is no reason to assume that, should Valley require less equipment than that proposed, the deferred credit arrangement will not be available to it. Western's contention that some of the equipment proposed may be purchased elsewhere and thus not included in the RCA credit arrangement is not persuasive. Thus, in our view, Western has raised no question which warrants further inquiry into the proposed credit arrangement.

COST ESTIMATE ISSUES

18. Western has also contended that Valley has failed to take into account the cost of constructing and operating a microwave system to deliver its network programming to Las Vegas, Nev. Western further contends that it maintains an intercity microwave system to deliver its programming to Las Vegas; that the cost of the equipment for this system in 1964 was approximately $83,700; that the same equipment today would cost $95,000; and that the cost of towers, building, and access roads would be an additional $95,000. Thus petitioner asserts, to construct an appropriate intercity microwave relay system, Valley will be required to invest at least $190,000 and to expend at least $48,690 per year in operational expenses. In opposition, Valley contends that it has included the cost of microwave service in its first year's operating expense and that it based its projected first year operating costs on the costs for microwave relay service of existing stations in the Las Vegas market as reported in the Commission's annual financial reports for the market. Valley relies upon a statement in the affidavit of Mr. Rogers, its president, to the effect that Valley intended to pay any costs for intercity microwave relay from its anticipated operating expenses. Valley's conclusory statement, with no explanations of the specific costs involved or how those services will be provided is not a satisfactory answer to the allegations advanced by Western. In the Board's view, questions concerning the probable costs to Valley of obtaining the necessary microwave relay service are sufficient to warrant inquiry into this aspect of Valley's proposal.

STUDIO COSTS

19. Western alleges that Valley's proposal to lease studio space at a cost of approximately $10,000 per annum will not provide sufficient suitable space in Las Vegas to operate a VHF television station. It is Western's contention that in order to successfully operate a television station certain special equipment is required, such as: Abnormally high ceilings, special wiring which would cost a minimum of $25,000, special heavy-duty air conditioning at a cost of $15,000 over the normal building air conditioning equipment and soundproofing which would cost approximately $2,500 over normal soundproofing. Furthermore, Western argues that, for such a studio to operate successfully, it must have a minimum of 10,000 square feet of space. In support of this, it points to the space utilized by Stations KORK-TV, KLAS-TV, and KSHO-TV, all operating TV stations in Las Vegas, Nev. Western then alleges that on the current Las Vegas market, $10,000 per year can pay for no more than 6,000 square feet of refrigerated warehouse space, that this space would not be sufficient to meet Valley's requirement, nor is the space which could be acquired for this amount suitable for television studio purposes without the inclusion of special wiring, additional air conditioning and special soundproofing. In opposition, Valley submits a letter from its stock subscriber, George C. Brookman, who is also a general contractor in Las Vegas, offering to make available to Valley a building owned by him. According to Brookman the building contains approximately 7,000 square feet of open studio space which will be partitioned in any manner required by Valley at the expense of the owner, in addition, the building contains 4,000 feet of office space. Brookman states that he is offering a 10-year lease with an option to renew for an additional 10 years, and that the rental for the entire facility, including any partitioning and a transmitter house to be constructed by the owner, would be $10,000 for the first year and the balance of the term at a rental which will allow the owner a fair rate on all of the real property and improvements over the term of the lease. In its reply, Western submits photographs of the building which Brookman proposes to make available to Valley and contends that it is not properly equipped with refrigerated air conditioning and that the ceilings are probably no more than 12 feet high; thus, Western contends, the building will not be suitable for studio use. The Board, however, is satisfied that Valley can effectuate its proposal, utilizing the space offered by its stockholder Brookman on the terms described in his letter. While the arrangements may be somewhat less than optimum, we are not persuaded that Valley will be unable to operate using those proposed facilities.

TRANSMITTER SITE COSTS

20. Western contends that Valley has failed to take into account certain cost items necessary to construct its proposed transmitter. Particularly, petitioner alleges that Valley's amended application requires 275 feet of transmission line as opposed to the 150 feet set forth in the original application. Western urges that the additional 125 feet will cost approximately $2,400. Moreover, Western notes that Valley has made no provision for a transmitter house at its antenna site and contends that there is not presently any suitable space which Valley could rent at the transmitter site. It is Western's opinion that such a building would cost a minimum of $25,000. Western also points out that the only access to Valley's proposed antenna site is via privately owned roads and alleges that the cost of the use of those roads would surely exceed $3,000. Thus, Western contends, an issue inquiring into these costs should be included in this proceeding. In opposition, Valley alleges that it will not be necessary for it to construct a transmitter building at its antenna site or to lease space at that site since Mr. Brookman has agreed to construct such a building on the property occupied by its proposed studio and to make it available as part of the package for studio and office space discussed in paragraph 19, supra. Moreover, Valley attaches as Exhibit 11 of its opposition a letter from the Bell Telephone Company of Nevada advising Valley that it is not the company's policy to deny others the use of its private access roads so long as certain conditions are met. Further, Valley points to Mr. Roger's affidavit to the effect that he stands ready to negotiate with the Alta Corp.<sup>4</sup> for the use of its portion of the access road; in these circumstances, Valley contends, no issue with respect to its cost estimate in this regard is necessary. In our view, Western has raised some questions concerning costs which might be incurred by Valley obtaining access to its proposed antenna site which should be taken into account in this proceeding. Valley has not disclosed what conditions might be imposed as conditions precedent to its use of the telephone company's access road or what the cost might be. Nor does it know what terms might be required to use the Alta Corp. road from the telephone company site to the mountain top. Accordingly, an appropriate issue will be included.

PROGRAMING COSTS

21. Western also questions the validity of Valley's cost estimates in connection with its first year of operation. Essentially, Western bases its argument on its contention that Valley will not have an NBC network affiliation. In view of our prior determination that an issue concerning Valley's network affiliation must be included in this proceeding (see paragraph 5, supra), an inquiry into Valley's program costs should such an affiliation not be available is appropriate.

STUDIO AND OFFICE SPACE ISSUE

22. Western contends that the studio and office space proposed by Valley is not adequate for the operation of its television facilities and seeks an issue inquiring into this matter. Particularly, it contends that, based on the current real estate market in Las Vegas, Valley can not possibly procure the facilities that will be necessary to successfully operate its station. In view of our ruling with respect to the cost of Valley's proposed studio and office building (see paragraph 19, supra), this issue will not be added to the instant proceeding.

TRANSMITTER ACCESS AND SUITABILITY ISSUE

23. In support of this request, Western contends that Valley must obtain permission from the Department of Interior, Bureau of Land Management to use its proposed Black Mountain site and that in considering such requests the Bureau of Land Management applies the following standard:

Applicants for communications sites on this mountain will be considered on equal grounds and right of way for use will be allowed if the applicant meets the necessary criteria as established in the Federal regulations.

Western points out that Valley has not given evidence on having requested a permit for the use of Black Mountain and contends that before the Bureau of Land Management will grant such a permit, Valley must show that it has made arrangements to use the access road owned by Bell Telephone Company of Nevada, and an access road from the Bell site to the top of the mountain which is owned by Alta Corp. Furthermore, Western points out that Alta constructed its road at a total cost of approximately $90,000, and urges that, if Valley is to use this road, it will be required to reimburse Western for its share of the cost of construction and to pay its pro rata share of the maintenance of said road. Moreover, Western contends, the mountain top site proposed by Valley is not suitable to support a guyed tower since there is not sufficient level area to provide appropriate sites for the guy anchors. In support of this contention, Western submits an affidavit from its consulting engineer to the effect that the only suitable installation that could be used on Valley's Black Mountain site would be a self-supporting tower. In opposition to these contentions, Valley argues that it already has a letter from Bell Telephone Company of Nevada, indicating that Valley will be authorized to use Bell's access road under certain terms and conditions and that it stands ready to negotiate with Alta for the right to utilize its access road to the mountain top. Valley also states, based upon an affidavit of Robert K. Packard, that should the erection of a guyed tower on its proposed site not prove feasible, it has sufficient leeway in the credit proposal advanced to it by RCA to permit the construction of a self-supporting tower. In these circumstances, the Board will not add an issue to ascertain in the feasibility or suitability of Valley's proposed antenna site.<sup>5</sup>

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY ISSUE

24. Western contends that Valley's one page exhibit which purports to describe its equal employment program fails to set forth any specific practices which will be followed by that company to assure equal employment opportunity for minority group members. In the absence of a detailed program, Western contends that an issue should be added to determine what plans, if any, Valley has made with respect to an equal opportunity employment program. In opposition, Valley argues that the Commission has found it qualified in all respects other than those specified in the issues in the order designating the matter for hearing. However, Valley states, since Western has raised the question, Valley is submitting an affidavit of Mr. James E. Rogers, its president, as Exhibit 13, setting forth its equal employment opportunity program. That affidavit sets forth in considerable detail Valley's program to insure nondiscrimination in recruiting, nondiscriminatory practices with respect to placement and promotion and to insure nondiscrimination in all other areas of its employment practices. In view of these details supplied by Valley, an issue inquiring into Valley's program is not warranted.

PUBLIC INSPECTION FILE ISSUE

25. Western requests an issue to determine whether Valley has complied with § 1.526 of the Commission's rules, the local public inspection file rule. Petitioner does not question the fact that Valley maintained a public file in Las Vegas or that the file was made available to Western upon request. However, it contends that certain items which should have been in the file at the time of its inspection were not available. Those items petitioner states, consisted of certain letters and some exhibits and pages associated with amendments referred to in the file. In view of these omissions, Western contends, a § 1.526 issue should be added to this proceeding. In opposition, Valley states that its public inspection file has always been maintained in the office of its local attorney and upon any request this file has been made available. Further, Valley contends that after a careful examination of its file, it has determined that

Item 2 of Western's list, Exhibit 7 to the application with a three-page amendment, etc., does not exist; the amendment, in fact, deleted the material referred to. Valley also notes that an item described as Exhibit No. 3 by Western would not require new pages and thus was not missing. Valley submits the other documents referred to by Western as exhibits attached to its opposition. According to the affidavit of Thomas E. Lea, Las Vegas attorney for Valley and custodian of Valley's public inspection file, the file has always been maintained in his office and all of the documents referred to on page 24 of Western's motion to enlarge, were available in his office and would have been given to Western's representative had she requested those documents. However, Valley states, the September 27, 1971, letter to the Commission certifying that the public notice was published, a letter of transmittal to the Commission dated November 21 by Rourke of Welch and Morgan and a one-page letter from the Commission to Valley dated November 17, 1971, and a two-page letter to the Commission dated September 1, 1972, signed by Rourke, all were apparently mistakenly placed in a litigation file. Nevertheless, Valley contends it has made a bona fide good faith effort to maintain a complete public reference file. In view of these facts, the Board is satisfied that while the file may not have been entirely complete at the time it was provided to Western's representative, Valley has in fact made a good faith effort to maintain a complete file for public reference. Its failure to include the items described above in the file was obviously inadvertent and no useful purpose will be served by adding an issue concerning this matter.

SECTION 1.53(b) ISSUE

26. Western notes that § 1.53(b) of the Commission's rules states that:

applications, amendments thereto, and related statements of fact required by the Commission may be signed by the applicant's attorney in case of the applicant's physical disability or, absence from the United States. The attorney shall in that event set forth the reason that the application is not signed by the applicant.

Western also notes that under date of October 26, 1971, Valley submitted an amendment which was signed James E. Rogers, by Gerald S. Rourke, attorney in fact; that there was no explanation that Rogers was either physically disabled, or that he was absent from the United States; on November 2, Valley submitted a new certificate page containing the signature of James E. Rogers dated October 26, 1971. This, Western contends, raises questions as to the validity of Rogers' signature on behalf of Valley and constitutes a violation of § 1.53(b) of the Commission's rules which warrants inquiry at the hearing. In opposition, Valley submits the affidavit of James E. Rogers, who states that he is the president and a director of Valley, that Rourke, Washington, D.C., counsel for Valley, was in Las Vegas from Tuesday, October 19 to Friday, October 22 working with Rogers and other members of Valley to prepare an amendment to Valley's application; that all of the materials for the amendment were completed in draft form and were reviewed and approved by Rogers; that Rourke returned to Washington, D.C., on Friday, October 22; that the material was typed in final and ready for filing on October 26, 1972; that Rourke had on that date called Rogers to advise him that he had neglected to sign the certification page before Rourke left Las Vegas; and that Rogers and Rourke discussed possible alternatives and concluded that Rourke should sign the amendment as attorney in fact for Rogers so that it could be filed as a matter of right. Rogers states that since he was fully familiar with all of the contents of the amendment, he signed a certification page which was forwarded to Rourke and in turn submitted to the Commission to replace Rourke's signature as attorney in fact. It is apparent that Valley has not literally complied with the requirements of § 1.53(b); however in view of its explanation set forth in Roger's affidavit, it is apparent that his omission was unintentional and that Rogers fully participated in the preparation of the amendment. Thus the nunc pro tunc filing of the certification page with Rogers' signature does not require an issue in this proceeding.

THE INEPTNESS AND SECTIONS 1.514 OR 1.65 ISSUE

27. Western contends that, assuming arguendo that Valley's representations as to the availability of the loan from the Bank of Nevada and the availability of its affiliation agreements with NBC and its failure to disclose information concerning Sam Cohen were not intentional and do not disqualify Valley on character grounds, there should nevertheless be an issue specified to determine whether these as well as other alleged errors and omissions cited throughout the petition to enlarge demonstrate that Valley has been so inept and careless that it lacks the qualifications to be a station licensee. Western also argues that several alleged instances of substantial changes in the qualifications of various stockholders which have not been reported warrant the inclusion of an issue to determine whether Valley has complied with § 1.65 of the Commission's rules. Furthermore, Western alleges that Valley's failure to give an accurate picture of McMillan's financial condition as compared with that set forth in his bankruptcy proceeding and its failure to set forth the principal occupations of Babero, Guy, Moore, and Tester raise questions as to whether Valley has complied with § 1.514 of the Commission's rules. In view of all of these circumstances, Western contends that most certainly the issues requested must be added to this proceeding. In view of our rulings on the issues previously discussed in this memorandum opinion and order, neither the ineptness issue, the § 1.65 issue or the § 1.514 issue appear to be warranted. Since Fightlin and Kirshbaum are relying on bank loans to meet their subscription agreements the changes incurred by their real estate transactions have no significant effect on their ability to meet their subscriptions. Guy is also relying upon a loan and it does not appear that his divorce and property settlement will affect his ability to secure the necessary loan. Nor is it likely that Valley's failure to set forth the principal business or occupation of four of its 18 stock subscribers is likely to be of decisional significance in this proceeding. Thus, no useful purpose would be served by further inquiry into this matter.

28. Interested parties may inspect and obtain a copy of the agreement at the Washington office of the Federal Maritime Commission, 1405 I Street NW., Room 1015; or may inspect the agreement at the field offices located at New York, N.Y., New Orleans, La., and San Francisco, Calif. Comments on such agreements, including requests for hearing, may be submitted to the Secretary, Federal Maritime Commission, Washington, D.C. 20573, on or before March 26, 1973. Any person desiring a hearing on the proposed agreement shall provide a clear and concise statement of the matters upon which they desire to adduce evidence. An allegation of discrimination or unfairness shall be accompanied by a statement describing the discrimination or unfairness with particularity. If a violation of the Act or detriment to the commerce of the United States is alleged, the statement shall set forth with particularity the acts and circumstances said to constitute such violation or detriment to commerce.

A copy of any such statement should also be forwarded to the party filing the agreement (as indicated hereinafter) and the statement should indicate that this has been done.

Notice of agreement filed by:

Harold T. Quinn, Barrett Smith Schapiro & Simon, 26 Broadway, New York, NY 10004.

Agreement No. 10041, between Compania Peruana De Vapores (CPV) and Prudential-Grace Lines, Inc., provides for the establishment of a pooling, sailing and equal access to government-controlled cargo arrangement for the apportionment of freight revenues on all cargo, with certain specified exceptions, transported by the parties from U.S. Atlantic Coast ports, Maine to Key West, inclusive, to ports in Peru, including Peruvian cargo transhipped at non-Peruvian ports. The intent is that the lines will equally participate in the cargo revenues generated by both of them when operating within the scope of the agreement.

The parties will each maintain a minimum of 18 sailings per calendar year subject to conditions of force majeure. Sailings for a period of less than a calendar year will be on a pro rata basis.

Provisions with respect to adjustments in the event of sailing and space deficiencies, and pool accounting and settlement are set forth in the agreement. Prudential-Grace Lines, Inc., shall be accorded the status of a Peruvian flag line with respect to the carriage of south-bound cargo in the foreign commerce of Peru. Prudential-Grace Lines, Inc., will support applications for waivers which shall place Peruvian flag vessels of Compania Peruana De Vapores on a basis of equal opportunity with Prudential-Grace Lines, Inc. vessels with respect to the carriage of government-controlled cargo.

Agreement No. 10041 will, upon approval, cancel and supersede Agreement No. 9849, and shall remain in effect for 2 years unless earlier canceled as provided therein.

Dated: March 13, 1973.

By order of the Federal Maritime Commission.

Secretary.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. CI73-519]

DORCHESTER EXPLORATION, INC.

Notice of Amendment to Application

MARCH 12, 1973.

Take notice that on March 2, 1973, Dorchester Exploration, Inc. (Applicant), 1204 Vaughn Building, Midland, TX 79701, filed in Docket No. CI73-519 an amendment to its application pending in said docket pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the sale for resale and delivery of natural gas in interstate commerce to Northern Natural Gas Co. from acreage in Hemphill County, Tex., all as more fully set forth in the amendment which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant proposes to continue for 1 year within the contemplation of § 2.70 of the Commission's general policy and interpretations (18 CFR 2.70) a sale of natural gas initiated within the contemplation of § 157.29 of the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.29). In its amendment to the application Applicant indicates that it proposes to sell gas at 40 cents per Mcf at 14.65 p.s.i.a. plus all existing and new taxes. Initial tax reimbursement is estimated at 3 cents per Mcf.

It appears reasonable and consistent with the public interest in this case to prescribe a period shorter than 15 days for the filing of protests and petitions to intervene. Therefore, any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application as amended should on or before March 26, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules. Persons who have heretofore filed protests or petitions to intervene need not file again.

Secretary.

PROPOSED CHANGES IN RATES Order Providing for Hearing on and Suspension, and Allowing Rate Changes To Become Effective Subject to Refund

MARCH 9, 1973.

Respondents have filed proposed changes in rates and charges for jurisdictional sales of natural gas, as set forth in Appendix A below.

The proposed changed rates and charges may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds:

It is in the public interest and consistent with the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon hearings regarding the lawfulness of the proposed changes, and that the supplements herein be suspended and their use be deferred as ordered below.

The Commission orders:

(A) Under the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15, the regulations pertaining thereto (18 CFR Ch. I), and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, public hearings shall be held concerning the lawfulness of the proposed changes.

(B) Pending hearings and decisions thereon, the rate supplements herein are suspended and their use deferred until date shown in the "Date suspended until" column. Each of these supplements shall become effective, subject to refund, as of the expiration of the suspension period without any further action by the Respondent or by the Commission. Each Respondent shall comply with the refunding procedure required by the Natural Gas Act and § 154.102 of the regulations thereunder.

(C) Unless otherwise ordered by the Commission, neither the suspended supplements, nor the rate schedules sought to be altered, shall be changed until disposition of these proceedings or expiration of the suspension period, whichever is earlier.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

Does not consolidate for hearing or dispose of the several matters herein.

Bayou Oil Co. and Pauley Petroleum Inc. propose revenue sharing increases for well-head sales to Phillips Petroleum Co. from the Hugoton and Panhandle Fields in Texas R.R. District No. 10. Phillips gathers and resells the residue gas to El Paso Natural Gas Co. under its Rate Schedule No. 32 at the area rate ceiling of 17 cents per Mcf. The proposed increases do not exceed the applicable area rate ceiling but the filings are based upon an increase in El Paso's average resale rate which became effective subject to refund in Docket No. RP71-13 on July 6, 1972. Inasmuch as the subject filings are based upon a rate which is effective subject to refund, the proposed rate increases are suspended for 1 day.

The rate increases granted in these cases have been reviewed in the light of and are consistent with the Economic Stabilization Act of 1970 as amended, Executive Order No. 11695, and the rules and regulations issued thereunder.

FLORIDA GAS TRANSMISSION CORP. Notice of Application

MARCH 12, 1973.

Take notice that on March 5, 1973, Florida Gas Transmission Corp. (Applicant), Post Office Box 44, Winter Park, FL 32789, filed in Docket No. CP73-229 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act, as implemented by § 157.7(b) of the regulations thereunder (18 CFR 157.7(b)), for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction during the 12-month period commencing July 1, 1973, and operation of facilities to enable Applicant to take into its certificated main pipeline system natural gas which will be purchased from producers thereof, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The stated purpose of this budget-type application is to augment Applicant's ability to act with reasonable dispatch in contracting for and connecting to its pipeline system supplies of natural gas in areas generally coextensive with said system.

The total cost of the proposed facilities will not exceed $7 million, and no single onshore or offshore project will exceed a cost of $1 million or $1,750,000, respectively. Applicant states that these costs will be financed with internally generated funds.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before April 2, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

OKLAHOMA GAS & ELECTRIC CO.
Notice of Agreement for Electric Service
MARCH 12, 1973.

Take notice that on March 1, 1973, Oklahoma Gas & Electric Co. (OGE) tendered for filing two copies of an agreement for electric service, dated February 21, 1973, between the Oklahoma Gas & Electric Co. and KAMO Electric Cooperative, Inc.

OGE states that this agreement provides for wholesale electric service at a new point of delivery and is similar to the agreement on file with the Commission dated August 19, 1971, which provides for wholesale service at the Morrison Tap Substation point of delivery and is designated as FPC Rate Schedule No. 89.

The Company states that to provide service to this customer at this point of delivery, will add primary metering to an existing 12.5 kv. line. OGE says that the rate under which the usage at this location will be billed is the Company's PN-2 Rate Schedule, which is the standard schedule for service to Rural Electric Cooperatives. The rate schedule is designated as Exhibit A and is attached as part of the agreement. OGE also says that it is enclosing two copies of Attachment 1 which shows the estimated annual billing to the Cooperative at this new point of delivery.

The Company requests that the Commission accept the subject agreement for filing to become effective May 1, 1973, which is the estimated date for completion of the facilities necessary to provide service to the Cooperative at this location.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before March 30, 1973. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this application are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

SOUTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.
Notice of Proposed Changes in Rates and Charges
MARCH 13, 1973.

Take notice that Southern Natural Gas Co. (Southern) on March 1, 1973, tendered for filing certain revised tariff sheets to its FPC Gas Tariff, sixth revised volume No. 1 to become effective April 15, 1973. The revised tariff sheets contain proposed changes in rates and charges which would increase annual revenues for jurisdictional sales in the amount of $1,885,961, of which $1,114,035 is based upon advance payments to producers in excess of the amount of advance payments included in Southern's rate increase filing in Docket No. RP72-91 and $771,926 is for cost of transportation of gas purchased. The proposed revenue increases are over and above the rates and charges which became effective October 1, 1972, subject to refund in Dockets Nos. RP72-91 et al.

Southern states that the reasons for the proposed rate increases are: (1) Southern has included in its Docket No.

RP72-91 advance payments in the amount of $54,902,572 in its rate base and has at the present time advance payments on its books in the amount of $63,848,146 of which $8,945,574 has not been reflected in increased rates, and (2) the cost of transportation of gas purchased by Southern directly from independent producers and transported through Sea Robin Pipeline Co.'s (Sea Robin's) pipeline system. All other items of cost included in this rate filing are identical to those in the rate filings in Dockets Nos. RP72-91, et al. No other tariff changes are proposed.

Copies of the increased rate filing have been served upon all jurisdictional customers and upon interested State commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a protest, or if not previously granted intervention in Docket No. RP72-91 et al., file a petition to intervene with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before March 29, 1973. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this application are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

Secretary.

TEXACO INC.
Notice of Application
MARCH 12, 1973.

Take notice that on March 5, 1973, Texaco Inc. (Applicant), Post Office Box 60252, New Orleans, LA 70160, filed in Docket No. C173-583 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the sale for resale and delivery of natural gas in interstate commerce to United Gas Pipe Line Co., from the Iberia Field, Iberia Parish, La., all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant states that it commenced the sale of natural gas on February 24, 1973, within the contemplation of § 157.29 of the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.29) and that it proposes to continue said sale for 2 years from the end of the 60-day emergency period within the contemplation of § 2.70 of the Commission's general policy and Interpretations (18 CFR 2.70). Applicant proposes to sell 2,000 Mcf of gas per day at 45 cents per Mcf at 15.025 p.s.i.a., subject to upward and downward B.t.u. adjustment. Initial upward B.t.u. adjustment is estimated at 4.5 cents per Mcf.

It appears reasonable and consistent with the public interest in this case to prescribe a period shorter than 15 days for the filing of protests and petitions to intervene. Therefore, any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before March 26, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Secretary.

The proposed increases of Shell Oil Co., Atlantic Richfield Co. and Walter K. Arbuckle do not exceed the rate limit for a 1-day suspension and are suspended for 1 day.

The proposed increased rate of 24.15 cents per Mcf of Signal Oil and Gas Co. is for a sale of gas in North Dakota for which no formal increased rate ceiling has been established. Since the Commission has previously suspended lower rates in this area and the proposed rate exceeds the rate limit for a 1-day suspension period, Signal's proposed rate is suspended for 5 months.

All the remaining increases exceed the rate limit for a 1-day suspension, and are, therefore, suspended for 5 months.

The producers' proposed increased rates and charges exceed the applicable area price levels for increased rates as set forth in the Commission's Statement of General Policy No. 61-1, as amended (18 CFR 2.56).

The rate increases granted in these cases have been reviewed in the light of and are consistent with the Economic Stabilization Act of 1970 as amended, Executive Order No. 11695, and the rules and regulations issued thereunder.

EMPIRE DISTRICT ELECTRIC CO.

Notice of Filing of Letter of Agreement and Request for Waiver of Notice

MARCH 14, 1973.

Take notice that on March 2, 1973, the Empire District Electric Co. (Empire) filed with the Commission a letter of agreement between Empire and the Southwestern Power Administration (SPA), executed under the terms and provisions of a contract between Empire and SPA (FPC Rate Schedule No. 78, dated December 8, 1965).

The letter provides that SPA will furnish available hydroelectric energy in excess of its own requirements, and Empire will furnish an equivalent quantity at a later date to SPA, the quantity to be recorded in an "Energy Exchange Account" to be maintained by SPA. Empire will compensate SPA at the rate of $0.005 per kilowatt-hour, under SPA Rate Schedule IC, for energy not returned.

The effective term of the letter is from March 1, 1973, to June 30, 1974. In order that the terms of the agreement may be complied with, Empire requests that the Commission waive its minimum 30-day notice requirement and accept the letter for filing effective March 1, 1973.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with regard to said application should on or before March 21, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, petitions to intervene or protests in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). Persons wishing to become parties to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file petitions to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules. The application is on file with the Commission and available for public inspection.

NORTH PENN GAS CO.

Notice of Proposed Changes in Rates and Charges

MARCH 14, 1973.

Take notice that North Penn Gas Co. (North Penn) on March 2, 1973, tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1. North Penn states that the revised tariff sheets reflect an increase of 0.312 cents per Mcf in the presently effective rates. North Penn further states that the cost increase is occasioned by a tracking increase of 0.11 cents per Mcf filed December 29, 1972, by Tennessee Gas Pipeline Co. (Tennessee) to become effective March 1, 1973, and a tracking increase of 1.40 cents per Mcf filed February 12, 1973, by Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. (Transco).

North Penn also submitted for filing alternative proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1, which reflects Transco's proposed alternative tracking increase of 1.70 cents per Mcf.

North Penn requests a waiver of the Commission's prior notice requirements to enable the tracking of Tennessee's increase to be effective as of March 1, 1973, and of Transco's increase to be effective as of April 1, 1973.

North Penn states that copies of this letter of transmittal and all enclosures are being mailed to each of North Penn's jurisdictional customers and interested State commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before March 22, 1973. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this application are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

EARTH RESOURCES SURVEY TECHNOLOGY SATELLITE AND SKYLAB EARTH RESOURCES EXPERIMENT PACKAGE

Public Availability of Data

The results of experimental ERTS-1 and EREP investigations supported by NASA will be placed expeditiously in the public domain and will then be freely available for purchase by private and public parties, both foreign and domestic. This is intended to afford wide and impartial access to interim as well as final findings and thereby to accelerate the flow of program benefits to the public at large. At the same time, since these results may be preliminary and, in many cases, unproven, any social or economic implications suggested by the investigations must be viewed as tentative and not as official findings or positions of the U.S. Government.

To these ends, NASA will make available the interim and final results from its investigations to the National Technical Information Service and/or other Federal outlets, as appropriate, before other publication or use is made thereof. In making such results available through an established Federal outlet, NASA assumes no responsibility for validation of the reported findings but is acting in the public interest to provide broad and equitable access to the potential values of the NASA experimental results.

To make this position clear to all users of these results, each interim or final ERTS-1 and EREP investigation report placed in the public domain will bear the following legend: "Made available under NASA sponsorship in the interest of early and wide dissemination of Earth Resources Survey information and without liability for any use made thereof."

TARIFF COMMISSION

CERTAIN WRITING INSTRUMENTS AND NIBS THEREFOR

Resumption of Hearing

Notice is hereby given that on April 9, 1973, the U.S. Tariff Commission will resume its public hearing in connection with Investigation No. 337-30, regarding alleged unfair methods of competition and unfair acts in the importation and sale of certain writing instruments which are embraced within the claims of U.S. Patent No. 3,338,216, and nibs for such writing instruments which contribute to the practice of the claims of said patent.

The complaint alleges that the effect or tendency of the unfair methods or acts is to destroy or substantially injure an industry, efficiently and economically operated, in the United States in violation of the provisions of section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1337). Notice of institution of the investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of September 21, 1972 (37 FR 19675). A public hearing was held on March 6, 7, and 8, 1973 (notice of which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 9, 1973 (38 FR 1160)), and a recess was ordered.

The hearing will be resumed on April 9, 1973, at 10 a.m., e.s.t., in the Hearing Room of the Tariff Commission, Eighth and E Streets NW., Washington, DC. Requests for appearances at the hearing should be received by the Secretary of the Tariff Commission no later than Wednesday noon, April 4, 1973. Parties wishing to submit documentary evidence for the record, but not desiring to make an appearance, should send such evidence to the Secretary in time for inclusion in the record when the hearing resumes. Final briefs are due April 23, 1973.

Issued: March 13, 1973.

By order of the Commission.

[SEAL] KENNETH R. MASON,
Secretary.

[AA1921-112]

COLLAPSIBLE BABY STROLLERS FROM JAPAN

Determination of No Injury or Likelihood Thereof

MARCH 12, 1973.

The Treasury Department advised the Tariff Commission on December 12, 1972, that collapsible baby strollers, designed as folding strollers to be carried on the arm when not in use, from Japan are being, or are likely to be sold at less than fair value within the meaning of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended. In accordance with the requirements of section 201(a) of the Antidumping Act (19 U.S.C. 160(a)), the Tariff Commission instituted investigation No. AA1921-112 to determine whether an industry in the United States is being or is likely to be injured, or is prevented from being established, by reason of the importation of such merchandise into the United States.

Notice of the institution of the investigation and of a hearing to be held in connection therewith was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 20, 1972 (37 FR 28096). Notice of the rescheduling of the hearing date was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of February 12, 1973 (38 FR 4294). A public hearing was held on February 22, 1973.

In arriving at its determination, the Commission gave due consideration to all written submissions from interested parties, evidence adduced at the hearing, and all factual information obtained by the Commission's staff from questionnaires, personal interviews, and other sources.

On the basis of the investigation, the Commission has unanimously determined that an industry in the United States is not being or is not likely to be injured, or is not prevented from being established, by reason of the importation of collapsible baby strollers, designed as folding strollers to be carried on the arm when not in use, from Japan, sold, or likely to be sold, at less than fair value within the meaning of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended.

STATEMENT OF REASONS

The Japanese collapsible baby stroller found by the Treasury Department as being, or likely to be, sold at less than fair value (LTFV) was of a novel construction; it was lightweight and was designed to fold in a manner that permitted it to be carried on the arm like an umbrella when not in use. It was manufactured in Japan under a patent owned by O. F. MacLaren of Barby, England. The importation of such strollers from Japan began in July 1970 and terminated in November 1972. No collapsible lightweight strollers of essentially the same design as the Japanese stroller sold at LTFV were made in the United States until March 1971, when Cross River Products, Inc.—the complainant in this investigation—began the manufacture of such strollers. Throughout its brief period of importation the Japanese LTFV stroller was sold in the United States at wholesale from $18 to $19 each, while Cross River's stroller sold from $12.75 to $13.75 each, or from 33 percent to 24 percent below the price of the LTFV stroller. Thus, in the instant case three relatively rare facts in a dumping investigation were evident: (1) The imports found to be sold at LTFV were in the U.S. market first, (2) there was no margin of underselling by LTFV imports, and (3) notwithstanding the lower price of the Cross River stroller and the competition experienced therefrom by the Japanese product, the price of the Japanese stroller was not reduced.

<sup>1</sup> Commissioner Young did not participate in the decision.

NOTICES

Other relevant facts bearing on the Commission's negative determination are the minimal penetration of the U.S. market by the LTFV imports, the success with which the complainant established itself in the market, and the termination of LTFV imports.

The Japanese strollers sold at LTFV consisted of a single model. During the brief period of their importation, from July 1970 to November 1972, they entered at the rate of a few thousand units a year. The estimated production of baby strollers of all types in the United States was 1.4 million units in 1970 and 1.6 million in 1972. In relation to those quantities, the imports were negligible. Moreover, the United States is a net exporter of baby strollers and was so in 1972, even of the particular type of stroller from Japan sold at LTFV.

standard toeboard on all exposed sides, or a floor hole cover of standard strength and construction that should be hinged in place. While the cover is not in place, the floor hole is required to be constantly attended by someone or protected by a removable standard railing.

The applicant contends that it is unable to comply with this standard at its No. 3 Rod Mill. There, heavy-duty steel wire is manufactured by a compress and the mandrel in-line method which necessitates an opening in the floor, approximately 2½' x 6'. The applicant states that the required guardrails have not been installed at the floor opening because the coiled rods could become entangled upon them. Spring-loaded floor covers have been discussed, but due to the likelihood of coil tangles, broken straps, etc., the applicant argues, their use would not be practical.

The application sets forth the precautions taken to protect employees. Chain guardrails and a pipe rail and toeboards are used; unauthorized personnel are not permitted in the area; and extensive safety programs and inspections are in effect. Further, applicant contends that compliance with the standard will be achieved by the third quarter of 1973 by changing to an off-line compress and tie operation.

For further information, interested persons are referred to a copy of the application which will be made available for inspection and copying, upon request, at the Office of Standards, U.S. Department of Labor, Railway Labor Building, 400 First Street NW., Room 508, Washington, DC 20210, and at the following Regional and area office, Room 623 and suite 623 respectively at U.S. Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Penn Square Building, 1317 Filbert Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107.

All interested persons, including employers and employees who believe they would be affected by the grant or denial of the application for a variance, are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments regarding the application no later than April 17, 1973. In addition, employers and employees who believe they would be affected by a grant or denial of the variance may request a hearing on the application for a variance no later than April 17, 1973, in conformity with the requirements of 29 CFR 1905.15. Submissions of written comments and requests for a hearing should be in quadruplicate, and shall be addressed to the Office of Standards at the above address.

II. Interim Order. From the application for a temporary variance and Interim order and supporting data filed by Bethlehem Steel Corp., it appears probable that a temporary variance will be necessary to allow sufficient time for the applicant to effect its program for coming into compliance with the standard. Therefore, in order to avoid undue hardships pending the consideration of the application, it is ordered, pursuant to authority in section 6(b)(6)(A) of the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, and 29 CFR 1905.10(c), that Bethlehem Steel Corp. be, and it is hereby, authorized to continue using the means and methods of guarding the floor opening described in the application at its No. 3 Rod Mill, Sparrows Point Plant, Sparrows Point, Md. 21219 in lieu of complying with 29 CFR 1910.23(a)(8)(i) and (ii). The applicant shall give notice to affected employees of the terms of this interim order by the same means required to inform them of its application for a temporary variance.

Effective date. This interim order shall be effective as of March 16, 1973, and shall remain in effect until a decision is rendered on the application for a temporary variance.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 12th day of March 1973.

CHAIN ROBBINS,
Acting Assistant
Secretary of Labor.

I. Notice of Application. Notice is hereby given that Chemico Metals Corp., Post Office Box 187, Alton, IL 62002, has made application pursuant to section 6(d) of the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1596; 29 U.S.C. 655) and 29 CFR 1905.11 for a variance, and for an interim order pending a decision on the application for a variance, from the requirement of 29 CFR 1910.23(c)(3), which states:

Regardless of height, open-sided floors, walkways, platforms, or runways above or adjacent to dangerous equipment, pickling or galvanizing tanks, degreasing units, and similar hazards shall be guarded with a standard railing and toeboard.

The address of employment affected by this application is Chemico Metals Plant, Illinois Route 3, Oldenburg Road, Madison County, Ill. Applicant certifies that the employees who would be affected by the variance have been notified of the application by delivery of a copy to Robert F. Means, International Representative of the United Steelworkers of America, and by posting of summaries of the application on bulletin boards at the plant entrance, employees' locker room, and in the tankhouse. Employees have received notice, through the above means, of their right to petition for a hearing.

The applicant's operations involve the production of pure copper through the process of electrolytic refining. In the course of this process, employees normally stand and walk on anodes and cathodes suspended in concrete tanks (cells) containing an electrolytic solution. For a period of approximately 3 hours once every 28 days, a cell will be empty of anodes and cathodes, and would thus be subject to the requirements of 29 CFR 1910.23(c)(3). Rather than using the standard railings and toeboards as prescribed by these requirements, the applicant places red flags on standard safety cones around the areas where empty cells are located, so that they are visible from any point in the cell room. Additionally, tripod mounted signs reading "Danger—Open Cells" are placed in the only passageways leading to the cell room. The applicant points out that the tankhouse is isolated from the remainder of its facilities, that access to the cell room can be gained only via two stairways marked "Authorized Personnel Only" and that only two to four employees work in the entire area where the cells are located. Applicant argues that these factors afford the employees a degree of safety equal to or greater than that which would be afforded with the required guardrails and toeboards.

For further information, interested persons are referred to copies of the application which will be made available for inspection and copying, upon request, at the following offices:

U.S. Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Office of Standards, Room 500, 400 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20210; and

U.S. Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, 300 South Wacker Drive, Room 1200, Chicago, IL 60606.

All interested persons, including employers and employees who believe they would be affected by the grant or denial of the application for a variance, are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments regarding the application before April 14, 1973. In addition, employers and employees who believe they would be affected by the grant or denial of the variance may request a hearing on the application before April 14, 1973, in conformity with the requirements of 29 CFR 1905.15. Submissions of written comments and requests for a hearing should be in quadruplicate and shall be addressed to the Office of Standards, Room 500, 400 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20210.

II. Interim order. It appears from the application for a variance and interim order, and supporting data, filed by Chemico Metals Corp., that the open cell safeguards presently utilized in its tankhouse provide to the few employees affected employment and places of employment as safe as those which would prevail if the applicant were to make the changes necessary in order to comply with 29 CFR 1910.23(c)(3). It further appears that an interim order is necessary to prevent interruption of operations of the applicant and hardships to both the applicant and the affected employees.

Therefore, it is ordered, pursuant to authority in section 6(d) of the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 and 29 CFR 1905.11(c), that Chemico Metals Corp. be, and it is hereby, authorized to utilize the means of guarding open cells in its tankhouse as described above, in lieu of complying with 29 CFR 1910.23(c)(3): Provided, That these methods be used only for periods of about 3 hours for about once every 28 days for any given cell.

Applicant shall give notice to affected employees of the terms of this interim order by the same means used to inform them of the application for a variance.

Effective date. This interim order shall be effective as of March 15, 1973, and shall remain in effect until a decision is rendered on the application for a variance.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 12th day of March 1973.

NEVADA DEVELOPMENTAL PLAN

State Occupational Safety and Health Standards and Their Enforcement; Notice of Submission of Plan and Availability for Public Comment

1. Submission and Description of Plan. Pursuant to section 18 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 667) and § 1902.11 of Title 29, Code of Federal Regulations, notice is hereby given that a developmental occupational safety and health plan for the State of Nevada has been submitted to the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health. The Assistant Secretary has preliminarily reviewed the plan and hereby gives notice that the question of its approval is now in issue before him.

The plan designates the Department of Industrial Safety, Nevada Industrial Commission, as the agency responsible for administering the plan throughout the State.

The plan includes proposed enabling legislation to be considered by the Nevada Legislature during its 1973 session to bring the plan into conformity with the requirements of Part 1902. Under the proposed legislation, the Department of Industrial Safety becomes the Department of Occupational Safety and Health. It will have the statutory authority to implement the State occupational safety and health plan. The Department shall have full power, jurisdiction and authority over all places of employment except for those that are subject to the jurisdiction of: (1) the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969 (30 U.S.C. 801), and the Federal Metal and Nonmetallic Mine Safety Act (30 U.S.C. 271 et seq.); (2) the State Inspector of Mines under the provisions of chapter 518, Nevada Revised Statutes; (3) or any Federal Agency. Also excluded from the program will be (1) railroad employees whose safety and health are subject to protection under the Federal Safety Appliance Act (45 U.S.C. 1, et seq.) or the Federal Railroad Safety Act of 1970 (45 U.S.C. 421 et seq.); (2) motor vehicles operating on public highways of the State; and (3) certain casual and domestic employments.

There are provisions within the proposed legislation granting the State agency authority to inspect workplaces and to issue citations for violations and their abatement and there is included a prohibition against advance notice of any such inspection. The legislation is also intended to insure employer and employee representatives opportunity to accompany inspectors and to call attention to possible violations; notification of employees or their representatives when no compliance action is taken as a result of alleged violations; protection of employees who exercise rights under the program from discharge or discrimination in terms and conditions of employment; and adequate safeguards to protect trade secrets. There is provision made for the prompt restraint of imminent danger situations, and a system of penalties.

The proposed legislation is accompanied by a statement of the Governor's support for it and an opinion from the Attorney General that it will meet the requirements of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 and is consistent with the constitution and other laws of the State. There are set forth in the plan index, timetable projections for all developmental aspects of the plan. The plan contains comprehensive information on personnel to be employed directly; on agreements with other State agencies; and on the proposed budget and resources.

2. Location of Plan for Inspection and Copying. A copy of the plan may be inspected and copied during normal business hours at the following locations: Office of Federal and State Operations, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Room 305, 400 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20210; Regional Administrator, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Room 9470 Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, Box 36017, San Francisco, CA 94102; and the Director, Department of Industrial Safety, Nevada Industrial Commission, 515 East Musser Street, Carson City, NV 89701.

3. Public Participation. Interested persons are hereby given until April 16, 1973, to submit to the Assistant Secretary written data, views, and arguments concerning the plan. The submissions are to be addressed to the Director, Office of Federal and State Operations, Room 305, 400 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20210. The written comments will be available for public inspection and copying at the above address.

Copies of pages from the plan or of written comments received with respect thereto will be provided in accordance with the general Department of Labor fee schedule (29 CFR 70.62(a)).

Any interested person may request a hearing concerning the proposed plan, or any part thereof by filing particularized written objections thereto within the time allowed for comments specified above. If the Assistant Secretary finds that substantial objections are filed, he shall hold a formal or informal hearing on the subjects and issues involved.

The Assistant Secretary for Occupational Safety and Health shall thereafter consider all relevant comments and arguments presented and issue a decision as to approval or disapproval of the plan.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 12th day of March 1973.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Employment Standards Administration
MINIMUM WAGES FOR FEDERAL AND
FEDERALLY ASSISTED CONSTRUCTION
Area Wage Determination Decisions, Mod- ification, and Supersedeas Decisions

Area Wage Determination Decisions of the Secretary of Labor specify, in accordance with applicable law and on the basis of information available to the Department of Labor from its study of local wage conditions and from other sources, the basic hourly wage rates and fringe benefit payments which are determined to be prevailing for the described classes of laborers and mechanics employed in construction activity of the character and in the localities specified therein.

The determinations in these decisions of such prevailing rates and fringe benefits have been made by authority of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931, as amended (46 Stat. 1494, as amended, 40 U.S.C. 276a), and of other Federal statutes referred to in 29 CFR 1.1 (including the statutes listed at 36 FR 306 following Secretary of Labor's Order No. 24-70) containing provisions for the payment of wages which are dependent upon determinations by the Secretary of Labor under the Davis-Bacon Act; and pursuant to the provisions of Part 1 of Subtitle A of Title 29 of Code of Federal Regulations, Procedure for Predetermination of Wage Rates (37 FR 21138), and of Secretary of Labor's Orders 12-71 and 15-71 (36 FR 8755, 8756). The prevailing rates and fringe benefits determined in these decisions shall, in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing statutes, constitute the minimum wages payable on Federal and federally assisted construction projects to laborers and mechanics of the specified classes engaged on contract work of the character and in the localities described therein.

Good cause is hereby found for not utilizing notice and public procedure thereon prior to the issuance of these determinations as prescribed in 5 U.S.C. 553 and not providing for delay in effective date as prescribed in that section, because the necessity to issue construction industry wage determinations frequently and in large volume causes procedures to be impractical and contrary to the public interest.

Area Wage Determination Decisions are effective from their date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER without limitation as to time and are to be used in accordance with the provisions of 29 CFR Parts 1 and 5. Accordingly, the applicable decision together with any modififications issued subsequent to its publication date shall be made a part of every contract for performance of the described work within the geographic area indicated as required by an applicable Federal prevailing wage law and 29 CFR Part 5. The wage rates contained therein shall be the minimum paid under such contract by contractors and subcontractors on the work.

MODIFICATIONS AND SUPERSEDEAS DECISIONS TO AREA WAGE DETERMINATION DECISIONS

Modifications and Supersedeas Decisions to Area Wage Determination Decisions are based upon information obtained concerning changes in prevailing hourly wage rates and fringe benefit payments since the decisions were issued.

The determinations of prevailing rates and fringe benefits made in the Modifications and Supersedes Decisions have been made by authority of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1937, as amended (46 Stat. 1494, as amended, 40 U.S.C. 276a) and of other Federal statutes referred to in 29 CFR 1.1 (including the statutes listed at 36 FR 306 following Secretary of Labor's Order No. 24-70) containing provisions for the payment of wages which are dependent upon determination by the Secretary of Labor under the Davis-Bacon Act; and pursuant to the provisions of Part 1 of Subtitle A of Title 29 of Code of Federal Regulations, Procedure for Predetermination of Wage Rates (37 FR 21138), and of Secretary of Labor's Orders 13-71 and 15-71 (36 FR 8755, 8756). The prevailing rates and fringe benefits determined in foregoing Area Wage Determination Decisions, as hereby modified, and/or superseded shall, in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing statutes, constitute the minimum wages payable on Federal and federally assisted construction projects to laborers and mechanics of the specified classes engaged in contract work of the character and in the localities described therein.

Modifications and Supersedeas Decisions are effective from their date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER without limitation as to time and are to be used in accordance with the provisions of 29 CFR Parts 1 and 5.

Any person, organization, or governmental agency having an interest in the wages determined as prevailing is encouraged to submit wage rate information for consideration by the Department. Further information and self-explanatory forms for the purpose of submitting this data may be obtained by writing to the U.S. Department of Labor, Employment Standards Administration, Office of Special Wage Stand-

Title 18—Conservation of Power and Water Resources

CHAPTER I—FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. R-449; Order 477]

ACCOUNTING FOR ACQUISITION ADJUSTMENTS AND REVOCATION AND AMENDMENT OF OUTDATED ACCOUNTING ORDERS

MARCH 12, 1973.

On August 8, 1972, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rule making in this proceeding (37 FR 16201, August 11, 1972) proposing to amend its Uniform Systems of Accounts to allow the disposition of electric and gas plant acquisition adjustments (debit amounts) over the remaining life of the related property acquired. Revision of Account 114, Plant Acquisition Adjustments, would permit debit acquisition adjustments, other than land, to be amortized to Account 425, Miscellaneous Amortization, over a period not longer than the remaining life of the relating properties unless Commission authority is granted to do so otherwise. Amounts related to land acquisition would be amortized to Account 425 over a period of not more than 15 years.

It was further proposed that certain sections of Part 120 of the Commission's regulations under the Federal Power Act and Part 221 of the regulations under the Natural Gas Act, Miscellaneous Accounting Orders, be revoked and certain sections retitled and relocated.

Comments were invited from interested parties to be submitted by September 22, 1972. In response to this notice, the Commission received comments from 22 respondents.<sup>1</sup>

The reaction to disposition of acquisition adjustments over the remaining life of the related utility plant was generally favorable. One respondent, however, commented that selection of remaining life as the period for disposition of acquisition adjustments would prove to be arbitrary and would result in only a partial matching of revenues and expenses because the projected incremental revenues to which acquisition adjustments relate extend well beyond the remaining life of the acquired assets. The respondent suggests that the disposition of acquisition adjustments be associated with the period over which the development of the revenue potential is expected and, if a franchise exists, that the term of the franchise be used as the period of disposition. However, the "expected" period of revenue potential is indefinite as may be the franchise life because of the likelihood that the franchise will be extended. We believe, as proposed in the notice of rule making, that the disposition of acquisition adjustments over the remaining life of the related utility plant would better serve to match revenues and expenses and should be adopted.

Several respondents disagreed with the amendment to Account 114 that would provide that acquisition adjustments are to be charged to Account 425 unless otherwise authorized by the Commission on the basis that the amendment presumes that acquisition adjustments are to be disposed of to nonutility income. There was also some disagreement with the proposed disposition of land acquisition adjustments in that several respondents do not believe that the amounts should be written off at all. However, whether the Commission's original cost concept should be modified is not within the purview of this rule making, and the present provisions in Account 425 require that the amounts in Account 114 shall be written off thereto when not authorized to be included in utility operating expenses by the Commission. There is no change in this policy under this proceeding. While disposition of acquisition adjustments related to land over a 15-year period does not rest on the same theoretical foundation as the disposition of utility plant acquisition adjustments, we believe that the proposed period is reasonable and should be adopted. However, we are adopting the suggestion submitted by one respondent that when land and utility plant are acquired together that the acquisition adjustment related to the land may be disposed of over a period not to exceed the remaining life of the plant. We are also adopting a suggestion that the period of disposition of the acquisition adjustment be over a period not to exceed the "estimated" remaining life of plant. With respect to the disposition of amounts utilities now have recorded in Account 114, we are providing that such amounts may be disposed of over a period not to exceed the estimated remaining life of the related facilities at the time this order becomes effective or over a period not to exceed the remainder of the 15-year period from the time of acquisition of land, as appropriate.

The respondents to the rule making either agreed to or did not comment on the proposed amendments to the regulations under the Natural Gas Act and regulations under the Federal Power Act. One respondent asked for clarification of proposed § 260.200, Original cost statement of utility property, in the regulations under the Natural Gas Act concerning the submission of original cost data. The requirement that original cost data be submitted pertains to pipeline companies that have never been subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission and not to properties that become jurisdictional as a result of their acquisition by a jurisdictional company. The properties, of course, must be recorded at original cost in either case.

The Commission finds:

(1) The notice and opportunity to participate in this rule making proceeding with respect to the matters presently before this Commission through the submission, in writing, of data, views, comments, and suggestions in the manner described above, are consistent and in accordance with the procedural requirements prescribed by section 553 of title 5 of the United States Code.

(2) The amendments to this Commission's Uniform Systems of Accounts for Public Utilities and Licensees, Regulations Under the Federal Power Act, Uniform Systems of Accounts for Natural Gas Companies, and regulations under the Natural Gas Act herein prescribed, are necessary and appropriate for administration of the Federal Power Act and the Natural Gas Act.

(3) Since the revisions prescribed herein, which were not included in the notice of the proceeding, are of a minor nature and consistent with the prime purpose of the proposed rule making, further compliance with the notice provision of 5 U.S.C. 553 is unnecessary.

(4) Good cause exists for making the revisions to the Uniform Systems of Accounts for Public Utility Companies and Natural Gas Companies ordered and adopted herein effective January 1, 1973.

The Commission, acting pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Power Act, as amended, particularly sections 3, 4, 208, 301, 304, 308, and 309 (41 Stat. 1063, 1065; 49 Stat. 853, 854, 855, 858; 16 U.S.C. 796, 797, 824g, 825c, 825g, 825h) and of

This regulation increases the quantity of California-Arizona Valencia oranges that may be shipped to fresh market during the weekly regulation period March 9-15, 1973. The quantity that may be shipped is increased due to improved market conditions for California-Arizona Valencia oranges. The regulation and this amendment are issued pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and Marketing Order No. 908.

CHAPTER VII—NATIONAL CREDIT UNION
ADMINISTRATIONPART 701—ORGANIZATION AND OPERA-TION OF FEDERAL CREDIT UNIONSAmendments to Publications Incorporated by Reference

On pages 6181-6182 of the March 25, 1972, edition of the FEDERAL REGISTER, certain publications of the National Credit Union Administration were incorporated by reference, with the approval of the Director, Office of the Federal Register, into the rules and regulations of the National Credit Union Administration, 12 CFR Chapter VII. These publications were incorporated by establishing § 701.2 (12 CFR 701.2) and are described in §§ 701.14 (12 CFR 701.14) and 701.15 (12 CFR 701.15).

The availability of these publications is set forth in § 701.2(b) (12 CFR 701.2(b)) and §§ 701.14 (12 CFR 701.14) and 701.15 (12 CFR 701.15). These publications, including recent amendments thereto, are currently available in the manner set forth in § 701.2(b) (12 CFR 701.2(b)).

This notice of amendment to several of these publications is published pursuant to the provisions of 1 CFR 51.8(c) and 12 CFR 701.2(e). Copies of the publications, as amended, are on file with the Director, Office of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, Washington, D.C. 20408.

A brief summary of the amendments to the several publications is set forth below.

1. Accounting manual for Federal credit unions. A number of changes in the accounting procedures have been made. Some of the more significant changes deal with procedures relative to closing entries in the event of a loss from operations or as a result of the required transfer of gross earnings to regular reserve, recording appreciation for securities purchased below par, handling share accounts of nonmembers, using the supplemental reserve account and recording payroll deduction proceeds from governmental agencies prior to actual receipt of funds.

Also included are several new general ledger accounts, an optional method of offsetting losses on loans purchased from liquidating credit unions against gains on other loans purchased, procedures for collection of utility bills, procedures for the accounting of costs for buildings on Department of Defense installations, and a definition of direct and indirect costs.

2. Supervisory committee manual for Federal credit unions. This manual has been subdivided into two parts. Part 1 is the basic instructional manual for use by supervisory committees of limited experience or knowledge in bookkeeping and auditing. Part 2 is the comprehensive technical guide for the use of supervisory committees with considerable experience and knowledge in bookkeeping and auditing. There have been no major changes in the text of the manual; only in the manner of presentation. Essentially, all of Part 1 has been added while Part 2 is basically the same as the previous publication.

3. Credit manual for Federal credit unions. Discussion on the three "C"'s of credit (character, capacity, and collateral), Fair Credit Reporting Act, and mobile home loans have been added. Minor revisions in other sections were also made. Appendix A, Consumer Patterns, of the previous edition, has been deleted.

4. Organizing a Federal credit union. This revision contains certain changes in National Credit Union Administration chartering procedures and policies. Some of the more significant items are the requirement of a charter organization meeting to be held prior to submittal of the charter application and documents executed at such a meeting, and a revision of minimum potential membership guidelines. The manual also contains a revision of numerous individual policies for occupational, associational, and residential groups. Also included are the guidelines for standard amendments to Federal credit union charters and bylaws.

5. Data processing guidelines for Federal credit unions. No major changes in the text of this manual have been made. However, Appendix C, Explanation of Terms, has been added.

6. Sale and redemption of U.S. savings bonds by Federal credit unions. The recent revision updates the manual to provide current references to the Federal Credit Union Act. No major changes in the publication have been made.

7. Accounting machine handbook for Federal credit unions. Only minor revisions have been made. Format and style have been changed with the manual now divided into five chapters. An explanation of terms was added to increase reader comprehension and understanding.

NOTE: These amendments to provisions incorporated by reference approved by the Director of the Federal Register on March 15, 1973.

Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The need for an increase in the quantity of oranges available for handling during the current week results from changes that have taken place in the marketing situation since the issuance of Valencia Orange Regulation 420 (38 FR 6288). The marketing picture now indicates that there is a greater demand for Valencia oranges than existed when the regulation was made effective.

Therefore, in order to provide an opportunity for handlers to handle a sufficient volume of Valencia oranges to fill the current demand thereby making a greater quantity of Valencia oranges available to meet such increased demand, the regulation should be amended, as hereinafter set forth.

(3) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restriction on the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California.

(b) Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (iii) of § 908.720 (Valencia Orange Regulation 420, 38 FR 6288) are hereby amended to read as follows:

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, AREA LOW ROUTES, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Control Zone

The purpose of this amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is to alter the description of the Idaho Falls, Idaho, control zone. A portion of the control zone that extends to the northeast is described by the use of a bearing from Skyline NDB (formerly Idaho Falls RBN), which is scheduled for decommissioning on March 29, 1973. Accordingly, the description of the control zone needs to be altered by substituting a radial of the Idaho Falls VOR for the bearing from Skyline NDB.

Since this amendment is minor in nature and no substantive change in the regulation is effected, notice and public procedure thereon are unnecessary and good cause exists for making this amendment effective on less than 30 days' notice.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended effective March 19, 1973 as set forth below.

In § 71.171 (38 FR 351), the description of the Idaho Falls, Idaho, control zone is amended as follows:

Beginning in line 3, delete all after: " * * * to 10.5 miles southwest of the VOR;" and substitute therefor:

"within 4 miles each side of the Idaho Falls VOR 030° radial, extending from the 5-mile-radius zone to 11 miles northeast of the VOR."

PART 73—SPECIAL USE AIRSPACE

Designation of Temporary Restricted Area

On January 11, 1973, a notice of proposed rule making (NPRM) was published in the Federal Register (38 FR 1283) stating that the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) was considering an amendment to Part 73 of the Federal Aviation Regulations that would designate a temporary joint-use restricted area near Killeen, Tex. The area would be utilized for a 9-day period beginning April 23, 1973, for the joint training exercise Gallant Hand 73.

Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to participate in the rule making through submission of comments. Due consideration was given to all relevant matter presented.

One party objected to the rule. He noted that both the number of areas and the number of days proposed for the exercise are more than were designated for a similar event conducted in 1972. He also stated that he did not think he should have to ask the military to fly off his own airstrip.

In response to the above objection, a comparison was made between the restricted airspace designated for the 1972 exercise and that proposed for Gallant Hand 73. It showed that although the 1973 exercise area is subdivided, it is but slightly larger than that used in 1972. When excluded portions are considered, the total volume of airspace restricted for 1973 is actually less than that used in 1972. Further, although Gallant Hand 73 is scheduled for 9 days, the area subdivisions and exclusions, which will allow flight through the subareas while exercises are being conducted elsewhere, together with better communications, should reduce the impact upon the aviation public. However, the exercise activities will create flight hazards within the activated restricted area, and controlled access to it is therefore necessary for flight safety. This is the basis for requiring nonparticipating pilots to obtain clearance from the using agency. A wide area telecommunications service number (800-792-9800) will be provided by the using agency so that nonparticipating pilots can obtain clearances on an individual basis without charge to themselves. The number will be published in Part 3A of the Airmen's Information Manual (AIM). The Gallant Hand 73 restricted area will also be depicted in that publication.

The two other comments received interposed no additional objections; however, in one, the Air Transport Association of America (ATA) did express concern regarding problems that the restricted area may create for air carrier flights.

Release of subareas, flight path exclusions, and assistance from the communications and radar facilities provided by the using agency will enable flights to transit the area without difficulty. A new exclusion, developed after publication of the notice, was added to the restricted area description so that uninterrupted access would be provided into and out of Brownwood, Tex. This exclusion reduces the restriction by preventing exercise activity within defined portions of Subareas "A" and "B" from the surface to 5,000 feet MSL between 0600 c.s.t. and 2000 c.s.t. daily throughout the exercise.

In order to simplify describing the new exclusion noted above, the east boundary of Subarea "A" (west boundary of Subarea "B") has been modified somewhat from the description contained in the notice. Minor corrections for accuracy have also been made to some of the geographical coordinates used in the description. None of these alterations interpose any additional burden to the public.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 73 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended, effective 0901 G.m.t., March 29, 1973, as hereinafter set forth.

In § 73.63 (38 FR 669), the following temporary restricted area is added:

CHAPTER II—CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD SUBCHAPTER D—SPECIAL REGULATIONS

[Regulation SPR-67; Amdt. 6]

PART 378—INCLUSIVE TOURS BY SUPPLEMENTAL AIR CARRIERS, CERTAIN FOREIGN AIR CARRIERS, AND TOUR OPERATORS

Air/Sea Cruise Tours

Part 378 presently establishes a three-step requirement for inclusive tour charters (ITC's).<sup>1</sup> By delegated authority, staff may grant waivers to permit, on air/sea inclusive tours, daytime stops by a cruise ship in lieu of overnight stops.<sup>2</sup>

By SPDR-26C, dated October 10, 1972, the Board proposed an amendment to Part 378 to provide that the requirement for overnight hotel accommodations at a minimum of three places may be satisfied, in the case of air/sea cruises, if shipboard accommodations in port or at sea are provided for at least three nights and the ship stops at a minimum of three ports no less than 50 air miles apart.<sup>3</sup>

Six comments have been filed with respect to SPDR-26C, all of which support the proposed rule.<sup>4</sup> However, two of them request some modification, asserting that the rule as proposed would not literally apply to a common form of combined land and air itinerary, such as, for example, an air/sea cruise which combines a land stop at Miami, Fla., with cruise stops at Freeport and Nassau, both in the Bahamas.

The requested modification has merit, and we are accordingly revising the text of the rule, so as to make it clear that sea and land accommodations may be combined in such tours.

<sup>1</sup> 14 CFR § 378.2(b) (2) provides, inter alia: "The land portion of the tour must provide overnight hotel accommodations at a minimum of three places other than the point of origin * * *."

<sup>2</sup> 14 CFR § 385.13(v) (1) grants to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, authority to grant waivers of § 378.2(b) (2) to permit, on air/sea inclusive tours, daytime stop by a cruise ship in lieu of overnight stops where both of the following conditions prevail: (1) The daytime stop is of at least 12 hours' duration; and (2) the daytime stop is preceded or followed by a night at sea. By reason of the action taken herein, that staff delegation is no longer required and Part 385 is being amended contemporaneously herewith (OR-70) to delete such delegation of authority.

Since the within amendments are of a technical nature and impose no burden on anyone, we have determined to make them effective immediately.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends Part 378 of its Special Regulations (14 CFR Part 378), effective March 13, 1973, as follows:

1. Amend § 378.2(b) (2) to read as follows:

§ 378.2 Definitions.

As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires—

(b) "Inclusive tour" means * * *

(2) The land portion of the tour must provide overnight hotel accommodations at a minimum of three places other than the point of origin, such places to be no less than 50 air miles from each other: Provided, That, in the case of an "air/sea tour," overnight accommodations provided aboard a ship, while in port or at sea, may be regarded as "hotel" accommodations; And provided further, That, for any night on which accommodations are provided aboard a ship at sea, either the first port at which the ship stops following such night, or the last port at which the ship stops preceding such night, may be regarded as the "place" at which the overnight accommodations were provided.

SUBCHAPTER E—ORGANIZATION REGULATIONS

PART 385—DELEGATIONS AND REVIEW OF ACTION UNDER DELEGATION; NON-HEARING MATTERS

Deletion of Delegation of Authority to Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, To Grant Waivers Concerning Air/Sea Cruises Under Part 378

By SPR-67, issued contemporaneously herewith, the Board has amended Part 378 so as to provide for air/seacruises under prescribed conditions. This amendment to Part 378 removes the need for the Board's delegation of authority to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, to grant waivers of § 378.2(b) (2) so as to permit, on air/sea inclusive tours, daytime stops by a cruise ship in lieu of overnight stops where prescribed conditions are met. For this reason, this delegation of authority will be deleted.

Since the within regulation is a rule of agency organization, notice and public procedure thereon are not necessary and it may be made effective March 13, 1973, immediately.

Accordingly, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends § 385.13(v) of its organization regulations (14 CFR Part 385), effective by deleting and reserving subparagraph (1).

As amended § 385.13(v) will read in part as follows:

§ 385.13 Delegation to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights.

CHAPTER II—SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

PART 231—INTERPRETATIVE RELEASES RELATING TO THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933 AND GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS THEREUNDER

Use of "Sales Literature" in Investment Company Prospectuses

The Securities and Exchange Commission, both through its Advisory Committee on Investment Companies and Advisers, which submitted its report December 29, 1972, and independently through its staff is studying the substance, use of, and review procedures for investment company prospectuses.<sup>1</sup> In connection with this study, the Commission made clear that no objection will be raised if investment company issuers include in their prospectuses material which otherwise would be deemed "sales literature" as defined in the Commission's statement of policy, as amended November 5, 1957.

The Commission is continuously concerned with the "readability" and "understandability" of prospectuses, and in this regard has recognized that visual aids, as an example of one form of "sales literature," contribute to "readability" and also may make more meaningful the presentation of textual material.<sup>2</sup> Because prospectuses themselves constitute sales literature,<sup>3</sup> the Commission sees no reason why both the information required in the prospectus and the information in other sales literature cannot be presented in one document, thus insuring investors an opportunity to consider both forms of communication at one time.

In including "sales literature" in prospectuses, however, issuers should be aware of the following: (1) Sales literature should not be of such quantity as to overly lengthen the prospectus, and it should not be so placed as to obscure essential statutory disclosure; (2) sales literature included in prospectuses is subject to and must comply with the Commission's statement of policy; and (3) members of the National Association of Securities Dealers are not relieved, of course, of the filing and other requirements of the NASD with respect to investment company sales literature.

By the Commission.

Disclosure of Projections of Future Economic Performance

On November 1, 1972, the Commission announced a public rule making proceeding relating to the use, both in filings with the Commission and otherwise, of estimates, forecasts, or projections of economic performance by issuers whose securities are publicly traded (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 9844, November 1, 1972) (37 FR 23850). These hearings were ordered by the Commission for the purpose of gathering information relevant to a reassessment of Commission policies relating to disclosure of projected sales and earnings (hereafter, "projections"). The Division of Corporation Finance, in conducting the public hearings from November 20 to December 12, 1972, received testimony from 53 witnesses, including representatives of publicly held corporations, the securities industry, the academic community, the self-regulatory organizations, and the accounting and legal professions. In addition, letters from over 200 interested persons were received and made part of the public record.

The Commission has never required a company to publicly disclose its projections and does not intend to do so now. It has been the Commission's long-standing policy generally not to permit projections to be included in prospectuses and reports filed with the Commission. However, on the basis of the information obtained through the hearings and on the basis of staff recommendations and its experience in administering the securities laws, the Commission has now determined that changes in its present policies with regard to use of projections would assist in the protection of investors and would be in the public interest. The Commission recognizes that projections are currently widespread in the securities markets and are relied upon in the investment process. Persons invest with the future in mind and the market value of a security reflects the judgments of investors about the future economic performance of the issuer. Thus projections are sought by all investors, whether institutional or individual. The Commission is concerned, however, that all investors do not have equal access to this material information. Because of widespread public interest in this area and because of its importance to investors, the Commission is releasing at this time its general conclusions regarding use of projections.

Information gathered at the hearings reinforced the Commission's own observation that management's assessment of a company's future performance is information of significant importance to the investor, that such assessment should be able to be understood in light of the assumptions made, and that such information should be available, if at all, on an equitable basis to all investors. The hearings also revealed widespread dissatisfaction with the fact that there are today no guidelines or standards that the issuer, the financial analyst, or the investor can rely on in issuing or interpreting projections. In addition, public comment indicated that there were many issuers who are opposed to being required to issue public projections.

The Commission plans to take the first steps toward integrating projections into the disclosure system, but it has determined not to require issuers to generate or disclose projections. The system that the Commission envisions would apply only to issuers who choose to disclose their projections. In this connection, the Commission proposes to permit issuers who meet certain standards to include projections in filings with the Commission under the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act). The standards would include a requirement that the issuer had been a reporting company for a reasonable period of time and that it had a history of earnings and of internal budgeting. The specific standards would be included in any proposed rules when issued for comment. It is contemplated that there would be certain restrictions on the type of projection that could be filed, for example, that it relate to a minimum to sales and earnings, that it be expressed as an exact figure or within a reasonable range, that the underlying assumptions be set forth, and that it be for a reasonable period, such as a fiscal year.<sup>1</sup> The Commission believes that these limitations would help to assure that only projections that have a reasonable basis, are generally reliable, and are based on experience would be included in prospectuses and other filings.

<sup>1</sup>The Commission recognizes that tax shelter investments involve different considerations and that projections covering only 1 year would not be meaningful. Accordingly, a separate release will be issued covering such securities.

Further, the Commission contemplates that issuers who file projections with the Commission would be required to update those projections on a regular basis, as well as in the event of material changes in the projections. However, any issuer who had filed projection information in the past in registration statements or reports but who decides to omit such information in future filings, would be able to do so if it filed a statement of the reasons for that change of policy.

Although it is proposed that disclosure of projections in Commission documents would be voluntary, the Commission is also considering a requirement that all issuers who elect to disclose their projections to the public through the financial media, financial analysts, or otherwise, file such projections with the Commission on a new form that would be developed especially for the filing of projections. Statements by management confirming the projections of others would cause the projections to be imputed to management for these purposes.

The Commission has also concluded that, in order to provide adequate information for evaluating the projections made, any issuer subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act who had made a public projection during any fiscal year, should be required to file in its annual report on Form 10-K (17 CFR 249.310) for that year a statement of the projection made, the circumstances under which it was made, and a comparison of the projection with actual results and an explanation of material variances, if any.

There was extensive testimony given at the hearings on the question of verification or certification of projection information by accountants or others. The Commission is concerned as to whether such verification would be meaningful since there are no generally accepted principles or policies at the present time that could be applied in the verification process. Thus, the Commission has determined not to allow any statement of certification or verification by any third party to be disclosed in filings with the Commission, at this time. Should such principles be developed, the Commission will reconsider its position.

The Commission is aware of the fact that one of the primary deterrents to a rational and open disclosure system for projections is the fear of liability for inaccurate projections. The Commission has decided that a rule, or rules, relating to the liability provisions of the securities laws and defining the circumstances under which a projection would not be considered to be a misleading statement of a material fact, would be appropriate in connection with any changes in the Commission's policy on the use of projections. It is contemplated that such a rule would embody the concept that a projection is not a promise that it will be achieved nor be misleading if not achieved. A projection would not be considered to be a misstatement of a material fact if it were reasonably based in fact, prepared with reasonable care and carefully reviewed.

In addition to the above changes, all of which would require amendments to existing forms and reports, or development of new rules and forms, the Commission plans to issue a release setting forth its more detailed views on the issuance of projections by management, financial analysts, and other members of the financial community. The release would be particularly concerned with the liabilities involved for issuers and others making projections without reasonable bases and would contain a statement of the Commission's strong reservations about the ability of issuers with limited resources or operational histories to make reasonably based projections. The release would also deal with the problem of selective disclosure of projections and the liabilities resulting therefrom.

The Commission believes that it is in the interest of investors and issuers to move gradually in this area. Action taken in the form of proposed rules would, of necessity, be in the nature of an experiment and would be carefully monitored by the Commission. The results of the hearings conducted by the staff have convinced the Commission that now is the appropriate time to take action in this area, to recognize the realities of the situation, and to take the lead in developing standards and guidelines that will enable all issuers to understand their responsibilities and all investors to have equal access to projection information.

In summary, the Commission has determined that:

1. Disclosure of projections in Commission filings should not be required except under the circumstances set forth in paragraphs 7 and 8, below.

2. Issuers who are reporting companies and who meet certain standards relating to their earnings histories and budgeting experience should be permitted to include projections in filings made with the Commission pursuant to the Securities Act and the Exchange Act.

3. Projections disclosed in Commission filings should meet certain standards, for example, the underlying assumptions should be set forth, the projection should be of sales and earnings and expressed as a reasonably definite figure, and the projections should be for a reasonable period of time.

4. Any issuer who files projection information should be required to update the filed projection on a regular basis and whenever the issuer materially changes its projection.

5. Any issuer who has previously filed projection information should be allowed to stop filing such information if it discloses its decision and the reasons therefor.

6. No statement of verification or certification of the projections by any third party should be permitted in any filing with the Commission at this time.

7. Any issuer who discloses projections outside of filings with the Commission, whether through financial media, financial analysts, or otherwise, should be required to file such projections with the Commission on a special projection form.

8. Any issuer subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act who discloses a projection, whether in a Commission filing or not, should be required to include in its annual report on Form 10-K (17 CFR 249.310) for the fiscal year during which the projection was made, a statement of the projection made, the circumstances under which it was disclosed, and a comparison of the projection with actual results.

9. The Commission should adopt rules under the securities laws to define the circumstances under which a projection would not be considered to be a misleading statement of a material fact.

10. The Commission should issue a release setting forth certain standards for the preparation and dissemination of projections by management of public companies, financial analysts, and other members of the financial community. The release should highlight the Commission's reservations as to whether anyone who makes a projection with respect to an issuer having a limited history of operations can meet the standards necessary to avoid liability. In addition, the adverse consequences of selective disclosure of material information such as projections should be emphasized.

The Commission has directed its Division of Corporation Finance to prepare specific releases and rule and form changes necessary to implement the conclusions set forth above. The rule and form changes will be published for comment at a later date, at which time the general release described in paragraph 10 will be issued.

By the Commission.

On September 2, 1972, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (37 FR 17978) a notice of proposed rule making which set forth proposed amendments to authorize the Social Security Administration to disclose to the public: (1) At specified locations, prospective survey reports on Medicare providers of services and related material pertaining to compliance with conditions of participation; (2) prospective survey reports relating to performance of Medicare providers, with safeguards to protect the privacy of patients and others; (3) the latest review report pertaining to a particular intermediary or carrier, and in addition prospective contractor review reports; and (4) under specified conditions, the identification of providers of services, physicians, and other persons furnishing services to Medicare beneficiaries where disclosure is in the public interest. Interested persons were given the opportunity to submit within 30 days data, views, or arguments with regard to the proposed amendments.

On October 30, 1972, the President signed into law the Social Security Amendments of 1972—Public Law 92-603. Sections 299D and 249C of that law directed the Secretary to disclose certain information and reports on the administration of the Medicare program, most of which were covered by the notice of proposed rule making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 2, 1972. On the basis of the comments received pursuant to such notice of proposed rule making and the directives in sections 299D and 249C of Public Law 92-603, a number of changes were made in the proposed amendments as announced under such notice. Accordingly, such amendments are hereby adopted with the following significant changes.

Section 401.3(v) (1) has been revised to specify that prospective statements of deficiencies based on survey reports prepared by State agencies on providers of services, and the survey reports, will be available or made available at certain district offices and regional offices and that the statements of deficiencies will also be available at local public assistance offices. A corresponding change has been made in § 422.430(b) (19). In addition, the maximum time period for withholding disclosure of the statement of deficiencies and the survey report has been changed from 60 days following the receipt of the report to 90 days following the completion of the survey to comply with section 299D of Public Law 92-603 with the added condition that such time period shall not exceed 30 days following the receipt of such report by the Administration.

The maximum time period for withholding disclosure of reports specified in § 401.3(v) (2) and (3) has been reduced from 60 days to 30 days.

In accordance with section 249C of Public Law 92-603, a provision has been added to § 401.3(v) (3) authorizing the disclosure of reports relating to the evaluation of the performance of State agencies under agreements entered into pursuant to section 1864 of the Social Security Act. In accordance with the same section of Public Law 92-603, subparagraphs (2) and (3) of § 401.3(v) have been modified to provide that in the case of reports and evaluations available thereunder, references to internal tolerance rules and practices, internal working papers or other informal memoranda will be excluded.

Section 401.3(v) (4) (ii) has been modified to reflect that a finding by a carrier or intermediary that a provider of services, a physician, or other person has been engaged in a pattern of furnishing services to beneficiaries which are substantially in excess of their medical needs, as a condition to disclosure of the name of such provider, physician, or other person, can be made only after consultation with a professional medical association functioning external to program administration or, if appropriate, the State medical society. This section has also been modified to reflect that the name of any such provider, physician, or other person shall not be disclosed unless such provider, physician, or other person has first been afforded a reasonable opportunity to offer evidence on his behalf.

An amendment has been made to § 422.428 merely to conform to the change in § 422.430(b) (19).

Regulation No. 1 and Regulation No. 22 of the Social Security Administration (20 CFR 401.1 et seq. and 422.1 et seq.) are further amended as set forth below.

1. Section 401.3 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph (v) to read as follows:

AUTHORITY TO MAKE CERTAIN DETERMINATIONS UNDER FEDERAL INSURANCE CONTRIBUTIONS ACT

Section 3121(b) of the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (26 U.S.C. 3121 (b)) defines the term "employment," for purposes of taxes under that Act, to exclude service performed in the employ of the United States but not if the service is not covered by a retirement system established by a law of the United States. Section 3122 of the Act authorizes an agency head or his designee to determine whether an individual has performed service which constitutes "employment" and to determine the amount of remuneration for such service which constitutes "wages," as defined by the Act. This order delegates to the Assistant Attorney General for Administration the authority to make the determinations under section 3122.

Section 1914.4 of Part 1914 of Subchapter B of Chapter X of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding in alphabetical sequence a new entry to the table. In this entry, a complete chronology of effective dates appears for each listed community. Each date appearing in the last column of the table is followed by a designation which indicates whether the date signifies the effective date of the authorization of the sale of flood insurance in the area under the emergency or the regular flood insurance program. The entry reads as follows:

Title 47—Telecommunication CHAPTER I—FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket No. 19385; FCC 73-278]

LICENSING AND USE OF EMERGENCY LOCATOR TRANSMITTERS (ELT's)

Report and order. In the matter of amendments of Parts 1, 2, and 87 of the rules to provide for the licensing and use of emergency locator transmitters (ELT's), Docket No. 19385.

1. On January 7, 1972, we released a notice of proposed rule making in this docket. The notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 13, 1972 (37 FR 537). The notice provided for the filing of comments and reply comments by specified times that have now passed.

2. For reasons described in detail in the notice, we proposed to amend Parts 1, 2, and 87 of our rules essentially and briefly as follows:

a. To provide for licensing, testing and operation of an emergency locator transmitter (ELT) and to specify frequencies that may be assigned for ELT purposes; and

b. To include certain technical specifications for ELT's in the rules.

3. Eleven comments were received in response to the notice of proposed rule making. No reply comments were received. Listed below are the comments, and a summary of their comments.

a. Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, Washington, D.C., an association with 162,000 members: Supports the proposed rule changes and asserts it "will enhance safety."

b. National Pilots Association, Washington, D.C.: "Fully agrees" with the proposed rule changes.

c. Dillingham Corporation-Marine Services, (Dillingham), Honolulu, Hawaii, operator of vessels, primarily tugs and barges: States, in the interests of safety at sea, it is in favor of the proposed changes but suggests, for numerous detailed reasons, the changes be extended to include maritime services.

d. Marine Technology Division of Dayton Aircraft, Inc. (Mar Tech), Fort Lauderdale, Fla.: Asserts, for detailed technical reasons, that the reduced power output specified when testing an ELT with an internal test circuit cannot be met and suggests that field strength measurement in the test position be eliminated from the proposed specifications. Mar Tech states, that it conducted tests with various models of ELT's "utilizing an RF test and generating 75 mw on both frequencies with the antenna removed and the final RF amplifier output fed directly into a test light, 1 meter from the transmitter." Under those conditions, Mar Tech reports that a radiated voltage was generated that ranged from 1,500 micro v/m on 121.5 MHz and 6,000 micro v/m on 243 MHz in the case of a small, personal, portable beacon, to 5,500 micro v/m on 121.5 MHz and 29,000 micro v/m on 243 MHz in the case of a large survival-type beacon. Mar Tech also asks for authority to operate ELT's with an A3 (voice) emission.

e. Robert S. Barnes, Ann Arbor, Mich., Civil Air Patrol Commander: Supports the proposed rule changes and states that failure to adopt the changes would have an adverse effect on search and rescue operations by removing certain aircraft from the limited types of aircraft that are available for such operations.

f. J. De Blick, Midland, Mich.: Recommends adoption of the proposed rule changes and believes a filing fee for an ELT "would be an unnecessary tax on safety."

g. Anthony M. Wojcik, D.M.D., M. Sc. D., Nashua, N.H.: Is an aircraft owner and supports the rule change that would eliminate a license filing fee and the operator permit requirement in case of ELT operations.

h. The Aerospace and Flight Test Radio Coordination Council, (AFTRCC): Strongly supports the proposed rule changes except, for detailed reasons, believes the two frequencies proposed for use when testing ELT's will be inadequate and recommends instead that all the remaining aeronautical "utility ground control" frequencies (121.7, 121.75, 121.8, 121.85, and 121.9 MHz) also be made available for ELT testing and training. AFTRCC points out that there are too many locations where both the 121.6 and 121.65 MHz frequencies will be in simultaneous use and more flexibility is needed in order to select one of the several utility station frequencies that is relatively little used; AFTRCC believes that some provision should be made for operational testing of an ELT on the frequency 121.5 MHz since there will be many instances when FAA coordination is not practicable.

i. Experimental Aircraft Association, Hales Corners, Wis.: Supports the proposed elimination of the license filing fee and operator permit requirements for use of an ELT.

j. Donald A. Warfle, Xenia, Ohio: Supports the proposed elimination of the license filing fee and operator permit requirements for use of an ELT.

k. California Department of Aeronautics (CDA): Supports the elimination of filing fee and operator permit requirements for ELT's and does not object to the use of 121.6 and 121.65 MHz for development tests and training, but asserts that the operation of ELT's on 243 MHz should be expressly authorized and authority to test ELT's not equipped with internal test circuits, on 121.5 MHz, for brief "confidence checks" should be provided, and objects to use of A3 (voice) emissions on ELT's because of resultant rapid power depletion.

In addition to the foregoing comments from the public, we have been requested by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to include in any new rules adopted a provision that would permit brief operation for testing an ELT on the emergency frequency 121.5 MHz under controlled conditions. The FAA has also advised us that it concurs in the AFTRCC recommendation that all frequencies used by aeronautical utility stations be made available for assignment to ELT testing stations without interference to voice communications on those frequencies, and under FAA coordination.

4. With respect to the Dillingham comment that provisions, comparable to those proposed in this proceeding for aviation, should be included in the Commission's rules for operation of locator devices in the maritime services, we agree and a study on that subject is now nearing completion. If a notice of proposed rule making is released that proposes the operation of locator devices in the maritime services, Dillingham's comments filed in this docket will be considered in that proceeding, without prejudice to its right to file additional comments as provided in any forthcoming notice of proposed rule making on the subject.

5. Concerning the Mar Tech assertion that the specified reduced power for testing an ELT with an internal test circuit cannot be met, we do not agree. We do not consider that the tests conducted by Mar Tech resolve this question because the tests were not conducted under the conditions specified in our proposed rule making; i.e., with the transmitter output switched to an internal test circuit (dummy load). We believe, however, that to specify a fixed limit on radiation level at this time may be unrealistic and undesirable in view of the various sizes and characteristics of ELT chassis and case configurations which ordinarily could be expected to technically influence the radiation emitted from an ELT. We are, therefore, amending the rule by omitting the proposed 15 microvolts per meter and providing in lieu thereof that radiation must be reduced to the minimum practicable level. If this test procedure for ELT's with internal test circuits proves to be inadequate and causes interference to other stations or creates false distress situations, we will consider further rule changes to cope with that matter. The Mar Tech request that provision for operation of an ELT with a 6A3 (voice) emission is not considered desirable and will not be adopted. It has long been our policy to not authorize the use of single channel transmitters in the aviation service. A single channel aircraft transmitter would most likely be equipped with the emergency frequency 121.5 MHz and we believe there would be a tendency for a pilot to use that frequency for routine operational voice communications, to the degradation of the frequency for emergency communications. It is our deliberate intention in this rulemaking proceeding not to depart substantively from this longstanding policy. As stated in our notice of proposed rule making, we proposed here, in the interests of safety and to aid in implementing new legislation requiring, in some aircraft, the locator beacons, to permit the licensing of a single channel transmitter designated an ELT, but only when it is operated with an A9 (and not a voice) emission. If a licensee desires to operate on the emergency frequency 121.5 MHz with an A3 (voice) emission, there is already adequate provisions in the rules to permit him to do so under the conditions specified in our rules. In such a case, however, an operator permit and an application filing fee are required.

6. We agree with the AFTRCC recommendation for the reasons furnished that all utility station frequencies be made available for assignment to test ELT's at the design and maintenance stages and we are expanding § 87.521(e) of the rules to include all these frequencies. No reply comments were received objecting to this recommendation and the FAA which primarily uses these frequencies in its aerodrome control activities, or is involved in the use of the frequencies by our licensees who operate aerodrome control stations, concurs in making all seven of the frequencies available for ELT test and training purposes. Provided, That coordination is established in each instance with the appropriate FAA Regional Frequency Management Office. Additionally, the matter has been reviewed by the Interdepartment Radio Advisory Committee which interposed no objections to this use of all the utility frequencies.

7. We also agree with the FAA, CDA, and AFTRCC, for the reasons they provide, that provision should be made for brief operational tests of ELT's on 121.5 MHz and we are modifying the rule to so provide.

8. In our definitions for ELT's in Parts 1 and 87 of the rules we will delete the word "ship" from that part of the definition that describes an ELT as "... part of an aircraft, ship, or survival craft station." At the time we released the ELT NPRM, we had under study a similar rulemaking proceeding for Part 83 (Stations on Shipboard in the Maritime Services) and we contemplated that the same definition would be suitable in both services for a piece of equipment that is essentially identical, except that in the maritime community it is generally identified as an EPIRB (emergency position indicating radio beacon). We intended, if possible, to avoid the confusion that could result from having two names and definitions in our rules for essentially the identical piece of equipment. It appears, however, that the maritime community may desire a slightly different definition for a similar transmitter when it is operated in the maritime services. We will, therefore, in this proceeding, orient our definition of an ELT toward operation in the aviation services, with the possibility that we may yet, in the Part 83 proceeding, arrive at a single definition that is acceptable to both the aviation and maritime communities. Additionally, in this proceeding, we are amending § 87.183(1) to permit the use of an ELT on 243 MHz with the new A9 emission specified in the new rule § 87.67.

9. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, pursuant to the authority contained in sections 4(i), 303(r), and 318 to the Communications Act of 1934 as amended, Parts 1, 2, and 87 of the Commission's rules, are amended, effective April 23, 1973, as set forth below.

10. It is further ordered, That, the proceeding in this docket is terminated.

Adopted: March 7, 1973.

PART 87—AVIATION SERVICES

III. Part 87 of the rules is amended as follows:

1 Commissioner Reid absent.

1. In § 87.5 of the rules new definitions, Emergency locator transmitter and Emergency locator transmitter test station are added, in alphabetical order, to read as follows:

§ 87.5 Definition of terms.

Emergency locator transmitter. A transmitter intended to be actuated manually or automatically and operated automatically as part of an aircraft or a survival craft station, with an A9 emission, as a locating aid for survival purposes.

Emergency locator transmitter test station. A land station, operated with an A9 emission on the frequencies used for testing emergency locator transmitters, for testing equipment intended to be used as emergency locator transmitters, or for training in the use of emergency locator transmitters.

2. A footnote 6 indicator is added to the emission 13A9 in the emission designator column in § 87.67(b) (1) of the rules, and a new 3.2A9 emission with footnote 7, and a new footnote 7, is added as follows:

§ 87.67 Types of emission.

Class of emission	Emission designator	Authorized bandwidth
		Below 50 MHz	Above 50 MHz	Frequency deviation
		kilohertz	kilohertz	kilohertz
A3J	3A3J	4.0
A9	13A9 <sup>6</sup>
FL	1.7FL

<sup>6</sup> Applicable only to emergency locator transmitters, and emergency locator transmitter test stations, employing modulation in accordance with that specified in § 87.73(h) of the rules. The specified bandwidth and modulation requirements shall apply to emergency locator transmitters for which type acceptance is granted after April 23, 1973; to all such transmitters first installed after October 21, 1973; and to all such transmitters after December 30, 1976.

3. A new paragraph (h) is added in § 87.73 of the rules as follows:

§ 87.73 Modulation requirements.

(h) Emergency locator transmitters, and emergency locator transmitter test stations shall employ amplitude modulation of the carrier with an audio frequency sweeping downward over a range of not less than 700 Hz, within the range 1600 to 300 Hz, with a sweep rate between two and four times per second. The modulation applied to the carrier shall be in accordance with that specified in the Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics (RTCA) Documents Nos. DO-145 or DO-146 (available from Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics, Room 655, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, DC 20006).

4. Section 87.93 is amended to read as follows:

§ 87.93 Routine tests.

(a) The licensees of all classes of stations in the aviation services are authorized to make such routine tests, other than emergency locator transmitter tests, as may be required for the proper maintenance of the stations provided that adequate precautions are taken to insure that there is no interference with the communications of any other station.

(b) An emergency locator transmitter (ELT) may be tested only under the conditions set forth below.

(1) An ELT fitted with an internal test circuit having a manually activated test switch and an output indicator may be tested provided that the switch, in the test position:

(i) Permits the operator to determine that the unit is operative;

(ii) Switches the transmitter output to a test circuit (dummy load), the impedance of which is equivalent to that of the antenna affixed to the ELT; and

(iii) Reduces radiation to the minimum level that is technically feasible.

(2) An ELT not fitted with an internal test circuit may be tested in coordination with, or under the control of, a Federal Aviation Administration representative to insure that testing is conducted under electronic shielding, or other conditions, sufficient to insure that no transmission of radiated energy occurs that could be received by a radio station and result in a false distress signal. If testing with FAA involvement as described above is not practicable or feasible, brief operational tests are authorized provided the tests are conducted within the first 5 minutes of any hour, are not longer than three audio sweeps, and, if the antenna is removable, a dummy load is substituted during the test.

5. Section 87.139(a) (2) of the rules is amended as follows:

§ 87.139 Operator licenses not required for certain operations.

(a) (2) Operation of an aircraft station using only an emergency locator transmitter, or a survival craft station while it is being used solely for survival purposes, or for testing of such stations.

6. In § 87.183, the introduction text in paragraph (f), and paragraph (1) are amended to read as follows:

§ 87.183 Frequencies available.

(f) 121.5 Megahertz: This is a universal simplex clear channel frequency for use by aircraft in distress or condition of emergency. Except for transmissions of signals by an aircraft station operated with only an emergency locator transmitter using an A9 emission, it will not be assigned to aircraft unless other frequencies are assigned and available for normal communications. The channel is available, as follows:

(1) 243 MHz: This is an emergency and distress frequency available for use by survival craft stations, emergency locator transmitters and equipment used for survival purposes which are also equipped to transmit on the frequency 121.5 MHz. Use of 243 MHz shall be limited to transmission of signals and communications for survival purposes. Types A2, A3, or A9 emissions may be employed, except in the case of emergency locator transmitters where only A9 is permitted.

7. The title of Subpart P of Part 87 of the rules is changed to read as follows:

Subpart P—Land Test Stations

8. In § 87.521 a new paragraph (e) is added as follows:

§ 87.521 Frequencies available.

(e) The frequencies 121.6, 121.65, 121.7, 121.75, 121.8, 121.85, and 121.9 MHz may be assigned to emergency locator transmitter test stations on the condition that (1) no harmful interference is caused to voice communications on these frequencies, and (2) coordination is established with the appropriate FAA Regional Frequency Management Office prior to activating the transmitter. Authority to operate on these frequencies does not include authority to operate on any harmonically related frequency; i.e. 243.2 MHz, etc.

9. In § 87.523 the existing paragraph is designated paragraph (a) and a new paragraph (b) is added as follows:

§ 87.523 Scope of service.

(a) Transmissions by radionavigation land test stations shall be limited to the necessities of the testing and calibration of aircraft navigational aids and associated equipment when such testing must be performed by means of radio transmissions.

(b) Transmissions by emergency locator transmitter test stations shall be limited to the necessities of testing emergency locator transmitters and to training operations in connection with the use of such transmitters.

10. In § 87.525 the existing paragraph is designated paragraph (a) and a new paragraph (b) is added as follows:

§ 87.525 Eligibility.

(a) Authorizations for radionavigation land test stations (MTF) will be granted only to applicants engaged in the development, manufacture or maintenance of aircraft radionavigation equipment. Authorizations for radionavigation land test stations (OTF) will be granted only to an applicant who agrees to establish the facility at an airport for the use of the public.

(b) Authorizations for emergency locator transmitter test stations will be granted only to persons having a need for training personnel in the operation and location of emergency locator transmitters, or for testing in connection with the manufacture or design of emergency locator transmitters.

Proposed Rule Making

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains notices to the public of the proposed issuance of rules and regulations. The purpose of these notices is to give interested persons an opportunity to participate in the rule making prior to the adoption of the final rules.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY Internal Revenue Service [ 26 CFR Part 31 ]

ELECTIVE SOCIAL SECURITY COVERAGE FOR VOW-OF-POVERTY MEMBERS OF RELIGIOUS ORDERS

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

Notice is hereby given that the regulations set forth in tentative form set forth below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any comments or suggestions pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing (preferably six copies) to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Attention: CC: LR-T, Washington, D.C. 20224, by April 8, 1973. Any written comments or suggestions not specifically designated as confidential in accordance with 26 CFR 601.601(b) may be inspected by any person upon written request. Any person submitting comments or suggestions who desires an opportunity to comment orally at a public hearing on these proposed regulations should submit his request, in writing, to the Commissioner by April 8, 1973. In such case, a public hearing will be held, and notice of the time, place, and date will be published in a subsequent issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER unless the person or persons who have requested a hearing withdraw their requests for a hearing before notice of the hearing has been filed with the Office of the Federal Register. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U.S.C. 7805).

[SEAL] JOHNNIE M. WALTERS,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

This document contains proposed amendments to the Employment Tax Regulations (26 CFR Part 31) in order to conform such regulations to the provisions of section 123 of the Social Security Amendments of 1972 (86 Stat. 1354), relating to elective social security coverage for vow-of-poverty members of religious orders.

Under prior law, the services performed by a member of a religious order who is subject to a vow of poverty which were in the exercise of the duties required by the order were excluded from coverage under social security. Under section 123 such service will be covered under social security if the order (or an autonomous subdivision of the order) irrevocably elects coverage for its members subject to a vow of poverty, and if the order also makes an irrevocable election (or makes irrevocable a previous election) to cover its lay employees. The election may be made retroactive for up to 20 calendar quarters preceding the quarter in which the certificate of election is filed.

The "wages" of these members of religious orders for social security purposes include the fair market value of any board, lodging, clothing, and other perquisites furnished to the member, except that the amount included as such individual's remuneration shall not be less than $100 a month. The proposed regulations provide that where the fair market value of any board, lodging, clothing, and other perquisites furnished to all members of an electing religious order or subdivision (or to all in a group of members) does not vary significantly, such order or subdivision may treat all of its members (or all in such group of members) as having a uniform wage. Examples are provided illustrating principles to be applied in determining the amount of "wages."

A member of a religious order (i.e., an individual whose "wages" are subject to tax) is defined as any individual who is subject to a vow of poverty as a member of such order, who performs tasks usually required (and to the extent usually required) of an active member of such order, and who is not considered retired because of old age or total disability. The proposed regulations provide that, in determining whether it is reasonable to consider an individual to be retired because of old age, consideration is first to be given the nature of the services rendered by the individual to his religious order, the amount of time the individual devotes to the performance of services for his religious order, and the nature and extent of the services rendered by the individual before he "retired," as compared with the services performed thereafter. Where consideration of these factors does not establish whether an individual is or is not reasonably considered retired, all other factors are considered. Examples are given which provide guidelines for the factual determinations which must be made under this test.

Under the proposed rules, an electing religious order or subdivision which determines that a member has retired must submit with its employment tax return a summary of the facts upon which the determination has been made.

The proposed regulations also provide that a religious order or an autonomous subdivision of such an order desiring to make an election of coverage shall file a certificate of election on new Form SS-16, Certificate of Election of Coverage. However, in the case of an election made before the 30th day after these regulations are published as a Treasury decision, a document other than Form SS-16 may, under certain circumstances, constitute a certificate of election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE REGULATIONS

In order to conform the Employment Tax Regulations (26 CFR Part 31) under section 3121 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 to the provisions of section 123 of the Social Security Amendments of 1972 (86 Stat. 1354), such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Paragraph (a)(5) of § 31.0-2 is amended by adding subdivision (viii) at the end thereof to read as follows:

§ 31.0-2 General definitions and use of terms.

(a) In general. As used in the regulations in this part, unless otherwise expressly indicated—

(5) . . . . .
(viii) The Social Security Amendments of 1972 means the act approved October 30, 1972 (86 Stat. 1329).

PAR. 2. Section 31.3121(b)(8) is amended by revising § 31.3121(b)(8)(A) and the historical note to read as follows:

§ 31.3121(b)(8) Statutory provisions; definitions: employment; services performed by a minister of a church or a member of a religious order; services in employ of religious, charitable, educational, or certain other organizations exempt from income tax.

Sec. 3121. Definitions. . . . .
(b) Employment. For purposes of this chapter, the term "employment" means . . . any service, of whatever nature, performed after 1954 . . . ; except that . . . such term shall not include—

(8) (A) Service performed by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his ministry or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by such order, except that this subparagraph shall not apply to service performed by a member of such an order in the exercise of such duties, if an election of coverage under subsection (r) is in effect with respect to such order, or with respect to the autonomous subdivision thereof to which such member belongs;

[Paragraph (9), sec. 3121(b) redesignated paragraph (8) by sec. 205(b), Social Security Amendments 1954; as amended by sec. 405 (b), Social Security Amendments 1958; sec. 123(a)(2), Social Security Amendments 1972]

PAR. 3. Section 31.3121(b)(8)-1 is amended by revising paragraph (a) thereof to read as follows:

§ 31.3121(b)(8)-1 Services performed by a minister of a church or a member of a religious order.

(a) In general. Services performed by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his ministry, or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of his duties required by such order, are excluded from employment, except that services performed by a member of such an order in the exercise of such duties are included in employment if an election of coverage under section 3121(r) and § 31.3121(r)-1 is in effect with respect to such order or with respect to the autonomous subdivision thereof to which such member belongs. For provisions relating to the election available to certain ministers and members of religious orders with respect to the extension of the Federal old-age, survivors, and disability insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act to certain services performed by them, see Part 1 of this chapter (Income Tax Regulations).

PAR. 4. Section 31.3121(b)(8)-2 is amended by revising paragraph (a) thereof to read as follows:

§ 31.3121(b)(8)-2 Services in employ of religious, charitable, educational, or certain other organizations exempt from income tax.

(a) Services performed by an employee in the employ of a religious, charitable, educational, or other organization described in section 501(c)(3) which is exempt from income tax under section 501(a) are excepted from employment. However, this exception does not apply to services with respect to which a certificate, filed pursuant to section 3121 (k) or (r), or section 1426(l) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939, is in effect. For provisions relating to the services with respect to which such a certificate is in effect, see §§ 31.3121(k)-1 and 31.3121(r)-1.

PAR. 5. Section 31.3121(i) is amended by adding a new paragraph (4) to the end thereof and by revising the historical note. These added and revised provisions read as follows:

§ 31.3121(i) Statutory provisions; definitions: computation of wages in certain cases.

Sec. 3121. Definitions. . . . .
(i) Computation of wages in certain cases. . . . .

(4) Service performed by certain members of religious orders. For purposes of this chapter, in any case where an individual is a member of a religious order (as defined in subsection (r)(2)) performing service in the exercise of duties required by such order, and an election of coverage under subsection (r) is in effect with respect to such order or with respect to the autonomous subdivision thereof to which such member belongs, the term "wages" shall, subject to the provisions of subsection (a)(1), include as such individual's remuneration for such service the fair market value of any board, lodging, clothing, and other perquisites furnished to such member by such order or subdivision thereof or by any other person or organization pursuant to an agreement with such order or subdivision, except that the amount included as such individual's remuneration under this paragraph shall not be less than $100 a month.

[Sec. 3121(i) as amended by sec. 410, Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivor Benefits Act (70 Stat. 878); sec. 202(a)(1), Peace Corps Act (75 Stat. 626); sec. 123(c)(2), Social Security Amendments 1972]

PAR. 6. There is inserted immediately after § 31.3121(i)-3 a new § 31.3121(i)-4 to read as follows:

§ 31.3121(i)-4 Computation of remuneration for service performed by certain members of religious orders.

In any case where an individual is a member of a religious order (as defined in section 3121(r)(2) and paragraph (b) of § 31.3121(r)(1) performing service in the exercise of duties required by such order, and an election of coverage under section 3121(r) and § 31.3121(r)-1 is in effect with respect to such order or its autonomous subdivision to which such member belongs, the term "wages" shall, subject to the provisions of section 3121 (a)(1) (relating to definition of wages), include as such individual's remuneration for such service the fair market value of any board, lodging, clothing, and other perquisites (including any cash) furnished to such member by such order or subdivision or by any other person or organization pursuant to an agreement (whether written or oral) with such order or subdivision. For this purpose, perquisites shall be considered to be furnished over the period during which the member receives the benefit of them. In no case shall the amount included as such individual's remuneration under this paragraph be less than $100 a month. All relevant facts and elements of value shall be considered in every case. Where the fair market value of any board, lodging, clothing, and other perquisites furnished to all members of an electing religious order or autonomous subdivision (or to all in a group of members) does not vary significantly, such order or subdivision may treat all of its members (or all in such group of members) as having a uniform wage. The provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). M is a religious order which requires its members to take a vow of poverty and which has made an election under section 3121(r). Under section 3121(i)(4), M must include in the wages of its members the fair market value of the clothing it provides for its members. M and several other religious orders using essentially the same type of religious habit purchase clothing for their members from either of two suppliers in arms-length transactions. The fair market value of such clothing (i.e., the price at which such items would change hands between a willing buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or to sell) is determined by reference to the actual sales price of these suppliers to the religious orders.

Example (2). N is a religious order which requires its members to take a vow of poverty and which has made an election under section 3121(r). N operates a seminary adjacent to a university. Students at the university obtain lodging and board on campus from the university for its fair market value of $2,000 for the school year. Such lodging and board is essentially the same as that provided by N at its seminary to N's members subject to a vow of poverty. Accordingly, the amount to be included in the "wages" of such members with respect to lodging and board for the same period of time is $2,000.

Example (3). O is a religious order which requires its members to take a vow of poverty and to observe silence, and which has made an election under section 3121(r). O operates a monastery in a remote rural area. Under section 3121(i)(4), O must include in the wages of its members assigned to this monastery the fair market value of the board and lodging furnished to them. In making a determination of the fair market value of such board and lodging, the remoteness of the monastery, as well as the smallness of the rooms and the simplicity of their furnishings, affect this determination. However, the facts that the facility is used by a religious order as a monastery and that the order's members maintain silence do not affect the fair market value of such items.

Example (4). P is a religious order which is a corporation organized under the laws of Wisconsin, which requires its members to take a vow of poverty, and which has made an election under section 3121(r). P has convents in rural South America and in suburbs and central city areas of the United States. Characteristically, in the United States its suburban convents provide somewhat larger and newer rooms for its members than do its convents in city areas. Moreover, its suburban convents have more extensive grounds and somewhat more elaborate facilities than do its older convents in city areas. However, both types of convents limit resident members to a single, plainly furnished room and provide them meals which are comparable. P's members in South America live in extremely primitive dwellings and otherwise have extremely modest perquisites. Under section 3121(i)(4), P may report a uniform wage for its members who live in suburban convents and city convents in the United States, as the board, lodging, and perquisites furnished these members do not vary significantly from one convent to the other. P may report another uniform wage (but not less than $100 per month apiece) for its members who are citizens of the United States and who reside in South America based on the fair market value of the perquisites furnished these individuals, as the fair market value of the perquisites furnished these individuals varies significantly from that of those furnished its members who live in its domestic convents but does not vary significantly among members in South America whose wages are subject to tax.

Example (5). Q is a religious order which requires its members to take a vow of poverty and which has made an election under section 3121(r). Several of Q's members are attending a university on a full-time basis. Q pays the university $1,000 at the beginning of each semester for the board and lodging of each of such members. In addition, Q gives each such member a $400 cash advance to cover his miscellaneous expenses during the semester. Under section 3121(i)(4), Q must prorate the fair market value of such member's board and lodging, as well as the miscellaneous items, over the semester and include such value "as wages."

PAR. 7. Immediately after § 31.3121(q)-1 there are inserted the following new sections:

§ 31.3121(r) Statutory provisions; definitions; election of coverage by religious orders.

SEC. 3121. Definitions. . . .

(r) Election of coverage by religious orders.—(1) Certificate of election by order. A religious order whose members are required to take a vow of poverty, or any autonomous subdivision of such order, may file a certificate (in such form and manner, and regulations under this chapter) electing to have the insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to services performed by its members in the exercise of duties required by such order or such subdivision thereof. Such certificate of election shall provide that—

(A) Such election of coverage by such order or subdivision shall be irrevocable;

(B) Such election shall apply to all current and future members of such order, or in the case of a subdivision thereof to all current and future members of such order who belong to such subdivision;

(C) All services performed by a member of such an order or subdivision in the exercise of duties required by such order or subdivision shall be deemed to have been performed by such member as an employee of such order or subdivision; and

(D) The wages of each member, upon which such order or subdivision shall pay the taxes imposed by sections 3101 and 3111, will be determined as provided in subsection (i)(4).

(2) Definition of member. For purposes of this subsection, a member of a religious order means any individual who is subject to a vow of poverty as a member of such order and who performs tasks usually required (and to the extent usually required) of an active member of such order and who is not considered retired because of old age or total disability.

(3) Effective date for election. (A) A certificate of election of coverage shall be in effect, for purposes of subsection (b)(8)(A), and for purposes of section 210(a)(8)(A) of the Social Security Act, for the period beginning with whichever of the following may be designated by the order or subdivision thereof:

(i) The first day of the calendar quarter in which the certificate is filed,

(ii) The first day of the calendar quarter succeeding such quarter, or

(iii) The first day of any calendar quarter preceding the calendar quarter in which the certificate is filed, except that such date may not be earlier than the first day of the twentieth calendar quarter preceding the quarter in which such certificate is filed.

Whenever a date is designated under clause (iii), the election shall apply to services performed before the quarter in which the certificate is filed only if the member performing such services was a member at the time such services were performed and is living on the first day of the quarter in which such certificate is filed.

(B) If a certificate of election filed pursuant to this subsection is effective for one or more calendar quarters prior to the quarter in which such certificate is filed, then—

(i) For the purposes of computing interest and for purposes of section 6651 (relating to addition to tax for failure to file tax return), the due date for the return and payment of the tax for such prior calendar quarters resulting from the filing of such certificate shall be the last day of the calendar month following the calendar quarter in which the certificate is filed; and

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

(ii) The statutory period for the assessment of such tax shall not expire before the expiration of 3 years from such due date.

(4) Coordination with coverage of lay employees. Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this subsection, no certificate of election shall become effective with respect to an order or subdivision thereof, unless—

(A) If at the time the certificate of election is filed a certificate of waiver of exemption under subsection (k) is in effect with respect to such order or subdivision, such order or subdivision amends such certificate of waiver of exemption (in such form and manner as may be prescribed by regulations made under this chapter) to provide that it may not be revoked, or

(B) If at the time the certificate of election is filed a certificate of waiver of exemption under such subsection is not in effect with respect to such order or subdivision, such order or subdivision files such certificate of waiver of exemption under the provisions of such subsection except that such certificate of waiver of exemption cannot become effective at a later date than the certificate of election and such certificate of waiver of exemption must specify that such certificate of waiver of exemption may not be revoked. The certificate of waiver of exemption required under this subparagraph shall be filed notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (k)(3).

§ 31.3121(r)-1 Election of coverage by religious orders.

(a) In general. A religious order whose members are required to take a vow of poverty, or any autonomous subdivision of such an order, may elect to have the Federal old-age, survivors, and disability insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to services performed by its members in the exercise of duties required by such order or subdivision. See section 3121(i)(4) and § 31.3121(i)-4 for provisions relating to the computation of the amount of remuneration of such members. For purposes of this section, a subdivision of a religious order is autonomous if it directs and governs its members, if its members have a vested right of franchise (e.g., the right to elect the superior in the subdivision who will govern them), and if it is responsible for its members' care and maintenance.

(b) Definition of member.—(1) In general. For purposes of section 3121(r) and this section, a member of a religious order means any individual who is subject to a vow of poverty as a member of such order, who performs tasks usually required (and to the extent usually required) of an active member of such order, and who is not considered retired because of old age or total disability.

(2) Retirement because of old age.—

(i) In general. For purposes of section 3121(r)(2) and this paragraph, an individual is considered retired because of old age if (A) in view of all the services performed by the individual and the surrounding circumstances it is reasonable to consider him to be retired, and (B) his retirement occurred by reason of old age. Even though an individual performs some services in the exercise of duties required by the religious order, the first test (the retirement test) is met where it is reasonable to consider the individual to be retired.

(ii) Factors to be considered. In determining whether it is reasonable to consider an individual to be retired, consideration is first to be given to all of the following factors:

(A) Nature of services. Consideration is given to the nature of the services performed by the individual in the exercise of duties required by his religious order. The more highly skilled and valuable such services are, the more likely the individual rendering such services is not reasonably considered retired. Also, whether such services are of a type performed principally by retired members of the individual's religious order may be significant.

(B) Amount of time. Consideration is also given to the amount of time the individual devotes to the performance of services in the exercise of duties required by his religious order. This time includes all the time spent by him in any activity in connection with services which might appropriately be performed in the exercise of duties required of active members by the order. Normally, an individual who, solely by reason of his advanced age, performs services of less than 45 hours per month shall be considered retired. In no event shall an individual who, solely by reason of his advanced age, performs services of less than 15 hours per month not be considered retired.

(C) Comparison of services rendered before and after retirement. In addition, consideration is given to the nature and extent of the services rendered by the individual before he "retired," as compared with the services performed thereafter. A large reduction in the importance or amount of services performed by the individual in the exercise of duties required by his religious order tends to show that the individual is not retired; absence of such reduction tends to show that the individual is not retired. Normally, an individual who reduces by at least 75 percent the amount of services performed shall be considered retired.

Where consideration of the factors described in paragraph (b)(2)(i) of this section does not establish whether an individual is or is not reasonably considered retired, all other factors are considered.

(iii) Examples. The rules of this subparagraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). A is a member of a religious order who is subject to a vow of poverty. A's religious order is principally engaged in providing nursing services, and A has been fully trained in the nursing profession. In accordance with the practices of her order, upon attaining the age of 65, A is relieved of her nursing duties by reason of her age, and is assigned to a mother house where she is required to perform only such duties as light housekeeping and ordinary gardening. A is reasonably considered retired since the services she is performing are simple in nature, are markedly less skilled than those professional services which she previously performed, are of a type performed principally by retired members of her order, and are performed at a location to which members frequently retire.

Example (2). Assume the same facts as in example (1) except that A is not reassigned to a mother house. Instead, she is reassigned to full-time duties in a hospital not utilizing her nursing skills. Whether A has met the retirement test requires consideration of the nature of her work. If A's new duties are almost entirely of a make-work nature primarily to occupy her body and mind, she is reasonably considered retired. However, if they are essential to the operation of the hospital, she is not reasonably considered retired.

Example (3). B is a member of a religious order who is subject to a vow of poverty. As such, he provides supportive services to his order, such as housekeeping, cooking, and gardening. By reason of having attained the age of 62, he reduces the number of hours spent per day in these services from 8 hours to 2 hours. B is reasonably considered retired in view of the large reduction in the amount of time he devotes to his duties.

Example (4). C is a member of a religious order who is subject to a vow of poverty. In his capacity as a member of the order, he performs duties as president of a university. Upon attaining the age of 65, C is relieved of his duties as president of the university and instead becomes a member of its faculty, teaching two courses whereas full-time members of the faculty normally teach four comparable courses. Although C's duties are no longer as demanding as those he previously performed, and although the amount of his time required for them is less than full time, he is nonetheless performing duties requiring a high degree of skill for a substantial amount of time. Accordingly, C is not reasonably considered retired.

Example (5). Assume the same facts as in example (4), except that C teaches only one course upon being relieved of his position as president by reason of age. C is reasonably considered retired.

Example (6). D is a member of a contemplative order who is subject to a vow of poverty. In accordance with the practices of his order, upon attaining the age of 70, D reduces by 50 percent the amount of time spent performing the normal duties of active members of his order. D is not reasonably considered retired.

Example (7). Assume the same facts as in example (6), except that because of his age D no longer participates in the more rigorous liturgical services of the order and that the amount of time which he spends in all duties which might appropriately be performed by active members of his order is reduced by 75 percent. D is reasonably considered retired in view of the large reduction in his participation in the usual devotional routine of his order.

(3) Retirement because of total disability. For purposes of section 3121(r)(2) and this paragraph, an individual is considered retired because of total disability (i) if he is unable, by reason of a medically determinable physical or mental impairment, to perform the tasks usually required of an active member of his order to the extent necessary to maintain his status as an active member, and (ii) if such impairment is reasonably expected to prevent his resumption of the performance of such tasks to such extent. A physical or mental impairment is an impairment that results from anatomical, physiological, or psychological abnormalities which are demonstrable by medically acceptable clinical and laboratory diagnostic techniques. Statements of the individual, including his own description of his impairment (symptoms), are, alone, insufficient to establish the presence of a physical or mental impairment.

(4) Evidentiary requirements with respect to retirement. There shall be attached to the return of taxes paid pursuant to an election under section 3121(r) a summary of the facts upon which any determination has been made by the religious order or autonomous subdivision that one or more of its members retired during the period covered by such return. Such order or subdivision shall maintain records of the details relating to each such "retirement" sufficient to show whether or not such member or members has in fact retired.

(c) Certificates of election.—(1) In general. A religious order or an autonomous subdivision of such an order desiring to make an election of coverage pursuant to section 3121(r) and this section shall file a certificate of election on Form SS-16 in accordance with the instructions thereto. However, in the case of an election made before (30th day after the date of publication of this section in final regulations) a document other than Form SS-16 shall constitute a certificate of election if it purports to be a binding election of coverage and if it is filed with an appropriate official of the Internal Revenue Service. Such a document shall be given the effect it would have if it were a certificate of election containing the provisions required by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. However, it should subsequently be supplemented by a Form SS-16.

(2) Provisions of certificates. Each certificate of election shall provide that—

(i) Such election of coverage by such order or subdivision shall be irrevocable,

(ii) Such election shall apply to all current and future members of such order, or in the case of a subdivision thereof to all current and future members of such order who belong to such subdivision,

(iii) All services performed by a member of such order or subdivision in the exercise of duties required by such order or subdivision shall be deemed to have been performed by such member as an employee of such order or subdivision, and

(iv) The wages of each member, upon which such order or subdivision shall pay the taxes imposed on employees and employers by sections 3101 and 3111, will be determined as provided in section 3121(i)(4).

(d) Effective date of election.—(1) In general. Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, a certificate of election of coverage filed by a religious order or its subdivision pursuant to section 3121(r) and this section shall be in effect, for purposes of section 3121(b)(8)(A) and for purposes of section 210

(a)(8)(A) of the Social Security Act, for the period beginning with whichever of the following may be designated by the electing religious order or subdivision:

(i) The first day of the calendar quarter in which the certificate is filed,

(ii) The first day of the calendar quarter immediately following the quarter in which the certificate is filed, or

(iii) The first day of any calendar quarter preceding the calendar quarter in which the certificate is filed, except that such date may not be earlier than the first day of the 20th calendar quarter preceding the quarter in which such certificate is filed.

(2) Retroactive elections. Whenever a date is designated as provided in paragraph (d)(1)(iii) of this section, the election shall apply to services performed before the quarter in which the certificate is filed only if the member performing such services was a member at the time such services were performed and is living on the first day of the quarter in which such certificate is filed. Thus, the election applies to an individual who is no longer a member of a religious order on the first day of such quarter if he performed services as a member at any time on or after the date so designated and is living on the first day of the quarter in which such certificate is filed. For purposes of computing interest and for purposes of section 6651 (relating to additions to tax for failure to file tax return or to pay tax), in any case in which such a date is designated the due date for the return and payment of the tax, for calendar quarters prior to the quarter in which the certificate is filed, resulting from the filing of such certificate shall be the last day of the calendar month following the calendar quarter in which the certificate is filed. The statutory period for the assessment of the tax for such prior calendar quarters shall not expire before the expiration of 3 years from such due date.

(e) Coordination with coverage of lay employees. If at the time the certificate of election of coverage is filed by a religious order or autonomous subdivision, a certificate of waiver of exemption under section 3121(k) (extending coverage to any lay employees) is not in effect, the certificate of election shall not become effective unless the order or subdivision files a Form SS-15, and a Form SS-15a to accompany the certificate on Form SS-15, as provided by section 3121(k) and §§ 31.3121(k)-1 through 31.3121(k)-3. The preceding sentence applies even though an order or subdivision has no lay employees at the time it files a certificate of election of coverage. The effective date of the certificate of waiver of exemption must be no later than the date on which the certificate of election becomes effective, and it must be specified on the certificate of waiver of exemption that such certificate is irrevocable. The certificate of waiver of exemption required under this paragraph shall be filed notwithstanding the provisions of section 3121(k)(3) (relating to no renewal of the waiver of exemption) which otherwise would prohibit the filing of a waiver of exemption if an earlier waiver of exemption had previously been terminated. If at the time the certificate of election of coverage is filed a certificate of waiver of exemption is in effect with respect to the electing religious order or autonomous subdivision, the filing of the certificate of election shall constitute an amendment of the certificate of waiver of exemption making the latter certificate irrevocable.

HANDLING OF VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

Expenses and Rate of Assessment and Carryover of Unexpended Funds

This proposal would fix the expenses that are reasonable and likely to be incurred by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, the local administrative agency established pursuant to Marketing Order No. 908, for the administration of the program during the 1972-73 fiscal period. The proposal would also fix the rate of assessment believed necessary to secure the income for the period. Under the proposal, unexpended assessment funds from the previous fiscal period would be placed into the reserve fund to be used for purposes specified in the order.

Consideration is being given to the following proposals submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 908, as amended (7 CFR Part 908), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674), as the agency to administer the terms and provisions thereof: (1) That the expenses which are reasonable and likely to be incurred by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee during the period from November 1, 1972, through October 31, 1973, will amount to $249,700; (2) that there be fixed, at $0.013 per carton of oranges, the rate of assessment payable by each handler in accordance with § 908.41 of the aforesaid marketing agreement and order; and (3) that unexpended funds in excess of expenses incurred during the fiscal year ended October 31, 1972, in the amount of $10,000, be carried over as a reserve in accordance with § 908.42.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with the aforesaid proposals should file same in quadruplicate with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 112, Administration Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, not later than March 26, 1973. #### MILK IN THE WICHITA, KANS., MARKETING AREA

Notice of Hearing on Proposed Amendments to Tentative Marketing Agreement and Order

Notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held at the Canterbury Inn, 5801 West Kellogg, Wichita, KS, beginning at 9:30 a.m., on April 3, 1973, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, regulating the handling of milk in the Wichita, Kans., marketing area.

The hearing is called pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900).

The purpose of the hearing is to receive evidence with respect to the economic and marketing conditions which relate to the proposed amendments, herein-after set forth, and any appropriate modifications thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order.

Evidence also will be taken to determine whether emergency marketing conditions exist that would warrant omission of a recommended decision under the rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR Part 900.12(d)) with respect to proposals Nos. 3, 4, and 5.

The proposed amendments, set forth below, have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

PROPOSED BY ASSOCIATED MILK PRODUCERS, INC.

Proposal No. 1. Amend § 1073.12 to read as follows:

§ 1073.12 Pool plant.

"Pool plant" means any plant (other than a plant operated by a producer-handler or one exempt pursuant to § 1073.61) described in paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section;

(a) A distributing plant from which during the month:

(1) Fluid milk products (except filled milk) are disposed of on routes in an amount not less than 50 percent of the total quantity of fluid milk products (except filled milk) received at the plant or diverted to a nonpool plant by the plant operator under the limitations of § 1073.14; and

(2) Fluid milk products (except filled milk) are disposed of on routes in the marketing area in an amount not less than 15 percent of the total route disposition of the plant.

(b) A supply plant from which fluid milk products (except filled milk) are transferred during the month to a plant(s) described in paragraph (a) of this section in an amount not less than 50 percent of milk received at the supply plant from dairy farmers who would be eligible as producers under § 1073.7 if such plant qualifies pursuant to this paragraph and milk of such dairy farmers diverted from such plant by the plant operator. Any plant that qualifies under this paragraph during each of the months of September through December shall continue so qualified in each of the following months of January through August until any month of such period in which less than 20 percent of plant receipts and diverted milk specified previously herein is transferred to plants described in paragraph (a) of this section. A plant not meeting such 20-percent requirement in any month of such January-August period shall be qualified under this paragraph in any remaining month of the year only if transfers of fluid milk products (except filled milk) from the plant during the months to plant(s) described in paragraph (a) of this section are at least 50 percent of the plant receipts and diverted milk specified previously herein.

(c) A plant(s) operated by cooperative association and located within the marketing area at which milk is received from dairy farmers producing milk approved by duly constituted health authority for fluid consumption if the total of fluid milk products described in paragraph (c) (1) and (2) of this section received at plants described pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section is not less than 50 percent of total milk of member producers during the month;

(1) Fluid milk products (except filled milk) transferred from such cooperative association plant(s); and

(2) Milk of member producers received from such producers.

§ 1073.7 [Amended]

Proposal No. 2. Amend § 1073.7 by adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

(c) This definition shall not include:

(1) Any person with respect to milk produced by him that is diverted to a pool plant from an other order plant if the other order designates such person as a producer under that order and the handler under the other order diverting such milk and the operator of the pool plant each request Class II classification of such milk in their reports of receipts and utilization filed with the market administrator; or

(2) Any person with respect to milk produced by him that is diverted to an other order plant if such person is designated as a producer under the other order with respect to such milk.

Proposal No. 3. Amend § 1073.14 to read as follows:

§ 1073.14 Producer milk.

"Producer milk" means skim milk and butterfat in milk from producers that is:

(a) Received by the operator of a pool plant at such pool plant from producers;

(b) Diverted by the operator of a pool plant to a nonpool plant subject to the conditions of paragraph (e) of this section;

(c) Received from producers by a cooperative association handler pursuant to § 1073.8(d); or

(d) Diverted by cooperative association for its account from the pool plant of another handler to a nonpool plant subject to the conditions of paragraph (e) of this section.

(e) Milk diverted from a pool plant to a nonpool plant shall be subject to the following conditions:

(1) A cooperative association may divert from pool plants to nonpool plants for its account, subject to conditions of paragraph (e) (3) of this section, a total quantity of milk not in excess of the total milk of its member-producers received at all pool plants during the month. Diversions in excess of such quantity shall not be eligible under this section and the diverting cooperative shall specify the dairy farmers whose diverted milk is not so eligible. If the cooperative association fails to designate such persons, status under this section shall be forfeited with respect to all milk diverted by such cooperative association;

(2) The operator of a pool plant other than a cooperative association may divert from his pool plant to a nonpool plant for his account, subject to the conditions of paragraph (e) (3) of this section, milk of producers not members of a cooperative association received at such pool plant(s) during the month. Milk diverted in excess of such quantity shall not be eligible under this section and the diverting handler shall specify the dairy farmers whose diverted milk is not so eligible. If a handler fails to designate such persons, status under this section shall be forfeited with respect to all milk diverted by such handler;

(3) Milk of a producer shall not be eligible for diversion from a pool plant under this section if during the month less than 15 percent of the total milk of such person as a producer is received at a pool plant;

(4) Milk qualified as producer milk that is diverted by a handler to a nonpool plant pursuant to this section shall be accounted for as received by the diverting handler at the location of the nonpool plant.

§ 1073.53 [Amended]

Proposal No. 4. Amend § 1073.53 by deleting the word "pool" preceding the word "plant."

Rural Electrification Administration

[7 CFR Part 1701]

CONSOLIDATED FARM AND RURAL DEVELOPMENT ACT

Proposed Loan Policy and Procedure

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act (7 U.S.C. 1921 et seq.), REA proposes to issue a supplement to REA Bulletin 20-14.

The Rural Electrification Administration (REA) has previously given notice of changes in its programs, including use of the Rural Development Act (RD Act) as a financing source (38 FR 3988-3989). It is, accordingly, necessary to determine the manner of applying to the revised electrification program the requirements for supplemental financing from non-REA sources heretofore established by Bulletin 20-14, "Supplemental Financing for Loans Considered Under Section Four of the Rural Electrification Act," and various "file with" amendments thereto. Among other things, this may involve the accommodation of the overall objective of the RD Act to promote rural community development, with the requirement of section 333(a) of the Act that the applicant be unable to "obtain sufficient credit elsewhere to finance his actual needs at reasonable rates and terms, taking into consideration prevailing private and cooperative rates and terms in the community in or near which the applicant resides for loans for similar purposes and periods of time."

In such an accommodation, pertinent factors requiring consideration include the following: (1) The relationship of continued availability of adequate and reliable electric service at reasonable rates to rural areas' economic and environmental development and well-being; (2) the importance to sound community development of financially strong and stable electric distribution cooperatives; (3) the need for opportunity of borrowers' own credit organizations to experience orderly growth and development; (4) the Government's financial interest in the continued viability of the borrowers' systems for which very large amounts of past Government loans remain outstanding; and (5) the importance of orderly and expeditious administration of the REA program.

The rules proposed in supplement to REA Bulletin 20-14 given below are designed to reflect the foregoing factors as they are currently evaluated. The rules stated in this supplement will be reconsidered from time to time, and it is anticipated that the requirements for obtaining credit from other sources will be increased as experience in operating under the RD Act indicates that such increases can be made in an orderly fashion without undue adverse effect.

Persons interested in the proposed supplement may submit written data, views, or comments to Administrator, Rural Electrification Administration, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, not later than April 16, 1973.

To continue to meet the urgent requirements of REA electric borrowers, loans under the Rural Development Act may be made by REA on a case-by-case basis pending issuance of the proposed supplement to REA Bulletin 20-14.

The text of the proposed supplement to REA Bulletin 20-14 is as follows:

SUPPLEMENTAL LOANS UNDER THE CONSOLIDATED FARM AND RURAL DEVELOPMENT ACT (RD ACT)

PROPOSED SUPPLEMENT TO REA BULLETIN 20-14

The title of REA Bulletin 20-14, Supplemental Financing for Loans Considered Under section 4 of the Rural Electrification Act is changed to Supplemental Financing Required in Conjunction with REA Loans. All memorandums issued supplementary to the bulletin not in conflict with this "Supplement" remain in effect.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

The Rural Electrification Administration (REA) has announced that loans to finance rural electrification would be made under the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act (RD Act). A major thrust of the Act is rural job creation and increasing of rural farm and nonfarm income and business activity. In order to be eligible for such loans, section 333(a) of that Act requires that an applicant be unable to "obtain sufficient credit elsewhere to finance his actual needs at reasonable rates and terms, taking into consideration prevailing private and cooperative rates and terms in the community in or near which the applicant resides for loans for similar purposes and periods of time."

In determining the extent to which it may be able to obtain credit from sources other than REA to finance its actual needs, the loan applicant may therefore take into consideration not only the rates and terms under which financing may be available but also the objective of operating the system in a manner consistent with the community development objectives of the RD Act.

In order to facilitate the administration of such lending, and to provide general guidance to the public, it is necessary to determine the circumstances under which RD Act funds will be available for rural electric distribution system purposes, and to enunciate requirements for participation by outside lenders in loans made under the Act.

Due to the diversity in their circumstances, criteria for financing for power supply borrowers will be determined on an individual basis.

REA has made the following general findings (using the definitions of TIER, DSC, and PRR set forth in REA Bulletin 20-14, as revised to July 1972):

Electric distribution system borrowers who do not have a TIER of 1.5 or a DSC ratio of 1.25 or more cannot be reasonably expected to maintain system operation on a basis consistent with RD Act objectives if required to repay new loans at a total interest rate in excess of 5 percent per annum.<sup>1</sup>

Borrowers who have a TIER of 1.5 or more, a DSC ratio of 1.25 or more, and PRR of 9.01 or more can be reasonably expected to repay prevailing rates of interest on 10 percent of the total amount of a new loan, provided they are obligated to repay the remaining 90 percent of the loan at interest not in excess of 5 percent per annum. Such borrowers cannot reasonably be expected to maintain system operation on a basis consistent with RD Act objectives if required to repay more than 10 percent of their new loan at prevailing outside rates of interest.<sup>2</sup>

Borrowers who have a TIER of 1.5 or more, a DSC ratio of 1.25 or more, and a PRR of 8.01 to 9.0 can be reasonably expected to repay prevailing rates of interest on 20 percent of the total amount of a new loan, provided they are obligated to repay the remaining 80 percent of the loan at interest not in excess of 5 percent per annum. Such borrowers cannot reasonably be expected to maintain system operation on a basis consistent with RD Act objectives if required to repay more than 20 percent of their new loan at prevailing outside rates of interest.<sup>3</sup>

Borrowers who have a TIER of 1.5 or more, a DSC ratio of 1.25 or more, and a PRR of 8.00 and below can be reasonably expected to repay prevailing rates of interest on 30 percent of the total amount of a new loan, provided they are obligated to repay the remaining 70 percent of the loan at interest not in excess of 5 percent per annum. Such borrowers cannot reasonably be expected to maintain system operation on a basis consistent with RD Act objectives if required to repay more than 30 percent of their new loan at prevailing outside rates of interest.<sup>4</sup>

These guides will be followed unless an applicant for an electric distribution system loan certifies, and REA determines, from information in REA's possession, that the applicant can, without impairment of continued system operation consistent with RD Act objectives, repay a loan bearing more than 5 percent interest on a greater part of the loan than is indicated by the above general rule.

The general findings with respect to the proportions of their loan that borrowers can reasonably be expected to repay at prevailing outside rates of interest without impairing continued system operation consistent with RD Act objectives will be reviewed from time to time, and will be revised as may be necessary to meet changed conditions.

The RD Act requires that the applicant for a loan must submit a certification concerning his inability to obtain sufficient credit elsewhere under specified terms and conditions that would permit him to attain the objectives of the program. A sample certification (Attachment C) is attached below.

The RD Act also requires the submission of all applications for financial assistance (loans) to multijurisdictional planning agencies and county and municipal governments having jurisdiction over the area(s). Attachment D below discusses these procedures. Further information is available from the appropriate area director. For your convenience a form of application to the appropriate planning group is attached (Attachment E) below.

A form of board resolution (Attachment F below) requesting a loan from REA under the RD Act section 306(a) (1) may also be used along with the application to planning groups (Attachment E below) to satisfy the requirements of the RD Act concerning submission of the application to such groups. Two certified copies of this resolution should be submitted to REA.

DAVID A. HAMILL,
Administrator.

ATTACHMENT C—CERTIFICATE OF NONAVAILABILITY OF SUFFICIENT CREDIT ELSEWHERE

In support of the application of _____ for an REA loan under (system) _____

the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act, we hereby certify that the figures given below reflect the actual needs of the applicant and the maximum amount of credit that the applicant is able to obtain elsewhere in connection with these needs at reasonable rates and terms, taking into consideration prevailing private and cooperative rates and terms in the community in or near which the system operates, for loans for similar purposes and periods of time, considering also the objective of operating the system in a manner consistent with the community development objectives of the Rural Development Act, and in keeping with the rules in REA Bulletin 20-14 and Supplements thereto.

An application is accordingly being submitted in the total amount of $_____ for 35 years of which _____ percent is being requested from REA at 5 percent per annum and _____ percent is being requested from _____ which is expected to be at _____ percent per annum.

(Name of supplemental lender)
be at _____ percent per annum.
(Name of borrower) (Date)
(Manager) (President)

ATTACHMENT D—REQUIREMENTS FOR NOTIFYING CLEARINGHOUSES, ETC., OF PLANS TO SUBMIT A LOAN APPLICATION TO REA

Prior to making application for an REA loan under the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act (or as soon as possible after receiving this instruction if the loan application has already been submitted), the applicant shall submit a copy of its application describing its plans to the appropriate State, metropolitan, and regional clearinghouses and the county or municipal governments which have jurisdiction over the area in which the proposed project or projects are to be located. REA will supply a list of the clearinghouses in the State at the request of the applicant. The application shall include a brief description of the construction anticipated by each county and municipality in which the construction will take place, and a statement whether or not an environmental statement will be required.

The clearinghouses and county or municipal governments shall be given 30 days in which to review and comment on the proposed project.

A sample format of information to be submitted to these bodies is attached.

The following information shall be submitted to REA. During the transition to the new procedures, this information may be submitted after the loan application is submitted to REA, but in any event must be received by REA before funds from a loan made under the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act can be released for advance.

1. Copy of the application, list of the clearinghouses and governmental bodies to which it was sent, date on which it was sent, and statement that the addresses included all the clearinghouses, county governments, and municipal governments having jurisdiction over areas in which construction from the proposed loan will take place.

2. Copies of all comments received and a list of addresses from whom no comments were received within 30 days, or up to the date on which the material is being sent to REA, whichever is later.

3. If any comments indicate that the applicant's construction plans may be inconsistent with any multijurisdictional planning and development district areawide plan of a reviewing agency, full information must be submitted, including copies of all additional correspondence with the questioning agency, in order to permit REA to make a determination as to whether such inconsistency does exist.

ATTACHMENT E—FORMAT OF INFORMATION TO BE SENT TO CLEARINGHOUSES, COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENTS HAVING JURISDICTION OVER AREAS IN WHICH CONSTRUCTION WILL BE PERFORMED

Notice is hereby given that the Rural Electric Cooperative of Upstate, N.Y., intends to submit (or, if appropriate, "has submitted") the attached application requesting a loan in the approximate amount of $_____ from the Rural Electrification Administration (include a copy of the board resolution or other form of application to be submitted to REA).

The construction program of the cooperative is subject to revision to meet needs. However, it is anticipated that the funds from this loan, together with financing from other sources, will be used for construction as detailed below. Except when described differently below, the construction of distribution line consists primarily of service drops and extensions to existing lines of the cooperative to serve new consumers.

1. Madison County—Construction of approximately _____ miles of distribution line to serve approximately _____ consumers.

2. Washington County—Construction of approximately _____ miles of distribution line to serve _____ consumers. Alterations to the existing substation located at the intersection of County Roads 16 and 32 to increase its capacity.

3. Jefferson County—Construction of approximately _____ miles of distribution line to serve _____ consumers. Construction of a 69,000 volt transmission line approximately 10 miles long from the substation of the XYZ Power Co. located 2 miles east of Small Town, in a southerly direction to the existing cooperatively owned three-phase line near the crossing of County Road 25 and the railway, and construction of a new substation at this point. This will give improved service to the rural consumers in this area.

4. Polk County. Construction of approximately _____ miles of distribution line to serve approximately _____ consumers. Conversion of the cooperative's existing 2.5 mile single phase line to three phase from U.S. Highway 1 to the ABC Community Development. This will involve adding two conductors and a crossarm to each pole, and changing some poles to a larger size. Construction of approximately _____ miles of distribution line to serve approximately _____ consumers within the ABC Community Development. (Include detail of each county and for each municipality in which construction is anticipated. The total for the detailed listings should agree with the proper total for the entire application.)

Due to the nature of the construction planned, we do not expect that REA will require an environmental statement. (Or, if appropriate, state, "It is anticipated that REA will issue an environmental statement covering * * *" and then describe the facilities to be covered by an environmental statement. The REA area office should be consulted before stating that an environmental statement will probably be issued.)

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

This application is submitted for review and comment within 30 days pursuant to requirements of the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act, under which the anticipated REA loan will be made. If there is any indication that the proposed construction by the cooperative might be inconsistent with any areawide goals and plans of your agency, please notify us as soon as possible so that such problems can be resolved. None of the funds requested by the cooperative in this loan will be released by the Rural Electrification Administration until at least 30 days after the date of this notification. If any further information is required concerning the proposed construction, it will be supplied upon request.

ATTACHMENT F—SAMPLE BOARD RESOLUTION REQUESTING CONCURRENT FINANCING

Whereas, It has been determined on the basis of the current 2-year construction work plan that financing is needed for electric facilities as shown on REA Form 740c, Cost Estimates and Loan Budget for Electric Borrowers, as follows:

Total estimated cost	$_____
Less available funds and materials:
A. Funds available from prior loans	_____
B. Value of materials and special equipment on hand to be used for facilities	_____
C. General funds available or expected to become available for facilities	_____
Total funds and materials available	_____
New financing required for facilities	_____
REA loan requested for facilities	_____
Loan requested from supplemental lender	_____

And whereas, present lending by the Rural Electrification Administration is authorized under section 306(a) (1) of the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act (RD Act); and

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Occupational Safety and Health Administration

[29 CFR Part 1953]

[Docket No. SP-1]

CHANGES TO STATE PLANS FOR THE DEVELOPMENT AND ENFORCEMENT OF STATE STANDARDS

Proposed Policy and Procedures

Notice is hereby given that under the authority of sections 8(g)(2) and 18 of the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 657(g)(2) and 667), it is proposed to amend 29 CFR Ch. XVII by adding a new part thereto designated Part 1953.

The new Part 1953 contains policy and procedures for the review of changes to State plans approved under section 18 of the Act, in order to assure that the plans fulfill assurances upon which their approval under section 18(c) of the Act was based. Foremost among these assurances are those given by the State that the plan provides for the development of State standards and the enforcement of such standards which are or will be at least as effective in providing safe and healthful employment and places of employment as the standards promulgated by the Secretary of Labor under section 6 of the Act which relate to the same issues.

Under § 1902.2(b) of Chapter XVII, a State plan may be approved under section 18(c) although upon submission it does not fully meet the criteria set forth in § 1902.3, if it includes satisfactory assurances by the State that it will take the necessary steps to bring the plan into conformity with these criteria within the 3-year period immediately following commencement of the plan's operation. A State plan approved under section 18(c), therefore, in many cases, must develop both up to and along with the Federal program for the development and enforcement of safety and health standards.

Section 18(e) of the Act provides for a period of concurrent Federal and State jurisdiction until the Assistant Secretary determines, on the basis of actual operations, that the State is applying the criteria of section 18(c) of the Act and Part 1902. During this period of concurrent jurisdiction, as well as after a determination has been made under section 18(e), the State plan will be continually evaluated under section 18(f) of the Act as to the manner in which the provisions (including any assurances) are implemented. In conjunction with this evaluation of plan implementation, changes which have been made or are proposed to be made in the plan will be reviewed as provided under section 18(c) of the Act.

It is the purpose of Part 1953 to set out policies and procedures by which the Assistant Secretary for Occupational Safety and Health (hereinafter referred to as the Assistant Secretary) under a delegation of authority from the Secretary of Labor (Secretary's Order 12-71, 36 FR 8754, May 12, 1971) will review changes to a State plan approved in accordance with section 18(c) and Part 1902, and also provide for advisory opinions on proposed changes.

Interested persons are hereby given until April 18, 1973, to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposed Part 1953 to the Office of the Director, Federal and State Operations, Room 408, Docket No. SP-1, 400 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20210.

Comments received will be available for public inspection and copying during normal business hours at the above address. The proposed rule may be revised prior to final publication to reflect suggestions made by the comments.

1953.2 General policies.
1953.3 Filing of changes or supplements.
1953.4 Submission and consideration.

§ 1953.1 Purpose and scope.

(a) This part applies to the provisions of section 18 of the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (hereinafter referred to as the Act) relating to State plans for the development and enforcement of State safety and health standards. The provisions of this part set forth the procedures by which the Assistant Secretary for Occupational Safety and Health (hereinafter referred to as the Assistant Secretary) under a delegation of authority from the Secretary of Labor (Secretary's Order 12-71, 36 FR 8754, May 12, 1971), will review changes in a State plan approved in accordance with section 18(c) of the Act and Part 1902 of this chapter, and also provide for advisory opinions on proposed changes to be made by a State in implementing its plan.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

(b) States may submit plans covering any occupational safety and health issue with respect to which a Federal standard has been promulgated under section 6 of the Act. These plans must meet the criteria in section 18(c) of the Act and Part 1902 of this chapter either at the time of submission or in any event not later than the 3-year period immediately following commencement of the plant's operation, where the plan is developmental. The Act provides for discretionary concurrent Federal and State jurisdiction during this developmental period and until the Assistant Secretary determines on the basis of actual operations that the State is applying the criteria of section 18(c) of the Act. During the period of concurrent Federal and State jurisdiction as well as after a determination has been made under section 18(e) that the plan is meeting the criteria of the Act and Part 1902 of this chapter the State plan will be continually evaluated under section 18(f) of the Act as to the manner in which the provisions (including any assurances) are implemented. In conjunction with this evaluation of plan implementation, changes which have been made or are proposed to be made will be reviewed for approval as provided under section 18(c) of the Act.

(c) The Assistant Secretary shall withdraw approval of a plan in whole or in part whenever he determines, after notice and affording the State an opportunity for a hearing that in the administration of the plan there is a failure to comply substantially with any provision of the plan or assurances contained therein including changes required to be submitted in accordance with this part. Upon notice the State shall cease operation under any disapproved plan or part thereof except that it will be permitted to retain jurisdiction as to any case commenced before withdrawal of approval whenever the issues involved do not relate to the reason for withdrawal of approval of the plan.

§ 1953.2 General policies.

(a) Approval of a plan submitted under section 18(b) of the Act is based on a finding that there is a reasonable expectation that the State plan will meet the criteria in § 1902.3 of this chapter within a 3-year developmental period. As the State plan is implemented, supplements will be required to complete its development. Also the development of the Federal program and the on-going Federal evaluation of the State program will require that changes be made in the plan. It is therefore, necessary for the Assistant Secretary to have some procedure of reviewing any changes to the State plan both during the period leading up to a determination under section 18(e) of the Act, as well as after final approval has been given to a plan under section 18(e). These changes will be reviewed by the Assistant Secretary in conjunction with any records or reports required of the States under sections 18(c) (8) and 18(f) of the Act.

(b) Because of the States' need to continue an on-going program, the Assistant Secretary may also provide for furnishing advisory opinions to requesting States under this part. While not binding decisions, these opinions will be made available to the public along with the plans and they will provide the States with a basis for operation pending review of changes submitted under § 1953.4.

§ 1953.3 Filing of changes or supplements.

(a) A State must file a supplement to its plan within a reasonable time under the following circumstances:

(1) Whenever any change is made in a State plan as a result of changes in the Federal program such as changes in any relevant standards issued under section 6 of the Act, or whenever changes are made in the legislation, regulations, or policies of the Secretary of Labor, which would render the corresponding standards, legislation, regulations, or policies under a State plan less effective.

(2) Whenever any change is made in a State plan as a result of an evaluation by the Assistant Secretary which found parts of the State plan to be not as effective as the Federal program. Before any such supplements are filed, a State may be given an opportunity to show cause why such modifications need not be submitted.

(3) Whenever any other change is made by a State in its applicable laws, standards, regulations, budgetary resources, or policies.

(b) Any supplement to a plan shall indicate expressly whether it involves the completion of steps in the developmental schedule, any changes in the schedule, provisions, or assurances provided by the plan, any additional modifications of the plan made at the initiative of the State, or a change made in response to a Federal program change or as a result of an evaluation finding.

§ 1953.4 Submission and consideration.

(a) An authorized representative of the State agency or agencies designated under section 18(c) (1) to administer the plan shall submit the supplements with 10 copies to the appropriate Regional Administrator for the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, U.S. Department of Labor. Upon receipt of the State plan supplements, the Regional Administrator shall make a preliminary review of the changes. If his examination reveals any apparent defect in the supplement, the Regional Administrator shall offer assistance to the State agency and shall provide the agency an opportunity to cure such defect. After his preliminary review and after affording the State agency such informal opportunity to cure apparent defects, the Regional Administrator shall submit the changes to the Assistant Secretary.

(b) In determining the adequacy of any State supplement the Assistant Secretary may follow the procedures for submission, approval or rejection of State plans prescribed in Subpart C of Part 1902 of this chapter or any other appropriate procedure. The Assistant Secretary may defer consideration of any supplement to the plan until the end of each full year of operation of the State plan.

(c) Copies of all supplements to a plan shall be available for inspection and copying at the expense of the person requesting the copy at the locations specified in the subpart of Part 1952 of this chapter relating to the State plan. The locations include the Office of the Director, Office of Federal and State Operations, Office of the Regional Administrator in whose region the State is located, and an office or offices of the State which have been designated by the State for this purpose. The most current copy of a State plan will be located in the State and regional offices pending submission of the supplements to the Assistant Secretary.

(d) During the period leading up to a determination under section 18(e) of the Act, as well as after final approval has been given to a State plan under section 18(e), notices will be published from time to time in the FEDERAL REGISTER providing an opportunity for public comments on charges submitted for review. However, the submission of supplements to the State plan will occur over a number of years. Therefore, in order to obtain public comments on the supplements to State plans, interested persons shall have the opportunity to submit in writing, data, views, and arguments on the supplements at any time, irrespective of whether a notice has been currently published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Comments received under this section will be considered in conjunction with the next subsequent evaluation.

The written comments received or copies thereof shall be available for public inspection and copying at the Office of the Director, Office of Federal and State Operations, Room 305, Railway Labor Building, 400 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20210; the Office of the Regional Administrator in whose region the State is located and an office or offices of the State which have been designated by the State for this purpose, as specified in the subpart of Part 1952 of this chapter relating to the State plan.

(e) At any time during the review period leading up to a determination under section 18(e) of the Act or after final approval has been given to a State plan under section 18(e), interested persons may petition for withdrawal of approval under section 18(f) of the Act on the grounds that as a result of a change in the plan there is a failure to comply substantially with any provision of a State plan or any assurances contained therein. In petitions filed prior to a determination under section 18(e) interested persons may also show that as a result of a change in the plan there is no longer a reasonable expectation to believe that a State plan will meet the criteria of § 1902.3 of this chapter within the 3 year developmental period leading up to the 18(e) determination. Consideration of such petitions shall commence not later than the evaluation of the State plan occurring at the end of each full year of operation of the plan provided that the petition is received at least 60 days prior to the end of the year of operation.

§ 1953.5 Advisory opinions.

(a) An authorized representative of a State agency or agencies designated under section 18(c) to administer a plan may request staff views from the Regional Administrator with respect to a course of action which the requesting party proposes to pursue. It is the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's policy to consider requests for such advice and, where practicable, to inform the requesting party of views at the staff level. A request ordinarily will be considered inappropriate for such advice: (1) Where the proposed course of action or its effects may be such that an informed decision thereon cannot be made or could be made only after extensive investigation, clinical study, testing, or collateral inquiry or (2) where the same or substantially the same course of action is under evaluation in another State or has been the subject of a current evaluation, approval, or disapproval proceeding by the Assistant Secretary.

(b) The request for advice should be submitted in writing to the Regional Administrator in whose region the State is located and should include full and complete information regarding the proposed course of action. Conferences with members of the regional and national office staffs may be held before or after submittal of the request. Submittals of additional information may be required.

(c) (1) On the basis of the facts submitted, as well as other information available to him, the Regional Administrator, after appropriate consultation with the Director, Office of Federal and State Operations and the Office of the Solicitor, will inform the requesting State of the staff views and may take such other action as may be appropriate.

(2) Any advice given is without prejudice to the right of the Assistant Secretary to reconsider the questions involved and, where the objectives of the Act and the public interest require, to rescind or revoke the advice. Notice of such rescission or revocation will be given to the requesting State so that it may discontinue the course of action taken. The Assistant Secretary will not proceed against the requesting State with respect to any action taken in good faith reliance upon the advice given under this section, where all relevant facts were fully, completely, and accurately presented and where such action was promptly discontinued upon notification by the Assistant Secretary.

(d) Within a reasonable time after the State has received the requested advice, the advisory opinions, and supplementing information including results of any meetings will be placed with the requesting State's plan at the locations specified in the subpart of Part 1952 of this chapter relating to the State plan.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 13th day of March 1973.

CHARN ROBBINS,
Acting Assistant
Secretary of Labor.

[CGD 73-48P]

Special Anchorage Areas

The Coast Guard is considering amending the anchorage regulations to enlarge the two existing special anchorage areas and to establish an additional special anchorage area in Milwaukee Harbor, Wis. The two existing areas are overcrowded and the enlargement of the two areas together with the establishment of an additional area would relieve the situation and enhance safety. The three special anchorage areas are adjacent to three parks: McKinley Park, South Shore Park, and Bay View Park. In special anchorage areas vessels under 65 feet in length are not required to carry or exhibit anchor lights.

Interested persons may participate in this proposed rule making by submitting written data, views, or arguments to the Commander, Ninth Coast Guard District, 1240 East Ninth Street, Cleveland, OH 44199. Each person submitting comments should include his name and address, identifying the notice (CGD 73-48P) and give any reasons for any recommended change in the proposal. Copies of all submissions received will be available for examination by interested persons at the office of the Commander, Ninth Coast Guard District.

The Commander, Ninth Coast Guard District, will forward any comments received before April 18, 1973, and his recommendations to the Chief, Office of Marine Environment and Systems, U.S. Coast Guard Headquarters, who will evaluate all communications received and take final action on this proposal. The proposed regulations may be changed in the light of comments received.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend Title 33 of the Code of Federal Regulations by revising § 110.80 to read as follows:

§ 110.80 Milwaukee Harbor, Milwaukee, Wis.

(a) McKinley Park. The water area east of McKinley Park enclosed by a line beginning at McKinley Park Jetty Light; thence 090°, 500 feet to a point on the breakwater; thence northerly and northwesterly following the breakwater, piers, jetty, and natural shoreline to the point of beginning.

(b) South Shore Park. The water area northeast of South Shore Park enclosed by a line beginning at the northeast corner of the jetty at latitude 43°00'07.5" N., longitude 87°53'08" W.; thence to latitude 43°00'05" N., longitude 87°53'01" W.; thence to latitude 42°59'55" N., longitude 87°52'53" W.; thence to latitude 42°59'40" N., longitude 87°52'33.5" W.; thence to a point on the shoreline at latitude 42°59'34" N., longitude 87°52'43.5" W.; thence following the shoreline to the point of beginning.

Federal Aviation Administration

[Airspace Docket No. 72-EA-88]

ADDITIONAL CONTROL AREAS

Proposed Designation

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) is considering an amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations that would designate three offshore additional control areas near Narragansett, R.I., Patchogue, N.Y., and Barnegat, N.J.

As part of this proposal relates to the navigable airspace outside the United States, this notice is submitted in consonance with the ICAO International Standards and Recommended Practices.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Applicability of International Standards and Recommended Practices, by the Air Traffic Service, FAA, in areas outside domestic airspace of the United States is governed by Article 12 and Annex 11 to the Convention on International Civil Aviation (ICAO), which pertain to the establishment of air navigation facilities and services necessary to promoting the safe, orderly and expeditious flow of civil air traffic. Their purpose is to insure that civil flying on international air routes is carried out under uniform conditions designed to improve the safety and efficiency of air operations.

The international Standards and Recommended Practices in Annex 11 apply in those parts of the airspace under the jurisdiction of a contracting State, derived from ICAO, wherein air traffic services are provided and also whenever a contracting State accepts the responsibility of providing air traffic services over high seas or in airspace of undetermined sovereignty. A contracting State accepting such responsibility may apply the International Standards and Recommended Practices to civil aircraft in a manner consistent with that adopted for airspace under its domestic jurisdiction.

In accordance with Article 3 of the Convention on International Civil Aviation, Chicago, 1944, State aircraft are exempt from the provisions of Annex 11 and its standards and recommended practices. As a contracting State, the United States agreed by Article 3(d) that its State aircraft will be operated in international airspace with due regard for the safety of civil aircraft.

Since this action involves, in part, the designation of navigable airspace outside the United States, the Administrator has consulted with the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 10854.

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rule making by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the airspace docket number and be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Eastern Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, Federal Building, John F. Kennedy International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430. All communications received on or before April 18, 1973, will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

An official docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the General Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20591. An informal docket also will be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Division Chief.

The FAA proposes the following airspace action:

NARRAGANSETT, R.I.

That airspace extending upward from 3,000 feet m.s.l. bounded on the north by the south boundary of Control 1169, on the east by the southwest boundary of Control 1145, on the south by the New York Oceanic CTA/FIR, on the southwest by the northeast boundary of Control 1147, on the west by longitude 72°30'00" W., excluding those portions within the Fire Island, N.Y., South Island, N.Y., and Nantucket, Mass., transition areas.

PATCHOGUE, N.Y.

That airspace extending upward from 3,000 feet m.s.l. bounded on the north by the south boundary of Control 1169, on the east by longitude 72°30'00" W., on the southwest by the northeast boundary of Control 1147, on the northwest by the east boundary of Victor Airway 139 excluding those portions within the Fire Island, N.Y., and South Island, N.Y., transition areas.

BARNEGAT, N.J.

That airspace extending upward from 2,000 feet m.s.l. bounded on the northeast by the southwest boundary of Control 1147, on the southeast by the New York Oceanic CTA/FIR, on the southwest by the northeast boundary of Control 1148, on the northwest by the east boundary of Victor Airway 139, on the north by latitude 39°44'00" N.

The proposed additional control areas would provide controlled airspace over water south of Rhode Island and Long Island, N.Y., and east of the southern part of New Jersey. This would give air traffic control added flexibility in traffic handling and enhance the movement of air traffic.

Related nonrule making action would also be taken to add controlling agency information for Warning Areas W-105, W-106, and W-107. Procedures for joint use of these areas would be required. Should the proposed actions be taken, concurrent action would also be taken to effect nonregulatory Jet Advisory Area service within these additional control areas.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of sections 307(a) and 1110 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348(a) and 1510) and Executive Order 10854 (24 FR 9565) and section 6 (c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on March 12, 1973.

CHARLES H. NEWPOL,
Acting Chief, Airspace and Air
Traffic Rules Division.

ADDITIONAL CONTROL AREA

Proposed Designation

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) is considering an amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations that would designate an additional control area adjacent to the east coast of the United States.

In conjunction with this proposal, non-rule making action would be required to after Warning Area W-108 as described herein. Procedures for joint use of W-108 by the using agency and the FAA would also be required.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rule making by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the airspace docket number and be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Eastern Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, Federal Building, John F. Kennedy International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430. All communications received on or before May 3, 1973, will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

An official docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the General Council, Attention: Rules Docket, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20591. An Informal docket also will be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Division Chief.

As part of this proposal relates to the navigable airspace outside the United States, this notice is submitted in consonance with the ICAO International Standards and Recommended Practices.

Applicability of International Standards and Recommended Practices by the Air Traffic Service, FAA, in areas outside domestic airspace of the United States is governed by Article 12 of and Annex 11 to the Convention on International Civil Aviation, which pertain to the establishment of air navigation facilities and services necessary to promoting the safe, orderly, and expeditious flow of civil air traffic. Their purpose is to insure that civil flying on international air routes is carried out under uniform conditions designed to improve the safety and efficiency of air operations.

The International Standards and Recommended Practices in Annex 11 apply in those parts of the airspace under the jurisdiction of a contracting state, derived from ICAO, wherein air traffic services are provided and also whenever a contracting state accepts the responsibility of providing air traffic services over high seas or in airspace of undetermined sovereignty. A contracting state accepting such responsibility may apply the International Standards and Recommended Practices to civil aircraft in a manner consistent with that adopted for airspace under its domestic jurisdiction.

In accordance with Article 3 of the Convention on International Civil Aviation, Chicago, 1944, state aircraft are exempt from the provisions of Annex 11 and its standards and recommended practices. As a contracting state, the United States agreed by Article 3(d) that its state aircraft will be operated in international airspace with due regard for the safety of civil aircraft.

Since this action involves, in part, the designation of navigable airspace outside the United States, the Administrator has consulted with the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 10854.

The proposed amendment would designate an additional control area as follows:

BETHANY BEACH, DEL.

That airspace extending upward from 2,000 feet MSL bounded on the west by a line 3 nautical miles east of and parallel to the U.S. shoreline; on the northeast by the southwest boundary of Control 1148; and on the south by lat. 38°00'00" N.

Nonrule making action associated with the proposed amendment would alter Warning Area W-108 as follows:

a. Change time of use from "Monday through Saturday, Sunrise to Sunset," to "Intermittent."

b. Add "Controlling agency, Federal Aviation Administration, New York ARTC Center."

"The proposal would permit more efficient use of the airspace within Warning Area W-108 when it is not being used by the using agency. The establishment of additional controlled airspace would provide more flexibility in routing oceanic air traffic."

This amendment is proposed under the authority of section 307(a) and 1110 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348(a) and 1510), Executive Order 10854 (24 FR 9565), and section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on March 12, 1973.

CHARLES H. NEWPOL,
Acting Chief, Airspace and Air Traffic Rules Division.

FEDERAL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS

Authorization To Request the Issuance of Search Warrant

Rule 41(a), F.R. Crim. P., provides that a search warrant may be issued "upon request of a Federal law enforcement officer or an attorney for the government." Rule 41(h) defines "Federal law enforcement officer" as "any Government agent, other than an attorney for the Government as defined in rule 54(c), who is engaged in the enforcement of the criminal laws and is within any category of officers authorized by the Attorney General to request the issuance of a search warrant." Listing the categories of officers was intended to inform courts and magistrates of the personnel authorized to request search warrants. It should be noted that only in the very rare, emergent case is the law enforcement officer permitted to seek a search warrant without the concurrence of the appropriate U.S. Attorney's Office. The following list of categories is furnished pursuant to Rule 41(h), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure.

1. Any person authorized to execute search warrants by a statute of the United States.
2. Any person who has been authorized to execute search warrants by the head of a department, bureau, or agency (or his delegate, if applicable) pursuant to any U.S. statute.
3. Any peace officer or customs officer of the Virgin Islands, Guam, or the Canal Zone.
4. Any officer of the Metropolitan Police Department, District of Columbia.
5. Any person authorized to execute search warrants by the President of the United States.

There follows a list of agencies with law enforcement personnel coming within these categories.

Food and Drug Administration

[DESI 11255; Docket No. FDC-D-566; NDA 6-547, etc.]

CERTAIN COMBINATION DRUGS CONTAINING ANTACIDS WITH ANTICHOLINERGICS

Notice of Withdrawal of Approval of New Drug Applications

On November 29, 1972, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (37 FR 25247) a notice of opportunity for hearing (DESI 11255) in which the Commissioner of Food and Drugs proposed to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355(e)) withdrawing approval of the new drug applications for the subject drugs in the absence of substantial evidence that these fixed combination drugs will have the effects that they purport or are represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling. The notice further stated that drugs containing an anticholinergic with an antacid are not appropriate for administration as fixed-dose combinations within the guidelines set forth in the statement of general policy or interpretation, § 3.86 Fixed-combination prescription drugs for humans, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of October 15, 1971 (36 FR 20037).

On December 20, 1972, the Caldwell & Bloor Co., 80 West Third Street, Mansfield, OH 44902, manufacturers of Martab No. 2 Tablets containing calcium carbonate, magnesium oxide, phenobarbital, and atropine sulfate; and Martab No. 3 Tablets containing calcium carbonate, phenobarbital and atropine sulfate, formulated for Dr. Edward A. Marshall, elected to avail for itself and for Dr. Marshall the opportunity for a hearing. On December 26, 1972 Riker Laboratories, holder of NDA 12-830 for Estomul Tablets and Liquid, also has elected to avail itself of the opportunity for a hearing.

These requests are under review and will be the subject of a future publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Neither the holders of the following new drug applications nor any other interested person have filed a written appearance of election as provided by said notice. The failure to file such an appearance constitutes an election by such persons not to avail themselves of the opportunity for a hearing:

1. NDA 11-255; Modutrol Tablets containing pipethanate hydrochloride, scopolamine methylnitrate aluminum hydroxide, and magnesium hydroxide; Reed & Carnrick, 30 Boright Avenue, Kenilworth, NJ 07033.

2. NDA 6-547; Alzinol Compound Tablets and Magma containing dihydroxyaluminum aminoacetate, phenobarbital and homatropine methylbromide; Smith, Miller & Patch, Inc., 401 Joyce Kilmer Avenue, New Brunswick, NJ 08902.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug applications reviewed and are subject to this notice. See 21 CFR 130.40 (37 FR 23185, Oct. 31, 1972). Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20852.

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs, pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 505, 52 Stat. 1053, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 355), and the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 554), and under authority delegated to him (21 CFR 2.120), finds on the basis of new information before him with respect to the drugs, evaluated together with the evidence available to him when the applications were approved, there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drugs will have the effects they purport or are represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling thereof. The Commissioner further concludes that these drugs are not appropriate for administration as fixed dose combinations within the guidelines set forth in the statement of general policy or interpretation, § 3.86 Fixed-combination prescription drugs for humans, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of October 15, 1971 (36 FR 20037).

Therefore, pursuant to the foregoing findings, approval of the above new drug applications and all amendments and supplements applying thereto is withdrawn effective on March 19, 1973. Shipment in interstate commerce of the above-listed drug products or of any identical, related, or similar product, not the subject of an approved new drug application, is henceforth unlawful.

Dated: March 12, 1973.

Associate Commissioner for Compliance.

The following drug was also included in the notice of May 22, 1971: Semikon Hydrochloride Tablets containing methapyrilene hydrochloride; The S. E. Massengill Co., 527 Fifth Street, Bristol, TN 37620 (NDA 6-614). Approval of that application has been withdrawn (37 FR 25, Feb. 8, 1972) on the grounds that reports required under section 505(j) of the Act and §§ 130.13 and 130.35 (e) and (f) of the new drug regulations (21 CFR 130.13 and 130.35) had not been submitted. That drug is regarded as a related drug.

The notice stated that these drugs were regarded as probably effective, possibly effective and lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness for their labeled indications. The possibly effective indications have been reclassified as lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness in that no new evidence of effectiveness has been received pursuant to the notice of May 22, 1971. Based upon evaluation of available information, the indications previously considered as probably effective are now regarded as effective as restated in the "Labeling conditions" below. In addition, two other effective indications are described.

In addition to the drugs described above, the following products, all in sustained release, long acting, or repeat action form, were included in the notice of May 22, 1971.

5. Hispril spansules (sustained release capsules) containing diphenylpyraline hydrochloride; Smith Kline & French Laboratories, 1500 Spring Garden Street, Philadelphia, PA 19101 (NDA 11-945).

The notice of May 22, 1971, stated that the above sustained release, long acting, or repeat action products were probably effective, possibly effective, or lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness for their various labeled indications. The possibly effective indications have been reclassified as lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness in that such evidence has not been received. Any such product on the market for human use with labeling bearing indications lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness will be subject to regulatory proceedings. The probably effective indications for these products will be the subject of a future notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Accordingly, with respect to the above-listed products which are not in sustained release, long acting, or repeat action form, the revised effectiveness classification and marketing status are as follows:

A. Effectiveness classification. The Food and Drug Administration has considered the Academy's reports, as well as other available evidence, and concludes that these drugs are effective for the indications listed in the labeling conditions below and lack substantial evidence of effectiveness for all of their other labeled indications.

B. Conditions for approval and marketing. The Food and Drug Administration is prepared to approve abbreviated new drug applications and abbreviated supplements to previously approved new drug applications under conditions described herein.

1. Form of drug. These preparations are in tablet, capsule, or liquid form, as indicated above, suitable for oral administration.

2. Labeling conditions. a. The labels bear the statement, "Caution: Federal law prohibits dispensing without prescription."

b. The drugs are labeled to comply with all requirements of the Act and regulations, and the labeling bears adequate information for safe and effective use of the drug(s). The "Indications" are as follows: (Labeling guidelines for these drugs are available from the Administration on request.)

INDICATIONS

For the symptomatic treatment of:
Seasonal and perennial allergic rhinitis.
Vasomotor rhinitis.
Allergic conjunctivitis due to inhalant allergens and foods.

Mild, uncomplicated allergic skin manifestations of urticaria and angioedema.

For the amelioration of the severity of allergic reactions to blood or plasma in patients with a known history of such reactions.

Dermatographism.

As therapy for anaphylactic reactions adjunctive to epinephrine and other standard measures after the acute manifestations have been controlled.

3. Marketing status. Marketing of such drugs may be continued under the conditions described in the notice entitled "Conditions for Marketing New Drugs Evaluated in Drug Efficacy Study," published in the FEDERAL REGISTER July 14, 1970 (35 FR 11273), as follows:

a. For holders of "deemed approved" new drug applications (i.e., an application which became effective on the basis of safety prior to October 10, 1962), the submission of a supplement for revised labeling and an abbreviated supplement for updating information as described in paragraphs (a) (1) (i) and (iii) of the notice of July 14, 1970.

b. For any person who does not hold an approved or effective new drug application, the submission of an abbreviated new drug application as described in paragraph (a) (3) (i) of that notice.

c. For any distributor of the drug, the use of labeling in accord with this announcement for any such drug shipped within the jurisdiction of the Act as described in paragraph (b) of that notice.

C. Notice of opportunity for a hearing. Notice is given to the holder(s) of the new drug application(s) and to any other interested person that the Commissioner proposes to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355(e)) withdrawing approval of the listed new drug application(s) or pertinent parts thereof and all amendments and supplements thereto providing for indications lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness referred to in paragraph A of this notice on the grounds that new information before him with respect to the drug(s), evaluated together with the evidence available to him at the time of approval of the application(s), shows there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drug(s) will have all the effects purported or represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling. An order withdrawing approval will not issue with respect to any application(s) supplemented, in accord with this notice, to delete the claim(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

Any manufacturer or distributor of such an identical, related, or similar product is an interested person who may in response to this notice submit data and information, request that the new drug application(s) not be withdrawn, request a hearing, and participate as a party in any hearing.

In accordance with the provisions of section 505 of the Act (21 U.S.C. 355) and the regulations promulgated thereunder (21 CFR Part 130), the Commissioner hereby gives the applicant(s) and any other interested person an opportunity for a hearing to show why approval of the new drug application(s) providing for the claim(s) involved should not be withdrawn.

On or before April 18, 1973, the applicant(s) and any other interested person may file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 6-88, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, a written appearance electing whether or not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing. Failure of an applicant or any other interested person to file a written appearance of election on or before April 18, 1973, will constitute an election by him not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing.

If no person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, the Commissioner without further notice will enter a final order withdrawing approval of the application(s) which have not been supplemented to delete the indication(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

If an applicant or any other interested person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, he must file, on or before April 18, 1973, a written appearance requesting the hearing, giving the reasons why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn, together with a well-organized and full-factual analysis of the clinical and other investigational data he is prepared to prove in support of his opposition. A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that a genuine and substantial issue of fact requires a hearing (21 CFR 130.14(b)).

If review of the data submitted by an applicant or any other interested person warrants the conclusion that there exists substantial evidence demonstrating the effectiveness of the product(s) for the labeling claim(s) involved, the Commissioner will rescind this notice of opportunity for hearing.

If review of the data in the application(s) and data submitted by the applicant(s) or any other interested person in a request for a hearing, together with the reasoning and factual analysis in a request for a hearing, warrants the conclusion that no genuine and substantial issue of fact precludes the withdrawal of approval of the application(s), the Commissioner will enter an order making findings and conclusions on such data and withdrawing approval of application(s) or pertinent parts thereof not supplemented to delete the claim(s) involved.

If, upon the request of the new drug applicant(s) or any other interested person, a hearing is justified, the issues will be defined, a hearing examiner will be named, and he shall issue, as soon as practicable after the expiration of April 18, 1973, a written notice of the time and place at which the hearing will commence. All persons interested in identical, related, or similar products covered by the new drug application(s) will be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, file briefs, present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, submit suggested findings of fact, and otherwise participate as a party. The hearing contemplated by this notice will be open to the public except that any portion of the hearing that concerns a method or process the Commissioner finds entitled to protection as a trade secret will not be open to the public, unless the respondent specifies otherwise in his appearance.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug applications reviewed and are subject to this notice. See 21 CFR 130.40 (37 FR 23185, October 31, 1972). Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852.

See 21 CFR 130.40 (37 FR 23185, Oct. 31, 1972). Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852.

The notice of March 9, 1971 stated that these drugs were regarded as probably effective and possibly effective for their labeled indications. The possibly effective indications have been reclassified as lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness in that no new evidence of effectiveness has been received pursuant to the notice of March 9, 1971.

Based upon evaluation of available information, the indications previously considered as probably effective are now regarded as effective as restated in the "Labeling conditions" below. In addition, three other effective indications are added. Accordingly, the revised effectiveness classification and marketing status are as follows:

A. Effectiveness classification. The Food and Drug Administration has considered the Academy's reports, as well as other available evidence, and concludes that:

1. Clemizole hydrochloride is effective for the indications included in the labeling conditions herein.

2. It lacks substantial evidence of effectiveness for all other labeled indications.

B. Conditions for approval and marketing. The Food and Drug Administration is prepared to approve abbreviated new drug applications and abbreviated supplements to previously approved new drug applications under conditions described herein.

As therapy for anaphylactic reactions adjunctive to epinephrine and other standard measures after the acute manifestations have been controlled.

3. Marketing status. Marketing of such drugs may be continued under the conditions described in the notice entitled "Conditions for Marketing New Drugs Evaluated in Drug Efficacy Study", published in the FEDERAL REGISTER July 14, 1970 (35 FR 11273), as follows:

a. For holders of "deemed approved" new drug applications (i.e., an application which became effective on the basis of safety prior to Oct. 10, 1962), the submission of a supplement for revised labeling and an abbreviated supplement for updating information as described in paragraphs (a) (1) (i) and (iii) of the notice of July 14, 1970.

b. For any person who does not hold an approved or effective new drug application, the submission of an abbreviated new drug application as described in paragraph (a) (3) (i) of that notice.

c. For any distributor of the drug, the use of labeling in accord with this announcement for any such drug shipped within the jurisdiction of the Act as described in paragraph (b) of that notice.

C. Notice of opportunity for a hearing. Notice is given to the holder(s) of the new drug application(s) and to any other interested person that the Commissioner proposes to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355(e)) withdrawing approval of the listed new drug application(s) and all amendments and supplements thereto providing for indications lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness referred to in paragraph A.2 of this notice on the grounds that new information before him with respect to the drug(s), evaluated together with the evidence available to him at the time of approval of the application(s), shows there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drug(s) will have all the effects purported or represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling. An order withdrawing approval will not issue with respect to any application(s) supplemented, in accord with this notice, to delete the claim(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

Any manufacturer or distributor of such an identical, related, or similar product is an interested person who may in response to this notice submit data and information, request that the new drug application(s) not be withdrawn, request a hearing, and participate as a party in any hearing.

In accordance with the provisions of section 505 of the Act (21 U.S.C. 355) and the regulations promulgated thereunder (21 CFR Part 130), the Commissioner hereby gives the applicant(s) and any other interested person an opportunity for a hearing to show why approval of the new drug application(s) providing for the claim(s) involved should not be withdrawn.

If no person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, the Commissioner without further notice will enter a final order withdrawing approval of the application(s) which have not been supplemented to delete the indication(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

If an applicant or any other interested person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, he must file, on or before April 18, 1973, a written appearance requesting the hearing, giving the reasons why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn, together with a well-organized and full-factual analysis of the clinical and other investigational data he is prepared to prove in support of his opposition. A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that a genuine and substantial issue of fact requires a hearing (21 CFR 130.14(b)).

If review of the data submitted by an applicant or any other interested person warrants the conclusion that there exists substantial evidence demonstrating the effectiveness of the product(s) for the labeling claim(s) involved, the Commissioner will rescind this notice of opportunity for hearing.

If review of the data in the application(s) and data submitted by the applicant(s) or any other interested person in a request for a hearing, together with the reasoning and factual analysis in a request for a hearing, warrants the conclusion that no genuine and substantial issue of fact precludes the withdrawal of approval of the application(s), the Commissioner will enter an order making findings and conclusions on such data and withdrawing approval of application(s) not supplemented to delete the claim(s) involved.

If, upon the request of the new drug applicant(s) or any other interested person, a hearing is justified, the issues will be defined, a hearing examiner will be named, and he shall issue, as soon as practicable after April 18, 1973, a written notice of the time and place at which the hearing will commence. #### DESERPIDINE

Drugs for Human Use; Drug Efficacy Study Implementation; Followup Notice

In a notice (DESI 8867) published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 28, 1971 (36 FR 7984), the Commissioner of Food and Drugs announced his conclusions pursuant to evaluation of a report received from the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, Drug Efficacy Study Group on Harmony Tablets containing deserpidine; Abbott Laboratories, 14th and Sheridan Road, North Chicago, Ill. 60064 (NDA 10-796).

All identical, related, or similar products are covered by the new drug application reviewed and are subject to this notice. See 21 CFR 130.40 (37 FR 23185, Oct. 31, 1972). Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20852.

The notice stated that the drug was regarded as probably effective for treatment of mild essential hypertension and for use with benzothiadiazines (thiazides) for treating hypertension; and possibly effective as a tranquilizer in some patients with mild anxiety states.

The possibly effective indication has been reclassified to lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness in that such evidence has not been received pursuant to the notice.

Based upon further review, the Commissioner concludes that the drug is effective for the previously probably effective indications as reworded in the "Labeling conditions" set forth below.

Accordingly, the previous notice is amended to read as follows, insofar as it pertains to deserpidine tablets.

A. Effectiveness classification. The Food and Drug Administration has considered the Academy's report, as well as other available evidence, and concludes that:

1. Oral deserpidine is effective in the treatment of mild essential hypertension; as adjunctive therapy with other antihypertensive agents in the more severe forms of hypertension; for the relief of symptoms in agitated psychotic states, e.g., schizophrenia—primarily in those individuals unable to tolerate phenothiazine derivatives or those who also require antihypertensive medication.

2. The drug lacks substantial evidence of effectiveness for other indications.

B. Conditions for approval and marketing. The Food and Drug Administration is prepared to approve abbreviated new drug applications and abbreviated supplements to previously approved new drug applications under conditions described herein.

1. Form of drug. Deserpidine preparations are in tablet form suitable for oral administration.

2. Labeling conditions. a. The label bears the statement, "Caution: Federal law prohibits dispensing without prescription."

b. The drug is labeled to comply with all requirements of the Act and regulations and the labeling bears adequate information for safe and effective use of the drug. The indications are:

For the treatment of mild essential hypertension. It is also useful as adjunctive therapy with other antihypertensive agents in the more severe forms of hypertension.

For the relief of symptoms in agitated psychotic states, e.g., schizophrenia—primarily in those individuals unable to tolerate phenothiazine derivatives or those who also require antihypertensive medication.

Other parts of the labeling are as set forth for oral reserpine published in the notice of April 28, 1971.

3. Marketing status. Marketing of such drugs may be continued under the conditions described in the notice entitled "Conditions for Marketing New Drugs Evaluated in Drug Efficacy Study," published in the FEDERAL REGISTER July 14, 1970 (35 FR 11273), as follows:

a. For holders of "deemed approved" new drug applications (i.e., an application which became effective on the basis of safety prior to October 10, 1962), the submission of a supplement for revised labeling and an abbreviated supplement for updating information as described in paragraphs (a) (1) (i) and (iii) of the notice of July 14, 1970.

b. For any person who does not hold an approved or effective new drug application, the submission of an abbreviated new drug application as described in paragraph (a) (3) (i) of that notice.

c. For any distributor of the drug, the use of labeling in accord with this announcement for any such drug shipped within the jurisdiction of the Act as described in paragraph (b) of that notice.

C. Notice of opportunity for a hearing. Notice is given to the holder(s) of the new drug application(s) and to any other interested person that the Commissioner proposes to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355(e)) withdrawing approval of the listed new drug application(s) and all amendments and supplements thereto providing for indications lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness referred to in paragraph A of this notice on the grounds that new information before him with respect to the drug(s), evaluated together with the evidence available to him at the time of approval of the application(s), shows there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drug(s) will have all the effects purported or represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling. An order withdrawing approval will not issue with respect to any application(s) supplemented, in accord with this notice, to delete the claim(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

Any manufacturer or distributor of such an identical, related or similar product is an interested person who may in response to this notice submit data and information, request that the new drug application(s) not be withdrawn, request a hearing, and participate as a party in any hearing.

In accordance with the provisions of section 505 of the Act (21 U.S.C. 355) and the regulations promulgated thereunder (21 CFR Part 130), the Commissioner hereby gives the applicant(s) and any other interested person an opportunity for a hearing to show why approval of the new drug application(s) providing for the claim(s) involved should not be withdrawn.

On or before April 18, 1973, the applicant(s) and any other interested person may file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 6-88, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20852, a written appearance electing whether or not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing. Failure of an applicant or any other interested person to file a written appearance of election on or before April 18, 1973, will constitute an election by him not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing.

If no person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, the Commissioner without further notice will enter a final order withdrawing approval of the application(s) which have not been supplemented to delete the indication(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

If an applicant or any other interested person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, he must file, on or before April 18, 1973, a written appearance requesting the hearing, giving the reasons why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn, together with a well-organized and full-factual analysis of the clinical and other investigational data he is prepared to prove in support of his opposition. A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that a genuine and substantial issue of fact requires a hearing (21 CFR 130.14(b)).

If review of the data submitted by an applicant or any other interested person warrants the conclusion that there exists substantial evidence demonstrating the effectiveness of the product(s) for the labeling claim(s) involved, the Commissioner will rescind this notice of opportunity for hearing.

If review of the data in the application(s) and data submitted by the applicant(s) or any other interested person in a request for a hearing, together with the reasoning and factual analysis in a request for a hearing, warrants the conclusion that no genuine and substantial issue of fact precludes the withdrawal of approval of the application(s), the Commissioner will enter an order making findings and conclusions on such data and withdrawing approval of application(s) not supplemented to delete the claim(s) involved.

If, upon the request of the new drug applicant(s) or any other interested person, a hearing is justified, the issues will be defined, and a hearing examiner will be named, and he shall issue, as soon as practicable after April 18, 1973, a written notice of the time and place at which the hearing will commence. All persons interested in identical, related, or similar products covered by the new drug application(s) will be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, file briefs, present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, submit suggested findings of fact, and otherwise participate as a party. The hearing contemplated by this notice will be open to the public except that any portion of the hearing that concerns a method or process the Commissioner finds entitled to protection as a trade secret will not be open to the public, unless the respondent specifies otherwise in his appearance.

HOFFMANN-LA ROCHE, INC.

Certain Antibiotic-Containing Premixes; Notice of Drugs Deemed Adulterated

In an announcement in the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 9, 1970 (35 FR 11070, DESI 0173NV), the Commissioner of Food and Drugs announced the conclusions of the Food and Drug Administration following evaluation of reports received from the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, Drug Efficacy Study Group, on Golden Oak Swine Concentrate Medicated and Golden Oak Swine Vitamin Premix Medicated; marketed by Hoffmann-La Roche, Inc., Nutley, N.J. 07110.

Said announcement provided the manufacturer and all interested parties a 6 month period in which to submit new animal drug applications. Hoffman-La Roche, Inc., did not submit a new animal drug application for said products. They responded to said announcement by advising the Commissioner that these premises have been discontinued.

Therefore, based on the information before him, the Commissioner concludes that the above-named premises are adulterated within the meaning of section 501 (a) (5) or (6) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, in that they are not the subject of approved new animal drug applications pursuant to section 512 of the act. Notice is given to Hoffmann-La Roche, Inc. and all interested persons that all stocks of the above named drugs for use in animal feed and all feed bearing or containing these products within the jurisdiction of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act are deemed adulterated within the meaning of the act and are subject to appropriate regulatory action.

This notice is issued pursuant to provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 501(a) (5), (6), 512, 52 Stat. 1049, as amended, 82 Stat. 343-351; 21 U.S.C. 351(a) (5) and (6), 360b) and under authority delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120).

MERCK SHARP & DOHME

Benactyzine Hydrochloride; Notice of Withdrawal of Approval of New Drug Application

A notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 23, 1972 (37 FR 28437), extending to Merck Sharp & Dohme, Division Merck & Co., Inc., West Point, Pa. 19486 and to any interested person, an opportunity for hearing on the proposal of the Commissioner of Food and Drugs to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act withdrawing approval of NDA 10-723 for Suavitil Tablets (benactyzine hydrochloride). The basis of the proposed action was the lack of substantial evidence that the drug is effective for its labeled indications.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug application reviewed and are subject to this notice. See 21 CFR 130.40 (37 FR 23185, October 31, 1972). Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20852.

Neither the holder of the application nor any other person filed a written appearance of election within the 30 days provided by said notice. The failure to file such an appearance constitutes election by such persons not to avail themselves of an opportunity for hearing.

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs pursuant to provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 505, 52 Stat. 1053, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 355) and the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 554), and under the authority delegated to him (21 CFR 2.120), finds that on the basis of new information before him with regard to the drug, evaluated together with the evidence available to him when the application was approved, there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drug will have the effect it purports or is represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling thereof.

Therefore, pursuant to the foregoing finding, approval of new drug application No. 10-723 and all amendments and supplements thereto is withdrawn effective on March 19, 1973.

Shipment in interstate commerce of the above-listed drug product or of any identical, related, or similar product, not the subject of an approved new drug application, is henceforth unlawful.

Dated: March 12, 1973.

MERCK SHARP & DOHME

Dexamethasone Sodium Phosphate and Lidocaine Hydrochloride Injection, Dilute; Notice of Withdrawal of Approval of New Drug Application

On December 9, 1972 there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (37 FR 26357) a notice of opportunity for hearing (DESI 13334) in which the Commissioner of Food and Drugs proposed to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355(e)) withdrawing approval of that part of NDA 13-334 pertaining to Decadron Phosphate with Xylometasone Injection, Dilute containing dexamethasone sodium phosphate 1 mg./ml. and lidocaine hydrochloride 5 mg./ml.; Merck Sharp & Dohme, Division of Merck & Co., Inc., West Point, Pa. 19486.

The basis of the proposed withdrawal of approval was the lack of substantial evidence that this fixed combination drug will have the effect that it purports or is represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling.

Neither Merck nor any other interested person has filed a written appearance of election as provided by said notice. The failure to file such an appearance constitutes an election by such persons not to avail themselves of the opportunity for a hearing.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug application reviewed and are subject to this notice. See 21 CFR 130.40 (37 FR 23185, October 31, 1972). Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20852.

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs, pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 505, 52 Stat. 1053, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 355), and the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 554), and under authority delegated to him (21 CFR 2.120), finds that on the basis of new information before him with respect to the drug, evaluated together with the evidence available to him when the application was approved, there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drug will have the effect it purports or is represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling thereof.

Therefore, pursuant to the foregoing findings, approval of that portion of new drug application 13-334 pertaining to the subject drug and all amendments and supplements applying thereto is withdrawn effective on March 19, 1973.

Shipment in interstate commerce of the above-listed drug product or of any identical, related, or similar product, not the subject of an approved new drug application, is henceforth unlawful.

Dated: March 12, 1973.

16121) (DESI 12180) regarding the efficacy of aluminum nicotinate.

The notice stated that the drug was effective as an antilipemic agent and required the following statement to follow the "Indications" section either enclosed in a block or in italics:

Notice: It has not been established whether drug-induced lowering of serum cholesterol or other lipid levels has a detrimental, beneficial or no effect on the morbidity due to atherosclerosis or coronary heart disease. The Commissioner of Food and Drugs finds it appropriate to amend the announcement of April 15, 1972 by:

Holders of applications approved for niacin or sitosterols intended as antilipemic agents should submit, on or before May 18, 1973, supplements to their new drug applications to provide for revised labeling in accord with the indications and qualifying statement described above. Such supplements should be submitted under the provisions of § 130.9 (d) and (e) of the new drug regulations (21 CFR 130.9 (d) or (e)) which permit certain changes to be put into effect at the earliest possible time.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug applications reviewed and are subject to this notice. No new clinical data were received pursuant to the notice. However, based upon reevaluation of available information, the drug is regarded as effective for certain indications as described herein. Accordingly, the effectiveness classification and marketing status are as follows:

A. Effectiveness classification. The Food and Drug Administration has considered the Academy's report, as well as other available evidence, and concludes that:

1. Theophylline sodium glycinate injection is effective for emergency use in acute attacks of bronchial asthma and other bronchospastic conditions.

b. For any person who does not hold an approved or effective new drug application, the submission of an abbreviated new drug application as described in paragraph (a)(3)(i) of that notice.

c. For any distributor of the drug, the use of labeling in accord with this notice for any such drug shipped within the jurisdiction of the Act as described in paragraph (b) of that notice.

C. Notice of opportunity for a hearing. Notice is given to the holder(s) of the new drug application(s) and to any other interested person that the Commissioner proposes to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355(e)) withdrawing approval of pertinent parts of the listed new drug application(s) and all amendments and supplements thereto providing for indications lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness referred to in paragraph A.2. of this notice on the grounds that new information before him with respect to the drug(s), evaluated together with the evidence available to him at the time of approval of the application(s), shows there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drug(s) will have all the effects purported or represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling. An order withdrawing approval will not issue with respect to any application(s) supplemented, in accord with this notice, to delete the claim(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

Failure of an applicant or any other interested person to file a written appearance of election on or before April 18, 1973, will constitute an election by him not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing.

If no person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, the Commissioner without further notice will enter a final order withdrawing approval of pertinent parts of the application(s) which have not been supplemented to delete the indication(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

If an applicant or any other interested person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, he must file, on or before April 18, 1973, a written appearance requesting the hearing, giving the reasons why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn, together with a well-organized and full factual analysis of the clinical and other investigational data he is prepared to prove in support of his opposition. A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that a genuine and substantial issue of fact requires a hearing (21 CFR 130.14 (b)).

If review of the data submitted by an applicant or any other interested person warrants the conclusion that there exists substantial evidence demonstrating the effectiveness of the product(s) for the labeling claim(s) involved, the Commissioner will rescind this notice of opportunity for hearing.

If review of the data in the application(s) and data submitted by the applicant(s) or any other interested person in a request for a hearing, together with the reasoning and factual analysis in a request for a hearing, warrants the conclusion that no genuine and substantial issue of fact precludes the withdrawal of approval of the application(s), the Commissioner will enter an order making findings and conclusions on such data and withdrawing approval of pertinent parts of the application(s) not supplemented to delete the claim(s) involved.

If, upon the request of the new drug applicant(s) or any other interested person, a hearing is justified, the issues will be defined, a hearing examiner will be named, and he shall issue, as soon as practicable after the expiration of such 30 days, a written notice of the time and place at which the hearing will commence. All persons interested in identical, related, or similar products covered by the new drug application(s) will be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, file briefs, present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, submit suggested findings of fact, and otherwise participate as a party. #### INDIANA AND MICHIGAN ELECTRIC CO., AND INDIANA AND MICHIGAN POWER CO. Notice of Opportunity for Hearing on Application for an Extension of Construction Permit Completion Dates

On March 25, 1969, the Atomic Energy Commission (the Commission) issued two provisional construction permits to the Indiana and Michigan Electric Co. and the Indiana and Michigan Power Co. (Companies) for construction of Units 1 and 2 of the Donald C. Cook Nuclear Plant. In accordance with section 185 of the Atomic Energy Act, 42 U.S.C. section 2235, the construction permits for the two units stated the earliest and latest dates for the completion of construction (Unit 1: November 1, 1971 and November 1, 1972, respectively. Unit 2: January 1, 1973 and January 1, 1974, respectively). On October 10, 1972, the Companies requested an extension of the latest permit completion date on both permits, citing bad weather, unexpected labor troubles and delay due to the redesign of certain reactor containment components. The Commission granted the Companies' request by Order dated October 26, 1972 (37 FR 23373), extending the latest completion dates for Units 1 and 2 to November 1, 1974 and December 1, 1975, respectively. On review of this order, however, the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit directed the Commission on March 8, 1973:

Promptly to afford the petitioners, and any other interested persons, an opportunity for hearing on the question of whether the Companies have shown "good cause" for extension of the permit completion dates. ("Brooks, et al. v. Atomic Energy Commission," No. 72-1277)

Notice is hereby given that any person whose interest may be affected by the Commission's determination of the Companies' application may file a petition for leave to intervene and request for a hearing on the extension application by April 18, 1973. If a timely request for a hearing, accompanied by a petition for leave to intervene, is filed by an interested person, a hearing will be conducted at a time and place to be announced by the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board (Board) specified below.

The issue to be decided by any hearing on this application is whether the Companies have shown "good cause" for extension of the construction permit completion dates. The specific matters to be considered within the confines of this issue will be determined by the Board on the basis of the petitions submitted. Following a hearing, the Licensing Board shall render a de novo decision. The burden of proof shall be on the Companies.

Papers required to be filed in the proceeding may be filed by mail or telegram addressed to the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545. Attention: Chief, Public Proceeding Branch, or may be filed by delivery to the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC. Pending further order of the Board, persons are required to file, pursuant to the provisions of 10 CFR 2.708 of the Commission's "Rules of Practice," an original and 20 conformed copies of each such paper with the Commission.

A copy of the Companies' application and other documents relevant to the Cook facility are available for inspection by members of the public in the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC.

In accordance with the Court's decision in the "Brooks" case, supra, construction of the Cook plant will continue pending the outcome of this hearing. Against this background, and the Court's further statement that this hearing is in addition to the hearings presently scheduled for this summer on the continuation, modification, termination, or conditioning of the construction permits and the issuance of operating licenses for the plant (see 37 FR 20996), the Commission has directed that the "good cause" proceeding be concluded with utmost expedition. Final decision on the "good cause" question shall be reached by June 4, 1973. For these purposes the proceeding shall be conducted under the following requirements:

1. The hearing will be held before an Atomic Safety and Licensing Board (Licensing Board) composed of the following members: Jerome Garfinkel, Esq., (Chairman), Mr. Gustave A. Linenberger, and Dr. Ernest O. Salo. Dr. Gerard A. Rohlich has been designated as a technically qualified alternate, and Thomas W. Reilly, Esq., has been designated as an alternate qualified in the conduct of administrative proceedings.

2. The Licensing Board shall render its initial decision by May 18, 1973. In order to meet this schedule, the Licensing Board shall conduct the hearing as soon as possible.

3. The Licensing Board's initial decision shall constitute the final decision of the Commission unless exceptions are filed within 5 days after its date. If exceptions are filed, the decision shall not be final until Appeal Board review is concluded.

Insofar as this notice and these requirements reflect shortening of time periods otherwise prescribed in 10 CFR Part 2, the Commission finds good cause for such action under 10 CFR § 2.711, for the reasons stated above. We further note that the authority of 10 CFR § 2.711 also extends to the Licensing Board.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 15th day of March 1973.

By the Commission.

PAUL C. BENDER,
Secretary of the Commission.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

DELTA AIR LINES, INC.

Extension of Temporary Suspension of Service

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C. on the 13th day of March, 1973.

By Order 70-3-62, March 13, 1970, the Board authorized Northeast Airlines, Inc. (subsequently merged with Delta Air Lines, Inc.), to suspend its services at Augusta/Waterville and Lewiston/Auburn, Maine, for a period of 3 years. The

This order was reconsidered on remand from the U.C. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in Air Line Pilots Ass'n., International v. C.A.B., 458 F.2d 846 (D.C. Cir. 1972) and reaffirmed by the Board in Orders 72-9-39, September 12, 1972, and 73-1-3, January 2, 1973.

Board provided for immediate termination of the suspension authority if an air taxi operator should reduce the levels of, or cease to provide, the prescribed minimum amount of service.<sup>4</sup>

On January 19, 1973, Delta filed the subject application in which it requests the Board (1) to extend its suspension authority at Augusta/Waterville and Lewiston/Auburn until 90 days after final decision in the "New England Service Investigation", Docket 22973, and (2) to reduce the required level of replacement service in the Lewiston/Auburn-Boston market from five to three daily round-trip flights. Responsive pleadings were filed by a number of parties.<sup>5</sup>

Since the subject matter of Delta's application can be divided into two distinct areas, we will discuss the positions of the parties and our disposition of the application under two separate headings, as follows:

I. Renewal of Suspension. In support of its application for extension of its suspension authority, Delta alleges, inter alia, that the circumstances and conditions which originally justified the suspensions in 1970 continue to exist; that Delta would suffer an estimated annual operating loss of $718,796 if it were required to resume service even assuming that it supplied a minimum pattern with FH-227 aircraft; that neither Delta nor Northeast, its predecessor, has received complaints from the communities or the traveling public with respect to the incumbent replacement service; and that there is no reason for the Board to alter the status quo in advance of its final decision in the "New England Service Investigation."

No party answering Delta's application for renewal of the suspension authority has objected in principle to the extension of that authorization. However, the Lewiston/Auburn Area Chamber of Commerce urges that Delta be required, as a condition to continued suspension, to institute an "Allegheny Commuter" type service in the Lewiston/Auburn-Boston market. The Chamber recognizes that the

*The minimum amount of service is as follows:

(a) Eight round-trip flights on weekdays and four round-trip flights on weekends between Augusta and Boston from May 1 to November 1;

(b) Six round-trip flights on weekdays and three round-trip flights on weekends between Augusta and Boston from November 1 to May 1.

(c) Five daily round-trip flights between Lewiston and Boston.

Answers have been filed by the Cities of Lewiston and Auburn and the Lewiston/Auburn Airport Committee, the Lewiston/Auburn Area Chamber of Commerce, Auburn Aircraft Service, the State of Maine, and Executive Airlines, Inc. Delta filed a consolidated reply to the answers.

In addition, the City of Waterville, the Waterville Area Chamber of Commerce and the Waterville Airport Board (the Waterville Parties) filed a reply to Executive's answer together with a motion for leave to file (the otherwise unauthorized document). Delta filed a reply to the Waterville Parties also accompanied by a motion for leave to file. Both motions will be granted.

Board might wish to defer decision on the "Allegheny Commuter" issue, "in view of the progress of the New England Service Investigation."

Upon consideration of the pleadings and all the relevant facts, we have decided to authorize Delta to extend its suspension of service at Augusta/Waterville and Lewiston/Auburn until 90 days after final decision in the "New England Service Investigation." Less than 3 months ago we concluded that Delta's suspension at the points in question, subject to conditions, was consistent with the public interest. Since, with the exception of the contingent objections of the State of Maine already discussed, no party has objected to an extension of the suspension, we reaffirm the findings and conclusions contained in Orders 72-9-39, September 12, 1972 and 73-1-3, January 2, 1973. Accordingly, we conclude that extension of Delta's suspension authority until 90 days after final decision in the "Service Investigation" is in the public interest.<sup>6</sup>

II. Reduction in Frequencies at Lewiston/Auburn. In support of its request for reduction of the replacement service frequencies in the Lewiston/Auburn-Boston market from five to three daily round trips, Delta alleges that Executive has already reduced its service without incurring adverse reaction from the communities and the traveling public; that the replacement service in the market has been sufficient to insure adequate capacity at all times; and that the future of service in the Lewiston/Auburn-Boston market will be fully considered in the "New England Service Investigation."

Executive Airlines, stressing its own recent financial problems, the lack of community complaint concerning the level of service at Lewiston/Auburn, and the pendency of the "Service Investigation", alleges in support of Delta's application that no more than three daily round trip flights are needed at Lewiston/Auburn and that grant of Delta's

*In addition, the State of Maine, contingently "renews all of the objections filed in response to Order 72-9-39" if the Board grants Delta's application for a reduction in the frequency-of-service requirements in the Lewiston/Auburn-Boston market. Since we are granting Delta's application in that respect, the State's objections are technically before us for consideration. We have previously found those objections insufficient to warrant denial of Delta's continued suspension at the points in question (Order 73-1-3), however, and we reaffirm that conclusion here.

*We will deny the request of the Lewiston/Auburn Area Chamber of Commerce that Delta be required to provide an "Allegheny Commuter" type of service. We have denied similar requests by the State of Maine and find in the instant pleadings no reason for departure from our earlier conclusions. See Orders 72-6-63, June 15, 1972 and 73-1-3, January 2, 1973.

application will strengthen Executive while assuring the public of "all the service which it requires."

The Lewiston/Auburn parties argue that reduced traffic did not mandate a reduction of service but rather that the deterioration of service resulted in less demand; that Delta is financially able to resume service; and that the burden is on Delta to assure continued compliance with Orders 70-3-62 and 73-1-3. In addition, they contend that their acquiescence in Executive's service reduction in 1971, just prior to the commencement of its reorganization proceedings, resulted from a desire to assist that carrier through its financial difficulties and should not be construed as acceptance of the situation. The State of Maine asserts that Delta is presently in violation of the terms of Order 73-1-3 and, therefore, that the Board should refuse to process the application with respect to Lewiston/Auburn until Delta fulfills its existing obligations. Moreover, the State argues that, since the Board has previously indicated a desire to maintain the status quo during the pendency of the "New England Service Investigation", it should not now amend the minimum service requirements at a point in issue in that proceeding. The Waterville Parties contend that Executive should be required to reinstitute the prescribed frequency of service and that Delta should subsidize the carrier's service if necessary.

In these circumstances, there can be no wholly satisfactory solution. Through an oversight, the unauthorized reduction in the level of replacement service actually operated at Lewiston/Auburn has escaped attention for a period of approximately 18 months, notwithstanding our repositioning as recently as January of this year of the original five round-trip requirement.<sup>7</sup> Thus, the reduced pattern of service has become the status quo. Grant of Delta's application at this time will result in no change in the service actually provided; denial of Delta's application, on the other hand, would require the carrier either to reinstitute service with its own aircraft (a course of action seriously advocated by no party) or, apparently, to subsidize the services of Executive. While the latter course of action is a valid possibility, we are reluctant to require such steps on an interim basis when the whole matter will soon be before us on a complete record in the "Service Investigation." This is particularly so since, on the basis of the facts before us, it appears that the level of service operated by Executive is sufficient to meet the demands of the market.<sup>8</sup> Accordingly, we conclude that grant of Delta's request for a reduction in the frequency of replacement service required as a condition to its suspension at Lewiston/Auburn is in the public interest.

*The communities affected apparently preferred to acquiesce in the reduction of service in order to assist reorganization efforts rather than bring the matter affirmatively to the Board's attention.

*We do not condone any violation of the Board's orders which may have taken place. On the facts as they now appear, as of the date on which the replacement carrier ceased to provide five daily round trips in this market, the suspension authority of Northeast and Delta terminated by operation of law and, consequently, the carriers were in violation of Orders 70-3-62 and 73-1-3, section 404(a) of the Act and their certificate obligations. Our conclusion herein is not intended to preclude any enforcement proceedings which may be taken as a result of those apparent violations.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That:

1. Delta Air Lines, Inc., be and it hereby is authorized to suspend service at Augusta/Waterville and Lewiston/Auburn, Maine, conditioned upon compliance by Delta with the Railway Labor Act;

2. The authority granted herein shall be subject to the condition that such suspension shall immediately terminate if, at any time during the period set forth in paragraph 4, below, the air taxi service to Augusta/Waterville and/or Lewiston/Auburn should, for any reason, cease or fall below the levels of service described below:

- (a) Eight daily round-trip flights, Monday through Friday, in the Boston/Augusta/Waterville market for the period May 1 through October 31;

- (b) Six daily round-trip flights, Monday through Friday, in the Boston/Augusta/Waterville market for the period November 1 through April 30;

- (c) Four daily round-trip flights Saturday and Sunday in the Boston/Augusta/Waterville market for the period May 1 through October 31;

- (d) Three daily round-trip flights, Saturday and Sunday in the Boston/Augusta/Waterville market for the period November 1 through April 30;

- (e) Three daily round-trip flights in the Boston-Lewiston-Auburn market;

3. Executive Airlines shall keep on deposit with the Board a signed counterpart of Agreement C.A.B. 18900, an agreement relating to liability limitations of the Warsaw Convention and the Hague Protocol approved by Board Order E-23680, dated May 13, 1966, and a signed counterpart of any amendment which may be approved by the Board and to which the holder becomes a party;

*Uncontroverted data submitted by Delta indicate that during 1972, the service generated on average fewer than nine passengers per day in each direction, or scarcely three per flight. Indeed, the peak month, August, produced only 12 passengers per day each way. Even during the 1970-71 period in which five round trips were operated, traffic never exceeded the 20 passengers per day in each direction (roughly four per flight) attained in the summer of 1970. The three round trips operated by Executive provide a basic pattern of service which exceeds the two round-trip standard under which the local service carriers operate and is far in excess of the service which Delta would provide. There are, in fact, no allegations that Executive's service is inadequate; rather, the communities simply desire additional service. While it is doubtless true that more service would generate some increase in traffic, we cannot conclude that the present service is insufficient for the demonstrated needs of the communities.

4. The authority in paragraphs 1 and 2 above, should expire 90 days after the effective date of the final order in the "New England Service Investigation," Docket 22973;

5. The motion of the Waterville Parties for leave to file an otherwise unauthorized document, be and it hereby is granted; and

6. The motion of Delta Air Lines, Inc., for leave to file a late-filed reply, be and it hereby is granted.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Proposed Off-Road Vehicle Regulations. The statement refers to the proposed regulations on the use of off-road vehicles on National Forest system lands, which have been formulated in accordance with Executive Order 11644. The regulations would provide that recreational off-road vehicles use on National Forest lands be conducted to minimize the impact on the environment. Off-road vehicles used in mineral activities are excepted from the regulations. (19 pages). (ELR Order No. 00390) (NTIS Order No. EIS 73 0390-D)

Draft, March 5

Timber Management Plan, Santa Fe National Forest, N. Mex. County: Several. The proposal is a Timber Management Plan for the Santa Fe National Forest. The Plan is developed around an annual programmed harvest of 42.8 million board feet; the calculated potential yield is 49.4 million board feet yearly. Included is the construction of 42.8 million board feet of new roadway roads, with 300 miles of the planned system, and 1,200 miles of existing roadway requiring improvement. There will be adverse impact to air, water, soils, natural beauty, and fire control. Wildlife habitat and outdoor recreation will be adversely affected. (95 pages). ## Draft, March 5

South Holston Unit, Cherokee National Forest, Tenn. Virginia. The proposed action is the initiation of a 10-year management plan for the 37,714-acre unit of the National Forest. The plan allows for an annual timber harvest of 3.2 million board feet. Approximately 38 miles of access road will be constructed, along with 10 miles of cycle trails and 11 miles of flat loop trails. There will be improvement of some wildlife habitat, and restrictions placed upon the use of off-road vehicles. Adverse effects of the plan include soil movement and visual impact from logging and motorized vehicles, and dispersed litter from recreationists. (71 pages). Project measures include one floodwater retarding structure and land treatment. One hundred and twenty-two acres of rangeland and 6 acres of wetland will be permanently inundated; 82 acres will be periodically inundated. Because of active oil and gas exploration in the area, the possibility of oil waste pollution in the floodwater retarding basin will be increased by the project. (30 pages). [Docket No. CP72-208]

ALABAMA GAS CORP. AND SOUTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

Order Granting Intervention and Denying Application of Alabama Gas Corporation

MARCH 13, 1973.

On February 22, 1972, Alabama Gas Corp. (Alabama) filed in Docket No. CP72-208 an application pursuant to section 7(a) of the Natural Gas Act, requesting the Commission to issue an order requiring Southern Natural Gas Co. (Southern) to establish three additional delivery points to enable Alabama to sell natural gas on an interruptible basis to three of Southern's existing direct customers, American Can Co., Gulf States Paper Corp. and MacMillan Bloedel, Inc. Alabama would supply the interruptible requirements from valley gas generated by the grouping of contracts demands as permitted by Southern's Tariff.

As a present customer of Southern, Alabama is served under Rate Schedule OCD-2 pursuant to an effective service agreement. It presently purchases its total contract demand from Southern at an annual load factor of about 61 percent. Therefore, Alabama proposes to make the proposed sales by increasing its purchases of commodity gas from Southern, thus utilizing more of its contract demand on an annual basis.

In its answer, Southern claims, among other things, that the application by Alabama does not meet the public interest requirements as set forth in section 7(a) of the Natural Gas Act. In support of its claim, Southern states that granting the request would result in increased annual sales to Alabama which would thereby require Southern to reduce deliveries to its present resale and direct customers.

Timely petitioners to intervene in Docket No. CP72-208 were filed by Marengo Corp. on March 13, 1972, and by Carolina Pipeline Co. on March 16, 1972. A late petition to intervene was filed by the City of Linden, Ala. (Linden), on April 14, 1972.

Applicant's request, if granted, would result in a shifting of direct interruptible industrial customers to a distributor. Since Alabama's proposed gas supply is its existing valley gas under Southern's firm rate schedule, its proposal would transfer Southern's existing direct interruptible service for direct customers to added demand on the firm delivery quantities of Alabama.

It was past Commission policy to favor service to industrial customers through local distributors. (Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, 13 FPC 301 (1954); Southern Natural Gas Company, 25 FPC 925 (1961); Northern Natural Gas Company, 33 FPC 501 (1965); Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, 36 FPC 1107 (1966), aff'd sub nom "Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company v. Federal Power Commission, 386 F. 2d 607 (3d Cir. 1967)). However, the shifting of interruptible loads from a pipeline to a distributor is not an absolute rigid policy. As we said in Panhandle: "The policy of this Commission which protects the right of the local distributor to render sales to industrial customers within its area of service is conditional—it does not apply if economic considerations preclude it." (36 FPC at 1112.)

Economic considerations include the impact of the shifting of an interruptible industrial customer from a pipeline to a distributor because it affects both the ability of the pipeline company to manage its gas supply and the pipeline's load balancing operations.

Also, the end result of granting this type application would not be in the public interest during periods of curtailment because a transfer from a direct to a resale load, as is contemplated here, would have the effect of enabling a distributor to allocate the gas as it sees fit, thereby allowing the distributor to continue service to interruptible industrial customers during the curtailment period, while reducing full service to higher priority customers. As we have stated in Missouri Edison Company, Opinion No. 614, 47 FPC — (1972) "• • • it would be unwise for this Commission to encourage direct interruptible industrial customers to migrate to distributors since this may result in their avoiding the effect of curtailment plans which are now necessary on many pipeline systems. Such migration could result in increased use of natural gas for industrial purposes and would undermine the essential need of the pipeline companies to maintain a high degree of flexibility during periods of gas supply shortage."

Therefore, it is our conclusion that this application is not in the public interest and should, therefore, be denied. The Commission finds:

(1) The participation of Marengo Corp., Carolina Pipeline Co., and City of Linden, Ala., in this proceeding may be in the public interest.

(2) Good cause exists to deny Alabama's application for an order under section 7(a) of the Natural Gas Act.

The Commission orders:

(A) Each of the above-named petitioners is permitted to intervene in this proceeding subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Commission: Provided however, That the participation of said interveners shall be limited to matters affecting asserted rights and interests specifically set forth in the petitions to intervene; and Provided further, That the admission of such interveners shall not be construed as recognition by the Commission that they or any of them might be aggrieved by any order or orders entered in this proceeding.

(B) For the reasons hereinbefore stated, Alabama's application is denied.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

CALIFORNIA CO.

Notice of Petition To Amend

MARCH 13, 1973.

(Texas Eastern) from the Gist Field, Newton, and Jasper Counties, Tex., and by authorizing the sale of previously dedicated gas to Texas Eastern at an increased price, all as more fully set forth in the petition to amend which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Petitioner states that it is presently authorized to sell natural gas to Texas Eastern at 19 cents per Mcf at 14.65 p.s.i.a. pursuant to a contract on file as Petitioner's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 54, that said contract has expired, and that Petitioner proposes to sell gas from previously dedicated and additional acreage at 24 cents per Mcf at 14.65 p.s.i.a. subject to upward and downward B.t.u. adjustment. MARCH 13, 1973.

Public notice is hereby given pursuant to section 4(e) of the Federal Power Act (16 U.S.C. 791a-825r) that an application for a change in land rights was filed on December 21, 1972, by Central Maine Power Co. (correspondence to: Mr. Seward B. Brewster, Secretary, Central Maine Power Co., 9 Green Street, Augusta, ME 04330) licensee for Project No. 2530, known as the Hiram Project, located on the Saco River in the towns of Hiram, Baldwin, Brownfield, and Denmark, in the counties of Cumberland and Oxford, Maine.

Applicant proposes to lease for 1 year and thereafter from year to year approximately 1.5 acres of project lands to the town of Hiram to provide recreational facilities for its residents and others. The land to be leased is situated north of 1,600 feet long and varies in width from 20 to 125 feet, and is bordered by the road leading from Hiram to Cornish and the Saco River.

CENTRAL MAINE POWER CO.

Notice of Initial Rate Schedule Filing

MARCH 15, 1973.

Take notice that Central Maine Power Co. (Maine) on November 13, 1972, tendered for filing an initial rate schedule. The filing consist of a composite purchase contract between Maine, Bangor Hydro-Electric Co., and Maine Public Service Co. (Sellers) and Eastern Maine Electric Cooperative, Inc., and Houlton Water Co. (Purchasers).

Sellers comprise 3 of the 11 sponsoring companies of Maine Yankee Atomic Power Co. (Maine Yankee, licensed to construct, own, and operate a nuclear generating unit in the town of Wiscasset, Maine, which will have an initial gross capability of 830 megawatts electric. Maine states that commercial operation of the unit and delivery of electricity are expected to commence about December 1, 1972. Maine has therefore proposed an effective date of December 1, 1972.

Maine has mailed copies of this filing to the Purchasers. Maine also states that the service furnished at the proposed rates is limited to wholesale sale of electricity.

Maine avers that because the unit has been licensed by the AEC to operate at less than its initial design level for less than the usual 40-year period, estimates required by § 35.12(b) cannot be made with relative accuracy. Maine estimates that in the first year at 75 percent of capacity and 80 percent station factor, 3,969,000 megawatt hours will be produced, and total costs to be allocated will be $47,700,000.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before March 29, 1973. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

COLUMBIA GAS DEVELOPMENT CORP.

Notice of Application

MARCH 13, 1973.

Take notice that on March 5, 1973, Columbia Gas Development Corp. (Applicant), 20 Montchanin Road, Wilmington, DE 19807, filed in Docket No. CI73-588 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act and § 2.75 of the Commission's general policy and interpretations (18 CFR 2.70) for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the sale for resale and delivery of natural gas in interstate commerce to Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. (Columbia Transmission) from Blocks 268 and 267, Block 255 Field, Vermilion Area, offshore Louisiana, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant proposes under the optional gas pricing procedure to sell natural gas to Columbia Transmission at an initial rate of 45 cents per Mcf at 15.025 p.s.i.a., subject to upward and downward B.t.u. adjustment. The basic contract for the subject sale dated February 20, 1973, provides for price escalations of 1 cent per Mcf every year, for reimbursement to the seller for all of any additional or increased taxes and for a term of 20 years. Estimated monthly sales volumes are 450,000 Mcf of gas.

Applicant asserts that for the gas reserves dedicated to the subject contract a minimum of 45 cents per Mcf must be obtained. Applicant states that the gas industry is having a great difficulty in raising adequate outside funds to meet the increasing costs of lease acquisition and exploratory programs and that higher prices like the present one will help overcome this reluctance of investors to commit funds toward offshore Louisiana projects. Applicant believes that the proposed price will help provide a cash flow and develop earnings that will attract necessary capital to its gas exploration program. Applicant further asserts that its overall program to obtain additional gas supplies has in the past operated at a deficit, mainly attributable to the fact that it has not been permitted prices for its gas which fully recognize the investments made and the costs incurred. Applicant, which is affiliated with the purchaser, indicates that the 45 cent price is the same as the contract price under Columbia Transmission's contracts with certain other nonaffiliated independent producers.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before April 6, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

FLORIDA GAS TRANSMISSION CO. AND TEXAS GAS TRANSMISSION CORP.

Notice of Amendment to Application

Take notice that on February 27, 1973, Florida Gas Transmission Co. (Florida Gas), Post Office Box 44, Winter Park, FL 32789, and Texas Gas Transmission Corp. (Texas Gas), Post Office Box 1160, Owensboro, KY 42301, filed in Docket No. CP73-33 an amendment to their application in said docket for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the exchange of natural gas between the two companies, all as more fully set forth in the amendment which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

On August 3, 1972, Florida Gas and Texas Gas filed in Docket No. CP73-33 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the exchange of natural gas pursuant to an agreement between the two companies, dated July 10, 1972. Applicants state that it was contemplated that Texas Gas would deliver approximately 15,000 m.c.f. of gas per day, and occasionally up to 50,000 m.c.f. per day, to Florida Gas during the period July 10, 1972, through March 1, 1973, and that Florida Gas would thereafter return the gas at a rate of approximately 5,000 m.c.f. per day until Texas Gas received full repayment of the gas delivered to Florida Gas. Deliveries by Texas Gas were commenced on July 10, 1972, within the contemplation of Section 157.22 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.22). Deliveries continued until November 21, 1972, when, Texas Gas states, it had to discontinue them because of unanticipated developments in respect to its own supply. Applicants state that by the time deliveries were terminated, Texas Gas had delivered a total of 3,208,521 m.c.f. (15,025 p.s.i.a.) to Florida Gas. Applicants further state that no more deliveries to Florida Gas will be made under the subject exchange agreement.

Accordingly, Applicants now amend their application herein to request authority for Florida Gas to return the exchange gas to Texas Gas under the terms of the agreement of July 10, 1972. They contemplate that redeliveries will begin on April 1, 1973, and continue until Texas Gas has received a total volume equivalent to that previously delivered by Texas Gas to Florida Gas. The amendment indicates that redeliveries will be made at the rate of approximately 4,400 Mcf of gas per day for so long as it is necessary to complete the pay-back.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said amendment should on or before April 2, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

Notice of Application

MARCH 13, 1973.

Take notice that on March 5, 1973, Northern Natural Gas Co. (Applicant), 2223 Dodge Street, Omaha, NE 68102, filed in Docket No. CP73-227 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of certain interconnecting facilities with the pipeline system of Midwestern Gas Transmission Co. (Midwestern) and the transportation and delivery to Midwestern of up to 12,000 Mcf of gas per day for the account of Northern States Power Co. (Northern States), all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The application indicates that Northern States purchases gas from Midwestern for resale distribution service in and around the communities of Fargo and Grand Forks, N. Dak. Northern States has advised Applicant that it is currently experiencing a shortage of gas supply to meet the anticipated load growth of its residential and small volume commercial and industrial customers in these communities. Applicant states that in order to assure maintenance of adequate service to these customers, Northern States has contracted with Midwestern and Applicant for the delivery of gas by Midwestern to Northern States in the Fargo and Grand Forks areas in exchange for gas volumes to be concurrently redelivered by Applicant to Midwestern in Chisago and Isanti Counties, Minn., for the account of Northern States.

Applicant and Northern States have entered into a contract, dated January 12, 1973, providing for Applicant to render the proposed transportation service beginning November 27, 1973, and continuing through March 26, 1974, and thereafter during each successive November 27 through March 26. Applicant will render the proposed service at a rate of 5.25 cents per Mcf of gas transported. The volumes of gas to be transported from St. Paul, Minn., to Chisago and Isanti Counties will be equivalent to the amount of peak shaving gas produced that same day by Northern States specifically for this purpose in its plants near St. Paul. ## Notice of Filing of Motion for Approval Proposed Settlement Agreement

MARCH 13, 1973.

Take notice that Rockland Electric Co. (Rockland) filed on March 1, 1973, a motion for approval of proposed settlement of the above-described proceeding.

Rockland states that the principal settlement provisions are:

The ratchet will be increased from 50 percent to 80 percent.

The demand charge will be lowered from $3. in the proposed tariff, to $2.72.

(Correspondence to: Mr. J. K. Babbitt, Vice-President, 807 South Orfeida Street, Appleton, WI 53911) Licensee for Project No. 2486, known as the Pine Plant Hydroelectric Project, located on the Pine River in Florence County, in the vicinity of Florence, Wis. The Exhibit was filed pursuant to Article 34 of the license issued to Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. by the Commission on September 26, 1967.

The plan for the Pine Project includes two developed recreation areas and a canoe portage which have been provided by the Licensee at the project. The two developed recreation areas, one on the north side and one on the south side of the reservoir consist of a boat landing, picnic table, refuse barrel, and a toilet facility at each area. The plan also reserves approximately 10 acres of land at each area for future expansion.

All lands within the project boundary owned by the Licensee, except those immediately surrounding the plant where hazards exist, are open to the public for recreation. Lands so designed are utilized for wilderness camping, berry-picking, hiking, and hunting.

Pine River was designated as a "wild river" by the Wisconsin Legislature by statute of November 18, 1965. According to the application, the applicant and the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources have agreed that primary consideration should be given toward preservation of the natural environment of the river. The State of Wisconsin has notified the Commission that it has no objection to the proposed recreational plan.

NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRAS

Notice of Issuance of Jurisdictional Standards

On March 7, 1973 at page 6176 of the FEDERAL REGISTER, there was published a notice of issuance of rule by the National Labor Relations Board with respect to the jurisdictional standard applicable to symphony orchestras. The following notice should have been published in the notices section of that FEDERAL REGISTER and is hereby published for that purpose.

Dated, Washington, D.C., March 12, 1973.

By direction of the Board.

[SEAL] JOHN C. TRUESDALE,
Executive Secretary.

On August 19, 1972, the Board published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, a notice of proposed rule making which invited interested parties to submit to it (1) data relevant to defining the extent to which symphony orchestras are in commerce, as defined in section 2(6) of the National Labor Relations Act, and to assessing the effect upon commerce of a labor dispute in those enterprises, (2) statements of views or arguments as to the desirability of the Board exercising jurisdiction, and (3) data and views concerning the appropriate jurisdictional standards which should be established in the event the Board decides to promulgate a rule exercising jurisdiction over those enterprises. The Board received 26 responses to the notice. After careful consideration of all the responses, the Board has concluded that it will best effectuate the purposes of the Act to assert jurisdiction over symphony orchestras and apply a $1 million annual gross revenue standard, in addition to statutory jurisdiction. A rule establishing that standard has been issued concurrently with the publication of this notice.

It is well settled that the National Labor Relations Act gives to the Board a jurisdictional authority coextensive with the full reach of the commerce clause.<sup>1</sup> It is equally well settled that the Board in its discretion may set boundaries on the exercise of that authority.<sup>2</sup> In exercising that discretion, the Board has consistently taken the position that it would better effectuate the purposes of the Act, and promote the prompt handling of major cases, not to exercise its jurisdiction to the fullest extent possible under the authority delegated to it by Congress, but to limit that exercise to enterprises whose operations have, or at which labor disputes would have, a pronounced impact upon the flow of interstate commerce.<sup>3</sup> The standard announced above, in our opinion, accommodates this position.

The Board, in arriving at a $1 million gross figure,<sup>4</sup> has considered, inter alia, the impact of symphony orchestras on commerce and the aspects of orchestra operations as criteria for the exercise of jurisdiction. Symphony orchestras in the United States are classified in four categories: college, community, metropolitan, and major.<sup>5</sup> Community orchestras constitute the largest group with over 1,000 in number and, for the most part, are composed of amateur players. The metropolitan orchestras are almost exclusively professional and it is estimated that there are between 75 and 80 orchestras classified as metropolitan. The annual budget for this category ranges approximately from $250,000 to $1 million. The major orchestras are the largest and usually the oldest established musical organizations. All of them are completely professional, and a substantial number operates on a year-round basis. For this category the minimum annual budget is approximately $1 million. Presently, there are approximately 28 major symphony orchestras in the United States. Thus, statistical projections based on data submitted by responding parties, as well as data compiled by the Board, disclose that adoption of such a standard would bring approximately 2 percent of all symphony orchestras, except college, or approximately 28 percent of the professional metropolitan and major orchestras, within reach of the Act. The Board is satisfied that symphony orchestras with gross revenues of $1 million have a substantial impact on commerce and that the figure selected will not result in an unmanageable increase on the Board's workload. The adoption of a $1 million standard, however, does not foreclose the Board from reevaluating and revising that standard should future circumstances deem it appropriate.

In view of the foregoing, the Board is satisfied that the $1 million annual gross revenue standard announced today will result in attaining uniform and effective regulation of labor disputes involving employees in the symphony orchestra industry whose operations have a substantial impact on interstate commerce.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Office of the Secretary

CHRYSLER CORP.

Notice of Certification of Eligibility of Workers To Apply for Adjustment Assistance

Under date of February 9, 1973, the U.S. Tariff Commission made a report of the results of its investigation (TEA-W-165) under section 301(c)(2) of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 (76 Stat. 884) in response to a petition for determination of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance submitted on behalf of the workers formerly employed by the Chrysler Corp. In this report the Commission found that articles like new passenger automobiles produced by the Chrysler Corp. are, as a result in major part of concessions granted under trade agreements, being imported into the United States in such increased quantities as to cause or threaten to cause unemployment or underemployment of a significant number or proportion of the workers of such firm or appropriate subdivision thereof.

Upon receipt of the Tariff Commission's affirmative finding, the Department, through the Director of the Office of Foreign Economic Policy, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, instituted an investigation.

Following this, the Director made a recommendation to me relating to the matter of certification (Notice of Delegation of Authority and Notice of Investigation, 34 FR 18342; 37 FR 2472; 38 FR 5019, 29 CFR Part 90). In the recommendation she noted that imports of automobiles produced at the company's Canadian assembly plant in Windsor, Ontario, had increased substantially, and that production at the Canadian plant had shifted from full-size cars to intermediate and compact cars similar to those produced at the Commerce assembly plant. As a result, the daily production rate at the Commerce plant was reduced in model year 1971 (August 1970-July 1971) and employment levels declined. The plant ceased all production at the end of the model year in July 1971. Chrysler's Canadian imports constituted a major threat to employment at the Commerce assembly plant beginning in model year 1970 (August 1969-July 1970). Actual layoffs attributable in major part to increased imports occurred in December of model year 1971. After due consideration I make the following certification.

All hourly and salaried workers of the Chrysler Corp. assembly plant in Commerce, Calif., who became unemployed or underemployed after November 29, 1970, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under title III, chapter 3, of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 12th day of March 1973.

JOEL SEGALL,
Deputy Under Secretary,
International Affairs.

[Administrative ruling 122; secs. 219,

HOUSEHOLD GOODS REGULATIONS

Agents Performing Own Operations; Administrative Application and Interpretation 20(11), 20(12)]

JANUARY 22, 1973.

The following is an administrative ruling of the Bureau of Operations made in response to questions propounded by the public, indicating what is deemed by the Bureau to be the correct application and interpretation of the Act and/or regulations and is made in the absence of an authoritative decision on the subject by the Commission.

Question:

Where an agent of a household goods carrier is to move a shipment under his own operating authority, must the estimate of charges, order for service, bills of lading, and other related documents be prepared and issued by the agent in his own name rather than in the name of his principal?

Answer:

Yes.

The provisions of the household goods regulations, including those which require that all estimates be in writing and that orders for service and bills of lading be issued, apply fully to agents when they conduct operations under their own operating authority. The wrongful issuance of any such documents in the name of the principal household goods carrier may subject the agent to penalties for violating the law and the regulations, and also may impose liability on the principal.

In Ex Parte No. MC-19 (Sub-No. 9), Practices of Motor Common Carriers of Household Goods (Agency Relationships), 115 M.C.C. 628, 649, the Commission imposed requirements on the principal by virtue of § 1056.20(c) of the household goods regulations (49 CFR 1056.20(c)) to use due diligence and to exercise reasonable care in selecting and maintaining agents. It put responsibility on the principal for all acts or omissions of the agent relating to the performance of interstate transportation held out in the name of the principal or where the shipper is misled to believe the transportation would be performed by the principal.

In view of the foregoing, it is the position of this Bureau that where an agent for a principal household goods carrier books a shipment for transportation under his authority, that agent must prepare and issue the estimate of charges, order for service, bill of lading, and other related documents in his own name and on his own forms, and not in the name of or on the forms of the principal household goods carrier.

The issuance of this ruling is meant to emphasize the intent and purpose of full disclosure of relevant facts, as expressed in recent proceedings. It was deemed necessary because of recurrent problems in this area and the determined action being taken by the Commission with respect to those problems.

Title 3—The President

PROCLAMATION 4200

National Wildlife Week

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Americans carved a nation out of the wilderness. Now we must preserve the wilderness for the Nation.

The theme of this year's National Wildlife Week is: "Discover Wildlife—It's Too Good To Miss." In a greater sense, Americans are rediscovering the natural animal world around them. Our concern for the fate of wild animals has increased. We have come to realize that the development of the human habitat has occurred at great cost to another kind of habitat. And we are seeking more effective ways to prevent and enhance our wilderness areas.

All men need refuges for their spirit. The wilderness invokes contemplation and provides recreation, and the animal wildlife of America provides a fascinating dimension to our natural heritage which we know must be preserved for future generations to enjoy.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD NIXON, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning March 18, 1973, as National Wildlife Week.

I ask all citizens to renew their efforts to preserve and enhance our natural environment, especially those areas now inhabited by our natural wildlife. Because the need is still great for better tools with which to do the job, I also urge the Congress once again to act promptly on my proposal to strengthen protection for hundreds of endangered species.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this sixteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred ninety-seventh.

Rules and Regulations

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains regulatory documents having general applicability and legal effect most of which are keyed to and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations, which is published under 50 titles pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 1510. The Code of Federal Regulations is sold by the Superintendent of Documents. Prices of new books are listed in the first FEDERAL REGISTER issue of each month.

Title 6—Economic Stabilization CHAPTER I—COST OF LIVING COUNCIL PART 130—COST OF LIVING COUNCIL PHASE III REGULATIONS

Special Rules Applicable to Food Industry

Part 130 is amended in Subpart F to amplify the rules applicable during Phase III to price adjustments for sales of food by manufacturers, service organizations, wholesalers, and retailers.

Section 130.56, prescribing price rules applicable to wholesalers and retailers in the food industry, is amended in paragraph (b) to provide that a customary initial percentage markup, based on any level other than item control, is the customary initial percentage markup in effect, at the option of the wholesaler or retailer, during its last fiscal year ending before August 15, 1971, or during its last four fiscal quarters ending before January 1, 1972. A customary initial percentage markup based on item control is determined in accordance with the regulations of the Price Commission in effect on January 10, 1973.

Section 130.57a is amended in its entirety to prescribe rules for persons, part of whose sales are subject to the special rules applicable to the food industry (Subpart F), relating to the computation of profit margin and the determination of base period for purposes of the general price standard of § 130.13 of the Phase III regulations. The rewritten section provides that a person, part of whose sales are subject to Subpart F, may choose one of two alternate profit margin and base period combinations for purposes of § 130.13: (1) The profit margin of the firm, including in the computation sales subject to Subpart F, and the same base period used for purposes of the profit margin limitation of Subpart F; or (2) the profit margin of the firm, excluding from the computation sales subject to Subpart F, and any base period authorized by § 130.110. A person who chooses the first option is not permitted to utilize the alternate general price standard provided in § 130.13 (price increases of no more than a weighted annual average of 1.5 percent over prices authorized or lawfully in effect on January 10, 1973, to reflect increased costs, without limitation as to profit margin).

Section 130.57b is amended to make it clear that, although nonfood sales are subject to the mandatory rules of Subpart F to the extent they are included in determining profit margin, the prenotification requirements prescribed for wholesalers and retailers in the food industry are not applicable with respect to the nonfood sales.

Section 130.57c is rewritten to clarify and amplify the rules governing the measurement of profit margin by manufacturers and service organizations in the food industry. The section requires that profit margin on food sales be separately computed if it customarily has been separately computed by the manufacturer or service organization. If profit margin on food sales has not customarily been separately computed, the profit margin on food sales has not customarily been separately computed, the profit margin, for purposes of Subpart F, is the profit margin customarily computed at the next highest level of aggregation that includes all food sales. In the event that neither of the foregoing practices customarily has been followed by the manufacturer or service organization, profit margin, at its option, will be computed on total firm sales or on food sales only. The rewritten section repeats the existing rule that, to the extent nonfood sales are included in determining profit margin, such nonfood sales are subject to the rules of Subpart F, except those relating to prenotification.

Because the purpose of this amendment is to provide immediate guidance as to Cost of Living Council policy, I find that publication in accordance with normal rule making procedure is impracticable and that good cause exists for making these regulations effective in less than 30 days. Interested persons may submit comments regarding these regulations. Communications should be addressed to the Office of General Counsel, Cost of Living Council, Washington, D.C. 20508.

(Economic Stabilization Act of 1970, title II of Public Law 92-210, 85 Stat. 743, and Executive Order 11695, 38 FR 1473)

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 130 of Title 6 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as set forth herein, effective January 11, 1973.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on March 15, 1973.

JAMES W. McLANE,
Deputy Director,
Cost of Living Council.

1. Section 130.56(b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 130.56 Wholesalers and retailers—
price rules.

(b) Customary initial percentage markup may be applied and reported on the basis of total sales by the whole-salers or retailer or any other level of item or category control. For purposes of this paragraph, a customary initial percentage markup based on other than item control shall be, at the option of the wholesaler or retailer, the customary initial percentage markup in effect during—

(1) Its last fiscal year ending before August 15, 1971; or

(2) Its last four fiscal quarters ending before January 1, 1972.

2. Section 130.57a is revised to read as follows:

§ 130.57a Profit margin measurement—
general price standard.

For purposes of § 130.13, the profit margin and base period of a person, part of whose sales are subject to the limitations of this subpart, shall be, at the option of the person—

(a) The profit margin of the firm, including in the computation sales subject to this subpart, and the same base period utilized by the person for purposes of the profit margin limitation of this subpart; or

(b) The profit margin of the firm, excluding from the computation sales subject to this subpart, and any base period authorized by § 130.110.

A person who chooses the option in paragraph (a) of this section may not utilize the alternate general price standard of the second sentence of § 130.13.

3. The final sentence of § 130.57b is amended to read as follows:

§ 130.57b Profit margin measurement—
wholesalers and retailers.

• • • To the extent that nonfood sales are included in determining profit margin, such nonfood sales are subject to the mandatory rules of this subpart, except that the prenotification requirements prescribed for wholesalers and retailers in the food industry are not applicable with respect to the nonfood sales.

4. Section 130.57c is revised to read as follows:

§ 130.57c Profit margin measurement—manufacturers and service organizations.

The profit margin with respect to the food sales of a manufacturer or service organization must be separately computed if it customarily has been separately computed. If the profit margin on food sales has not customarily been computed, the profit margin for purposes of this subpart shall be the profit margin customarily computed at the next highest level of aggregation that includes all food sales. If a profit margin has not customarily been so computed, the profit margin for purposes of this subpart, at the option of the manufacturer or service organization, shall be computed on total firm sales or on food sales only. To the extent that nonfood sales are included in determining profit margin, such nonfood sales are subject to the mandatory rules of this subpart, except that such nonfood sales are not subject to the requirement of prenotification.

PART 68—REGULATIONS AND STANDARDS FOR INSPECTION AND CERTIFICATION OF CERTAIN AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES AND PRODUCTS THEREOF

Fees and Charges for Certain Federal Inspection Services

Correction

In FR Doc. 73-4186 appearing at page 6284 of the issue for Thursday, March 8, 1973, in § 68.42a the following changes should be made in the list of fees:

1. The phrase "Appeal inspection", which begins the table, should appear immediately below the heading "Service".
2. In the column labeled "Fee or charge", the first price, now reading "$1.15", should read "$7.15".

CHAPTER X—AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE (MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND ORDERS; MILK), DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

PART 1065—MILK IN THE NEBRASKA-WESTERN IOWA MARKETING AREA

Deferral of Effective Date of Certain Provisions

This order defers until further notice the effective date of the Class I base plan provisions §§ 1065.90 through 1065.98 contained in the order amending the order regulating the handling of milk in the Nebraska-Western Iowa marketing area issued December 15, 1972 (37 FR 28126).

Statement of consideration. Associated Milk Producers, Inc., Central Region, a cooperative association whose membership comprises a substantial number of the producers on the market, has requested that the Class I base plan, scheduled to become effective April 1, 1973, be held in abeyance until certain provisions of the plan have been considered on the basis of a public hearing. The cooperative association alleges that certain provisions contained in the plan would be inequitable to its member producers and that implementation of the plan may have other adverse results.

Inasmuch as uncertainties exist as to whether the Class I base plan as issued can operate without inequities or other possible adverse effects, it is necessary that effectuation of the plan be deferred pending a public hearing and related procedures.

A notice of public hearing, providing for reconsideration of all provisions of the Class I base plan, is issued concurrently with this deferral order.

It is therefore ordered. That the effective date with respect to the aforesaid order provisions is deferred until further notice.

(Secs. 1-19, 48 Stat., 31 as amended, 7 U.S.C. 601-674)

Signed at Washington, D.C., on March 15, 1973.

Assistant Secretary.

Title 9—Animals and Animal Products

CHAPTER I—ANIMAL AND PLANT HEALTH INSPECTION SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[Docket No. 73-516]

SUBCHAPTER C—INTERSTATE TRANSPORTATION OF ANIMALS (INCLUDING POULTRY) AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

PART 76—HOG CHOLERA AND OTHER COMMUNICABLE SWINE DISEASES

Release of Areas Quarantined

This amendment excludes Southampton County and portions of Isle of Wight and Nansemond Counties in Virginia from the areas quarantined because of hog cholera. Therefore, the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of swine and swine products from or through quarantined areas contained in 9 CFR Part 76, as amended, do not apply to the excluded areas, but will continue to apply to the quarantined areas described in § 76.2(e). Further, the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of swine and swine products from non-quarantined areas contained in said Part 76 apply to the excluded areas. No areas in Virginia remain under quarantine.

Pursuant to provisions of the Act of May 29, 1884, as amended, the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended, the Act of March 3, 1905, as amended, the Act of September 6, 1961, and the Act of July 2, 1962 (21 U.S.C. 111-113, 114g, 115, 117, 120, 121, 123-126, 134b, 134f), Part 76, Title 9, Code of Federal Regulations, restricting the interstate movement of swine and certain products because of hog cholera and other communicable swine diseases, is hereby amended in the following respects:

In § 76.2, paragraph (e) (5) relating to Virginia is deleted.

(Secs. 4-7, 23 Stat. 32, as amended; secs. 1 and 2, 32 Stat. 791-792, as amended; secs. 1-4, 33 Stat. 1264, 1265, as amended; sec. 1, 75 Stat. 481; secs. 3 and 11, 76 Stat. 130, 132; 21 U.S.C. 111-113, 114g, 115, 117, 120, 121, 123-126, 134b, 134f; 37 FR 28464, 28477)

Effective date. The foregoing amendment shall become effective March 15, 1973.

The amendment relieves restrictions presently imposed but no longer deemed necessary to prevent the spread of hog cholera and must be made effective promptly in order to be of maximum benefit to affected persons. It does not appear that public participation in this rule making proceeding would make additional relevant information available to the Department.

Accordingly, under the administrative procedure provisions in 5 U.S.C. 553, it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the amendment are impracticable and unnecessary, and good cause is found for making it effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 15th day of March 1973.

G. H. WISE,
Acting Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 81.1 Purpose.

The regulations of this part establish the standard specifications for the issuance of licenses to rights in inventions covered by (a) patents or patent applications vested in the United States of America, as represented by or in the custody of the Commission and other patents in which the Commission has the right to accord or require the grant of licenses, (b) patents declared to be affected with the public interest pursuant to section 153(a) of the Act, and (c) other patents useful in the production or utilization of special nuclear material or atomic energy licensed pursuant to section 153(c) of said Act.

§ 81.2 Definitions.

As used in this part:

(a) "Act" means the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (68 Stat. 619), including any amendments thereto;

(b) "Commission" means the Atomic Energy Commission as established by the Act, or its duly authorized designee. The Assistant General Counsel for Patents is the designee of the Commission under this subpart;

(c) "AEC invention" means an invention covered by a U.S. patent or patent application that is vested in the Government of the United States, as represented by or in the custody of the Commission, or in which the Government of the United States of America, as represented by the Commission, has the right to accord or require the grant of licenses where such invention is designated by the Commission as appropriate for the grant of a nonexclusive or exclusive license; and

(d) "To the point of practical application" means to manufacture in the case of composition, machine or product, to practice in the case of a process, or to operate in the case of a machine, under such conditions as to establish that the invention is being worked and that its benefits are reasonably accessible to the public.

§ 81.3 Communications.

All communications concerning the regulations in this part, including applications for licenses, should be addressed to the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545, Attention: Assistant General Counsel for Patents. Communications and reports may be delivered in person at the Commission's Office at 1717 H Street NW, Washington, DC, or its office at Germantown, Md.

§ 81.4 Interpretations.

Except as specifically authorized by the Commission in writing and by § 81.53, no interpretation of the meaning of the regulations in this part by an officer or employee of the Commission other than a written interpretation by the General Counsel will be recognized to be binding upon the Commission.

AEC-OWNED INVENTIONS—PATENTS AND APPLICATIONS

§ 81.10 Authority.

The regulations of this subpart governing the licensing or rights in AEC inventions are issued pursuant to the authority of the Commission under 42 U.S.C. 2186 (sec. 156 of the Act), 42 U.S.C. 2201g (sec. 161g of the Act), and according to regulations issued by the Administrator of General Services pursuant to the Memorandum and Statement of Government Patent Policy issued by President Nixon on August 23, 1971 (36 FR 16887).

§ 81.11 Policy.

(a) The inventions covered by the U.S. patents and patent applications vested in the Government of the United States of America, as represented by or in the custody of the Commission, normally will best serve the public interest when they are developed to the point of practical application and made available to the public in the shortest time possible.

(b) The Commission generally prefers to make these inventions available to all interested parties through the granting of nonexclusive licenses. However, the Commission recognizes that to obtain commercial utilization of an invention, it may be necessary to grant an exclusive license for a limited period of time as an incentive for the investment of risk capital to achieve practical application of an invention.

(c) Whenever the Commission deems it appropriate to grant an exclusive license, the license will be negotiated on terms and conditions most favorable to the interests of the public and the Government. In considering the accord of such a license, due weight will be given to assisting small business and minority business enterprises, as well as economically depressed, low income and labor surplus areas within the United States.

(d) All licenses shall be by express written instruments. No license shall be granted or implied in an AEC invention except as provided for in these regulations or in patent rights articles under Commission procurement regulations, pursuant to the Act, or pursuant to any existing or future treaty or agreement between the United States and any foreign government or intergovernmental organization.

(e) No grant of a license under this subpart shall be construed to confer upon any licensee any immunity from the antitrust laws or from liability for patent misuse, and the acquisition and use of rights pursuant to this subpart shall not be immunized from the operation of State or Federal law by reason of the source of the grant.

(f) No grant of a license under this subpart shall be construed to confer any authorization under Chapters 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, or any other chapter or section of the Act (42 U.S.C., sec. 2011-2296) for which separate application for a license must be made in accordance with the Act or other Commission regulations.

§ 81.13 Publication of AEC inventions available for licensing.

(a) The Commission will have published periodically a list of the AEC inventions available for licensing under this subpart in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the U.S. Patent Office Official Gazette, and in one other publication which it is determined will best serve the public interest and, where advisable, in other publications.

(b) Interested persons may obtain copies of such lists by communicating with the Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545, Attention: Assistant General Counsel for Patents, USAEC. Copies of U.S. patents may be obtained from the U.S. Patent Office. Copies of U.S. patent application specifications, or microfiche reproductions thereof, may be secured at reasonable cost from the National Technical Information Service (NTIS) or from the U.S. Patent Office with Commission approval.

§ 81.20 Nonexclusive licenses.

(a) AEC inventions will normally be made available for the grant of non-exclusive licenses to responsible applicants who will practice the invention and make its benefits reasonably accessible to the public.

(1) The nonexclusive license will be revocable, at the option of the Commission, if the licensee does not comply with all the terms and conditions of the license agreement.

(2) The duration of the license shall be for a specified period and/or such additional period as may be provided for in the license agreement.

(3) The license shall require the licensee to bring the invention to the point of practical application within a period specified in the license agreement, or as the period may be extended by the Commission, and then to continue to make the benefits of the invention reasonably accessible to the public.

(4) The license shall be granted for all of the fields of use of the invention, or only such fields of use as may be specified in the license agreement, and throughout the United States of America, its territories and possessions, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia or in any lesser geographic portion thereof as may be specified in the license agreement.

(5) The licensee shall be required to submit periodic reports on his efforts to bring the invention to a point of practical application and the extent to which he continues to make the benefits of the invention reasonably accessible to the public. Unless otherwise specified in the license, such periodic reports will be required annually prior to the anniversary date of the grant of the license. The reports shall contain information within the licensee's knowledge, or which the licensee may acquire under normal business practices, pertaining to the commercial use being made of the invention, and other information which the Commission may determine to be pertinent to the licensing activity of the Commission and specified in the license agreement.

(6) Normally a royalty shall not be charged U.S. citizens and U.S. corporations for nonexclusive licenses on AEC inventions.

(7) The license may extend to wholly-owned subsidiaries of the licensee but shall be nonassignable, or otherwise non-transferable, without approval of the Commission.

(8) The Commission may revoke the license (i) for failure of the licensee to bring the invention to the point of practical application or to continue to make the benefits of the invention reasonably accessible to the public, (ii) if the licensee defaults in making any periodic report required by the license, or (iii) if the licensee commits any breach of any covenant or agreement therein contained, or (iv) if the licensee willfully makes, or has made, a false statement of a material fact or omitted a material fact in the license application submitted pursuant to § 81.40(a) or in any report required by the license agreement.

(9) The Commission may restrict the licensee to the particular fields of use and/or geographical areas in which the licensee has brought the invention to the point of practical application and continue to make the benefits of the invention reasonably accessible to the public.

(10) Before revoking or restricting any license granted pursuant to this subpart, the Commission shall mail to the licensee and any sublicensee of record, at the last address filed with the Commission, a written notice of the Commission's intention to revoke or restrict the license, and the licensee and any sublicensee shall be allowed thirty (30) days after the mailing of such notice, or within such period as may be granted by the Commission, to remedy any breach of any covenant or agreement as referred to in paragraph (a) (8) (iii) of this section, or to show cause why the license should not be revoked or restricted.

(11) Subject to the rights reserved to the Government in this section, the licensee shall be granted the nonexclusive rights to make, use, and/or sell the invention in accordance with the terms and conditions specified in the license agreement.

(12) The license may be subject to such other terms and conditions as the Commission may deem in the public interest.

§ 81.30 Limited exclusive licenses.

(a) An AEC invention may be made available for the grant of a limited exclusive license provided that:

(1) The invention has been published as available for licensing pursuant to § 81.13 for a period of at least six (6) months.

(2) The Commission has determined that (i) the invention may be brought to the point of practical application in certain fields of use or in certain geographical locations by exclusive licensing, (ii) the desired practical application has not been achieved under any nonexclusive license granted on the invention, and (iii) the desired practical application is not likely to be achieved expeditiously in the public interest under a nonexclusive license or as a result of further Government-funded research or development.

(3) Notice of the selection of a prospective licensee to be granted a limited exclusive license of a specified duration and scope shall have been transmitted to the Attorney General of the United States and shall have been published for at least sixty (60) days in the FEDERAL REGISTER with a statement advising of the rights of license applicants or third parties to apply for nonexclusive licenses or bring information to the attention of the Commission under the next paragraph; and

(4) After expiration of the period in paragraph (a) (3) of this section, the Commission has determined (i) that no applicant for a nonexclusive license has brought or will bring the invention to the point of practical application as specified in the prospective exclusive license within a reasonable period under a nonexclusive license, and (ii) that the granting of the license would be in the public interest and not be inconsistent with the Act after consideration of all the facts and any written evidence and argument which third parties may present to the Commission within sixty (60) days of the publication of the notices of the selection of the licensee under paragraph (a) (3) of this section.

(5) The Commission shall record and make available for public inspection, upon request, all decisions and the basis thereof under this section.

§ 81.31 Selection of an exclusive licensee.

An exclusive licensee will be selected by the Commission on bases consistent with the policy set forth in § 81.11 of this subpart in accordance with the procedures herein, based upon the information supplied to the Commission in a license application under § 81.40. Consideration will be given to (a) the capabilities of the applicant to further the technical and market development of the invention to bring the same to the point of practical application, (b) the applicant's plan to undertake development of the invention, (c) the projected impact on competition, (d) the benefit to the Government and the public, as well as (e) assistance to small business and minority business enterprises and economically depressed, low income and labor surplus areas, and (f) whether the applicant is a U.S. citizen or corporation.

§ 81.32 Terms of exclusive license grant.

(a) AEC inventions may be made available for the grant of limited exclusive licenses to responsible applicants who will bring the invention to the point of practical application and make its benefits reasonably accessible to the public.

(1) The license may be granted for all or less than all fields of use of the invention, and throughout the United States of America, its territories and possessions, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia, or any lesser geographical portion thereof.

(2) The duration of the license will be negotiated and shall include (i) a period of exclusivity specified in the license, which shall be related to the period necessary to provide a reasonable incentive for the licensee to invest the necessary risk capital to bring the invention to the point of practical application and which shall not exceed 5 years or be extended unless the Commission determines on the basis of a written submission supported by a factual showing that a longer period is reasonably necessary to permit the licensee to enter the market and recoup his investment in bringing the invention to the point of practical application; and (ii) a terminal portion, sufficient to make the invention reasonably available for the granting of non-exclusive licenses under § 81.20, during which the licensee may have a non-exclusive license if the licensee continues to make the invention reasonably accessible to the public.

(3) The license shall require the licensee to bring the invention to the point of practical application within a period specified in the license agreement, or, subject to the approval of the Commission, within a longer period, and then to continue to make the benefits of the invention reasonably accessible to the public.

(4) The license shall require the licensee to expand a specified minimum sum of money and/or to take other specified action, within indicated periods as specified in the license, in an effort to bring the invention to the point of practical application. Reasonable royalties shall be charged by the Commission, as specified in the license agreement, unless the Commission determines that it would not be in the public interest to charge royalties.

(5) The license shall be subject to an irrevocable, royalty-free right of the Government of the United States to practice and have practiced the invention by or on behalf of the Government of the United States and on behalf of any foreign Government or intergovernmental organization pursuant to any existing or future treaty or agreement with the United States.

(6) The license shall reserve to the Commission the right to require the licensee to grant sublicenses to responsible applicants to practice the invention on terms that are reasonable under the circumstances, (i) to the extent that the invention is required for public use by governmental regulations, or (ii) as may be necessary to fulfill health or safety needs, or (iii) if the invention is useful in the production or utilization of special nuclear material or atomic energy and the licensing of such invention is of importance to effectuate the policies and purposes of the Act, (iv) for other public purposes as stipulated in the license agreement. In the event that the licensee and the Commission cannot agree upon reasonable terms for such sublicenses, the terms, including a reasonable royalty, may be fixed pursuant to the procedure set forth in section 157(c) of the Act.

(7) Subject to the right reserved to the Government in paragraph (a) (5) and (6) of this section, the licensee shall be granted the exclusive right to make, use, and/or sell the invention in accordance with the terms and conditions specified in the license agreement.

(8) The license may extend to wholly owned subsidiaries of the licensee but shall be nonassignable and otherwise nontransferable without approval of the Commission, except assignment may be made, upon notice to the Commission, to successors of that part of the licensee's business to which the invention pertains.

(9) An exclusive licensee may grant sublicenses under his license only with the approval of the Commission. Any sublicense or assignment granted by an exclusive licensee shall be subject to the terms and conditions of the exclusive license, including the rights retained by the Government thereunder, and a copy of each such sublicense or assignment shall be furnished to the Commission.

(10) The license shall require the licensee to submit periodic reports on his efforts to achieve practical application of the invention and the extent to which he continues to make the benefits of the invention reasonably accessible to the public. Unless otherwise specified in the license, such reports will be required annually on the anniversary date of the grant of the license. The report shall contain information within the licensee's knowledge, or which the licensee may acquire under normal business practices, pertaining to the commercial use being made of the invention, and other information which the Commission may determine to be pertinent to the licensing activity of the Commission as is specified in the license agreement.

(11) The Commission may modify or revoke the license (i) for failure of the licensee to bring the invention to the point of practical application within the period specified in the license agreement or to continue to make the benefits of the invention reasonably accessible to the public; (ii) if the licensee fails to expend the minimum sum of money or to take any other action specified in the license agreement within the periods specified in the license agreement in an effort to bring the invention to the point of practical application; (iii) if the licensee defaults in making any payments or periodic reports required by the license; or

(iv) if the licensee commits any breach of any covenant or agreement therein contained; or (v) if the licensee willfully makes, or has made, a false statement of a material fact or willfully omitted a material fact in the license application submitted pursuant to § 81.40 or in any report required by the license agreement.

(12) Before modifying or revoking any license granted pursuant to this subpart for any cause, the Commission shall mail to the licensee and any sublicensee of record at the last address filed with the Commission a written notice of the Commission's intention to modify or revoke the license, and the licensee and any sublicensee shall be allowed thirty (30) days after the mailing of such notice, or within such period as may be granted by the Commission, to remedy any breach of any covenant or agreement referred to in paragraph (a) (11) (iv) of this section or to show cause why the license should not be modified or revoked.

(13) An exclusive licensee shall be granted the right to sue at his own expense any party who infringes the rights set forth in his license and covered by the licensed patent. The licensee may join the Government of the United States, upon consent of the Attorney General, as a party complainant in such suit, but without expense to the Government and the licensee shall pay costs and any final judgment or decree that may be rendered against the Government in such suit at its own expense. The licensee shall be obligated to furnish promptly to the Government, upon request, copies of all pleadings and other papers filed in any such suit and of evidence adduced in proceedings relating to the licensed patent, including, but not limited to, negotiations or settlements and agreements settling claims by a licensee based on the licensed patent, and all other books, documents, papers, and records pertaining to such suit. If, as a result of any such litigation, the patent shall be declared invalid, the licensee shall have the right to surrender his license and be relieved from any further obligation thereunder.

(14) A licensee may surrender his license at any time prior to termination of the license upon notice thereof to the Commission, and upon approval of the Commission, but the licensee shall not be relieved of the obligations thereunder without specific approval of the Commission.

(15) The license may be subject to such other terms and conditions as the Commission may deem in the public interest.

§ 81.35 Notices to public of exclusive licenses.

The Commission will have published in the FEDERAL REGISTER notices of the granting, revocation, or modification in duration and/or scope, of limited exclusive licenses under these regulations. #### § 81.50 Additional licenses.

Subject to any outstanding licenses, nothing in this subpart shall preclude the Commission from granting additional nonexclusive and limited exclusive licenses for inventions covered by this subpart when the Commission determines that to do so would provide for an equitable exchange of patent rights. The following exemplify circumstances wherein such licenses may be granted:

(a) In consideration of the settlement of interferences;

(b) In consideration of a release of any claims;

(c) In exchange for or as part of the consideration for a license under adversely held patent(s); or

The notice of appeal shall specify the portion of the decision from which the appeal is taken, and the reasons why the decision is erroneous. A statement of fact and argument in the form of a brief in support of the appeal may be submitted with the notice of appeal or, if the appellant prefers, may be filed with the Commission within fifteen (15) days after the filing of the notice of appeal. If a statement of fact and argument in the form of a brief in support of the appeal is not submitted with the notice, the appellant shall state in the notice whether such a statement of fact and argument in the form of a brief in support of the appeal will be filed.

§ 81.52 Appeals Board.

Title 40—Protection of Environment CHAPTER I—ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

SUBCHAPTER C—AIR PROGRAMS PART 52—APPROVAL AND PROMULGATION OF IMPLEMENTATION PLANS

Submission of Transportation and/or Land Use Controls

On April 30, 1971, pursuant to section 109 of the Clean Air Act, as amended, the Administrator promulgated national primary and secondary ambient air quality standards for six pollutants. The Act requires that the primary standards protect the public health with an adequate margin of safety, and that the secondary standards protect the public welfare from any known or anticipated adverse effect. Under section 110 of the Act, States are required to prepare and submit to the Administrator plans for implementing the national ambient air standards in each air quality control region in the State. The Administrator published on May 31, 1972, his initial approvals and disapprovals of State implementation plans developed and submitted under these provisions of Federal law.

Since the presence in the ambient air of three of the pollutants for which control strategies were required to be submitted by States—carbon monoxide, hydrocarbons, and photochemical oxidants—is largely attributable to motor vehicles, many States were unable to submit adequate control strategies utilizing only limitations on emissions from stationary sources. However, as the Administrator noted in the preamble to his May 31 approval/disapproval of implementation plans, neither the States nor EPA had any practical experience that would permit the development of meaningful transportation control schemes and predict their impact on air quality. States were advised that adoption of transportation control schemes could be deferred beyond the statutory deadline for submittal of implementation plans but the State plans would have to define the degree of emission reduction to be achieved through transportation control measures and identify the measures being considered. States were required to submit adopted transportation control strategies no later than February 15, 1973.

In addition, many States requested 2-year extensions pursuant to section 110(e) of the Act for the attainment of the primary standards for these pollutants based on the unavailability of transportation control measures. It was the Administrator's determination that transportation control measures would not be available soon enough to permit attainment of the primary standards within the 3-year time period prescribed by the Act. Therefore, 2-year extensions were granted at the request of the States where the State determined that transportation control measures would be necessary. In some cases, this meant that States were required to submit on February 15, 1973, transportation and/or land-use control measures that would achieve the standards by 1977. In other cases, the 2-year extension meant that certain States would not have to submit transportation control measures because the effects of the Federal Motor Vehicle Control Program would be adequate to achieve the standards by 1977 without the application of any other transportation and/or land-use measures.

On January 31, 1973, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit decided the case of "Natural Resources Defense Council, et al. v. Environmental Protection Agency" (Civil Action No. 72-1522) and seven other related cases. It issued an order which held that the Clean Air Act does not permit the delay in States' submission of transportation control portions of implementation plans until February 15, 1973, or permit the granting of extensions to mid-1977 for attainment of the national primary air standards where plans had not yet been submitted. The order required the Administrator to formally rescind through notice to the States and publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER the extension of time granted to submit transportation and/or land use control portions of implementation plans. It also required the Administrator to formally rescind in the same manner the extension granted to several States to delay implementation of their plans or portions thereof until May 31, 1977. The court ordered the Administrator to inform the States concerned that "all States that have not yet submitted an implementation plan fully complying with the requirements of the Clean Air Act of 1970 must submit such a plan by April 15, 1973. That plan must satisfy each and every requirement of section 110(a) (2) (A)-(H) if it is to be approved by the Administrator. In particular, it must provide for the attainment of the primary standards as expeditiously as practicable but in no case later than May 31, 1975. . . ."

In accordance with this order, 22 States were notified by telegram on February 5, 1973, that any extensions granted because of the unavailability of transportation and/or land use controls were canceled and that plans for the attainment and maintenance of the standards for these three pollutants would be required by April 15, 1973. This FEDERAL REGISTER notice is to complete the requirements of that court order by specifically amending the provisions of this part with regard to each of the States concerned.

These amendments provide that every State which was granted an extension to achieve those primary standards and/or permitted to defer submittal of the transportation and/or land use control strategies until February 15, 1973, will now all be required to submit no later than April 15, 1973, transportation and/or land use controls which will show achievement of the standards by 1975. In addition to those States which were required to submit transportation and/or land use control strategies on February 15, a number of other States which had regions that would not achieve the standard by 1975 but were not required to submit transportation control strategies in order to permit the Federal motor vehicle control program to achieve the standards by 1977 will now also be required to submit transportation control strategies on April 15. States must adopt strategies which provide for attainment and maintenance of these standards by May 31, 1975. At the time of submission of these plans on April 15, the Governors of the States may request an extension of time of up to 2 years for compliance with the provisions of these plans by certain sources. The Administrator will grant such extensions only if the specific requirements of section 110(e) are satisfied by the State plan.

The action taken herein to require submittal of transportation and/or land use control strategies is not intended to and should not be construed as affecting the validity of prior approvals or promulgations of other portions of State plans by the Administrator. These other provisions of approved or promulgated plans remain in effect and are enforceable by the State and/or Federal Government in accordance with the provisions of the Clean Air Act.

Nor do these provisions prevent a State from adopting and submitting a control strategy utilizing controls on stationary sources in connection with transportation and/or land use controls or relying solely on stationary source controls if such a control strategy is adequate to attain and maintain the standards.

The amendments set forth below are effective from the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER since the amendments are made pursuant to a court order which requires the Agency to formally rescind prior actions and require States to submit portions of implementation plans by April 15, 1973. (42 U.S.C. 1857c-5)

Dated: March 13, 1973.

WILLIAM D. RUCKELSHAUS,

SUBCHAPTER E—PESTICIDE PROGRAMS

PART 180—TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

2-Ethylamino-4-isopropylamino-6-methylthio-s-Triazine

A petition (PP 3F1299) was filed by CIBA-GEIGY Corp., Ardsley, N.Y. 10502, in accordance with provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 346a), proposing establishment of tolerances for negligible residues of the herbicide 2-ethylamino-4-isopropylamino-6-methylthio-s-triazine in or on the raw agricultural commodities grapefruit and oranges at 0.25 part per million. Subsequently, the petitioner amended the petition by reducing the proposed tolerances of 0.25 part per million to 0.1 part per million (negligible residue).

Based on consideration given the data submitted in the petition and other relevant material, it is concluded that:

1. The herbicide is useful for the purposes for which the tolerances are being established.

2. There is no reasonable expectation of residues in eggs, meat, milk, or poultry, and § 180.6(a)(3) applies.

3. The tolerances established by this order will protect the public health.

Therefore, pursuant to provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 408(d)(2), 68 Stat. 512; 21 U.S.C. 346a(d)(2)), the authority transferred to the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (35 FR 15623), and the authority delegated by the Administrator to the Deputy Assistant Administrator for Pesticide Programs (36 FR 9038), § 180.258 is amended by adding a new paragraph "0.1 part per million * * *", as follows:

§ 180.258 2-Ethylamino-4-isopropylamino-6-methylthio-s-triazine; tolerances for residues.

0.1 part per million (negligible residue) in or on grapefruit and oranges.

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may at any time on or before April 19, 1973, file with the Hearing Clerk, Environmental Protection Agency, Room 3902A, Fourth and M Streets SW., Waterside Mall, Washington, DC 20460, written objections thereto in quintuplicate. Objections shall show wherein the person filing will be adversely affected by the order and specify with particularity the provisions of the order deemed objectionable and the grounds for the objections. If a hearing is requested, the objections must state the issues for the hearing. A hearing will be granted if the objections are supported by grounds legally sufficient to justify the relief sought. Objections may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof.

Effective date. This order shall become effective on March 20, 1973.

Dinoseb

In keeping with the practice of listing pesticide chemicals in the Code of Federal Regulations by their common name, it is concluded that the common chemical name dinoseb should be included in § 180.281 where appropriate.

Therefore, § 180.281 is amended by revising the section heading and introductory paragraph to read as follows:

§ 180.281 Dinoseb; tolerances for residues.

Tolerances are established for residues of the herbicide dinoseb (2-sec-butyl-4,6-dinitrophenol) from application of its alkanolamine salts (of the ethanol and isopropanol series) in or on raw agricultural commodities as follows:

Since this order merely provides for a minor technical change which is non-controversial, notice, public procedure, and delayed effective date are not prerequisites to this promulgation.

Effective date. This order shall become effective on March 20, 1973.

Dated: March 9, 1973.

PART 1033—CAR SERVICE
Substitution of Hopper Cars for Covered Hopper Cars or Boxcars

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Railroad Service Board, held in Washington, D.C., on the 13th day of March 1973.

It appearing, that an acute shortage of covered hopper cars and boxcars for transporting shipments of grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products exists in certain sections of the country; that some carriers have adequate supplies of open hopper cars; that use of these cars for transporting grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products is precluded by certain tariff provisions requiring the use of covered hopper cars or boxcars, thus curtailing shipments of grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products and creating great economic loss; that present regulations and practices with respect to the use, supply, control, movement, and distribution of covered hopper cars and boxcars are ineffective. It is the opinion of the Commission that an emergency exists requiring immediate action to promote car service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people. Accordingly, the Commission finds that notice and public procedure are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and that good cause exists for making this order effective upon less than 30 days' notice.

It is ordered, That:

§ 1033.1117 Second Revised Service Order No. 1117.

(a) Substitution of hopper cars for covered hopper cars or boxcars. Each common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act shall observe, enforce, and obey the following rules, regulations, and practices with respect to its car service:

(1) Substitution of cars: Subject to the concurrence of the shipper, the carrier may substitute open hopper cars for shipments of grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products, whether from the point of origin or from an intermediate in-transit point, regardless of tariff provisions requiring the use of covered hoppers or boxcars.

(2) Minimum weights: The minimum weights per shipment of grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products transported in open hopper cars substituted for covered hopper cars or boxcars shall be the minimum weights specified in the tariffs for shipments made in covered hopper cars or boxcars regardless of the number of open hopper cars required to be used to secure the minimum weight.

(3) <sup>1</sup> In shipping grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products in open hopper cars in lieu of covered hopper cars or boxcars as provided herein, the shipper shall be deemed to have acknowledged the terms and conditions of the contract of carriage embodied in the bill of lading that the carrier shall not be liable for injury, loss, or damage to the lading resulting from a defect or vice in such property.

(4) Bills of lading covering movements authorized by this order shall contain a notation that shipment is moving under authority of Service Order No. 1117.

(5) The term "open hopper cars" means all cars listed in the Official Railway Equipment Register, ICC R.E.R. No. 386, issued by W. J. Trezise, or successive issues thereof, as having mechanical designations "HD," "HE," "HF," "HFA," "HFD," "HE," "HM," "HMA," "HT," or "HTB."

(6) The term "covered hopper cars" means all cars listed in the Official Railway Equipment Register, ICC No. 386, issued by W. J. Trezise, or successive issues thereof, as having mechanical designation "LO."

(7) <sup>1</sup> The term "boxcars" means all cars listed in the Official Railway Equipment Register, ICC No. 386, issued by W. J. Trezise, or successive issues thereof, as having mechanical designations "XL," "XLI," "XM," or "XMI."

(b) Rules and regulations suspended. The operation of tariffs or other rules and regulations, insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this order, is hereby suspended.

(c) Application. The provisions of this order shall apply to intrastate, interstate, and foreign commerce.

(d) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 12:01 a.m., March 16, 1973.

(e) Expiration date. The provisions of this order shall expire at 11:59 p.m., July 31, 1973, unless otherwise modified, changed, or suspended by order of this Commission.

(Secs. 1, 12, 15, and 17(2), 24 Stat. 379, 383, 384, as amended; 49 U.S.C. 1, 12, 15, and 17(2). Interpret or applies secs. 1(10-17), 15(4), and 17(2), 40 Stat. 101, as amended, 64 Stat. 911; 49 U.S.C. 1(10-17), 15(4), and 17(2).)

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and car hire agreement under the terms of that agreement, and upon the American Short Line Railroad Association; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D.C., and by filing it with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

Proposed Rule Making

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains notices to the public of the proposed issuance of rules and regulations. The purpose of these notices is to give interested persons an opportunity to participate in the rule making prior to the adoption of the final rules.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Indian Affairs

[ 25 CFR Part 252 ]

TRADERS ON NAVAJO, ZUNI, AND HOPI RESERVATIONS

Trade With Government Employees

Notice is hereby given that it is proposed to revise § 252.4 of Part 252, Subchapter W, Chapter I, of Title 25 of the Code of Federal Regulations. This revision is proposed pursuant to the authority contained in the Act of June 30, 1934 (4 Stat. 738, 25 U.S.C. 68), as amended by the Act of June 19, 1939 (53 Stat. 840, 25 U.S.C. 68a).

Section 252.4 currently restricts U.S. Government employees, including Indian employees, from trading with Indians on the Navajo, Zuni, and Hopi Reservations in the States of Arizona, New Mexico, and Utah. However, U.S. Government employees are allowed to trade, in certain cases, with Indians on other Indian reservations under 25 CFR 251.5. Therefore, § 252.4 is being revised to correct this inequity and allow U.S. Government employees to trade with Indians on the Navajo, Zuni, and Hopi Reservations in the same cases as on other reservations.

It is the policy of the Department of the Interior, whenever practicable, to afford the public an opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments, suggestions, or objections with respect to the proposed revision to the Director of Economic Development, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Washington, D.C. 20245, no later than April 19, 1973.

Section 252.4 of Chapter I, Title 25, of the Code of Federal Regulations is revised to read as follows:

§ 252.4 Government employees not to trade with Indians except in certain cases.

Save as authorized by the Act of June 19, 1939 (53 Stat. 840; 25 U.S.C. 68a, 87a, 441), no person employed in Indian affairs shall have any interest or concern in any trade with the Indians except for and on account of the United States; and any person offending herein shall be liable to a penalty of $5,000 and shall be removed from his office. Employees of the U.S. Government, including those in the Bureau of Indian Affairs, may be permitted to trade with Indians or Indian organizations under the conditions specified below:

(a) Employees of the U.S. Government, including those in the Bureau of Indian Affairs, may, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, in each case where the amount involved exceeds $100, or with the approval of the superintendent or other officer in charge, where the amount involved does not exceed $100, be permitted to purchase from any Indian or Indian organization any arts and crafts or any other product, service, or commodity produced, rendered, owned, controlled, or furnished by any Indian or Indian organization: Provided, That no employee of the U.S. Government shall be permitted to make any such purchases for the purpose of engaging directly or indirectly in the commercial selling, reselling, trading, or bartering of said purchases by the said employee.

(b) U.S. employees, Indian blood. Indian employees of the U.S. Government, of whatever degree of Indian blood, may be members in the same manner as other Indian members of the tribe not so employed and receive benefits by reason of their membership in such tribes, corporations, or cooperative associations, organized by and operated for Indians. Such Indian Government employees may engage in all lawful transactions with Indians, Indian tribes, and such corporations or cooperative associations. None of the transactions authorized herein may be entered into by such employees for the purpose of engaging directly or indirectly in the selling, reselling, trading, bartering, or passing on in any other way for profit the objects, rights, services, or property thus acquired. Nothing in this section shall prevent in proper cases the disposition of any such property when such transaction cannot be considered as actually engaging in any of the businesses prohibited in this section. All transactions authorized herein to be valid must be approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

(c) Leases or sales of restricted Indian land. Leases or sales of trust or restricted Indian land to or from Indian employees of the U.S. Government must be made on sealed bids unless the Commissioner of Indian Affairs waives this requirement on the basis of a full report showing (1) the need for the transaction, (2) the benefits accruing to both parties, and (3) that the consideration for the proposed transaction shall be not less than the appraised value of the land or leasehold interest unless the Indian employee qualifies and is intending a transaction in accordance with § 121.18 (b) and (c) of this chapter or § 131.55 (b) (1), (2), and (3) of this chapter. An affidavit as follows shall accompany each proposed land transaction:

I _____ (Name)
(Title)
that I have not exercised any undue influence nor used any special knowledge received by reason of my office in obtaining the (grantor's, purchaser's, vendor's) consent to the instant transaction.

RESTORATION OF GAME BIRDS, FISH AND MAMMALS

Proposed Revision of Administrative Procedures

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of the Interior by section 10 of the Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Act as amended (50 Stat. 919; 16 U.S.C. 669i) and by section 10 of the Federal Aid in Fish Restoration Act, as amended (64 Stat. 434; 16 U.S.C. 777i), it is proposed to revise Part 80 of Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations, as set forth below. The proposed changes will improve administrative procedures, and will incorporate the provisions of recent legislative changes and Office of Management and Budget directives.

1. Section 80.1 is revised to add American Samoa under the definition for "State." Removes reference to the Secretary of Agriculture of Puerto Rico and the Governor of Guam and the Virgin Islands from the definition of a State fish and game department. The definitions of State and State fish and game department provided are adequate to cover the responsible authorities for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the territorial areas. The definition of "project" was revised to delete "sound" and "general" as ambiguous and unnecessary. A definition for "maintenance" was deleted since no special meaning is ascribed to the term outside of its generally accepted meanings. Provides a definition for "technical assistance" which was previously covered under a separate section. The definition for a hunter safety program was expanded to more adequately define the program and to make the definition conform to the Act of October 25, 1972 (Public Law 92-558). Provides a definition for a "comprehensive plan" which was previously covered under a separate section. Provides a definition for "administration" previously covered under a separate section.

2. Section 80.3 is amended to allow States to notify the Secretary of their desire to participate in the benefits of each Act by submitting an application for Federal assistance during the required 60-day period for each of the Acts.

3. Section 80.6 is revised to eliminate the requirements pursuant to the planning-programming-budgeting system.

4. Section 80.7 is amended by adding guidelines in determining licenses eligible for inclusion in the count of paid license holders. This is not a new policy, but has not previously been included in the regulations. The date for submission of information concerning the number of paid license holders was changed from December 15 to March 1 of each year. This will allow States with licensing systems on a calendar year to report on the most recent year.

5. Section 80.10 is amended to exempt the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa from the requirement for minimum Federal aid participation. This is not a new policy, but has not previously been stated in the regulations.

6. Section 80.11 is changed from "project statement" to application for Federal assistance. This makes the terminology consistent with uniform administrative requirements for grants-in-aid to State and local governments promulgated by OMB Circular A-102.

7. Section 80.12 "Personnel" previously numbered § 80.25 is renumbered § 80.12. This section is expanded to emphasize selection and conduct of personnel assigned to Federal aid projects.

8. Section 80.13 "Safety and Accident Prevention" previously under § 80.22, is renumbered § 80.13 with unnecessary verbiage deleted.

9. Section 80.14 is modified to incorporate terminology consistent with OMB Circular A-102.

10. Section 80.16 "Assurances" is added to incorporate, by reference, all applicable Federal laws, regulations, and requirements previously included in part in separate sections of the regulations. These assurances are now specified on the standard application for Federal assistance.

11. Section 80.20 "Prosecution of Work" is renumbered from § 80.24. Minor changes of language were made to conform to terminology used in other parts and in OMB Circular A-102.

12. Section 80.21 is revised by the addition of a statement on responsible authority regarding settlement of contractual issues.

13. Section 80.22 "Management and Maintenance of Completed Projects" renumbered from § 80.26.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

14. Section 80.23 "Production of Income" is renumbered from § 80.27. Examples of prohibited income-producing activities are eliminated. The treatment of income incidental to Federal aid activities is adequately covered in the Federal Aid Manual.

15. Section 80.25 "Federal aid payments" is renumbered from § 80.30. Language was also added to provide for payments through letter of credit under the comprehensive fish and game plan option. Coverage was also provided on the limitation of indirect costs for State central services. This is included in the amendments to the Federal Aid Acts (Public Law 91-503).

16. Section 80.27 "Records and Reporting" is renumbered from § 80.32. Specifying the types of activities for which cost records must be kept, i.e. research, acquisition, development, and coordination were eliminated since these activities are not all inclusive and are subject to change through administrative determination.

17. Section 80.31 "Purchase of Equipment" is renumbered from § 80.36. The dollar limit on items of equipment requiring advanced approval is raised to $2,500 from the previous $500.

18. Section 80.34 is added to reflect requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. These requirements were previously included in the Federal Aid Manual but were not included in the regulations.

19. Section 80.35 "Comprehensive Plan Alternative" is renumbered from § 80.43. Language was revised to clarify the requirements of a comprehensive fish and wildlife management plan.

20. In addition to the specific comments above, the following sections and subjects previously included in the regulations were omitted for the reasons stated:

Section 80.12 Financial plan—the purpose of the financial plan is adequately served by requirements contained in the standard application for Federal assistance.

Section 80.13 Plans, specifications and estimates—project documentation is adequately covered in other sections of the regulations and the Federal Aid Manual.

Section 80.16 Equal Employment Opportunity—included by reference in the revised § 80.16 Assurances.

Section 80.16 Samples of materials to be submitted—eliminated, since the States are responsible and can be relied upon to assure suitability of materials for construction projects.

Section 80.23 Statements and payrolls—included by reference in the revised § 80.16 Assurances.

Section 80.29 Civil rights—included by reference in the revised § 80.16 Assurances.

Section 80.38 Fish and wildlife planning—superseded by revised § 80.35.

Section 80.39 Estuaries—the States are now cognizant of the value of estuaries and the need for their protection.

Section 80.42 Uniform relocation assistance and land acquisition policies—included by reference in the revised § 80.16 Assurances.

(1) The Act of Congress, approved September 2, 1937, entitled "An Act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in wildlife restoration projects, and for other purposes" (50 Stat. 917, as amended; 16 U.S.C., sec. 669-669i), commonly referred to as the Pittman-Robertson Act; and (2) the Act of Congress, approved August 9, 1950, entitled "An Act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in fish restoration and management projects, and for other purposes" (64 Stat. 430, as amended; 16 U.S.C., sec. 777-777k), commonly referred to as the Dingell-Johnson Act.

(b) State. Any State of the United States, the territorial areas of Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(c) State fish and game department. Any department or division, or commission, or official of a State empowered under its laws to exercise the functions ordinarily exercised by a State fish and game department.

(d) Administration. As used in section 1 of each of the Federal Aid Acts, relating to diversion of license fees, in this part.

administration of a fish and game department includes all of the normal operations and functions of such an organization.

(e) Fish and wildlife. (1) The term "fish" is limited to aquatic, gill breathing, vertebrate animals bearing paired fins; and (2) the term "wildlife" is limited to wild birds and wild mammals.

(f) Project. A substantial undertaking with the objective of (1) restoring or managing fish and wildlife populations now and for the future and for preserving and improving sport fishing, hunting, and related uses of these resources, or (2) providing facilities and services for conducting a hunter safety program.

(g) Project substantiality. A substantial project is one which will provide benefits to hunters and fishermen commensurate with cost, and which is designed in accordance with accepted fish and wildlife conservation and management practices and sound engineering principles.

(h) Project segment. An essential part or division of a project, usually separated as a period of time, occasionally as a unit of work.

(i) Land acquisition. The acquisition of lands, waters, or interests therein, by purchase, condemnation, lease, or gift.

(j) Development. Improving areas of land or water through the construction of works and facilities, improvement of soil and water conditions, establishing or controlling vegetation and animal populations and including operation and protection of the areas.

(k) Research and surveys. Investigations into problems of fish and wildlife management necessary for the efficient administration of these resources, including:

(1) Research—studies designed to supply new information about fish and wildlife, their environment, or the development of new methods for management of these resources.

(2) Surveys—routine collection of data on the abundance and utilization of fish and wildlife, or the condition of their environment, through the application of established methodology.

(l) Coordination. The selection, planning, direction, supervision, and coordination of projects within a State's Federal aid program, including the coordination of this program with other related activities of the fish and game department.

(m) Technical assistance. Technical assistance provided to individuals, groups, and State, local, or municipal governments by State fish and game departments for matters relating to fish and wildlife management, land use planning, or improvements in environmental quality substantially beneficial to fish and wildlife is approvable under the Federal Aid in Fish and Wildlife Restoration programs.

(n) Hunter safety program. A program to provide:

(1) Instruction and practice in safe use of firearms and archery equipment and the avoidance of all types of accidents and hazards associated with hunting. Training may include survival techniques, first aid, sporting ethics, and the basic principles of wildlife management.

(2) Target ranges which are public facilities that may be constructed, operated, and maintained to provide for training on practice in the safe use of shotguns, rifles, pistols, and archery equipment.

(o) Comprehensive plan. A documentation of the processes whereby program decisions and implementation strategies are evaluated and synthesized into 5-year schedules of definite actions for accomplishing the objectives of the fish and game department. The plan is comprehensive in that it considers all fish and wildlife activities in particular and all activities which impact on natural resources in general.

§ 80.2 Apportionment and certification.

The Secretary shall apportion funds in the manner prescribed in the Acts, as soon as possible after receiving notification of the amounts which have become available for the purposes of the Acts. He shall promptly certify to the Secretary of the Treasury and to each State fish and game department the respective sums which he has deducted for administering and executing the Acts and the respective sums which he has apportioned to each State for the ensuing fiscal year.

§ 80.3 Notice of desire to participate.

Any State fish and game department desiring to avail itself of the benefits of the Acts, shall notify the Secretary within 60 days after it has received from him a certificate of apportionment of funds available to the State. Such notification may be accomplished by the submission of a properly executed project application under each of the Acts within the 60-day period.

§ 80.4 Period of availability of funds.

Funds are available to a State for expenditure or obligation during the fiscal year for which they are apportioned and until the close of the succeeding fiscal year. For the purpose of this section, obligation of apportioned funds occurs when a project agreement or amendment thereto is signed by the Secretary or his authorized representative.

§ 80.5 Diversion of funds.

(a) Conditions for participation in the benefits of these Acts are that a State's hunting and fishing license revenues must be used only for administration of its fish and game department and Federal Aid funds granted under the Acts must be used for the purposes of approved projects. A diversion of license fees occurs when a State fish and game department, through legislative action, or otherwise, loses control of the expenditure of any portion of its hunting license or sport fishing license revenues, or expends such revenues for any purpose other than the administration of the State fish and game department. A diversion of Federal Aid funds occurs whenever they are applied by a State to activities or purposes which are not a part of an approved project, or when real property acquired or constructed with Federal Aid funds under these Acts passes from the control of the State fish and game department or is used for unapproved purposes in a manner or to an extent which interferes with the accomplishment of project purposes as they were approved by the Secretary, or as they may be amended with the approval of the Secretary.

(b) When a diversion of funds occurs, a State thereby becomes ineligible to receive Federal Aid funds under the pertinent Act from the date the diversion occurs until (1) action is taken to return the administration of hunting and sport fishing license fees to the State fish and game department; (2) hunting and sport fishing license fees used for purposes other than the programs of the State fish and game department are replaced; (3) Federal Aid funds used for purposes or activities which are not a part of an approved project are replaced; (4) Federal Aid financed real property which has passed from the control of the State fish and game department is restored to that control, or a property of equal value at current market prices and with commensurate benefits to fish and wildlife is acquired with non-Federal funds to replace it; or (5) uses of Federal Aid financed real property, which interfere with the accomplishment of approved project objectives are ceased: Provided, however, That, where any projects were approved in compliance with the terms of the pertinent Act prior to diversion, and Federal Aid funds were obligated to carry out such projects, such funds shall remain available therefore, until expended, without regard for the intervening period of the State's ineligibility under the Federal Aid Acts: Provided, further, That, when the State shall find, and the Secretary agree, that a property is no longer useful for the purposes for which it was acquired or constructed, and that it is not practical to convert the property to other fish or wildlife restoration, development, or management purposes, the State may sell the property and apply the proceeds of sale as the State fish and game department and the Secretary may then agree: Provided, further, That, when required by this section to acquire a property with non-Federal funds, a State shall be given a reasonable time, up to 3 years, to accomplish this, before becoming ineligible to receive Federal Aid funds.

§ 80.6 General information for the Secretary.

Before any Federal funds may be obligated for any project to be undertaken in a State, there shall be furnished to the Secretary upon his request, information regarding the laws affecting fish or wildlife conservation and the authority of the State fish and game department and of local officials with respect to the establishment and maintenance of projects, and the existing provisions of the State constitution of laws relating to revenues for the protection, restoration, and management of fish or wildlife.

(a) Document signature. The Secretary of State of each State or any authorized official of the State shall certify as to the duly appointed official(s) authorized in accordance with State law to commit the State to participation under the provisions of the Acts and to sign Federal Aid project documents. The Secretary shall be advised promptly of any change made in such authorizations to sign Federal Aid documents.

(b) Program information. The Secretary may, from time to time, request and the State fish and game department shall furnish information relating to the administration and maintenance of any project established under the Acts.

§ 80.7 Hunting and fishing license information.

(a) Information concerning the number of paid hunting license holders and the number of persons holding paid licenses to fish for sport or recreation in the State in the preceding year shall be furnished the Secretary by the fish and game department of each State on or before March 1 of each year in form specified by the Secretary.

(b) This information shall be certified as accurate by the director of State fish and game department. He shall furnish, when requested by the Secretary, evidence used in determining accuracy of the certification.

(c) License holders shall be counted over a period of 12 months; the calendar year, fiscal year, or other licensing period may be used provided it is consistent from year to year in each State. In determining licenses which are eligible for inclusion, the following guidelines shall be observed:

(1) Trapping licenses, commercial licenses, and other licenses which are not for the express purpose of permitting the holder to hunt or fish for sport or recreation may not be included.

(2) Free licenses or those for which only a token charge is made may not be counted. Do not count licenses sold for a fee which does not produce significant net revenue for the State.

(3) Holders of licenses which are valid for an indeterminate number of years, the cost of which is not sufficient to contribute significantly to the administration of the fish and game department over the expected license period, may be counted only in the year in which they purchase the license. On the other hand, resident holders of licenses which are valid for a specific number of years, the cost of which is commensurate with the period for which hunting or fishing privileges are granted, may be counted in each of the years covered by the license. States issuing such licenses should employ sampling techniques to determine the number of such license holders who remain resident in the State after the year in which the license was purchased. Those who no longer live in the State should not be counted.

(4) Combination fishing and hunting licenses (a single license which permits the holder to both hunt and fish) should be included in the determination of both the number of paid hunting license holders and the number of persons holding paid licenses to fish for sport or recreation.

(5) Some licensing systems require or permit an individual to hold more than one license to hunt or more than one license to fish in a State. Care must be taken that such an individual is not counted more than once as a hunting license holder, or more than once as the holder of a license to fish for sport or recreation. The fish and game director, or other official certifying license information to the Secretary is responsible for seeing that no such duplication or multiple counting of single individuals is present in the figures which they certify. Sampling and other statistical techniques may be utilized by the certifying officer for this purpose.

§ 80.8 Activities prohibited.

Law enforcement and public relation activities which are not functions of an approved Federal Aid project may not be financed under the programs.

§ 80.9 Uses other than for fish and wildlife.

With respect to projects which are designed to include uses other than for fish or wildlife, reimbursement of costs from funds under the Federal Aid Acts shall be limited to the extent of the benefits to fish and wildlife resulting from such projects. Participation in maintenance of completed projects shall be similarly limited. Also, the costs of maintenance shall be appropriately shared according to the use of the area and facilities; Federal Aid funds shall not be applied to maintenance required by use other than for approved project purposes.

§ 80.10 Minimum Federal participation.

Except for the territories of the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, a minimum Federal Aid participation of 10 percent in the cost of each project is required as a condition of approval.

§ 80.11 Application for Federal assistance.

Application for Federal assistance shall be submitted for each proposed project which shall contain such fundamental information as the Secretary may require, in order that he may determine if a project meets the requirement of being substantial in character and design in accordance with standards set forth in the Federal Aid in Fish and Wildlife Restoration Manual.

§ 80.12 Personnel.

The State shall maintain an adequate and competent force of employees to initiate and carry cooperative agreements to satisfactory completion. Personnel employed on projects shall be selected on the basis of their competence to perform the services required and shall conduct their duties in a manner acceptable to the Secretary.

§ 80.13 Safety and accident prevention.

In the performance of each project, the State shall comply with all applicable Federal, State, and local laws governing safety, health, and sanitation.

§ 80.14 Project agreement.

(a) Following approval of the Application for Federal Assistance by the Secretary, the mutual obligations by the cooperating agencies will be shown by an agreement to be executed between the State and the Secretary. An agreement shall cover the financing proposed in one project segment and the work items described in the documents supporting it.

(b) Where the comprehensive plan alternative has been selected, the project agreement will be used to obligate funds for those elements within the operating plan to be accomplished with Federal Aid participation.

§ 80.15 Officials not to benefit.

No member of or delegate to Congress, or resident commissioner, shall be admitted to any share or any part of any agreement, made under the Federal Aid Acts, or to any benefit that may arise therefrom.

§ 80.16 Assurances.

The State must assure and certify that it will comply with all applicable Federal laws, regulations, and requirements as they relate to the application, acceptance, and use of Federal funds for projects under the Acts.

§ 80.17 Submission of documents.

Papers and documents required by the Acts or by the regulations in this part shall be deemed submitted to the Secretary from the date of receipt by the Director of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, or by the appropriate Regional Director of the Bureau.

§ 80.18 Divergent opinions over project merits.

Any difference of opinion about the substantiality of a proposed project, nature of development required, or appraised value of land to be acquired, are considered by qualified representatives of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and the State. Final determination in the event of continued disagreement rests with the Secretary.

§ 80.19 Land control.

The State must control lands or waters on which improvements are made. Control may be exercised through fee title, lease, easement, or agreement. Control must be adequate for protection, maintenance, and use of the improvement throughout its useful life.

§ 80.20 Prosecution of work.

(a) The State shall carry projects through to a state of completion acceptable to the Secretary with reasonable promptness. Failure to render satisfactory progress reports or failure to complete the project to the satisfaction of the Secretary shall be cause for the Secretary to suspend the project until the project provisions are satisfactorily met. Projects may be terminated upon determination by the Secretary that satisfactory progress has not been maintained. The Secretary shall have the right to inspect and review work being done at any time.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

(b) Research and/or development work shall be continuously coordinated by the State with studies conducted by others to avoid unnecessary duplication.

(c) All work shall be performed in accordance with applicable State laws, except when in conflict with Federal laws or regulations, in which case Federal laws or regulations shall prevail.

§ 80.21 Contracts.

The State may use their own regulations in obtaining services provided that they adhere to applicable Federal laws, regulations, policies, guidelines, and requirements. The State is the responsible authority, without recourse to the Federal agency regarding the settlement of contractual issues.

§ 80.22 Management and maintenance of completed projects.

The State shall exercise all reasonable means to insure permanent and proper management and maintenance of each completed acquisition or development of lands or waters.

§ 80.23 Production of income.

Federal Aid funds shall not be spent for the purpose of producing income. However, income produced as a result of federally aided activities which is incidental to the project activities is allowable. Such income shall be credited to the project as directed by the Secretary.

§ 80.24 Inspection.

Supervision of each project by the State shall include adequate and continuous inspection. The project will be subject at all times to Federal inspection.

§ 80.25 Federal aid payments.

Federal Aid payments to States are made either through a letter of credit under the comprehensive fish and wildlife plan option or by Treasury check under the traditional project option. Payments under the Federal Aid Acts, including such preliminary costs and expenses as may be incurred in and about such projects, shall not be made unless all documents that may be necessary or required in the administration of these Acts, shall have first been submitted to and approved by the Secretary. Payments shall be made for expenditures reported and certified by the State fish and game departments. Payments shall be made only to the State office or official designated by the State and authorized under the laws of the State to receive public funds of the State.

(a) Federal Aid payments shall not exceed 75 percent of the cost of a project or the amount specified in the agreement, whichever is less: Provided, That Federal Aid payments to the territorial areas of Guam, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico shall not exceed the amount specified in the agreement and in no event shall they be required to pay an amount which will exceed 25 percent of the cost of any project.

(b) Federal Aid payments on projects terminated prior to completion shall be limited to the cost of benefits produced as of the date of the termination and in conformance with the Project Agreement.

(c) Payments for acquired real property, including all associated acquisition and relocation expenses, shall not exceed 75 percent of the fair and reasonable cost of acquiring property in accordance with the Uniform Relocation and Land Acquisitions Policy Act (84 Stat. 1894) and the regulations and procedures promulgated thereunder by the Secretary.

(d) Preliminary costs which are clearly tied to an approved project may be reimbursed provided the claims are supported by accurate records.

(e) Payments for administrative costs in the form of overhead or indirect costs for State central services outside of the State fish and game department must be in accord with an approved cost allocation plan and shall not exceed in any one fiscal year 3 percent of the annual appropriation.

§ 80.26 Form of vouchers.

Vouchers on forms provided by the Secretary and certified as therein prescribed, showing amounts expended and the amount of Federal Aid funds claimed to be due on account thereof, shall be submitted to the Secretary by the State fish and game department.

§ 80.27 Records and reporting.

Reports shall be furnished as requested by the Secretary. Cost records shall be maintained separately for each project. In projects containing multiple activities, costs by activity shall be segregated. The accounts and records maintained by the State, together with all supporting documents, shall be open at all times to the inspection of authorized representatives of the United States, and copies thereof shall be furnished when requested.

§ 80.28 Records retention period.

The records, accounts, and supporting documents required to be maintained under the regulations in this part for each project shall be retained by the State fish and game department until the expiration of 3 years after final payment of reimbursement to the State on the project.

§ 80.29 Convict labor.

The State shall not employ any persons undergoing sentence of imprisonment at hard labor to perform work on projects approved under the Federal Aid Acts.

§ 80.30 Water pollution control.

In the performance of each project, the State shall take necessary action to avoid pollution of water as a direct or indirect result of project activity. Water quality must be maintained at a level consistent with applicable water quality standards.

§ 80.31 Purchase of equipment.

Advance approval by the Secretary is required for the purchase with Federal Aid participation of items of equipment costing in excess of $2,500.

§ 80.32 Patents and inventions.

Determination of the patent rights in any inventions or discoveries resulting from work under cooperative agreements entered into pursuant to the Act shall be governed by the Statement of Government Patent Policy promulgated by the President in his memorandum of October 10, 1963 (3 CFR 1963, Supp. p. 238, 28 FR 10943).

§ 80.33 Utilization of excess Federal personal property.

In the interest of achieving program objectives at minimum cost, expanding abilities, and enhancing program accomplishments, States are encouraged to consider fulfilling personal property requirements through utilization of excess Federal property. Such utilization will be applied to needs documented in approved projects according to law and related policy.

§ 80.34 Environmental impact statements.

The National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (Public Law 91-190, 83 Stat. 852, January 1, 1970) requires environmental impact statements on Federal or federally assisted programs that significantly affect the quality of human environment. Statements covering major Federal Aid in Fish and Wildlife Restoration activities will be on file with the Council on Environmental Quality in the Executive Office of the President. Environmental impact statements will be required for proposed Federal Aid activities which will have a significant effect on human environment and which are not adequately described in the impact statements on file.

§ 80.35 Comprehensive plan alternative.

As an alternative to submission of individual project application, a State may present to the Secretary a comprehensive fish and wildlife resource plan as program documentation. A comprehensive fish and wildlife management plan is comprised of: A strategic plan which identifies program goals and objectives and is based on 15-year projections of resource availability and demands; and a 5-year operation plan of definite actions for accomplishing such program goals and objectives. It also incorporates a system of frequent or continuous evaluation and updating. The plan shall be presented over the signature of the State fish and game director with evidence that it has been reviewed by the Governor of the State or his designee. Standards for the scope and quality of a plan which will be acceptable to the Secretary are published in the Federal Aid in Fish and Wildlife Restoration Manual.

It is the policy of the Department of the Interior whenever practicable to afford the public an opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments, suggestions, or objections to the Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D.C. 20240, on or before May 4, 1973.

MILK IN NEBRASKA-WESTERN IOWA MARKETING AREA

Notice of Hearing on Proposed Amendments to Tentative Marketing Agreement and Order

Notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held at the New Tower Hotel Courts, 7784 Dodge Street, Omaha, NE, beginning at 10 a.m., local time, Tuesday, April 17, 1973, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, regulating the handling of milk in the Nebraska-Western Iowa marketing area.

The hearing is called pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900).

The purpose of the hearing is to receive evidence with respect to the economic and marketing conditions which relate to the proposed amendments, hereinafter set forth, and any appropriate modifications thereof, and to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order.

Based on the record of a hearing held March 21 and 22, 1972, at Omaha, Nebr., pursuant to notice published March 2, 1972 (37 FR 4352), a class I base plan was adopted to be effective February 1, 1973. By orders issued by the Assistant Secretary on January 24, 1973, and February 26, 1973 (38 FR 2960 and 38 FR 5255), the effective date of the plan was deferred successively to March 1, 1973, and then to April 1, 1973.

The first deferral was to provide additional time to obtain production history data and the second deferral was at the request of Mid-America Dairy-men, Inc., a cooperative association in the market.

Associated Milk Producers, Inc., Central Region, has requested that provisions of the plan be considered for revision in a public hearing prior to effectuation of the plan, alleging that the certain provisions are inequitable to its member producers and that implementation of the plan as contained in the amended order may have other adverse effects for its member producers.

All provisions of the class I base plan are open for review and possible amendment at this hearing. This is necessary because revision of any part of the plan could substantially change the effect of other provisions of the plan. Further, because of the time elapsing while consideration is given to the plan, producers will have additional production history that may need to be taken into account in case of effectuation of a plan at a later date.

The effective date of the class I base plan has been deferred until further notice by an order issued by the Assistant Secretary.

PROPOSED BY ASSOCIATED MILK PRODUCERS, INC., CENTRAL REGION

PROPOSAL NO. 1

Reconsider the terms and provisions of the class I base plan, §§ 1065.90 through 1065.98, to determine whether they achieve equitable treatment of all producers.

PROPOSED BY THE DAIRY DIVISION,

PROPOSAL NO. 2

Make such changes as may be necessary to make the entire marketing agreement and the order conform with any amendments thereto that may result from this hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing and the order may be procured from the Market Administrator, U. Grant Grayson, Post Office Box 14340, West Omaha Station, Omaha, NE 68114, or from the Hearing Clerk, Room 112-A, Administration Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250 or may be there inspected.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on March 15, 1973.

1973 SUGAR QUOTA FOR THE MAINLAND CANE SUGAR AREA

Notice of Hearing on Proposed Allotment

Pursuant to the authority contained in the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (61 Stat. 922, as amended) and in accordance with the applicable rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR 801.1 et seq.) and on the basis of information available to me, I do hereby find that the allotment of the 1973 sugar quota for the Mainland Cane Sugar Area is necessary to prevent disorderly marketing and to afford all interested persons an equitable opportunity to market sugar, and hereby give notice that a public hearing will be held in Atlanta, Ga., on April 13, 1973, in the Federal Building, Room 556, Peachtree and Baker Streets, beginning at 10 a.m. local time.

The purpose of this hearing is to receive evidence to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to make a fair, efficient, and equitable distribution of such quota for the calendar year 1973 among persons who process and market sugar produced from sugarcane grown in the Mainland Cane Sugar Area. The preliminary finding made above is based upon the best information now available. It will be appropriate at the hearing to present evidence on the basis of which the Secretary may affirm, modify, or revoke such finding and make or withhold allotment of any such quota in accordance therewith.

In addition, the subjects and issues of this hearing include (1) the manner in which consideration should be given to the statutory factors as provided in section 205(a) of the Act, and (2) the manner in which marketings within allotments shall be restricted.

This notice of hearing also constitutes notice that at such hearing it will be appropriate to present evidence on the basis of which the allotment of the quota or proration thereof may be revised or amended by the Secretary for the purposes of (1) allotting any increase, or decrease, in the quota and (2) prorating any deficit in the allotment for any allottee.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on March 16, 1973.

KENNETH E. FRICK,
Administrator, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

WINDSHIELD DEFROSTING AND DEFOGGING SYSTEMS

Proposed Motor Vehicle Safety Standard

This notice proposes an amendment of Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 103,

Windshield Defrosting and Defogging Systems, that would modify the method by which test temperatures are measured. The proposed effective date of the amendment is the final rule publication date.

Safety Standard No. 103, through its incorporation of SAE Recommended Practice J902, Passenger Car Windshield Defrosting Systems, March 1967, specifies that the ambient air temperature of the defrosting test chamber and the test air velocity at the windshield be measured at a point that is located on the centerline of the vehicle, 1 foot ahead of the base of the windshield, at a level half way between the top and the bottom of the windshield. The cold chamber temperature is  $0 \pm 5^\circ \text{F}$ , but an increase to no more than  $10^\circ \text{F}$  attributable to engine heat is permissible at the location of the thermocouple. Jaguar Cars Division of British Leyland UK Limited has petitioned for an amendment of Standard No. 103 that would allow, as an alternative, measurement 3 feet ahead of the windshield base, provided that the test chamber air temperature be maintained throughout the test. Petitioner is experiencing difficulty remaining with the  $10^\circ \text{F}$  maximum at the prescribed location as certain of its vehicles are designed to direct engine heat to the windshield as a defrosting aid.

The NHTSA has determined that the petition merits initiation of rule making, and is issuing this notice in response thereto. It is proposed that the temperature be measured at the same height as the middle of the windshield, but at a location such that it is not significantly affected by heat from the vehicle under test. This location could be 3 feet forward of the windshield base as Jaguar suggests, or to the side or rear of the vehicle. Because of the stratification effect of temperature, the height of the thermocouple is considered important for the defrosting/defogging test, and therefore would still be prescribed.

In addition the NHTSA is taking the opportunity to propose the clarification of an ambiguity concerning the wind test condition. Paragraph S4.3(g) of Standard No. 103 states that "The wind velocity may not exceed 5 m.p.h." This creates a potential enforcement problem, in that a manufacturer who tests at a wind velocity of 3 m.p.h. would have arguably demonstrated compliance with the standard, even if the NHTSA tests at 4 m.p.h. and discovers a failure. In actuality, most manufacturers test at a wind velocity of 2 m.p.h. or less. It is proposed that the wind velocity be at any speed up to 2 m.p.h. As explained in § 571.4, this means that the vehicle must be capable of meeting Standard No. 103 with the wind velocity at any level within that range.

In consideration of the foregoing it is proposed that paragraph S4.3 of 49 CFR 571.103, Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 103, be amended as follows:

1. Paragraph (g) would be revised to read: "The wind velocity is at any level from 0 to 2 m.p.h."

2. A new paragraph (h) would be added to read: "Test chamber temperature is measured at the same height as the middle of the windshield at a location such that it is not significantly affected by heat from the vehicle under test."

Interested persons are invited to submit data, views, and arguments on this proposal. Comments should refer to the docket number and be submitted to: Docket section, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Room 5219, 400 Seventh Street SW., Washington, DC 20590. It is requested, but not required, that 10 copies be submitted. All comments received before the close of business on the comment closing date indicated below will be considered and will be available in the docket at the above address for examination both before and after the closing date. To the extent possible, comments filed after the closing date will also be considered. However, the rule making action may proceed at any time after that date, and comments received after the closing date and too late for consideration in regard to the action will be treated as suggestions for future rule making. The NHTSA will continue to file relevant material, as it becomes available, in the docket after the closing date, and it is recommended that interested persons continue to examine the docket for new materials.

Comment closing date: May 21, 1973.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR Parts 2, 18, 21, 73, 74, 89, 91, 93]

[Docket No. 18262; FCC 73-284]

LAND MOBILE SERVICE IN CERTAIN FREQUENCIES

Order for Oral Presentation

In the matter of an inquiry relative to the future use of the frequency band 806-960 MHz; and amendment of Parts 2, 18, 21, 73, 74, 89, 91, and 93 of the rules relative to operations in the land mobile service between 800 and 960 MHz, Docket No. 18262.

1. On May 20, 1970, the Commission adopted its First Report and Order and Second Notice of Inquiry in the above-entitled proceeding by which it reallocated a total of 115 MHz of spectrum space between 806 and 947 MHz to the land mobile radio service. In that decision, the Commission also adopted its original proposals and allocated 75 MHz (806-881 MHz) for wireline common carriers and 40 MHz (881-902, and 928-947 MHz) for private land mobile radio users.

Petitions for reconsideration, generally directed to the suballocation of the 115 MHz, were disposed of in our Second Memorandum Opinion and Order, released on August 2, 1971 (FCC 71-779). Based on the information available to us then, we affirmed our original division of the spectrum between the common carrier and private service, but we modified our initial decision by removing the exclusive wireline designation from the 75 MHz common carrier allocation.

2. In suballocating 75 MHz to the common carrier and 40 MHz to the private radio services, the Commission envisioned the development of a nationwide, broadband common carrier land mobile communications system along the lines proposed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., utilizing for this purpose an allocation of 75 MHz nationwide. The 40 MHz allocation to the private radio services was intended to supplement the Commission's action in Docket 18261 (providing for limited sharing of UHF television frequencies) by making available sufficient frequency space for the long-term development of private land mobile communication systems. We kept the proceeding open, however, and requested interested parties to conduct "a comprehensive study of market potentials, optimum systems configurations and equipment design" for broadband common carrier systems, and also to submit innovative proposals for the most effective use of the remaining 40 MHz in meeting the needs of the private mobile radio users.

3. In response to that request, many parties have submitted extensive information covering, among other things, innovative cellular and other "common user" systems designed for operation in the 806-947 MHz band, projected future requirements for land mobile communications, as well as the results of tests on the propagation characteristics of the frequencies at this region of the spectrum for land mobile purposes. Based in part on the information developed for this phase of the proceeding, a number of the parties have presented arguments and raised a number of significant policy questions which they urged us to consider in connection with the next step in the proceeding. Serious concern has been expressed over the 75 MHz allocated for the common carrier broadband system. Questions have been raised as to the desirability of relying on a broadband, high capacity system such as originally contemplated, to meet future land mobile requirements; the degree to which A.T. and T. and other carriers should be permitted to participate in the development of the land mobile communications services; the specific licensing policies to be followed; the range of communications system designs to be authorized, basic technical standards, and other related matters.

4. We have reviewed the comments submitted by interested parties in support of their respective positions; and, based upon their presentations, as well as on our own study of the matter, we believe it would be appropriate to afford all concerned a further opportunity to address themselves to the important issues they have raised. This is particularly so in light of the data and information developed by them since the release of our original decision in this proceeding. We recognize that we have previously passed on some of the matters being questioned; however, as we have said, new information has been developed and the matters before us are of such significance, that we feel further exploration of issues involved is warranted. Accordingly, we have decided to afford interested parties an opportunity to present their views orally before the Commission in the manner prescribed below.

5. Although we do not wish to restrict participants unduly, presentations directed to the following issues will be most helpful to the Commission:

(a) Whether the objective of a nationwide, compatible radiotelephone service remains sound and desirable as a matter of public policy; and if so, whether this service should be provided by a single integrated system, or by interconnected one-to-a-market systems, or by interconnected competitive systems?

(b) Which elements of 806-947 MHz mobile communications operation (e.g., hardware manufacture, base/mobile communication, network control and interconnection, etc.) are amenable to competition within a given area, and which are best performed by a single organization?

(c) Whether the role of wireline common carriers in the ownership and operation of 806-947 MHz mobile communication systems should be restricted in any way? If so, whether these limitations should take the form of market (e.g., radio-telephone vs. dispatch), operational (e.g., wireline vs. base/mobile), or geographic divisions; institutional structure (e.g., corporate subsidiaries); accounting procedures (e.g., anti-cross-subsidization); or some combined approach?

(d) Whether the role of any other parties (e.g., hardware manufacturers, radio common carriers, user associations, user cooperatives, etc.) should be restricted in any way, and if so why?

(e) Whether the original division of this 115 MHz (i.e., 75 MHz for common carriers and 40 MHz for private users) should be retained? If not, whether there should be a different yet fixed division, or should more flexible procedures be adopted with the objective of having allocations follow market growth? In each case, what specific provisions are suggested taking into account, among other factors, the foreseeable future potential for radiotelephone, private dispatch, and other services?

(f) What technical standards (such as channel spacing, transmit/receive frequency separation, power, stability, FM deviation, cochannel, adjacent channel and intermodulation assignment standards, service area, etc.) should be adopted for various systems in the 806-947 MHz region.

(g) What standards of spectrum efficiency and service quality should be applied to mobile telephone and dispatch systems to insure satisfaction of future growth and should such standards depend on population, market projections, or other characteristics of proposed service areas.

6. The Commission will hear oral argument by interested parties on May 7 and May 8, 1973. Following these formal presentations, the Commission may at its discretion convene a panel or panels of representative spokesmen to discuss particular issues in informal question-and-answer sessions, or adopt such other proceedings as it deems necessary and appropriate.

7. The Commission invites participation by interested parties, particularly those who have submitted reports and comments in this phase of the proceedings. In order to make most effective use of the limited time available, interested parties are urged to coordinate their presentations and, to the extent possible, designate joint spokesmen for parties wishing to present substantially similar views.

8. Accordingly, it is ordered, That oral argument is scheduled to begin before the Commission en banc, at 9:30 a.m., May 7, 1973, at the Commission's offices in Washington, D.C. Parties desiring to present oral argument shall file a written notice of intention to appear and participate within 7 days after release of this order. Such notice shall specify the party or parties represented and the issues to which the presentation would be directed. After submission of such written notices, the Commission will issue an order allotting time to the parties who will present argument, and may allot time jointly to parties representing the same or similar interests.

[47 CFR Part 73]

TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS, FRESNO, CALIF.

Proposed Table of Assignments

In the matter of amendment of § 73.606(b), table of assignments, Television Broadcast Stations (Fresno, Calif.), Docket No. 19703, RM-1964.

1. The Commission has before it a petition for rule making filed by Capital Cities Broadcasting Corporation (Capital Cities) seeking the substitution of television Channel 34 for Channel 30 at Fresno, Calif. As licensee of Station KFSN-TV operating on Channel 30, Capital Cities seeks modification of its license to specify Channel 34.

2. Even though the current Channel 30 assignment meets all applicable criteria, Capital Cities insists that reception of its signal has been much affected by interference caused by Station KBAK-TV operating on adjacent Channel 29 at Bakersfield, Calif. In order to show the areas in which this interference occurs and the degree to which it affects reception, Capital Cities conducted field tests and submitted the results along with its petition. While the Capital Cities system of rating the degree of interference may not be ideal, the photographs it submitted show that the quality of the picture on the screen has been degraded to some extent. The quality of the reproduction of the photographs in its engineering showing is not high enough to properly convey the extent of the degradation of picture quality. For this reason submission of clear photographic prints is necessary to clarify this point.

3. Capital Cities traces this interference to the unusual propagation characteristics in the San Joaquin Valley and to the high powers and antenna heights utilized by both stations operating on mountain tops along the east side of the valley. While no definitive judgment can be reached at this point, it does appear that the interference effects occur much closer to Fresno (in some cases within its Grade A contour) than would ordinarily be expected when the stations are 122 miles apart. This figure is more than double the required 55-mile separation.

4. In adopting the television table of assignments we balanced the competing needs for greater choice of signals and for adequate protection to the signal of a particular station. This balancing is expressed in the spacing requirements on which the table is based. Thus, it has not been our usual practice to consider problems traceable to adjacent channel interference so long as the stations in question meet the applicable spacing requirement. To do so would preclude many assignments, and in so doing upset the balance expressed in the table. Considering the apparently ample spacing here, that view would customarily be expressed all the more firmly in this instance. However, Capital Cities has provided data to suggest that this situation is anomalous and in need of specialized treatment. We express no final view on this point, although we do believe that the subject does warrant further consideration.

5. Aside from the question of making a substitution in a case such as this, the use of Channel 34 at Fresno, as proposed, would meet all applicable criteria. Capital Cities has provided information on the preclusionary impact of both channels and Channel 34 appears to have a smaller total preclusionary effect, and does not seem to affect currently unaffected areas where assignments might be in particular need. Thus, our principal concern is with the concept of substitution rather than with the channel

Capital Cities seeks to substitute. Nevertheless, there is one point to consider in connection with Channel 34. If the valley propagation situation is unusual, what impact might be expected by the presence of a cochannel operation for Los Angeles 211 miles away? Although this is more than the 175-mile required separation, the margin is a smaller one than now exists as to Bakersfield and is co-channel rather than adjacent channel. Thus, before we would be willing to implement this proposal, we need sufficient information to allay our concern on this score.

6. We seek comments on this proposal from interested parties. Capital Cities should address itself to the matters discussed above, and it and any other party is invited to comment on any other aspect of the proposal. Capital Cities has specifically waived its right under section 316 of the Act and thus there is no need to issue an order to Capital Cities to show cause why its license should not be modified to specify operation on Channel 34.

7. In accordance with the provisions of sections 4(d), 303 (g) and (r), and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, it is proposed to amend the television table of assignments, § 73.606 (b) of the Commission's rules, insofar as the community listed, to read as follows:

City	Channel No.
	Present	Proposed
Fresno, Calif.	*18, 24, 30, 47, 53	*18, 24, 34, 47, 53

8. Pursuant to applicable procedures set out in § 1.415 of the Commission's rules and regulations, interested parties may file comments on or before April 23, 1973, and reply comments on or before May 3, 1973. All submissions by parties to this proceeding, or persons acting on behalf of such parties, must be made in written comments, reply comments, or other appropriate pleadings.

9. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.419 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all written comments, reply comments, pleadings, briefs, or other documents shall be furnished the Commission. Responses filed in this proceeding will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in the Commission's public reference room at its headquarters in Washington, D.C. ## PROPOSED RULE MAKING

[Docket No. 19700; FCC 73-254]

MARITIME MOBILE REPEATER STATIONS

Proposal for Use in State of Alaska

In the matter of amendment of Part 81 of the Commission's rules to provide for the use of maritime mobile repeater stations in the State of Alaska, Docket No. 19700.

1. Notice of proposed rule making in the above entitled matter is hereby given.
2. The Commission convened a series of public meetings in southeastern Alaska during June 1972, to obtain local information in regard to the use of very high frequencies (VHF) in the maritime mobile service. In the course of these meetings it was recommended that the Commission make available one of the duplex pairs of VHF public correspondence frequencies for the automatic relay (unattended repeater) of ship-to-shore and shore-to-ship communications.

3. In support of that recommendation it was pointed out, taking into account the topography of and population distribution in this area, that repeater stations of this type can substantially increase the usable communication range of VHF which, in turn, would provide encouragement to vessel operators in Alaska to install and use VHF. Further, that the use of one pair of these frequencies for repeater purposes could be continued on an interim basis until a need develops for the use of such frequency pair for VHF public correspondence. Lastly, since the use of these repeater facilities would be limited to the maritime services, the use of this frequency pair could be effected without penalty to other radio services or to the maritime services.

4. In the view of the Commission, the consequential encouragement to use of VHF in Alaska will depend, in large part, upon the number of repeater stations installed; upon the availability of primary power, switching, and radio frequency equipment having the required reliability at a cost which is within the budgetary limits of the persons concerned; and upon the accessibility and availability of elevated sites at which to install the repeater facilities.

5. Nonetheless, the arguments are persuasive that provision should be included in the rules for the interim use of one pair of the VHF public correspondence frequencies by repeater stations in Alaska. Accordingly, the Commission is proposing to amend Part 81 of the rules as set forth below.

6. The proposed amendments to the rules, as set forth in this notice below, are issued pursuant to authority contained in sections 4(d) and 303 (b), (c), (g), and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

7. Pursuant to applicable procedures set forth in § 1.415 of the Commission's rules, interested persons may file comments on or before April 23, 1973, and reply comments on or before May 3, 1973. All relevant and timely comments and reply comments will be considered by the Commission before final action is taken in this proceeding. In reaching the decision in this proceeding, the Commission may take into account other relevant information before it, in addition to the specific comments invited by this notice.

8. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.419 of the Commission's rules, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission. Responses will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in the Commission's public reference room at its headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Adopted: March 7, 1973.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS
[SEAL] BEN F. WAPLE,
Secretary.

Part 81 of Chapter I of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

1. In § 81.3, a new paragraph (t) is added to read as follows:

§ 81.3 Maritime mobile service.

(t) Maritime mobile repeater station. A land station at a fixed location established for the automatic retransmission of signals emanating from maritime coast and mobile stations in order to extend the range of communication of both ship and coast stations.

2. A new § 81.330 is added to Subpart I to read as follows:

§ 81.330 Maritime mobile repeater stations in Alaska.

(a) Maritime mobile repeater stations will be licensed only in connection with Public Coast III-B stations (VHF) to extend the range of communication between the public coast station located in Alaska and ship stations.

(b) An authorization for a maritime mobile repeater station may be granted only to a licensee of Class III-B public coast station in Alaska and only during the interim period prior to the development of an adequate VHF public coast station service in any particular area of Alaska. The existence of a maritime mobile repeater station in an area shall not preclude consideration of the establishment of a VHF public coast station in that area.

(c) Each application for a maritime mobile repeater station shall include a full and complete statement showing

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

why the operational fixed frequencies set forth in Subpart P of this part cannot be employed.

(d) The standard technical requirements set forth in Subpart E and section 81.303 of this part, applicable of Class III-B public coast stations, shall be also applicable to a maritime mobile repeater station.

(e) The following frequencies may be authorized for use by a maritime mobile repeater station in Alaska:

Receive 157.275 MHz; transmit 161.875 MHz.

(f) The rules applicable to Public Coast III-B stations requiring capability to transmit and to receive on 156.800 MHz, [81.104(b)(2) 81.104(c)(2) and 81.191(c)(2)] are not applicable to the maritime mobile repeater stations in Alaska.

(g) A public coast station, the licensee of which has been authorized to use a maritime mobile repeater station, may be authorized to transmit on the frequency 157.275 MHz and to receive on 161.875 MHz. In an area where a maritime mobile repeater station is authorized, the frequencies 157.275 MHz and 161.875 MHz (Channel 85) are not available for assignment to Class III-B public coast stations.

(h) Each maritime mobile repeater station shall be so designated and installed that:

(1) The transmitter is deactivated automatically within 5 seconds after the signals controlling the station cease; and

(2) During periods when it is not controlled from a manned fixed control point, it shall be provided with an automatic time delay or clock device that will deactivate the station not more than 20 minutes after its activation by a mobile unit.

THE RENEGOTIATION BOARD [32 CFR Parts 14664, 1470, 1471, 1499]

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

The Renegotiation Board proposes to promulgate a comprehensive revision of its regulations pertaining to consolidated renegotiation, effective with respect to fiscal years ending after June 30, 1973. At the same time, the Board proposes to eliminate the procedure known as "concurrent renegotiation."

A. Consolidated renegotiation. The regulations on this subject are contained in Part 1464 and § 1470.3(h) of the Board's regulations. The proposed amendments are designed to simplify the rules governing consolidated renegotiation, to conform them more closely to the consolidation procedure under the Internal Revenue Code, and to eliminate unnecessary differences between the requirements applicable to affiliated groups and those applicable to related groups. The principal changes proposed are the following:

1. Once consolidated for renegotiation, a group of contractors would remain consolidated for all subsequent fiscal years unless otherwise authorized or directed by the Board.

2. A previously consolidated group would not be required to file a new request for consolidation when it loses or adds a member, but any new member would have to adopt and join in the request previously filed.

3. If either an affiliated group or a related group desired renegotiation on a consolidated basis, all members of the group having renegotiable business in the fiscal year under review would have to be included in the consolidation.

4. In the case of a related group, consolidation would be allowed only if all members of the group had a fiscal year ending on the same date.

5. By agreement with the Board, membership in a group, or the lack of it, for less than 30 days would be disregarded in assembling a group of contractors and their data for consolidation, unless the application of the statutory minimum or "floor" would be affected thereby.

B. Concurrent renegotiation. In concurrent renegotiation, losses or low profits of a member of an unconsolidated group of contractors are offset against profits of another member or members of such group. The act does not require or provide for concurrent renegotiation, nor does there appear to be any greater need for it in renegotiation than there is for its equivalent in the field of income taxation, where it is unknown. The Board's experience with this procedure for a number of years has shown that it tends to produce delay and other administrative problems. Also, related contractors who rely on concurrent renegotiation instead of consolidating can find themselves at a disadvantage in the Court of Claims. For in the court a contractor is unable to benefit from the loss or low profits of a concurrently renegotiated contractor who was cleared by the Board and thus is not before the court. Thus, the Board believes it unnecessary and inadvisable to continue the practice of concurrent renegotiation.

It is not intended by the proposed amendment to affect the obligation of any contractor controlling, controlled by, or under common control with any other contractor or contractors to file the Standard Form of Contractor's Report for any fiscal year in which the aggregate renegotiable receipts or accruals of the group exceed the minimum amount provided in section 105(f) of the act, without regard to whether the members of such group request renegotiation on an individual basis or on a consolidated basis for such year.

To avoid inequity in pending cases, or with respect to fiscal years already completed, the Board proposes to continue the present procedure of concurrent renegotiation with respect to fiscal years ending on or before June 30, 1973. Also, with respect to any fiscal year ending after that date, but not later than May 31, 1974, the Board proposes to accept and give consideration to a request for consolidated or concurrent renegotiation under the existing regulations, upon a showing that the application of the amended regulations to such fiscal year would cause prejudice or undue hardship to the contractor. Except for its discretionary use in such unusual circumstances, the procedure of concurrent renegotiation would not be available with respect to fiscal years ending after June 30, 1973.

The Board proposes to issue the proposed amendments not earlier than May 14, 1973. Interested persons are hereby notified that any changes, to be considered, must be presented, in writing to the Renegotiation Board, 2000 M Street NW., Washington, DC 20446, not later than May 7, 1973.

Written material or suggestions submitted will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in the library at the principal office of the Board, 2000 M Street NW., Washington, DC.

Dated: March 15, 1973.

RICHARD T. BURRESS,
Chairman.

§ 1464.21 Affiliated group.

(a) Statutory provisions.—

Section 105(a) of the act provides in part as follows:

• • • Renegotiation shall be conducted on a consolidated basis with a parent and its subsidiary corporations which constitute an affiliated group under section 141(d) of the Internal Revenue Code if all of the corporations included in such affiliated group request renegotiation on such basis and consent to such regulations as the Board shall prescribe with respect to (1) the determination and elimination of excessive profits of such affiliated group, and (2) the determination of the amount of the excessive profits of such affiliated group allocated, for the purposes of section 3806 of the Internal Revenue Code, to each corporation included in such affiliated group.

(b) Definition of "affiliated group." (1) The term "affiliated group" as used in this part means a group of corporations which qualify as such under the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Section 1504(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (corresponding with section 141(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 and incorporated in the act by the provisions of section 7852(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954) provides as follows:

(a) Definition of "affiliated group." As used in this chapter, the term "affiliated group" means one or more chains of includible corporations connected through stock ownership with a common parent corporation which is an includible corporation if—

(1) Stock possessing at least 80 percent of the voting power of all classes of stock and at least 80 percent of each class of the non-voting stock of each of the includible corporations (except the common parent corporation) is owned directly by one or more of the other includible corporations; and

(2) The common parent corporation owns directly stock possessing at least 80 percent of the voting power of all classes of stock and at least 80 percent of each class of the nonvoting stock of at least one of the other includible corporations.

As used in this subsection, the term "stock" does not include nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends.

§ 1464.22 Related group.

(a) Statutory provision. Section 105 (a) of the act provides in part as follows:

• • • By agreement with any contractor or subcontractor, and pursuant to regulations promulgated by it, the Board may in its discretion conduct renegotiation on a consolidated basis in order properly to reflect excessive profits of two or more related contractors or subcontractors.

(b) Definition of "related group." The term "related group" as used in this part means a group of persons (including corporations, partnerships, joint ventures, associations and sole proprietorships, and any combination of some or all of these) in which stock possessing at least 80 percent of the voting power of all classes of stock and at least 80 percent of each class of nonvoting stock of each corporate member of the group (except the common parent, if any), and the right to at least 80 percent of the profits of each unincorporated member of the group (except the common parent, if any), are owned directly or indirectly by one or more of the other members of the group, or by the same person or persons other than a member or members of the group.

§ 1464.23 Consolidated renegotiation; when granted.

(a) Affiliated group. Any two or more persons who are members of an affiliated group will be consolidated for purposes of renegotiation for a fiscal year upon the filing of a request therefor at the time and in the form prescribed in this part, if such persons include (1) the common parent corporation and (2) all members of the group who had renegotiable sales or costs in such fiscal year; and if each such member, for the first fiscal year for which such member is to be included in the proposed consolidation, had a fiscal year conforming with that of the common parent corporation.

(b) Related group. Any two or more persons who are members of a related group will be consolidated for purposes of renegotiation for a fiscal year upon the filing of a request therefor at the time and in form prescribed in this part, if such persons include all members of the group who had renegotiable sales or costs in such fiscal year, and if each such person, for the first fiscal year for which such person is to be included in the proposed consolidation, had a fiscal year conforming with that of the member designated as agent of the group pursuant to § 1464.27(c).

(c) Limitation. A member of an affiliated or related group requesting consolidated renegotiation for a fiscal year, who had no renegotiable sales or costs in such fiscal year, shall be entitled, but is not required, to join in such request. To facilitate renegotiation, the group is urged to limit such request, to the extent practicable, to members that had renegotiable sales or costs in such fiscal year.

§ 1464.24 Consolidated group.

(a) Definition. As used in this part, the term "consolidated group" means those members of an affiliated or related group who have requested and have been granted renegotiation on a consolidated basis pursuant to the regulations in this part.

(b) Fiscal year. For the purpose of consolidated renegotiation, the fiscal year of a consolidated group shall be the fiscal year of the member of such group designated as agent in accordance with § 1464.27(c).

§ 1464.25 Partial fiscal years.

(a) In general. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, in any consolidated renegotiation conducted pursuant to this part, amounts received or accrued by any person who was a member of an affiliated or related group during only a portion of the fiscal year of such member shall be included only to the extent that such amounts were received or accrued during such portion of its fiscal year.

(b) Periods not exceeding 30 days. If a member of an affiliated or related group is entitled to be included in a consolidated renegotiation, but for only a portion of its fiscal year, and the period during which it was or was not a member of the group did not exceed 30 days, amounts received or accrued by such member during such period may, by agreement with the Board, be excluded from or, as the case may be, included in the consolidated renegotiation of the group. The preceding sentence shall not apply if the exclusion or inclusion of such amounts would be significant in determining, pursuant to section 105(f) of the act, whether any amounts received or accrued by and person may be renegotiated under this act.

(c) Other receipts or accruals. Amounts received or accrued by a member of a consolidated group during the fiscal year of such member, but not included in the consolidated renegotiation of such group under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, shall be reported and renegotiated separately in accordance with the provisions of § 1464.30.

§ 1464.26 Effect of consolidation.

(a) In general. Once the Board has granted a request for renegotiation on a consolidated basis for a fiscal year, then, except as otherwise provided in this section and in § 1467.55(b) of this chapter, the group shall remain consolidated for all purposes under the act for such fiscal year and all fiscal years thereafter, without regard to whether a clearance is issued or excessive profits are determined by agreement or order for any such year or whether the renegotiable receipts or accruals of the group for any such year are less than the applicable minimum amount prescribed in section 105(f) of the act.

(b) Procedure for subsequent fiscal years. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the members of a consolidated group shall be entitled, without further request on their part, and unless otherwise authorized by the Board shall be required, to file a consolidated Standard Form of Contractor's Report (see § 1470.3(h) of this chapter) and be renegotiated on a consolidated basis for each fiscal year thereafter with respect to which the aggregate receipts or accruals of the group exceed the applicable minimum amount prescribed in section 105(f) of the act.

(2) If a member of a consolidated group ceases to qualify under this part in a subsequent fiscal year for consolidation with the other members of the group, it shall not be necessary for such other members to file a new request for consolidation for such fiscal year.

(3) If for a subsequent fiscal year it is desired to add a new member to a previously consolidated group, it shall not be necessary for the new group to file a request for consolidation for such fiscal year, but the consolidated financial statement of the new group (see § 1470.3(h) of this chapter) shall include a statement subscribed by such new member joining in and adopting, with respect to such fiscal year and all fiscal years thereafter, the request for consolidation theretofore filed by the previously consolidated group.

(4) A consolidated financial statement filed on behalf of a previously consolidated group shall include a statement describing any changes in the composition of the group since the close of the last fiscal year for which a consolidated filing was made.

(c) Discontinuance. On request of any member of a consolidated group, the Board at any time, in its discretion, may dissolve the consolidated group; or the Board may so act at any time on its own motion if satisfied that the consolidation was not properly effected pursuant to the regulations in this part. In any such event, if a renegotiation proceeding shall theretofore have been commenced with the consolidated group for any fiscal year, but not concluded, the Board may discontinue such proceeding and convert it to separate renegotiation proceedings or may permit consolidation of a different group.

§ 1464.27 Request for consolidation; designation of agent; commencement of proceeding.

(a) Form of request. A request for consolidated renegotiation shall be made in the form prescribed by § 1464.90. The request shall be executed by each member of the group. The request shall constitute a consent by each member of the consolidated group to the regulations governing consolidated renegotiation.

(b) Time for filing request. A request for consolidation shall be filed with the Board on or before the first date on which any member of the group files its Standard Form of Contractor's Report for the fiscal year involved. The Board may, in its discretion, grant a request filed after that date for good cause shown (see § 1472.6(e) (4) of this chapter).

(c) Designation of agent of group. A request for consolidation shall designate one member to act as agent of the consolidated group for purposes of renegotiation. In the case of an affiliated group, the common parent corporation shall be designated as agent. The agent so designated shall be authorized to act in its own name for all members of the group for all purposes in connection with renegotiation under these regulations, including commencement of renegotiation, notices, meetings, submission of data, administrative review, and the making and execution of renegotiation agreements. Such designation and authorization shall be irrevocable and not subject to change, except by permission of the Board, as long as the group remains consolidated pursuant to this part.

(d) Commencement of consolidated renegotiation. The Board will commence renegotiation on a consolidated basis by sending a registered letter to the member of the consolidated group designated as agent pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, and the mailing of such letter will constitute the commencement of renegotiation with each member of such group, jointly and severally. Such mailing also will constitute the granting by the Board of a request for renegotiation on a consolidated basis, unless the Board has previously granted such request.

quest. The issuance of a Notice of Clearance Without Assignment (see § 1498.6(b) of this chapter) to the agent of a group that has requested consolidated renegotiation will constitute the granting of such request, unless the Board has previously granted such request.

§ 1464.28 Allocation of excessive profits.

Excessive profits, whether determined by agreement or by order, will be allocated by the Board among the members of a consolidated group in an equitable manner, and the agreement or order will set forth the allocation.

§ 1464.29 Liability of members of a consolidated group.

Although excessive profits to be eliminated for a fiscal year will be allocated to members of a consolidated group, each member of the group in such fiscal year shall be jointly and severally liable for the total amount of excessive profits, if any, to be eliminated as determined in the consolidated proceeding.

§ 1464.30 Separate renegotiation of partial fiscal years.

When amounts received or accrued during a portion of a contractor's fiscal year are included in a consolidated renegotiation, such contractor shall file a Standard Form of Contractor's Report for its entire fiscal year (see § 1470.3(h) of this chapter). The Standard Form of Contractor's Report shall reflect separately the receipts or accruals that are, and those that are not, included in the consolidation. The receipts or accruals that are not included in the consolidation will be renegotiated separately.

§ 1464.31 Renegotiation losses of consolidated contractors.

(a) Scope and effect of section. This section explains how a renegotiation loss sustained by a contractor in a fiscal year prior to the fiscal year under review will be treated pursuant to section 103(m) of the act when such contractor: (1) Was a member of a consolidated group in the loss year, or (2) is a member of a consolidated group in the fiscal year under review. For regulations pertaining to the carryforward of a renegotiation loss sustained by a single contractor, see § 1457.9 of this chapter.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section.

(1) The term "consolidated renegotiation loss" means the amount by which the aggregate costs paid or incurred by the members of a consolidated group with respect to renegotiable receipts or accruals in a fiscal year exceed the aggregate renegotiable receipts or accruals of such group in such fiscal year.

(2) The term "loss member" means a contractor which sustains a renegotiation loss for a fiscal year in which it is a member of a group that sustains a consolidated renegotiation loss.

(c) Carryforward for loss member of a consolidated group. If a contractor who was the sole loss member of a consolidated group in a loss year ceases to be a member of the group at any time within the 5 fiscal years following the loss year, the amount of the consolidated renegotiation loss sustained by the group, after reduction for any part thereof already absorbed by renegotiable profits of the group in any of such 5 fiscal years, shall be a renegotiation loss carryforward for such contractor, subject to the provisions of this section and § 1457.9 of this chapter. If the group included more than one loss member, the consolidated renegotiation loss, reduced as aforesaid, will be allocated among the loss members in proportion to the amount of loss sustained by each, and the share so allocated to each loss member shall be a renegotiation loss carryforward for such contractor, subject to the provisions of this section and § 1457.9 of this chapter.

Example. In Year 1, A, B, and C were members of a consolidated group. A realized renegotiable profits of $240,000; B sustained a renegotiation loss of $300,000; and C sustained a renegotiation loss of $100,000. The consolidated renegotiation loss of the group was $160,000. In Year 2, the group realizes consolidated renegotiable profits of $60,000, which absorb $60,000 of the Year 1 loss. At the end of Year 2, B and C are sold and the group is dissolved, with $100,000 still available as a carryforward. In Year 3, in which the members are all renegotiated separately, $75,000 will be allowed as a cost to B and $25,000 to C. No amount of a consolidated renegotiation loss will be allowed as a carryforward (1) if such loss resulted from gross inefficiency; and (2) unless it is shown that any loss member of such group has reasonably pursued available remedies for obtaining relief from such loss.

(d) Carryforward to consolidated group. (1) When group was identical in loss year. If a group consolidated in the fiscal year under review sustained a consolidated renegotiation loss as a group of identical membership in a prior fiscal year, the amount of such loss shall be a renegotiation loss carryforward for the group to each of the 5 fiscal years following the loss year, and shall be carried forward in the manner provided in this section and § 1457.9 of this chapter. For the purposes of this paragraph, the Board will disregard: (i) Any differences in the membership of the group occasioned by the incorporation or dissolution of a member between the beginning of the loss year and the close of the fiscal year under review, or (ii) the fact that a member, although in existence in both such years, did not have any renegotiable sales or costs in one of such years.

(2) When members were separate in loss year. If the members of a group consolidated in the fiscal year under review were renegotiated separately in a prior fiscal year in which one or more of such contractors sustained renegotiation losses, such losses shall be carried forward as provided in this section and § 1457.9 of this chapter. Such losses will be allowed as carryforwards to the consolidated group in the fiscal year under review; but no such amount will be so allowed unless the members of such group would all have qualified for consolidation as a group in the loss year, and the aggregate amount so allowed will be limited to the amount, if any, which would have been the consolidated renegotiation loss of such group in the loss year. In computing such amount, if any member of the consolidated group was not a renegotiable contractor in the loss year, but succeeded thereafter to the business of a renegotiable contractor and was owned during the fiscal year under review by the same person or substantially the same persons who owned such predecessor in the loss year, the receipts or accruals and costs of such predecessor will be included in the computation. The following example illustrates how the limitation in this subparagraph is computed and applied:

Example. In Year 1, A, B, and C, a partnership, would have qualified for consolidated renegotiation, but were not consolidated. A realized renegotiable profits of $340,000 and made a renegotiation refund of $100,000, retaining $240,000 after renegotiation. B sustained a renegotiation loss of $300,000, and C sustained a renegotiation loss of $100,000. If A, B, and C were renegotiated separately in Year 2, $200,000 would be allowed as a cost to B and $100,000 to C. However, A, B, and C are a consolidated group in Year 2, with renegotiable profits of $40,000. Had they been consolidated in Year 1, the consolidated renegotiation loss of the group would have been only $60,000. It is this amount of $60,000, and not the aggregate of $300,000 of renegotiation losses sustained by B and C, which is allowed as a cost to the consolidated group in Year 2. At the end of Year 2, the partners dissolve C and form a corporation D, which continues the partnership business. The $20,000 of loss remaining is carried forward to Year 3 and is allowed as a cost to the consolidated group of A, B, and D in that year.

(e) Carryforward upon acquisition of business. The provisions of § 1457.9(e) of this chapter shall apply to the carryforward of losses under this section.

FORMS

§ 1464.90 Letter form of request for renegotiation on consolidated basis.

THE RENEGOTIATION BOARD,
Washington, D.C.

GENTLEMEN: I, Pursuant to the provisions of section 105(a) of the Renegotiation Act of 1951 and Subpart B of Part 1464 of the Renegotiation Board Regulations (RBR), the undersigned hereby request renegotiation on a consolidated basis for the fiscal year ended _____ (hereinafter referred to as "the first consolidated fiscal year").

It is understood that this designation and authorization shall be irrevocable and not subject to change, except by permission of the Board, as long as the group remains consolidated pursuant to such regulations.

NOTE: An affiliated group must designate the common parent corporation as agent. In the case of a related group, any member may be designated as agent.

6. The undersigned agree that the addition of a new member to the group for a subsequent fiscal year shall not impair or otherwise affect any of the obligations, commitments or liabilities of any of the undersigned under this request or the Renegotiation Board Regulations, and that all such obligations, commitments, and liabilities shall continue in full force and effect with respect to renegotiation proceedings for such subsequent fiscal year and all fiscal years thereafter with the group as so enlarged.

PART 1470—INFORMATION REQUIRED BY CONTRACTORS

This Part 1470 is amended by deleting § 1470.3(h) Filing on a consolidated basis in its entirety and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

§ 1470.3 Filing on a consolidated basis.

(h) Filing on a consolidated basis. (1) Contractors desiring to be consolidated for purposes of renegotiation under the act shall file, together with their request for consolidated renegotiation (see §§ 1464.27(a) and 1464.90 of this chapter), a consolidated Standard Form of Contractor's Report for the fiscal year for which consolidation is initially requested, and each such contractor having renegotiable business shall file a separate and complete Standard Form of Contractor's Report for its own fiscal year included in whole or in part in such consolidation.

(2) Unless otherwise authorized by the Board (see § 1464.26(b)(1) of this chapter), contractors constituting a consolidated group for a fiscal year shall file a consolidated Standard Form of Contractor's Report for each fiscal year of the consolidated group thereafter with respect to which the aggregate renegotiable receipts or accruals of the group exceed the minimum amount prescribed in section 105(f) of the act; and each such contractor having renegotiable business shall file a separate and complete Standard Form of Contractor's Report for its own fiscal year included in whole or in part in such consolidation.

(3) A consolidated Standard Form of Contractor's Report shall include (i) a statement of the consolidated financial information of the consolidated group, made in the same manner as if such group were a single contractor; and (ii) a consolidating income account showing separately the renegotiable and nonrenegotiable business of each member of the consolidated group in the detail specified in the Standard Form of Contractor's Report, except that for all members having no renegotiable sales or costs such detail may be shown on an aggregate basis.

(4) No member of a previously consolidated group (see § 1464.24(a) of this chapter) shall file a Statement of Non-Applicability; but if each member of a previously consolidated group would otherwise be entitled to file such a statement, such group shall be entitled to file a consolidated Statement of Non-Applicability, executed by the member designated as agent of the group pursuant to § 1464.27(c) of this chapter. A group not consolidated for a prior fiscal year shall not be entitled to file a consolidated Statement of Non-Applicability, and any such statement so filed will be rejected and returned.

(5) A consolidated Standard Form of Contractor's Report or Statement of Non-Applicability filed by a group, some of whose members were previously consolidated for renegotiation, shall include a statement describing any changes in the composition of the group since the close of the last fiscal year for which a consolidated filing was made and, if a new member has been added, shall include a statement subscribed by such new member joining in and adopting, with respect to the fiscal year under review and all fiscal years thereafter, the request for consolidation theretofore filed by the previously consolidated group (see § 1464.26(b) (3) and (4) of this chapter).

HILLSDALE MINING CO., INC.

Petition for Modification of Application of Mandatory Safety Standard

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of section 301(c) of the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969, 30 U.S.C. section 861(c) (1970), Hillside Mining Co., Inc., has filed a petition to modify the application of section 311(f) of the Act and 30 CFR 75.1101-1 through 75.1101-22 of the departmental regulations to its Mine No. 1 in Cambria County, Pa.

Section 311(f) reads as follows:

Deluge-type water sprays or foam generators automatically actuated by rise in temperature, or other no less effective means approved by the Secretary of controlling fire, shall be installed at main and secondary belt-conveyor drives. Where sprays or foam generators are used they shall supply a sufficient quantity of water or foam to control fires.

Regulations 30 CFR 75.1101-1 through 75.1101-22 detail specific requirements for deluge-type water sprays, foam generator systems, water sprinkler systems and equivalent dry pipe systems.

Petitioner requests that the standard be modified for the No. 1 belt conveyor drive, located outside at the outcrop, and the No. 2 and No. 3 belt conveyors located just inside the mine at a distance of 1,000 feet and 2,000 feet from the portal, respectively. Petitioner states that mining operations are conducted a relatively short distance from the outcrop and because of relatively severe winter conditions at the mine's elevation and location, storage and availability of quantities of water for fire suppression in the areas of the Nos. 1, 2, and 3 belt conveyor drives is not reliable in winter months.

Petitioner requests approval of the following alternate methods of controlling fires at the Nos. 1, 2, and 3 main belt conveyor drives or elsewhere on the Nos. 1, 2, and 3 belts:

(A) The No. 1 conveyor belt drive will be located outside the portal. The No. 2 and No. 3 conveyor belt drives will be located on a separate split of air, with separate intake and return airways from those of the split which supplies air to where the miners work. The ventilation current in which the mining operation takes place, and where the underground mining crew normally works, will be a completely separate split of air from the surface.

(B) The conveyor belts used will be of approved flame-resistant belting.

(C) The conveyor belt drives will be protected by slippage-control and sequence switches.

(D) The entire belt conveyor haulage system will be provided with a fire detection system that will warn all miners in the mine in the event of a fire.

(E) All working sections will contain telephones that are tied in to the outside commercial Bell Telephone system.

(F) Fire extinguishers of not less than 20-pound capacity (or two of 10-pound capacity each) will be located at each conveyor belt drive on the intake ventilation side of the conveyor drive.

(G) A 240-pound supply of rock dust will be located on the intake side of each conveyor drive and at 500-foot intervals along the belt.

(H) A systematic program for cleanup along the conveyor belts will be in effect.

Petitioner further states that there will be conscientious application of the requirement of section 303(d) (1) that all belts shall be examined after the beginning of each coal producing shift.

Petitioner avers that the alternate method will at all times guarantee no less than the same measure of protection afforded the miners by the mandatory standard. This protection will be afforded through regular on-shift examinations of all belts so that overheating may be observed and by use of flame-resistant belting material, and use of slippage control and sequence switches on the belt drives. Petitioner further avers that this is a small capacity mine with relatively little strain on the belts and belt conveyor drives.

Petitioner contends that the belt drives for which modification is requested are located on a completely separate split of air so that miners engaged in active mining on the working section receive their own separate air supply from the outside. Therefore the contaminating products of combustion in the event of a belt fire would not be carried to the area where the men are working, but would be carried directly to the fan and outside the mine. Petitioner also contends that the combination of a fire detection system and commercial telephone system assures that the miners will be immediately aware of any fire which occurs anywhere on the belt. Petitioner states that the fire extinguishers and rock dust provide a protective and effective means for controlling a fire along the main belt.

Persons interested in this petition may request a hearing on the petition or furnish comments on or before April 19, 1973. Such request or comments must be filed with the Office of Hearings and Appeals, Hearings Division, U.S. Department of the Interior, 4015 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, VA 22203. Copies of the petition are available for inspection at that address.

MAINLAND CANE SUGAR AREA

Notice of Hearing on Proportionate Shares for 1974-Crop Sugarcane

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of Agriculture, acting pursuant to the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended, will conduct a hearing to receive the views and recommendations of interested persons on the need for establishing proportionate shares (farm acreage allotments) for the 1974 crop of sugarcane in the Mainland Cane Sugar Area. Also, for use by the Secretary if he determines that proportionate shares are needed, views and recommendations are desired on all phases of the proportionate share program. The hearing will be conducted at Atlanta, Georgia, on April 13, 1973, in the Federal Building, Room 556, Peach Tree and Baker Streets, beginning at 11 a.m. local time.

In accordance with the provisions of paragraph (1), subsection (b) of section 302 of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1132(b)), the Secretary must determine for each crop year whether the production of sugar from any crop of sugarcane in the area will, in the absence of proportionate shares, be greater than the quantity needed to enable the area to meet its quota and provide a normal carryover inventory, as estimated by the Secretary for such area for the calendar year during which the larger part of the sugar from such crop normally would be marketed. Such determination may be made only after

CONNECTICUT LIGHT & POWER CO. ET AL.

Notice of Hearing on Facility Operating License

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA), and the regulations in Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities," and Part 2, rules of practice, notice is hereby given that a hearing will be held, at a time and place to be established in the future by an atomic safety and licensing board, commencing in the vicinity of Waterford, Conn., to consider the application for a license to operate the pressurized water reactor identified as the Millstone Nuclear Power Station Unit No. 2 (the facility) of the applicants Connecticut Light & Power Co., Hartford Electric Light Co., Western Massachusetts Electric Co., and Millstone Point Co., located at the Millstone Nuclear Power Station in the town of Waterford, Conn.

The facility is subject to the provisions of section B of Appendix D to 10 CFR Part 50, which sets forth procedures applicable to review of environmental considerations for production and utilization facilities for which construction permits or operating licenses were issued in the period from January 1, 1970, to September 9, 1971. Construction of the facility was authorized by Construction Permit No. CFP-76 issued by the Atomic Energy Commission on December 11, 1970.

The hearing will be conducted by an atomic safety and licensing board (licensing board) designated by the Chairman of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel, consisting of Dr. A. Dixon Callihan, Dr. Fred P. Cowan, and Sidney G. Kingsley, chairman. Dr. John A. Manley has been designated as a technically qualified alternate, and Thomas W. Reilly as an alternate qualified in the conduct of administrative proceedings.

A prehearing conference or conferences will be held by the licensing board, at a date and place to be set by it, to consider pertinent matters in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice. The date and place of the hearing will be set by the board at or after the prehearing conference. Notices as to the dates and places of prehearing conferences and the hearing will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Since this proceeding is not a contested proceeding as defined by 10 CFR 2.4(n) of the Commission's rules of practice, the licensing board will, without conducting a de novo evaluation of the application, determine whether the environmental review conducted by the Commission's regulatory staff pursuant to appendix D of 10 CFR Part 50 has been adequate.

The licensing board will also, in accordance with section A.11 of appendix D to 10 CFR Part 50(a) determine whether the requirements of section 102(2)(c) and (d) of NEPA and appendix D to 10 CFR Part 50 of the Commission's regulations have been complied with in this proceeding; (b) independently consider the final balance among conflicting factors contained in the record of the proceeding with a view toward determining the appropriate action to be taken; and (c) determine, after weighing the environmental, economic, technical, and other benefits against environmental costs and considering available alternatives, whether the construction permit should be continued, modified, terminated, or appropriately conditioned to protect environmental values.

A full-term operating license would be issued only after appropriate findings are made by the Director of Regulation on the matters set forth below (and upon compliance with the applicable provisions of appendix D of 10 CFR Part 50):

1. Whether construction of the facility has been substantially completed in conformity with the construction permit and the application, as amended, the provisions of the Act, and the rules and regulations of the Commission.

2. Whether the facility will operate in conformity with the application, as amended, the provisions of the Act, and the rules and regulations of the Commission.

3. Whether there is reasonable assurance: (i) That the activities authorized by the operating license can be conducted without endangering the health and safety of the public, and (ii) that such activities will be conducted in compliance with the regulations of the Commission.

NOTICES

4. Whether the applicant is technically and financially qualified to engage in the activities authorized by the operating license in accordance with the regulations of the Commission.

5. Whether the applicable provisions of 10 CFR Part 140, "Financial Protection Requirements and Indemnity Agreements," of the Commission's regulations have been satisfied.

6. Whether the issuance of the license will be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public.

For further details pertinent to the matters under consideration, see the application for the facility operating license dated August 10, 1972, as amended, and the Applicant's Environmental Report dated November 15, 1971, which are available for inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC, and at the Waterford Public Library, Rope Ferry Road, Route 156, Waterford, CT 06385. As they become available, the following documents also will be available at the above locations: (1) The report of the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards on the application for facility operating license; (2) the Commission's draft, detailed statement on environmental considerations pursuant to 10 CFR Part 50, appendix D; (3) the Commission's final detailed statement on environmental considerations; (4) the safety evaluation prepared by the Directorate of Licensing; (5) the proposed facility operating license; and (6) the proposed technical specifications, which will be attached to the proposed facility operating license. Copies of items (3), (4), and (5) may be obtained by request to the Deputy Director for Reactor Projects, Directorate of Licensing, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545.

Any person who wishes to make an oral or written statement in this proceeding may request permission to make a limited appearance pursuant to the provisions of 10 CFR 2.715 of the Commission's rules of practice. Limited appearances will be permitted at the time of the hearing at the discretion of the licensing board, within such limits and under such conditions as may be fixed by it. Persons desiring to make limited appearances are requested to inform the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545, not later than April 19, 1973. A person permitted to make a limited appearance does not become a party, but may state his position and raise questions which he would like to have answered to the extent the questions are within the scope of the hearing.

An answer to this notice, pursuant to the provisions of 10 CFR 2.705 of the Commission's rules of practice, must be filed by the parties to this proceeding (other than the regulatory staff) not later than April 9, 1973.

Papers required to be filed in this proceeding may be filed by mail or telegram addressed to the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545, Attention: Chief, Public Proceedings Staff, or may be filed by delivery to the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC.

Pending further order of the licensing board, parties are required to file, pursuant to the provisions of 10 CFR 2.708 of the Commission's rules of practice, an original and 20 conformed copies of each such paper with the Commission.

It is so ordered.

Issued at Washington, D.C., this 14th day of March 1973.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

ALLEGHENY AIRLINES, INC. ET AL.

Order of Investigation and Suspension Regarding Airport Security Charges

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 14th day of March 1973.

By tariff revisions<sup>1</sup> marked to become effective on various dates between March 15, 1973, and April 5, 1973, most scheduled domestic air carriers propose to establish a charge to be assessed each passenger to cover the cost of passenger screening and inspection in connection with the federally directed security program. Allegheny Airlines, Inc. (Allegheny), Braniff Airways, Inc. (Braniff), and Continental Air Lines, Inc. (Continental) also propose an additional charge to cover the cost of providing armed guards.

Most of the carriers propose that the charge be applied to each flight coupon. These per-coupon charges vary from a low of 28 cents for Western Air Lines, Inc. (Western), to a high of 93 cents for Wien Consolidated Airlines, Inc. (Wien). Allegheny and United Air Lines, Inc. (United) propose a charge per one-way fare of 32 cents and 46 cents, respectively.

The third method of assessing a charge is advanced by Hughes Air Corp. doing business as Air West (Air West) and Trans World Airlines, Inc. (TWA), who propose a charge per ticket of 46 cents and 69 cents, respectively.

Those carriers proposing to impose the charge per fare or per ticket argue that the coupon basis is inappropriate since the number of coupons will frequently exceed the number of required security checks. United alleges that any method of ticketing, collecting, or recording which deviates from printed or displaced tax and total amounts requires extra manual and computer time which will rapidly escalate the cost, resulting in the need for a still higher charge to cover cost. It believes that a surcharge per fare will provide a greater total dollar amount at less cost and confusion than would a surcharge per coupon.

In arriving at the unit charge proposed the carriers, for the most part, began by calculating the total added cost of their respective programs per passenger or passenger enplanement estimated for 1973. In many cases, this unit cost figure is then increased so that the total is a multiple of 5 cents when the transportation tax is included. The carriers' charges were also adjusted to reflect the dilution due to payment of travel agents' commissions. In a few instances, downward adjustments were made to reflect an elasticity of demand factor resulting from an increase in cost to the passenger.

Delta Air Lines, Inc. (Delta) and Eastern Air Lines, Inc. (Eastern) base their proposed 37-cent per-coupon charge on an estimated industry average cost rather than on their own respective cost figures. Frontier Airlines, Inc. (Frontier) proposes a dual level charge—42 cents at hub airports and $1.14 at nonhub airports. This approach is alleged to compensate for the fact that its per-passenger security costs at nonhub airports are 2.6 times greater than they are at its hub airports.

Certain Members of Congress (MOC) have filed a complaint alleging that some of the costs set forth by the carriers are not known added costs, but rather costs of a conjectural nature, and that there is no way in which the Board can find on the basis of known costs that the filings are just and reasonable. Answers to the complaint have been filed by American, Braniff, Eastern, Wien, and the Department of Transportation.

Upon consideration of the tariff proposals, the complaint and answers thereto, and all relevant matters, the Board finds that the proposed charges relating to passenger screening and inspection and the provision of armed guards filed by all carriers may be unjust, unreasonable, unjustly discriminatory, unduly preferential, unduly prejudicial, or otherwise unlawful, and should be investigated. The Board has also concluded to suspend all proposed charges except those proposed by Braniff and Western to cover

It is clear that at this stage an accurate determination of the actual costs to be incurred in implementing the security program is not possible. Security procedures are continuing to be refined as the carriers gain experience, and there is some controversy as to the most equitable and efficient method of assessing a charge to cover the cost. For these reasons, we have decided to institute an investigation of the security-charge filings. The foregoing notwithstanding, there is no question that the carriers are today incurring significant costs in carrying out federally directed security measures, and we believe it most important to arrive at some reasonably adequate interim solution which can be promptly implemented, pending the investigation.

It is our view at this time that a single industry charge, assessed on a flight-coupon basis, is the better approach. A single charge should minimize confusion, and from the passenger's standpoint will provide a uniform charge for a uniform procedure. It is argued by some carriers that charging a passenger on the basis of each coupon is inappropriate since the number of coupons will frequently exceed the number of required security checks. For example, Allegheny states that it is administering the program in such a way that very few on-line connecting passengers will be subjected to a second screening since they will be connecting through sterile areas.

We do not dispute that such circumstances do exist at some airports and for some carriers. However, we believe the more realistic assumption at this time to be that for the majority of travel, each change of plane would involve the screening procedure. In those cases where it does not, there is nothing to preclude a carrier from amending its tariff to reflect particular circumstances.

Delta and Eastern are the only carriers to base their proposal on an alleged industry average unit cost. We conclude, however, that the 37-cent charge they propose may be unreasonably high. For one thing, we question the use by many carriers of an equipment depreciation write-off period of less than 5 years. In addition, some carrier estimates contain items of a conjectural nature such as expense for baggage damage which allegedly would result from the fact that more baggage would be checked to circumvent inspection at the gate. Finally, we note that certain carriers have significantly reduced their added-cost estimates in their most recent submissions.

The Board has compiled and analyzed industry costs from the data submitted by the trunkline and local service carriers, as well as the Alaskan and Hawaiian carriers. The reported costs were adjusted to eliminate not only advertising and publicity costs, and flight-delay costs, but also costs of a conjectural nature such as increased baggage damage expense. In addition, depreciation expense associated with new equipment was adjusted when the write-off was less than 5 years. American's atypically high costs were reduced to the levels of United. Certain other minor adjustments were made as noted in Appendix D.

These total adjusted costs were then divided by the latest reported enplanements (12 months ended December 31, 1972) to yield an industry average cost per enplanement of 34 cents.

From the foregoing, it appears that the industry figure of 37 cents proposed by Delta and Eastern may be unreasonably high. It seems clear also that the carriers are not sure at this time as to the level of annual expenditure which they will actually incur. This is evidenced by the revisions, mostly downward, in the cost estimates accompanying their tariff filings, as compared with those submitted earlier. Therefore, we find that surcharges in amounts greater than the noted industry average cost per enplanement should not be permitted pending investigation of the matter.

The charges to cover the cost of screening and inspection procedures proposed by Braniff and Western are not unreasonably high in relation to the average unit cost for the industry and they will be permitted to become effective.

So that the Board will have the necessary data before it to aid in future determinations regarding the security program we are herein issuing accounting instructions (Appendix C)<sup>1</sup> dealing with the reporting of security charge receipts and costs. Data submitted should cover periods from January 5, 1973, forward.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and particularly sections 204(a), 403, 404, and 1002 thereof,

It is ordered, That:

1. An investigation be instituted to determine whether the charges and provisions described in Appendices A and B hereto, and rules, regulations, and practices affecting such charges and provisions, are or will be unjust, unreasonable, unjustly discriminatory, unduly preferential, unduly prejudicial, or otherwise unlawful, and if found to be unlawful, to determine and prescribe the lawful charges and provisions, and rules, regulations, or practices affecting such charges and provisions;

2. Pending hearing and decision by the Board, the charges and provisions described in Appendix A hereto are suspended and their use deferred to and including June 12, 1973, unless otherwise ordered by the Board, and that no

<sup>1</sup>In Order 73-2-41, we expressed the tentative view that recognition of the anticipated cost of providing armed guards would be inappropriate at this time. We continue to be of this opinion. It is our understanding that the staffing requirement for armed guards is currently being modified at some airports, and we also note that legislation is pending in the Congress which would provide Federal funds for this aspect of the security program. Like the screening and inspection process, we believe the charge related to the provision of armed guards should be dealt with on an industry basis and should be established on the basis of known costs. For these reasons, we are herein suspending the charges proposed by Braniff, Continental, and Allegheny relating to this activity.

AMERICAN TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CO.

Memorandum Opinion and Order Amending Issues

In the matter of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Associated Bell System Companies; Charges for Interstate Telephone Service, Transmittal Nos. 10989, 11027, and 11657.

1. On January 12, 1973, we released our Memorandum Opinion and Order<sup>1</sup> in this proceeding which gave permission to the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. (AT&T) to file increased rates for Message Toll Service (MTS) and Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) which it had proposed on December 1, 1972.<sup>2</sup> We permitted the MTS increases to be filed on not less than 10 days notice since the same or greater increases were first filed in November 1970, but had not become effective. The WATS increases, however, were not previously filed and were therefore required to be filed on not less than 60 days notice in accordance with the normal requirements of Part 61 of our rules.

<sup>2</sup> See our Decision and Order of November 22, 1972, in Phase I (rate of return) of this proceeding, 38 FCC 2d 213, 251 (37 FR 20041).

We also stated in that order that we expected to order suspension of the WATS increases for the full 3 months provided for in section 204 of the Communications Act.

2. By Transmittal No. 11657, dated January 12, 1973, AT&T filed revised tariff pages to increase the rates for MTS service effective January 22, 1973 and for WATS service effective March 13, 1973. Accompanying the transmittal was supporting material intended to comply with § 61.38 of our rules in regard to the WATS rates.

3. As has been previously indicated in this proceeding,<sup>1</sup> the rate increases which have been filed for MTS and WATS are to be interim in nature, subject to our decision in Phase II of this proceeding and to our decision in Docket No. 18128. Since the WATS rates have not been put expressly in issue herein, this order will serve to amend formally the issues in this regard, and to enter a suspension and accounting order with respect to the WATS rates.<sup>2</sup>

4. When we stated in our order permitting the filing of the increased rates that we expected to suspend the WATS increases for the full 3-month period, we are mindful of the then effective Price Commission regulations which prohibited interim rate increases from becoming effective if they had not been suspended for the maximum period authorized by law.<sup>3</sup> We had previously decided that the MTS rates would not be required to be suspended so long as they did not exceed those filed in November 1970, since they had already been suspended within the meaning of the Price Commission regulations.<sup>4</sup> It now appears that there is no longer any requirement to suspend an interim increase for the maximum period since the Price Commission regulation was superseded effective January 11, 1973, by the Cost of Living Council Phase III Regulations.<sup>5</sup> The Phase III regulations contain no requirement for suspension of interim rate increases. Our November 22, 1972 Decision in Phase I of this proceeding concluded that a return for A.T. & T. of 8.5 percent on its interstate and foreign operations was the minimum required to enable it to attract capital at a reasonable cost, to maintain its credit, assure continued, adequate and safe interstate and foreign communications service to the public and to provide for necessary expansion to meet future requirements.<sup>6</sup> We further found that achievement of that rate of return would require rate increases which produce $145 million in additional net income before

<sup>2</sup> The MTS rates which became effective January 22, 1973 were made subject to accounting and refund by Paragraph 124 of our Decision and Order in Phase I of this proceeding, 38 FCC 2d 213, 251 (1972); 27 FCC 2d 149, 150 (1971).

Federal income tax.<sup>7</sup> Inasmuch as the only reason for deferring the effectiveness of the WATS portion of the $145 million increase was the now superseded Price Commission regulation, we shall suspend the WATS increase for 1 day only, in order that the accounting and refund provisions of section 204 of the Act may be revoked.

5. Accordingly, it is ordered, That the effectiveness of the revisions in A.T. & T's Tariff FCC No. 259 filed under Transmittal No. 11657 is suspended until March 14, 1973;

6. It is further ordered, That the lawfulness of the rate changes in A.T. & T. Tariff FCC No. 259 proposed by Transmittal No. 11657 shall be at issue in this proceeding, and that the inquiry therein shall include, but not be limited to, consideration of:

a. The amount of operating revenues that are or may reasonably be expected in the foreseeable future from interstate communication services rendered by use of the plant and facilities of the Bell System as a consequence of the particular WATS rate levels suspended herein, with particular reference to the projected gross revenues to be derived therefrom, the changes in traffic level and usage patterns anticipated as a result of the rate change, and the associated changes in expense level;

b. The cost justification, demand factors and other pertinent consideration in respect to the structure and differing rate levels herein suspended for all categories of WATS service;

c. In light of determination as to the foregoing, whether the instant increases in WATS rates are just and reasonable within the meaning of section 201(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

d. Whether the specific charges for WATS service herein suspended will subject any person or class of persons to unjust or unreasonable discrimination, or give any undue preference or advantage to any person, class of persons, or locality, or subject any person, class of persons, or locality to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage within the meaning of section 202(a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

e. Whether the Commission should prescribe just and reasonable charges or maximum or minimum or maximum and minimum charges to be hereafter followed with respect to WATS service and, if so, what charges should be prescribed;

7. It is further ordered, That pending the determination of this proceeding, or until further order of the Commission, the carriers collecting amounts under the above-mentioned tariff schedules shall keep accurate account of such amounts, specifying by whom and on whose behalf such amounts were paid;

8. It is further ordered, That, AT&T shall make no changes in the schedules herein suspended during the pendency

GREEN VALLEY RADIO LICENSEE OF STATION KWDR

Order and Notice of Apparent Liability Designating Application for Hearing on Stated Issues

In regard application of Don Renault trading as Green Valley Radio Licensee of Station KWDR, Del Rio, Tex., for renewal of license. Docket No. 19704, File No. BR-4720.

1. Now under consideration are: (a) The captioned application for renewal of license of Station KWDR; and (b) our inquiry into the operation of Station KWDR.

2. Information contained in the renewal application, obtained during our inquiry and in prior proceedings before the Commission raises serious questions as to whether the applicant possesses the qualifications to be or to remain a licensee of the Commission. In view of these questions, we are unable to find that a grant of the renewal application would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity, and must, therefore, designate the application for hearing.

3. Accordingly, it is ordered, That pursuant to section 309(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the captioned application is designated for hearing at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent Order, upon the following issues:

(1) To determine whether the applicant, while under oath, falsely testified in Docket No. 18,528 as to his educational background;

(2) To determine whether the applicant violated § 1.23 of the Commission's rules, and the circumstances surrounding the injunction issued against him by a Texas court forbidding him from holding himself out as an attorney;

(3) To determine whether the applicant violated § 1.65 of the Commission's rules in connection with the proceeding of Docket No. 18,528 and in connection with the captioned renewal application;

(4) To determine the circumstances surrounding the applicant's representations that he was a qualified engineer, and the injunction issued against him by a Texas court forbidding him from holding himself out as a qualified engineer;

(5) To determine whether the applicant substantially carried out or sought to carry out the representations in his prior renewal application for Station KWDR concerning the amount of news and public affairs programming, and whether the applicant made misrepresentations or was lacking in candor in his prior renewal application;

(6) To determine whether the applicant is financially qualified to be a licensee of the Commission;

(7) To determine whether the applicant violated §§ 1.539(a) and 1.611 of the Commission's rules by filing the captioned application late and by filing a late and incomplete Annual Financial Report for 1970;

(8) To determine whether the applicant violated §§ 1.611, 1.613(a) and 1.615 of the Commission's rules by failing to file an Annual Financial Report for 1971, its affiliation contract with ABC dated January 21, 1970, and a signed Ownership Report;

(9) To determine whether the applicant misrepresented its authorized power in material provided to Standard Rate and Data Services, in advertising, and on its rate cards, business cards and stationery;

(10) To determine whether the applicant made misrepresentations to the Commission or was lacking in candor as to his being a qualified attorney or engineer, as to statements made concerning Station KWDR's authorized power, as to his name, and as to the information in the balance sheet included in the renewal application;

(11) To determine whether the applicant made unauthorized rebroadcasts in violation of section 325 of the Communications Act and § 73.121 (now § 73.1207) of the Commission's rules;

(12) To determine whether the applicant properly maintained a public inspection file in accordance with the requirements of § 1.526 of the Commission's rules;

(13) To determine whether the applicant inaccurately logged the duration of commercial announcements in violation of § 73.112(a) (2) (ii) of the Commission's rules;

(14) To determine whether the applicant has violated the Commission's rules, as alleged in the Official Notices of Violation issued July 23, 1968, November 24, 1969, and November 20, 1972, and, if so, the nature and the extent of those violations and, in light of the evidence adduced pursuant to that determination, whether the applicant has exercised the degree of responsibility required of a licensee of a broadcast station; and

(15) To determine, in light of the evidence adduced under the preceding issues, whether the licensee has the requisite qualifications to be or to remain a licensee of the Commission, and whether a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

4. It is further ordered, That if it is determined that the hearing record does not warrant an order denying the captioned application for renewal of license of Station KWDR, it shall also be determined whether the applicant has repeatedly or willfully violated the terms of the authorizations for Station KWDR, section 325 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, or the following sections of the Commission's rules: Sections 1.23; 1.65; 1.526; 1.539; 1.611; 1.615; 1.752; 73.39(d) (2); 73.39(d) (4); 73.39(i); 73.40(a); 73.40(b) (3) (iv); 73.46(a); 73.47(b); 73.52(a); 73.56(a); 73.60(a); 73.71(b); 73.92(a); 73.92(b); 73.93(c); 73.111(a); 73.111(b); 73.111(c); 73.112(a) (2) (ii); 73.112(d) (1); 73.113(a) (3) (i); 73.113(a) (3) (ii); 73.113(a) (3) (iii); 73.114(a) (1) (i); 73.114(b); 73.116(c); 73.121 (now 73.1207); and 73.933(a).<sup>1</sup> If so, it shall also be determined whether an Order of Forfeiture pursuant to section 503(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, in the amount of $10,000 or less should be issued for violations which occurred within 1 year of the issuance of the Bill of Particulars in this matter.

5. It is further ordered, That this document constitutes a Notice of Apparent Liability for a forfeiture for violations of those sections of the Communications Act and of the Commission's Rules set out in the preceding paragraph, and of the terms of the station's authorizations. The Commission has determined that, in every case designated for hearing involving revocation or denial of a license renewal application for alleged violations which also come within the purview of section 503(b) of the Act, it shall, as a matter of course, include this forfeiture notice so as to maintain the fullest possible flexibility of action. Since the procedure is thus a routine or standard one, we stress that inclusion of this Notice is not to be taken as in any way indicating what the initial or final disposition of the case should be; that judgment is, of course, to be made on the facts of each case.

6. It is further ordered, That the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau shall serve upon the captioned applicant, within 30 days of the release of this document, a Bill of Particulars with respect to issues (1) through (14), inclusive.

7. It is further ordered, That the Broadcast Bureau proceed with the initial presentation of the evidence with respect to issues (1) through (14), inclusive, and that the applicant then proceed with its evidence and have the burden of establishing that it possesses the requisite qualifications to be and to remain a licensee of the Commission and that a grant of its applications would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

8. It is further ordered, That the applicant shall file a written appearance stating an intention to appear and present evidence on the specified issues, within the time and in the manner required by § 1.221(c) of the Commission's rules.

9. It is further ordered, That the applicant shall give notice of the hearing within the time and in the manner specified ified in § 1.594 of the rules, and shall seasonably file the statement required by § 1.594(g).

10. It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall send a copy of this Order by Certified Mail—Return Receipt Requested to Don Renault, trading as Green Valley Radio.

LAKE RADIO, INC. AND GOLDEN TRIANGLE BROADCASTING CO.

Memorandum Opinion and Order Designating Applications for Consolidated Hearing on Stated Issues

In regard applications of Lake Radio, Inc., Mount Dora, Fla., Requests: 1580 kHz, 5 kw., day. Docket No. 19701, File No. BP-19169. Golden Triangle Broadcasting Co., Mount Dora, Fla., Requests: 1580 kHz, 5 kw., day. Docket No. 19702, File No. BP-19244; for construction permits.

1. The Commission has before it the above-captioned applications, each requesting authority to operate the facilities of former station WYYD, Mount Dora, Fla.<sup>1</sup> The applications are mutually exclusive, and a choice between the two must be determined on the basis of a comparative hearing.

2. Lake Radio, Inc. (Lake Radio), projects first-year construction and operating costs of $45,000,<sup>2</sup> to be funded with $2,000 in cash and a $45,000 bank loan. The bank's letter of January 31, 1972, specifies that the loan will be secured by the personal guarantee of the principals. However, Lake Radio has failed to furnish statements evidencing their willingness to extend such a guarantee. Accordingly, an issue will be specified to give the applicant an opportunity to make this showing.

3. According to our estimates, Golden Triangle Broadcasting Co. (Golden Triangle) will need $76,250 to construct and operate its station for 1 year.<sup>3</sup> The applicant proposes to fund that requirement with $76,000, $45,000 from a mortgage company loan, and $24,000 in first-year

<sup>3</sup> Cost estimates are itemized as: lease payments on equipment, $4,000; miscellaneous, $7,000; and working capital, $34,000.

<sup>4</sup> The breakdown is as follows: $6,345, down payment on equipment; $6,725, first-year payment on equipment with interest; $10,000, building; $3,600, miscellaneous; and $43,280 for working capital. Of the total $76,250, $6,300 is for other construction costs.

NOTICES

broadcast revenues. However, this showing is questionable because the loan rests on a commitment from the Colonial Mortgage Co. of Florida, Inc., and there is no information establishing the firm's purpose and viability as a lending institution. As far as the $24,000 in prospective broadcast revenue is concerned, since WYYD went off the air more than 2 years ago, we cannot now assume, in the absence of written advertising commitments, that Golden Triangle will generate similar revenue. Finally, Robert G. Murrell has not provided us with a statement evidencing willingness to allow his real property to be encumbered with a mortgage as security for Colonial Mortgage Co.'s loan. It is clear that the applicant has failed to meet the Ultravision test of an equivalence between first-year costs and assets. "Ultravision Broadcasting Co." 1 FCC 2d 544, 5 RR 2d 343 (1965).

4. Golden Triangle's ascertainment of community problems remains fundamentally deficient and the appropriate issue will be specified. First, it has not properly described the composition of Mount Dora. Without a showing of this nature, we are unable to conclude that an applicant has adequately familiarized himself with the facets of his community; and without that familiarity, a survey may not be geared for an even sampling of the community. Second, the applicant has failed to indicate which leaders, if any, were representative of Mount Dora's racial minority. Its description of contacts with the general public is a vague generalization, while its response to the problems reported is spotty at best. We also note that its survey fails to particularize any efforts made to consult leaders or citizens of nearby towns within the proposed service areas.

5. Finally, a substantial question exists as to the availability of the old WYYD main studio-transmitter site which Golden Triangle specified in its application. Lake Radio has furnished us with a document indicating that it has an exclusive lease option on the buildings and land. It also included a newspaper clipping wherein Brantley P. Slaughter is reported as saying that they are "looking for a new location for the transmitter and studios * * *". Our letter request for clarification of this matter has gone unanswered. Accordingly, an issue is designated to allow a determination as to the availability of the WYYD site for Golden Triangle.

6. Except as indicated by the issues specified below, the applicants are qualified to construct and operate as proposed. However, since the proposals are mutually exclusive, they must be designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding on the issues specified below.

7. Accordingly, it is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent Order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine with respect to the applicant, Lake Radio, Inc.:

(a) Whether the applicant's principals are willing to personally guarantee the pertinent bank loan; and

(b) In light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the above, whether Lake Radio, Inc., is financially qualified.

2. To determine with respect to the applicant, Golden Triangle Broadcasting Co.:

(a) Whether Colonial Mortgage Co. of Florida, Inc., has sufficient net liquid and current assets to meet its loan commitment;

(b) Whether Robert G. Murrell is willing to mortgage certain of his real property as security for the Colonial Mortgage Co. of Florida, Inc., loan;

(c) The source of additional funds as may be required; and

(d) In light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the above, whether Golden Triangle Broadcasting Co., is financially qualified.

3. To determine the efforts made by Golden Triangle Broadcasting Co., to ascertain the community problems of the area to be served and the means by which the applicant proposes to meet those problems.

4. To determine whether there is reasonable assurance of the availability of Golden Triangle Broadcasting Co.'s transmitter site.

5. To determine which of the proposals would better serve the public interest.

6. To determine, in light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, which, if either, of the applications should be granted.

8. It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, the applicants herein, pursuant to § 1.221(c) of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall, within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

9. It is further ordered, That the applicants herein shall, pursuant to section 311(a)(2) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 1.594 of the Commission's rules, give notice of the hearing, either individually or, if feasible and consistent with the rules, jointly, within the time and in the manner prescribed in such rule, and shall advise the Commission of the publication of such notice as required by § 1.594(g) of the rules.

OVERSEAS DATAPHONE SERVICE Future Authorization Policy; Extension of Time

1. By telegram dated March 9, 1973, Western Union International, Inc. (WUI) requests an extension of time until March 28, 1973, in which to file reply comments in the above-captioned Inquiry.<sup>1</sup> WUI alleges that the requested extension of time is needed because of the press of other regulatory business and the need to analyze and evaluate certain technical information contained in the prior filings. WUI represents that the following parties to the inquiry have no objection to the requested extension: ITT World Communications Inc., RCA Global Communications, Inc., TRT Telecommunications Corp., Western Union Telegraph Co., Hawaiian Telephone Co. and U.S. Independent Telephone Association.

2. We find that WUI has shown good cause for the requested extension of time. However, in view of the numerous, previous extensions of time granted in this proceeding, the Commission hereinafter will not entertain any further request for an extension of time in which to file reply comments in the subject Docket.

3. Accordingly, it is ordered, pursuant to § 0.303(c) of the Commission's rules pertaining to Delegations of Authority that the request of Western Union International, Inc., is granted; and the time in which to file reply comments in Docket No. 19558 is extended until March 28, 1973.

SALEM BROADCASTING CO., INC., ET AL. Memorandum Opinion and Order Enlarging Issues

In regard applications of Salem Broadcasting Co., Inc., Salem, N.H.

1. Before the Review Board is a motion to enlarge issues, filed October 17, 1972, by Spacetown Broadcasting Corp. (Spacetown), seeking the addition of a site availability and zoning issue against New Hampshire Broadcasting Corp. (New Hampshire) (37 FR 25778).

2. Petitioner argues that an issue should be added to this proceeding to determine the availability of New Hampshire's proposed antenna tower site in view of the actions taken by the Salem, N.H., Board of Adjustment. The facts, as alleged, are not in dispute. On July 27, 1972, the Salem Board of Adjustment denied the applicant's resubmitted petition for a zoning variance to erect four radio towers and a cement block house for a transmitter at New Hampshire's proposed site. The Board again denied New Hampshire's request on September 21, 1972. Having thus exhausted its remedies before the Board, petitioner alleges that New Hampshire would have to seek relief in the courts or find an alternative site. Therefore, Spacetown contends that the designation of a zoning and site availability issue is clearly warranted. The Broadcast Bureau agrees with Spacetown that a serious question has been raised as to whether New Hampshire has the authority to construct its towers on its proposed site and would support the addition of an appropriate issue, absent a showing by New Hampshire to the contrary.

3. In response, New Hampshire states that it has filed an appeal of the Board of Adjustment's decision in the Rockingham County Superior Court and expresses confidence in the likelihood of its success.<sup>3</sup> As evidence of its optimism, New Hampshire alleges that it intends to purchase the property proposed for its site.<sup>4</sup> Therefore, New Hampshire submits, the addition of the requested issue would serve no purpose at this time unless the Commission believes that it, rather than the Rockingham County Superior Court, is a more appropriate forum to resolve the merits of New Hampshire's appeal.

4. Also before the Board for consideration are: (a) Broadcast Bureau's comments, filed October 30, 1972; (b) response, filed November 1, 1972, by New Hampshire; (c) errata to (b), filed November 2, 1972, by New Hampshire; (d) reply, filed November 13, 1972, by Spacetown; (e) request for leave to file attached pleading, filed November 15, 1972, by New Hampshire; and (f) response to (e), filed November 22, 1972, by Spacetown.

<sup>4</sup> New Hampshire attaches to its opposition pleading a copy of a letter sent to the Commission on October 27, 1972, advising it of its intention to purchase the property proposed for its site and that a timely appeal had been filed in the Rockingham County Superior Court.

NOTICES

4. In reply, Spacetown maintains that New Hampshire has made no showing of reasonable assurance of the availability of its site. Petitioner contends that New Hampshire's allegations are not supported by an affidavit of a party having knowledge thereof, as required by § 1.229 of the Commission's rules. Furthermore, even assuming compliance with § 1.229, petitioner asserts that the allegations do nothing to lessen the need for designating the requested issue. According to petitioner, the fact that New Hampshire has decided to purchase the property is irrelevant to the question of whether it will be permitted to build its transmitter site on the property. Moreover, even if ownership were relevant, Spacetown claims, the option to purchase has already expired. In addition, petitioner submits the letter of an attorney whose professional opinion is that the appeal will not be successful.<sup>1</sup>

5. Spacetown's request for the addition of a site availability issue will be granted. Although the Commission and Review Board have traditionally been reluctant to specify issues inquiring into local zoning matters, since they are ordinarily within the province of local authorities, an applicant is required to have some reasonable ground for believing that his transmitter site will be available for the use specified. See William R. Gaston, 35 FCC 2d 615, 24 RR 2d 741 (1972); Marvin C. Hanz, 21 FCC 2d 420, 18 RR 2d 310 (1970). Here, in light of the fact that New Hampshire's efforts to secure a zoning variance have been twice denied, we are of the view that it has failed to establish that it has a reasonable expectancy of obtaining approval of its plans from the local authorities. See Edina Corp., 4 FCC 2d 36, 7 RR 2d 767 (1966). New Hampshire's unexplained optimism in the likelihood of the success of its appeal and its intention to purchase the property proposed for its site will simply not suffice. Under the circumstances as presented in the pleading before us, we think that there is sufficient doubt as to whether the site may be used for the purpose proposed to warrant enlargement of the issues as requested by petitioner. "El Camino Broadcasting Corp.", 14 FCC 2d 361, 13 RR 2d 1260 (1968).

6. Accordingly, it is ordered, That the request for leave to file attached pleading, filed November 15, 1972, by New Hampshire Broadcasting Corp., is denied; and

7. It is further ordered, That the petition to enlarge issues, filed October 17, 1972, by Spacetown Broadcasting Corp. is granted; and

8. It is further ordered, That the issues in this proceeding are enlarged to include the following issue:

To determine whether New Hampshire Broadcasting Corp. has a reasonable expect-<sup>1</sup> New Hampshire's request for leave to file attached pleading, filed November 15, 1972, will be denied. New Hampshire has not satisfactorily explained why it did not include the material contained therein in its opposition. tancy of obtaining permission to construct its proposed towers at the site specified in its application.

Applicant states that it intends to sell approximately 1,500 Mcf of gas per day within the contemplation of § 157.29 of the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.29) and proposes to continue said sale for 1 year from the end of the 60-day emergency period or until 2,000,000 Mcf of gas are delivered, whichever occurs first, within the contemplation of § 2.70 of the Commission's general policy and interpretations (18 CFR 2.70). Applicant proposes to sell, under the authorization requested herein, up to 2,000 Mcf of gas per day, plus any gas which Applicant may have available and the purchaser may be able to receive, at 45 cents per Mcf subject to upward and downward B.t.u. adjustment. The upward price adjustment will not exceed 1,100 B.t.u. Gas sold during the 60-day emergency period will not be included in the 2,000,000-Mcf total sale.

It appears reasonable and consistent with the public interest in this case to prescribe a period shorter than 15 days for the filing of protests and petitions to intervene. Therefore, any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before March 30, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

FLORIDA POWER CORP.
Notice of Certification of Proposed Settlement Agreement

MARCH 14, 1973.

Take notice that on March 2, 1973, Presiding Administrative Law Judge Ernest O. Eisenberg certified to the Commission a proposed settlement agreement in the above captioned docket number. Filed with the Judge on February 8, 1973, the proposed agreement purports to be settlement between Florida Power Corp. (Florida Power) and nine rural electric cooperative customers—Central Florida Electric Cooperative, Inc., Clay Electric Cooperative, Inc., Clades Electric Cooperative, Inc., Peace River Electric Cooperative, Inc., Sumter Electric Cooperative, Inc., Suwannee Valley Electric Cooperative, Inc., Talquin Electric Cooperative, Inc., Tri-County Electric Cooperative, Inc., and Withlacoochee River Electric Cooperative, Inc. (Coops). The intervening municipalities in this docket did not participate in the formation of this agreement and did not sign it.

The proposed agreement states that Florida Power agrees to file new rates for service to the Coops based upon the cost of service, with certain adjustments, presented by staff witnesses. The agreement provides that, based on 1970 test year, Florida Power's cost of service to the Coops is $6,710,640, leaving a revenue deficiency of $869,594 under the rates to the Coops in effect prior to June 12, 1972. The proposed settlement states that the revised rates, on the basis of sales in 1970, would produce revenues essentially equal to the cost of service agreed upon. In addition, the proposed settlement states that the overall rate of return be 7.78 percent of the rate base.

Any person desiring to make comments on said proposed settlement agreement should file written comments with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street, NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such comments should be filed on or before April 2, 1973.

Copies of the proposed settlement agreement are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTRIC CO.
Notice of Application for New License

MARCH 14, 1973.

Public notice is hereby given that application was filed March 2, 1970, and supplemented October 26, 1970, December 21, 1970, and October 11, 1972, under section 15 of the Federal Power Act by Pennsylvania Electric Co. (Correspondence to: Mr. W. R. Thomas, secretary and treasurer, Pennsylvania Electric Co., 1001 Broad Street, Johnstown, PA 15907 and copy to J. B. Liberman, Esq., Berlack, Israels, Liberman, 26 Broadway, New York, NY 10004) for a new license for constructed Project No. 309, known as Piney Project, located on the Clarion River in Clarion County, Pa.

The Piney Project has an installed capacity of 28,800 kw. and consists of: (1) An arched concrete gravity dam about 125 feet high and 700 feet long with a tainter gate spillway section; (2) a reservoir about 12 miles long with an area of about 675 acres at elevation 1,093 feet and a usable storage capacity of 2,070 acre-feet in 3 feet of drawdown; (3) three steel penstocks each 14 feet in diameter and approximately 300 feet long; (4) a powerhouse containing three equally rated generators with an aggregate capacity of 28,800 kw.; (5) three transmission lines 225 feet long between the substation and the switchyard; and (6) all other facilities and interests appurtenant to the operation of the project.

Applicant estimates its net investment at $3,132,976, minus the amortization reserves, which is less than its estimate of fair market value. In the event the project is taken over, applicant estimates its severance damages at $361,000. Applicant estimates that it pays about $57,900 annually in State and local taxes.

The power generated by the Piney Project is used to supply part of the peak daily requirements of the General Public Utilities Integrated System of which the applicant is a member.

The original license expired on October 12, 1972, and the project is currently under annual license.

Recreation resources at the project include fishing, boating, and picnicking. Near the dam there is a picnic area with 80 sites, sanitary facilities, a water supply system, an interpretive display of the project, recreation equipment and a playground. The applicant plans additional playground equipment in the future.

Boat slips and a ramp are located along the reservoir on project land. A concession building is located on private land. These facilities are operated by the Clarion Volunteer Fire Department. The applicant plans to cooperate with the volunteer fire department in the development of a launching and marine facility on project land at this location.

At the upper end of the reservoir at Mill Creek there are picnic facilities, a boat launching ramp, and floating parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

VERMONT ELECTRIC POWER CO., INC. Notice of Proposed Changes in Rates and Charges

MARCH 14, 1973.

Take notice that the Vermont Electric Power Co., Inc. (Velco), on December 18, 1972, tendered for filing supplemental rate schedule changes to its initial Rate Schedule FPC No. 154 filed September 14, 1972. Velco states that certain of the Vermont distribution systems have expressed agreement to purchase power from it under the terms and conditions of the initial rate schedule. Velco also states that certain of the Vermont distribution systems have agreed to pay for the transmission of such power under the terms of the initial rate schedule. Velco contends that the above agreements are being transmitted because, similar to the purchase agreements, these agreements may be considered contracts which relate to rates, charges, classifications and services but that they do not, however, in themselves constitute a rate, charge, classification or service.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before March 30, 1973. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this application are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

RENEWAL OF NATIONAL GAS SURVEY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Notice of Determination and Certification

The Chairman of the Federal Power Commission has determined that renewal of the terms of the National Gas Survey Coordinating Committee, for the term from and after May 10, 1973, to a date not later than December 31, 1973, is necessary in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on the Commission by law.

This notice is published pursuant to Commission General Order No. 464, issued December 19, 1972, paragraph 4(e) and authorities therein referred to, 38 FR 1083, 1086. See also Office of Management and Budget, Advisory Committee Management, Proposed Administrative Guidelines and Management Controls, 38 FR 2306, 2309.

The advisory committee to be renewed was established by order of the Federal Power Commission issued May 10, 1971: Order establishing National Gas Survey Coordinating Committee and designating its membership and chairmanship, 36 FR 8910. That order refers to an earlier order of the Commission issued February 23, 1971, order authorizing the establishment of National Gas Survey Advisory Committees and Prescribing Procedures, 36 FR 3851. The foregoing orders have been amended by subsequent orders of the Commission: Order of April 25, 1972, 37 FR 8578, amending National Gas Survey orders issued February 23, 1971 and April 6, 1971; order of June 27, 1972, 37 FR 13306, amending National Gas Survey orders; and order of December 19, 1972, 37 FR 28658, amending National Gas Survey orders. By order issued February 23, 1973, 38 FR 5940, the Commission restated its order of February 23, 1971, as amended.

The nature and purposes of the National Gas Survey advisory committee to be renewed are set forth in detail in the Commission's prior orders. As renewed, the subject committee would function as set forth in those orders for the additional period as set forth above—from and after May 10, 1973, to a date not later than December 31, 1973. The Commission contemplates that the work of all advisory committees participating in the National Gas Survey will be completed within the calendar year 1973. Hence, there will be no need or purpose of these committees beyond December 31, 1973. This extension of the Coordinating Committee is needed for orderly conclusion of the Federal Power Commission's National Gas Survey. The Office of Management and Budget, Committee Management Secretariat, has ascertained that renewal of the subject committee as set forth above, is in accord with the requirements of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, 86 Stat. 770.

Renewal of the Coordinating Committee will be as reflected in an appropriate Commission order to be issued March 30, 1973.

JOHN N. NASSIKAS,
Chairman.

CHICAGO CITY BANCORPORATION, INC.

Determination Regarding "Grandfather" Privileges

Section 4 of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1843) provides certain privileges ("grandfather" privileges) with respect to nonbanking activities of a company that, by virtue of the 1970 Amendments to the Bank Holding Company Act, became subject to the Bank Holding Company Act. Pursuant to section 4(a)(2) of the Act, a company covered in 1970, may continue to engage, either directly or through a subsidiary, in nonbanking activities that such company was lawfully engaged in on June 30, 1968 (or on a date subsequent to June 30, 1968, in the case of activities carried on as a result of the acquisition by such company or subsidiary, pursuant to a binding written contract entered into on or before June 30, 1968, of another company engaged in such activities at the time of the acquisition), and has been continuously engaged in since June 30, 1968 (or such subsequent date).

Section 4(a)(2) of the Act provides, inter alia, that the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System may terminate such grandfather privileges if, having due regard to the purposes of the Act, the Board determines that such action is necessary to prevent an undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interest, or unsound banking practices. With respect to a company that controls a bank with assets in excess of $60 million on or after December 31, 1970, the Board is required to make such a determination within a 2-year period.

Notice of the Board's proposed review of the grandfather privileges of Chicago City Bancorporation, Inc., Chicago, Ill., and an opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views or request a hearing, has been given (37 FR 22414). The time for filing comments, views, and requests has expired, and all those received have been considered by the Board in light of the factors set forth in section 4(a)(2) of the Act.

On the evidence before it, the Board makes the following findings. Chicago City Bancorporation, Inc. (Registrant), Chicago, Ill., became a bank holding company on December 31, 1970, as a result of the 1970 Amendments to the Act, by virtue of Registrant's ownership of approximately 80 percent of the voting shares of Chicago City Bank & Trust Co. (Bank), Chicago, Ill. (assets of approximately $128 million, as of December 31, 1970). Bank, control of which was acquired by Registrant in January 1968, had total deposits of $117 million as of June 30, 1972, representing less than one-half of 1 percent of the aggregate deposits held by the 263 banking organizations located in the Chicago banking market (approximated by Cook and DuPage Counties). On the basis of deposits, Bank ranks 27th among the banking organizations located in the Chicago market.

While the present financial condition and prospects of Bank appear satisfactory, the Board is concerned about Registrant's financial condition and certain actions taken by Registrant's management that have the potential for impairing Bank's financial condition. Of particular concern is Registrant's relationship with Mayflower Investors, Inc. (Mayflower), Chicago, Ill. Mayflower became a bank holding company on December 31, 1970, by virtue of its 100 percent ownership of Registrant. Mayflower, whose primary activity is the development and sale of land in Florida, has indicated its intent to cease to be a bank holding company prior to December 31, 1980, and states that it does not now own directly any shares of Registrant. Before said divestiture by Mayflower of ownership of shares in Registrant, Mayflower caused Registrant to declare (1) a cash dividend that appears to have been financed by Registrant borrowing the necessary funds and (2) a noncash dividend consisting of a 10-year interest bearing note. These dividends increased considerably the indebtedness of Registrant. Since Registrant's principal source of income is Bank, the debt servicing requirements of Registrant could result in an unduly high level of payout of Bank's earnings. The Board views with concern any continued relationship between Registrant and Mayflower and urges the elimination of any existing tie between said two organizations; and the Board intends to explore further Mayflower's dealings in stock of Registrant and whether Mayflower has effectively terminated its control of Registrant.

Registrant, which was organized in 1967 (assets of approximately $133 million, as of December 31, 1971), does not engage directly in any activity other than holding the stock of Bank and 100 percent of the shares of Chicago City Investment Co. (Chicago City), Chicago, Ill. Chicago City (assets of $364,000 as of December 31, 1971), which became a subsidiary of Registrant in January 1968, engages in insurance agency activities and also owns less than 5 percent of the outstanding voting shares of each of a number of companies; and apparently has engaged in such activities continuously since before June 30, 1968. Ownership of less than 5 percent of the outstanding voting shares of a company is exempt, under section 4(c)(6) of the Act, from the general prohibition in section 4 of the Act relating to the nonbanking activities of a bank holding company; and, on that basis, no grandfather privileges are needed to enable Registrant to continue such holdings and investments. Chicago City received insurance commissions of approximately $141,000 during 1971 as a result of its insurance activities, which appear to be limited to the type of insurance activities on the Board's list of activities closely related to banking (12 CFR 225.4(a)(9)). Registrant states that almost all of the insurance sold is related to Bank's transactions. The facts before the Board show that the bulk of insurance commission income is attributable to physical damage insurance on automobiles—36 percent of commissions; homeowner and fire insurance—20 percent of commissions; mortgage life and accident and health insurance—23 percent of commissions; and credit life insurance—13 percent of commissions.

On the basis of the foregoing and all the facts before the Board, it appears that the volume, scope and nature of activities of Registrant and its grandfathered subsidiary (Chicago City) do not demonstrate an undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interest, nor unsound banking practices.

There appears to be no reason to require Registrant to determine its grandfather interests. It is the Board's judgment that, at this time, termination of the grandfather privileges of Registrant is not necessary in order to prevent an undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interest, or unsound banking practices. However, this determination is not authority to enter into any activity that was not engaged in on June 30, 1968, and continuously thereafter, nor any activity that is not the subject of this determination; nor is this determination authority for Registrant to engage in any additional type of insurance agency activity or to acquire additional shares in any company if the Registrant's holdings in such company will exceed 5 percent of the outstanding shares of such company.

A significant alteration in the nature or extension of Registrant's activities or a change in location thereof (significantly different from any described in this determination) will be cause for a reevaluation by the Board of Registrant's activities under the provisions of § 4(a)(2) of the Act, that is, whenever the alteration or change is such that the Board finds that a termination of the grandfather privileges is necessary to prevent an undue concentration of resources or any of the other evils at which the Act is directed. No merger, consolidation, acquisition of assets other than in the ordinary course of business, nor acquisition of any interest in a going concern, to which the Registrant or any nonbank subsidiary thereof is a party, may be consummated without prior approval of the Board. Further, the provision of any credit, property, or service by the Registrant or any subsidiary thereof shall not be subject to any condition which, if imposed by a bank, would constitute an unlawful tie-in arrangement under section 106 of the Bank Holding Company Act Amendments of 1970.

The determination herein does not preclude a later review by the Board of Registrant's nonbank activities and a future determination by the Board in favor of termination of grandfather benefits of Registrant. The determination herein is subject to the Board's authority to require modification or termination of the activities of Registrant or of its non-banking subsidiary as the Board finds necessary to assure compliance with the provisions and purposes of the Act and the Board's regulations and orders issued thereunder, or to prevent evasions there-

BanCorp, a recently organized company, with no operations or subsidiaries, was formed for the purpose of acquiring shares of National Bank ($12.4 million in deposits) and of State Bank ($16.3 million in deposits) from Jackman.<sup>1</sup> At the present time, Banks are under common control, share the same president, and are located in the same building with a common lobby. Banks complement each other's services; individually, neither is a full service bank. State Bank was formed in 1912 by the management of National Bank (established in 1855). Both banks have been controlled by the Jackman family for four generations.

BanCorp would control the third and fifth largest among the six banks in Janesville; and the sixth and eighth largest among the 18 banks in Rock County, the relevant banking market. In combination, Banks, with 22 percent of deposits, represent the smallest of the three banking organizations in Janesville; within Rock County, BanCorp would control 9.4 percent of deposits and would be the fifth largest of 15 banking organizations competing in that market. It appears that the purpose of the proposed transaction is to effect a transfer from a partnership form of ownership of Banks to corporate ownership by BanCorp, and that the transaction is a reorganization with no significant competitive consequences. Approval of the transaction probably will facilitate a proposed move of one of Banks (probably State Bank)<sup>2</sup> to the rapidly developing northeast part of Janesville, with the result that an additional full service banking institution would be serving the relevant market. In view of the long-term and present non-competitive relationship between Banks, it appears that consummation of the proposed transaction will not increase competition between Banks. In view of the unlikelihood that Banks' present ties will be severed in the near future, the prospect of potential competition developing between Banks seems remote. Establishment of an independent bank close to the location to which BanCorp proposes to move (State) Bank has been proposed; the chances of State approval of the proposed new charter may be impaired by the relocation of one of Banks. On this basis, relocation may have some adverse effects on potential competition. However, the Board concludes, based on the facts of record, that consummation of the proposed acquisition would not significantly affect competition adversely in any relevant area.

Upon consummation the partnership which presently controls Banks will continue to control Banks through control of BanCorp. The financial condition, managerial resources, and prospects of BanCorp will be dependent upon its banking subsidiaries. Banks' financial condition and managerial resources are regarded as satisfactory. Additionally, BanCorp has agreed to provide additional capital for State Bank after relocation if such capital is deemed necessary. Considerations relating to the convenience and needs of the community to be served weigh in favor of approval as approval probably would be followed by the relocation of one of Banks to the rapidly developing northeast area of Janesville, and result in there being two full service banks to serve the market in lieu of the one combined operation. Approval would enable management to effect a relocation without the risk that the holders of minority interests of one bank might be favored over the minority shareholders of the other (non-relocated bank); and enable management to operate Banks in the common interest of all shareholders. It is the Board's judgment that the proposed acquisition would be in the public interest and that the applications should be approved.

On the basis of the record, the applications are approved for the reasons summarized above. The transaction shall not be consummated (a) before April 12, 1973 or (b) later than June 13, 1973, unless such period is extended for good <sup>2</sup> Approval by State authorities for the move has been requested. If such approval is denied, BanCorp advises that the Comptroller will be requested to approve relocation for National Bank.

By order of the Board of Governors,<sup>2</sup> effective March 13, 1973.

NEW ENGLAND ELECTRIC SYSTEM AND MASSACHUSETTS GAS SYSTEM

Notice of Filing of Plan To Effectuate Disposition of Utility Assets in Compliance

Notice is hereby given that New England Electric System (NEES), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary holding company, Massachusetts Gas System (Mass Gas), 20 Turnpike Road, Westborough, MA 01581, have filed an application-declaration and an amendment thereto with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (Act) and a plan pursuant to section 11(e) of the Act (Plan) for the purpose of effectuating compliance with the Commission's order under section 11(b) (1) of the Act, requiring NEES to divest itself of its gas utility subsidiaries. NEES and Mass Gas have designated section 9, 10, 11, and 12 of the Act and Rules 43, 44, and 46 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions. All interested persons are referred to the amended application-declaration and to the Plan, which are summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transactions.

In 1964, the Commission issued an order under section 11(b) (1) of the Act requiring NEES to dispose of all its interests, direct or indirect, in its eight gas utility subsidiary companies (Holding Company Act Release No. 15035, Mar. 19, 1964). The Supreme Court on March 5, 1968, directed the Court of Appeals for the First Circuit to enter an order affirming the Commission's original divestment order. By orders of the Commission dated July 11, 1969 (Holding Company Act Release No. 16424), and February 24, 1970 (Holding Company Act Release No. 16618), NEES was granted extensions to comply with the Commission's divestment order.

As a step in the divestment of its eight gas utility subsidiary companies, NEES formed a new holding company, Mass Gas, which issued and sold its common shares to NEES in exchange for the securities held by NEES in these subsidiary companies (Holding Company Act Release No. 16583, Jan. 19, 1970). On December 30, 1971, the Commission approved a plan filed by NEES and Mass Gas providing for the divestment by sale of the capital stock of the four smaller subsidiary companies (Holding Company Act Release No. 17419), which were disposed of under an exception from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule 50 (Holding Company Act Release No. 17066, Mar. 25, 1971). A similar exception from competitive bidding was granted for the disposition of the remaining subsidiary companies. (Holding Company Act Release No. 17371, Nov. 23, 1971.)

The Plan filed by NEES and Mass Gas deals with the disposition of the common stock of Lawrence Gas Company (Lawrence), a gas utility subsidiary company. Mass Gas presently holds 170,002 shares of common stock of Lawrence, or 90.42 percent of its outstanding capital stock. The remaining 9.58 percent, or 17,998 shares of common stock, is owned by the public ("minority shareholders").

The Plan provides for:

1. The dissolution of Mass Gas and the distribution of its assets, including the Lawrence stock, to the parent company NEES;
2. The immediate sale by NEES of the Lawrence stock to Springfield Gas Light Co. (Springfield); an exempt holding company under the Act; and
3. The retirement of the Lawrence stock not held by NEES by a cash payment to the minority shareholders.

The price agreed upon for the NEES-owned shares of Lawrence being sold to Springfield is $6,638,000, as of December 31, 1971. This price is to be adjusted by the amount of any increase or decrease in the underlying book value of the shares to be sold between December 31, 1971, and at the end of the calendar month immediately preceding the closing date. At December 31, 1971, the underlying book value of the shares to be sold was $3,252,705.

Springfield has also agreed that, on the date of closing, it will have arranged for refinancing or continuation of the short-term notes of Lawrence then outstanding. NEES will use the proceeds of the sale for investment in one or more of its electric utility subsidiary companies, or to pay its own short-term bank loans.

The contract price of $6,638,000 is 204 percent of the $3,252,705 underlying book value of the shares to be sold by NEES. The same 204 percent factor has been applied by the parties to the December 31, 1971, book value of the remaining equity of Lawrence attributable to the minority shareholder interests to fix the value of said equity for purposes of computing the amount of the proposed cash distribution to the minority shareholders.

The cash distribution to be made to the minority shareholders would have been, if the sale had been effected December 31, 1971, an amount per share of $39.05 pro forma price, compared to $19.13 for the underlying book value per share. This amount is also subject to the adjustment for changes in underlying book values subsequent to December 31, 1971.

It is contemplated that upon acquisition of the Lawrence stock from NEES, Springfield will cause Lawrence to join in a three party merger between Springfield, Northhampton Gas Light Co., a subsidiary gas company of Springfield, and Lawrence. Springfield represents that it has procured the necessary consents from the holders of its long-term debt obligations as required before it can effect the proposed merger.

The application-declaration represents that no fees or commissions will be paid by NEES or Mass Gas in connection with the proposed transactions. Any finder's fee or commission incidental to the sale of Lawrence from NEES to Eastern will be paid by the purchaser. Estimated expenses in connection with this proposed transaction and a concurrent divestiture are $12,000 for NEES and $4,000 for Mass Gas. It is represented that the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities has jurisdiction over the acquisition of the Lawrence shares from NEES and the minority shareholders, and that it has jurisdiction over the proposed merger of Lawrence, Springfield and Northhampton Gas Light Co. No other State commission and no Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 9, 1973, request in writing that a hearing be held in respect of such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the Plan which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified should the Commission order a hearing in respect thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon NEES at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the Plan, as amended or as it may be further amended, may be approved as provided in Rule 23 of the general rules and regulations, promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof, or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive notice of further developments in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

It is ordered, That NEES mail a copy of this notice to all holders of record of the common stock of Lawrence at least 20 days prior to the date herein fixed as the final date on which a hearing may be requested in this matter.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

Secretary.

VALUE LINE DEVELOPMENT CAPITAL CORP. ET AL.

Notice of Application for Order

Notice is hereby given that The Value Line Development Capital Corp., a New York corporation (Value Line), 5 East 44th Street, New York, NY 10017, registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (Act) as a closed-end management investment company, Coaxial Communications, Inc., a Delaware corporation (Old Coaxial), and Coaxial Holdings, Inc., a Delaware corporation (New Coaxial), 5111 Ocean Boulevard, Sarasota, FL 33581, have filed an application pursuant to section 17(d) of the Act and Rule 17d-1 thereunder for an order of the Commission permitting the joint participation of Value Line, affiliated persons of Value Line, and affiliated persons of such persons in a proposed reorganization of Old Coaxial. All interested persons are referred to the application of file with the Commission for a statement of the representations made therein, which are summarized below.

Old Coaxial has been engaged, through subsidiary corporations, in the business of constructing, owning, and operating cable television systems pursuant to franchises issued by numerous communities. The activities of Old Coaxial have been financed, in part, by the sale of $1,700,000 principal amount of bonds pursuant to a First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Indenture dated as of January 1, 1970 (the Indenture). The bonds are owned by Continental Assurance Co. (Assurance) and Continental Casualty Co. (Casualty). In addition, Assurance and Casualty each own 22 shares of the 1,144 issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock and Old Coaxial and other Old Coaxial notes and agreed to provide additional financing for Old Coaxial.

The Indenture contains restrictions on any additional financing for Old Coaxial through debt or equity programs. The development of new cable television system franchises obtained by certain of Old Coaxial's subsidiary corporations depends, however, upon freeing such subsidiary companies from these restrictions. The shareholders of Old Coaxial have, therefore, agreed to a reorganization of Old Coaxial pursuant to which the stock of certain subsidiary corporations of Old Coaxial would be transferred to New Coaxial, which was created for the purpose of holding such stock, for stock of New Coaxial which would be issued pro rata to the shareholders of Old Coaxial. This agreement is embodied in a letter agreement dated July 13, 1971 (the Agreement), which has been signed by all of the shareholders of Old Coaxial except Value Line.

Value Line owns 90 shares (7.8 percent) of the outstanding common stock of Old Coaxial. Neither Value Line, any affiliated person of Value Line, nor any affiliated person of any affiliated person of Value Line, other than affiliated persons of Old Coaxial or New Coaxial, owns any other securities of Old Coaxial or rights, warrants or options to purchase securities in New Coaxial. Neither Value Line nor any affiliated person of Value Line is affiliated with any affiliated person of Old Coaxial or New Coaxial other than through Value Line's above-described ownership interest.

The Agreement also provides for the substitution of New Coaxial for Old Coaxial on one of the Old Coaxial notes held by Continental and Assurance and for the guarantee by New Coaxial of the other Old Coaxial notes held by Continental and Assurance. Where these notes are convertible into shares of stock of Old Coaxial they would, instead, become convertible into shares of Common Stock of New Coaxial on the same basis.

Pursuant to the Agreement, the shareholders of Old Coaxial would, by their signature, give their consent to three separate agreements among Old Coaxial, New Coaxial, and certain corporations owned by Barry Silverstein and Lorenzo B. St. Jacques, who are, respectively, the owners of 542 shares (47 percent) and 15 shares (1 percent) of the 1,144 issued and outstanding shares of Old Coaxial. Silverstein was the Chairman of the Board of Directors of Old Coaxial from February 19, 1969 to September 1, 1971, and St. Jacques was a director of Old Coaxial from February 24, 1969 to September 1, 1971, was a president of Old Coaxial at one time, and as of the date of the Agreement was a vice president of both Old Coaxial and New Coaxial.

The Agreement was negotiated between management of Old Coaxial (on behalf of all parties thereto other than Assurance, Continental and Value Line) and officers and employees of Continental and Assurance. It was subsequently executed by all parties to the Agreement other than Value Line.

Under one of the separate agreements, Micanopy Cable TV Inc., subsidiary of Old Coaxial, would sell to Coaxial Construction Corporation (Construction), a company wholly owned by Silverstein and St. Jacques, certain construction equipment and other property used for the construction and installation (as distinguished from the maintenance and repair) of community antenna television systems or cable television system. The property would be sold at book value, less depreciation, for items acquired prior to December 13, 1970, and at cost for items purchased after December 31, 1970.

Under another of such agreements among Construction, New Coaxial, and Cablenet International Corporation (Delaware), a company wholly owned by Silverstein, (i) Construction would provide design and cable TV construction services to New Coaxial and Cablenet on a nondiscriminatory basis and give priority to those corporations before all third parties; (ii) Cablenet would not own any communication antenna equipment or furnish any antenna equipment during a term ending December 31, 1981, without New Coaxial's consent; and (iii) New Coaxial would not provide programming services to any third parties without Cablenet's consent during such term.

The third of such agreements would be among Coaxial Scientific Corp. (a wholly owned subsidiary of Old Coaxial and one of the companies whose shares are to be transferred to New Coaxial), New Coaxial, Construction, and Cablenet. Pursuant to this agreement Coaxial Scientific would provide services, inventions, formulas, processes, knowledge and "know-how" on a nondiscriminatory basis to each of New Coaxial and Construction during a term ending on December 31, 1981, subject to certain expense provisions governing compensation to be paid by Construction and/or Cablenet to Coaxial Scientific.

Under section 2(a)(3) of the Act, "affiliated person" of another person means, in part, any person owning 5 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of such other person, any person 5 percent or more of whose outstanding securities are owned by such other person, and any officer or director of such other person. Since Value Line owns 7.8 percent of the outstanding common stock of Old Coaxial, each is an affiliated person of the other, and each officer or director of Old Coaxial is an affiliated person of an affiliated person of Value Line subject to the prohibitions of section 17(d) and Rule 17d-1.

Insofar as it is applicable here, section 17(d) of the Act and Rule 17d-1 thereunder prohibit an affiliated person of a registered investment company, or an affiliated person of such affiliated person, from effecting any transactions in connection with any joint enterprise or other joint arrangement in which such registered investment company is a participant unless permitted by the Commission after the participation of the registered investment company in the joint enterprise or joint arrangement on the basis proposed is consistent with the provisions, policies, and purposes of the Act and the extent to which such participation is on a basis different from, or less advantageous than, that of other participants. Since the proposed reorganization will be a transaction effected jointly by Value Line, affiliated persons of Value Line, and affiliated persons of such persons, an application for a Commission order pursuant to section 17(d) and Rule 17d-1 is required.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 6, 1973 at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary Securities and Exchange Commission, 500 North Capitol Street, Washington, DC 20549. A copy of such request shall be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon applicants at the addresses stated above. Proof of such service (by affidavit, or in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) shall be filed contemporaneously with the request. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule 0-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the information stated in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion. Persons who request a hearing, or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered, will receive notice of further developments in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Investment Management Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

Secretary.

its approval is now under consideration.

The plan involves the enactment and implementation of legislation in the Virgin Islands during 1973 which will effectuate a program in that territory which will in most respects be patterned after the one administered by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor in accordance with the above-mentioned act. The new program will be administered by the Virgin Islands Department of Labor. The principal distinctions between the Federal and the territorial program appear to be that:

(1) Administrative review of proposed penalties in the Virgin Islands will not be by an independent commission;

(2) In addition to employers, owners, lessors, agents, and managers who control premises used as places of employment in the Virgin Islands will also be subject to the penalties provided under their program; and

(3) The Virgin Islands program will be limited in its application to health hazards because of lack of qualified personnel.

2. Location of plan for inspection and copying. A copy of the plan may be inspected and copied during normal business hours at the following locations: U.S. Department of Labor, Office of Federal and State Operations, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Room 305, 400 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20210; U.S. Department of Labor, Regional Office, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Room 3445, 1515 Broadway, New York, NY 10036; Department of Labor, Government of the Virgin Islands, Dronigan's Gade, Charlotte Amalie, St. Thomas, V.I. 00801; and Department of Labor, Government of the Virgin Islands, Hospital Street, Christiansted, St. Croix, V.I. 00820.

3. Public participation. Interested persons are hereby given until April 19, 1973, in which to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the plan. Such requests or submissions are to be addressed to the Director of Federal and State Operations, Room 305, 400 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20210. The written comments will be available for public inspection and copying at this address.

Copies of pages from the plan or of written comments received with respect thereto will be provided in accordance with the general Department of Labor fee schedule (29 CFR 70.62(a)).

Any interested person may request a hearing concerning the proposed plan, or any part thereof, whenever particularized written objections thereto are filed within the time allowed for comments. If it is found that substantial objections are filed, a formal or informal hearing on the subjects and issues involved shall be held.

After consideration has been given to all material submitted a final decision as to the approval or disapproval of the plan will be issued.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 14th day of March 1973.

INCO EXPRESS, INC.

Extension of Authorization as Common Carrier of Coated Cloth

Order. At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 1, acting as an Appellate Division, held at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 2d day of March 1973.

Upon consideration of the record in the above-entitled proceeding, and of petition of applicant, filed November 6, 1972, for reconsideration; and

It appearing, that by application filed November 24, 1971, Inco Express, Inc., of Seattle, Wash., seeks a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing operation, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of cloth or fabric coated with plastic and/or liquid plastic, from and to the points substantially as indicated below, restricted to traffic requiring refrigeration;

It further appearing, that by report and order of September 22, 1972, in the above-entitled proceeding, the Commission, Review Board No. 3 concluded that the present and future public convenience and necessity require operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of plastic coated fabric, in vehicles equipped with mechanical refrigeration, between points in King and Snohomish Counties, Wash., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Alameda, Contra Costa, Los Angeles, and Orange Counties, Calif., and that the application in all other respects should be denied;

It further appearing, that on November 6, 1972, applicant filed a petition for reconsideration, stating that it seeks authority for, and that shippers have a need covering, the transportation of the two separate commodities, (1) plastic coated fabric and (2) liquid plastic, and that the grant of authority herein should be modified so as to include liquid plastic;

It further appearing, that the evidence of record indicates that shipper's products include both plastic coated fabric and liquid plastic; and that applicant is best able to meet shipper's demands for service; and that modification of the said report and order of September 22, 1972, as set forth below, is warranted.

It further appearing, that there exists some ambiguity in the commodity description employed in the application as filed and published since it is possible that other parties who have relied upon the notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the application as originally published may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice that the authority sought includes the separate commodities of plastic coated cloth and liquid plastic, a notice of the authority actually granted will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and issuance of the certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of such publication, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition for leave to intervene in the proceeding setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been prejudiced; and good cause appearing therefor:

It is ordered, That the report and order of September 22, 1972, in this proceeding, be, and it is hereby, modified by inserting the phrase "and liquid plastic" following the phrase "of plastic coated fabric" where it appears in the findings paragraph on page 5 thereof.

It is further ordered, That notice of the authority granted herein be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That, unless compliance is made by applicant with the requirements of sections 215, 217, and 221 (c) of the Interstate Commerce Act, within 90 days after the date of service of this order, or within such additional time as may be authorized by the Commission, the grant of authority shall be considered as null and void, and the application shall stand denied in its entirety effective upon the expiration of the said compliance time.

By the Commission, Division 1, acting as an Appellate Division.

Secretary.

PART 71—DESCRIPTION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, AREA LOW ROUTES, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Control Zone

The purpose of this amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is to alter the description of the North Bend, Oreg., control zone.

The city of North Bend, owner and operator of the Barview NDB, has advised the Federal Aviation Administration that they intend to cease operations of the Barview NDB on or about May 15, 1973. As part of the North Bend control zone is described by reference to a bearing from the Barview NDB, action is taken herein to reflect this change.

Since this change is minor in nature and imposes no additional burden on any person, notice and public procedure hereon is unnecessary.

In consideration of the foregoing, § 71.171 (38 FR 351) as amended in Airspace Docket No. 72-NW-2 (38 FR 5341) is further amended, as follows:

After the phrase, "North Bend VORTAC 111° radial extending from the 5 mile radius zone to 4.5 miles east of the VORTAC," delete "within 3 miles each side of the 337° bearing from the Barview RBN, extending from the 5-mile radius zone to 7 miles northwest of the RBN;" the remainder of the description remains as published.

Effective date. This amendment will be effective 0901 G.m.t. May 24, 1973.

The purpose of this document is to give notice of the proposed change in the regulation.

Section 726.80 would be amended to provide that any tobacco produced in the Burley area that is to be marketed in an area where quotas are not in effect, will be considered as Burley unless it is classified by a USDA inspector as another type of tobacco prior to its removal from the Burley area.

The term "tobacco" with respect to any farm located in an area in which Burley tobacco as classified in Service and Regulatory Announcement No. 118 (Part 30 of this title) of the former Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is normally produced shall include all tobacco, excluding other kinds subject to marketing quotas, produced on a farm unless the county committee with the approval of the State committee determines from satisfactory proof furnished by the operator of the farm that a part or all of such tobacco is certified by the Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, under the Tobacco Inspection Act (7 U.S.C. 511), and regulations issued pursuant thereto, as a kind of tobacco not subject to marketing quotas. #### Agricultural Marketing Service [7 CFR Part 27]

PRICE QUOTATIONS AND DIFFERENCES Proposed Change in Base Quality

Notice is hereby given, in accordance with administrative procedure provisions in 5 U.S.C. 553, that the Agricultural Marketing Service is considering amendment of §§ 27.96 and 27.97 of the Regulations for Cotton Classification Under Cotton Futures Legislation (7 CFR Part 27, subpart A) to change the base quality from Middling 1 inch to Strict Low Middling 1 1/8 inches, pursuant to authority contained in the cotton futures provisions in sections 4862 and 4863 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 581, 582; 26 U.S.C. 4862, 4863).

Statement of considerations. Over the years it has been necessary from time to time to change the base quality used in cotton price quotations because of changes in the qualities of cotton produced and marketed. In 1939 the base quality was changed from Middling seven-eighths inch to Middling fifteen-sixteenths inch and in 1956 to the present Middling 1 inch.

In cotton quotations work the price or quotation for the base quality is determined first and stated in cents per pound. Differences are then determined for other qualities and are stated in points per pound (100 points equals 1 cent) as premiums and discounts on or off the base price. To facilitate the establishment of a more accurate base price and provide more meaningful premiums and discounts the base quality should be a quality for which price information is readily obtainable. Production of the current base quality, Middling 1 inch, has amounted to less than 1 percent of annual U.S. production since 1961. In 7 of the last 10 years the predominant quality has been Strict Low Middling 1 1/8 inches.

Under the proposal, § 27.96 and paragraph (a) of § 27.97 would be amended by changing "Middling 1 inch" wherever it appears to read "Strict Low Middling 1 1/8 inches."

It is proposed that these amendments would be made effective August 1, 1973, to coincide with the beginning of the 1973 cotton marketing year.

Any person who wishes to submit written data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed amendments may do so by filing them in duplicate with the Office of the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, not later than April 6, 1973. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice of rule making shall be made available for public inspection in said office during regular business hours in a manner convenient to the public business (7 CFR 1.27).

Dated: March 16, 1973.

[7 CFR Part 1099]

[Docket No. AO 183-A28]

MILK IN THE PADUCAH, KY., MARKETING AREA

Decision on Proposed Amendments to Marketing Agreement and To Order

A public hearing was held upon proposed amendments to the marketing agreement and the order regulating the handling of milk in the Paducah, Ky., marketing area. The hearing was held, pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice (7 CFR Part 900), at Paducah, Ky., on December 12, 1972, pursuant to notice thereof issued on November 15, 1972 (37 FR 24760).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Regulatory Programs, on February 13, 1973 (38 FR 4671), filed with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision containing notice of the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto.

The material issue, findings and conclusions, ruling, and general findings of the recommended decision are hereby approved and adopted and are set forth in full herein.

The material issue on the record of the hearing relates to the Class I price.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The following findings and conclusions on the material issue are based on evidence presented at the hearing and the record thereof:

The Class I price should be the basic formula price (Minnesota-Wisconsin manufacturing milk price) for the second preceding month plus $1.70.

This formula will effect a 15-cent reduction in the Paducah Class I price, which is now determined by adding 25 cents to the St. Louis-Ozarks order Class I price for the same month. Under the St. Louis-Ozarks order, the Class I price is the basic formula price for the second preceding month plus $1.60. Thus, in effect, the current Paducah Class I price is the basic formula price for the second preceding month plus $1.85.

The 15-cent Class I price reduction was proposed by a major handler in the market whose plant is located at Paducah, Ky. He contended that the present Class I price ($7.17 per hundredweight in January 1973) is improperly aligned with Class I prices paid by handlers in surrounding Federal order markets and that the resulting price relationships place him at a disadvantage in competing for fluid sales with such handlers.

Proponent competes for Class I sales both within and outside the Paducah marketing area with handlers regulated under the St. Louis-Ozarks, Central Arkansas, Southern Illinois, Memphis, Louisville-Lexington-Evansville, Nashville, and Paducah orders. Handlers from each of these markets currently have route disposition in the Paducah marketing area. In each of the first 10 months of 1972, the number of other order plants having regular route disposition in the Paducah marketing area never fell below 12.

Paducah handlers compete with these same plants outside the marketing area. To the immediate north, in southern Illinois, Paducah handlers compete with handlers out of St. Louis where the price is 25 cents less than the Paducah f.o.b. market price and with Indiana plants regulated under the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville order with a 36-cent lesser price. They also compete with a Southern Illinois regulated plant located at Harrisburg, Ill. The Class I price at the Harrisburg plant is also 25 cents less than the Paducah Class I price.

Similarly, to the west of the marketing area in southeastern Missouri, proponent competes with St. Louis-based handlers. Proponent also competes with a St. Louis regulated handler whose plant is located at Cape Girardeau, Mo. At the present time, the price at Cape Girardeau is 10 cents less than the Paducah Class I price. However, official notice is taken that the Assistant Secretary has determined in a decision issued February 8, 1973, that the St. Louis-Ozarks Class I price applicable at Cape Girardeau be reduced 8 cents. This would result in the Cape Girardeau plant having an 18-cent lesser price than Paducah handlers.

To the east of the Paducah marketing area, Paducah handlers compete with handlers regulated under the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville and Nashville orders where lower prices likewise apply.

The Paducah marketing area is located in a predominantly agricultural region. Milk production in and around the market substantially exceeds the market's fluid requirements. Neighboring fluid milk markets also draw milk from the same region. The plants of Paducah regulated handlers are scattered through the milkshed in close proximity to the farm supply. Farm to plant hauling costs are generally less, when milk is delivered to Paducah regulated plants, than when delivered to plants in surrounding markets. Hence, it is clear that a price substantially higher than in surrounding markets is not necessary to maintain an adequate supply for the Paducah market.

Price alignment among regulated markets where intermarket handler competition occurs can be an important factor affecting market stability for producers supplying a given market. Handlers regulated under an order providing for a Class I price greatly exceeding the minimum prices required of competing handlers under other orders are in less favorable position to retain or expand Class I sales. Producers supplying the former therefore could, as a result of an order price requirement, face a possible loss of Class I market and disorderly marketing conditions. The potential for such disruptive conditions in this area has increased in recent years as handlers under milk orders in the region have begun servicing large volume accounts for various types of retail outlets, including supermarket and convenience store chains, with less home delivery of milk. Many of these accounts are serviced on a contract basis and may shift from one handler to another, or from one market to another, on the expiration of a contract.

It is quite possible under today's conditions that the shift of a single such contract from a handler regulated under one order to a handler regulated under a different order may leave producers supplying the former handler with a considerable amount of milk for which there is no fluid outlet. This could have serious adverse impact on producer prices, particularly in a market such as Paducah. A closer alignment of prices in this location will provide a reasonable basis for intermarket competition for Class I sales insofar as producer prices affect such competition, and consequent allocation of Class I sales among dairy farmers in the region serving Paducah and competing markets.

That Paducah handlers have had some difficulty competing for fluid sales is evident from the fact that Class I sales in the Paducah marketing area from plants regulated under surrounding orders have increased significantly over the past 3 years. These sales increased by approximately 12 percent between 1969 and 1970 and by an additional 10.5 percent between 1970 and 1971. This trend continued through 1972. In 9 of the first 10 months of 1972, sales in the Paducah marketing area from plants located under other orders exceeded those of the corresponding month of 1971. Conversely, in both 1970 and 1971, the volume, as well as the percentage, of producer milk under the Paducah order utilized in Class I declined from the previous year.

Although the number of producers for the Paducah market decreased significantly in the latter part of 1972, this decrease does not indicate necessarily any inadequacy of supplies for the market. Virtually all milk supplied to the Paducah market is marketed through a regional cooperative association that also carries on similar operations in neighboring markets. It can adjust supplies on the Paducah market by shifting producers under its regional marketing program to other markets that maintain manufacturing facilities and can handle supplies not required by Paducah handlers.

There were no opposing briefs filed by producers for the Paducah market or by Paducah regulated handlers.

A proprietary handler operating a plant at Paragould, Ark., and regulated under the Central Arkansas order opposed the Class I price reduction in a brief filed subsequent to the hearing. The handler contended that a price reduction of this magnitude would affect adversely his ability to compete for fluid milk sales. He proposed that any Class I price decrease made as a result of this proceeding should not exceed 7 cents.

Although the Class I price reduction adopted herein will not have the same effect in each competitive situation, the competitive circumstances described above warrant such a reduction. There is no indication from the evidence presented at the hearing that Paducah handlers, as a result of this action, will have any significant competitive advantage over handlers regulated by surrounding orders.

In a brief filed on behalf of a cooperative association with member producers in several of the order markets surrounding the Paducah market, it was argued that a misalignment of price in this several-market region should not be corrected by reducing the Class I price, but rather by increasing the Class I price in other order markets. The cooperative consequently opposed any change in the Paducah Class I price at this time.

There is insufficient evidence in the record that increases in the Class I price levels for the surrounding markets relative to Paducah are needed at this time. The evidence does indicate, however, that the Paducah Class I price exceeds the level needed to maintain an adequate supply and to insure orderly marketing for producers in view of competitive conditions in and around the Paducah market.

It is concluded therefore that a reduction in the Paducah Class I price is appropriate to improve the relationship of the Class I prices in this region for the reasons stated above and thereby will promote orderly marketing in the Paducah market.

RULINGS ON PROPOSED FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

GENERAL FINDINGS

The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE PADUCAH, KY., MARKETING AREA.

FINDINGS AND DETERMINATIONS

The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings. A public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Paducah, Ky., marketing area. The hearing was held pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR Part 900).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(2) The parity prices of milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order as hereby amended regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial or commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Paducah, Ky., marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the order, as amended, and as hereby amended, as follows:

This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders have been met.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

The provisions of the proposed marketing agreement and order amending the order contained in the recommended decision issued by the Deputy Administrator, Regulatory Programs, on February 13, 1973, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 20, 1973 (38 FR 4671), shall be and are the terms and provisions of this order, amending the order, and are set forth in full herein:

In § 1099.51, paragraph (a) is revised as follows:

§ 1099.51 Class prices.

(a) Class I price. The Class I price shall be the basic formula price for the second preceding month plus $1.70.

Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service

PROHIBITIONS AND REQUIREMENTS FOR LABELS AND CONTAINERS

Open Dating

Pursuant to the authority conferred by the Federal Meat Inspection Act (34 Stat. 1260, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) and by the Poultry Products Inspection Act (71 Stat. 441, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 451 et seq.) and delegated in 37 FR 28464 and 28477, notice is hereby given in accordance with the administrative procedures provisions in 5 U.S.C. 553 that the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service is considering amending Part 317 of the meat inspection regulations and Part 381—subpart N of the poultry products inspection regulations (9 CFR Parts 317 and 381) to require an explanation of the meaning of any date shown on the labeling of a meat or poultry product.

Statement of considerations. For many years meat and poultry processors have been using closed date codes on their products to advise retailers of the time they felt products would remain in a condition suitable for sale. The Department offered no objection to the practice provided the date shown on the labeling was a closed code.

Lately some processors have been placing open dates on the labeling of meat and poultry products without prior approval by the Department. These firms have classified products into several categories and assigned an open date to be shown on the package. Generally, these open dates identify the date of packaging, the last date the product should be consumed, or the date to remove the product from sale. Showing a date, without a clear explanation with respect to its meaning, may render the labeling to be false or misleading to the consumer. This would be in conflict with the misbranding provision of both the Federal Meat Inspection Act and the Poultry Products Inspection Act. Both Acts apply the term "misbranded" to any such article if, among other things, its labeling is false or misleading in any particular.

Consumer representatives have been advocating open dating of foods. They all agree that the open dating is in the interest of consumers. However, they are not in full agreement with respect to whether the date should represent the packaging date, or the last date the product should be consumed or removed from sale.

In proposing the following amendment the Department wishes to determine the consumers' reaction to such labeling and what he or she would normally expect such dating to mean.

Therefore, it is proposed to amend § 317.8(b) of the meat inspection regulations (9 CFR Part 317) by adding a following new subparagraph (32).

§ 317.8 False or misleading labeling or practices generally; specific prohibitions and requirements for labels and containers.

(32) When a calendar date is shown on the labeling it shall be further qualified by a statement explaining the meaning of the date immediately adjacent to the open date. Any qualifying statement used in conjunction with the open date shall be approved by the Administrator as prescribed in § 317.4. If the date refers to the continued wholesomeness of the product within the time period of the open date, the manufacturer shall furnish adequate test data and control of the product under normal marketing conditions to justify the date and statement.

Further, it is proposed to amend § 381.129 of the poultry products inspection regulations (9 CFR Part 381, Subpart N) by adding a following new paragraph (c).

(c) When a calendar date is shown on the labeling it shall be further qualified by a statement explaining the meaning of the date immediately adjacent to the open date. Any qualifying statement used in conjunction with the open date shall be approved by the Administrator as prescribed in § 381.132 of this part. If the date refers to the continued wholesomeness of the product within the time period of the open date, the processor shall furnish adequate test data and control of the product under normal marketing conditions to justify the date and statement.

Any person who wishes to submit written data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed amendments may do so by filing them, in duplicate, with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, before May 22, 1973.

Persons desiring opportunity for oral presentation of views should address such requests to the Labels and Packaging Staff, Scientific and Technical Services, Meat and Poultry Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, so that arrangements may be made for such oral presentations not later than the date specified in the preceding paragraph. A record will be made of all views orally presented.

All written submissions and records of oral views made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection unless the person makes the submission to the Staff identified in the preceding paragraph and requests that it be held confidential. A determination will be made whether a proper showing in support of the request has been made on the grounds that its disclosure could adversely affect such person by disclosing information in the nature of trade secrets or commercial or financial information obtained from any person and privileged or confidential. If it is determined that a proper showing has been made in support of the request, the material will be held confidential; otherwise, notice will be given of denial of such a request and an opportunity afforded for withdrawal of the submission. Requests for confidential treatment will be held confidential (7 CFR 1.27(c)).

Comments on the proposal should bear a reference to the date and page number of this issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Farmers Home Administration

[7 CFR Parts 1806, 1863]

[FHA Instructions 425.1, 426.1]

REAL PROPERTY INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE TAX SERVICING

Insurance and Tax Requirements

Notice is hereby given that the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) has under consideration a proposal to amend the insurance and tax requirements on real property securing the interest of FHA in connection with Farm Ownership (FO), Rural Housing (RH), Labor Housing (LH), Rural Rental Housing (RRH), Other Real Estate (ORE), Soil and Water (SW), Domestic Water (D), Waste Disposal (W), Grazing Association (G), Site Development (SD), Recreation (R), Emergency (EM), Operating (OL), Timber Development (TD), and Resource Conservation and Development (RCD) loans secured by real estate mortgages. The proposal to amend the insurance requirements involves §§ 1806.2(f), 1806.4(a)(2); and 1806.6 in its entirety; the proposal to amend the tax requirements involves only § 1863.4.

As proposed, the major policy changes involving insurance and tax requirements on real property securing the interest of FHA loans secured by real estate mortgages are summarized as follows:

1. Require all new or renewal insurance policies to contain an automatic renewal clause with provisions substantially as follows: "This policy will be automatically extended for successive terms at expiration of the original term and of each extension thereof, upon payment of renewal premium. It is a condition of this policy that if the policy expires or is canceled for nonpayment of premium, or for any other reason, it will remain in effect for 30 days after the mortgagee is notified by registered mail."

2. Contract with one insurance company to provide a 1-year insurance policy, upon notification by FHA, for any mortgagor who fails to secure and/or pay for acceptable coverage. The cost of such insurance plus a service fee will be charged to the mortgagor's account.

3. Contract for a delinquent tax reporting service which provides for the contractor to notify FHA when taxes are delinquent on any real property securing the interest of FHA. Upon notification of a tax delinquency, FHA will contact the mortgagor to arrange for payment. If the mortgagor is unable to pay the tax, FHA will pay the tax and charge the amount paid plus a service fee to the mortgagor's account.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposed amendment to the Deputy Administrator Comptroller, Farmers Home Administration, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 5007, South Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, on or before April 20, 1973.

All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the Office of the Deputy Administrator Comptroller during regular business hours (8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.).

Subpart N—Loans to Indian Tribes and Tribal Corporations

§ 1823.401 General.

This subpart provides policies and procedures applicable to the making of initial and subsequent insured loans to Indian tribes or tribal corporations for the acquisition of land (including interests therein) within the reservation or community. Whether lands lie within a tribal reservation or community under this subpart will be determined by the Secretary of the Interior or his authorized representative. Indian tribes or tribal corporations are not tax-exempt public bodies as defined in § 1823.252(a)(7).

§ 1823.402 Supplementing regulations.

Except for provisions inconsistent with this subpart, Subpart I applies to loans under this subpart, including in particular the provisions regarding repayment terms and deferred payments and professional services.

§ 1823.403 Eligibility.

(a) Eligibility for such a loan is limited to any Indian tribe recognized by the Secretary of the Interior or tribal corporation established pursuant to the Indian Reorganization Act (hereinafter referred to as the tribe or the applicant) which does not have adequate uncommitted funds to acquire land or an interest therein in an area, as determined by the Secretary of the Interior located within:

(1) The tribe's reservation.

(2) A community in Alaska incorporated by the Secretary of the Interior pursuant to the Indian Reorganization Act (hereinafter also referred to as the reservation).

(b) The applicant must be unable to obtain sufficient credit elsewhere at reasonable rates and terms to finance the proposed land acquisition.

(c) The proposed land acquisition must show reasonable prospects of success in the form of:

(1) A feasible plan for the use of the land acquired.

(2) Satisfactory evidence of financial ability to develop and operate the land.

(3) A satisfactory management plan.

§ 1823.404 Loan purposes.

Loan funds may be used by the applicant:

(a) To acquire lands or interest therein within the reservation for use of the applicant or its members, such as for:

(1) Lease to tribal members or others for dwelling, farming, grazing, or other purposes so long as the lease is for the benefit of the tribe or tribal members.

(2) Lease to cooperative grazing units.

(3) Recreational purposes.

(4) Rounding out grazing units.

(5) Elimination of fractional heirships.

(b) Other purposes approved in advance by the National Office.

(c) To pay costs incident to land acquisition including but not necessarily limited to appraisals, title, legal, surveys, and loan closing.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

§ 1823.405 Loan limitations.

- No loan funds can be used for:
- Development.
  - Equipment.
  - Operating costs.

§ 1823.406 Land rights.

Title to land acquired may, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, be in the name of the United States in trust for the applicant.

§ 1823.407 Tide clearance.

Section 1823.268 is applicable regarding title clearance if the recorded title to the land to be acquired has ever been held by anyone other than the United States of America in trust or restricted status. It will not be necessary to secure title insurance, an abstract of title, or the usual title opinion. In such cases, the condition of the title and the necessity for taking curative steps will be disclosed on the Title Status Report prepared by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

§ 1823.408 Special conditions.

Loans made under this subpart are subject to the following conditions:

(a) The proposed plan for use of the land must have the approval of the tribal council or other authorized governing body. If the plan involves land development, it should be in accordance with the recommendations of the appropriate Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) official after consultation with soil conservation specialists of BIA.

(b) The plan should be consistent with the land use pattern in the area. Any variations must be justified.

(c) The plan should make maximum use of cost sharing and technical assistance of Federal and State government programs, such as the Great Plains program.

(d) The loan dockets will be developed by the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) with the assistance of the BIA as requested.

§ 1823.409 Security.

All loans will be secured in a manner which will adequately protect the interest of the FHA and unless otherwise authorized by the Administrator, will consist of:

(a) Assignment of income. (1) An assignment of income from proven sources, verified from BIA records, will be taken in an amount sufficient to cover the annual FHA repayment plus a 25-percent margin.

(2) Collection of all income assigned to FHA will be handled as follows:

(i) A properly bonded official of the tribe or of the tribal land acquisition enterprise will receive the monies and issue receipts; therefore,

(ii) This bonded official will deposit such funds in a countersignature account in a commercial bank. The account would require signature of appropriate tribal and FHA officials for withdrawal. In lieu of establishing a countersignature account, such funds may be deposited in a reserve fund as shown in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Reserve fund. (1) Prior to loan closing, the tribe will be required to establish a reserve fund equal to a full annual installment on its FHA debt. This reserve fund can be put in interest-bearing savings or investments, but no portion of the principal deposited or invested can be withdrawn for any purpose, except a payment on the FHA debt, without the written consent of FHA.

(2) The reserve fund will be drawn upon only in case of default on the annual payment, and any such withdrawals will be replaced out of the first income received by the tribe after the withdrawal.

(c) Real estate security. (1) A first lien may be taken on the land acquired with loan funds and, if additional security is needed, a lien will be taken on additional real estate, except that a mortgage will not be required on any portion of a tract where fractional interests being purchased plus any interests that may be already owned by the tribe will give the tribe less than 100-percent ownership; or it is determined that, except for the Indian tribe or tribal corporation, there does not now exist and will not exist within the foreseeable future a market for the resale of the property. In making such determination, the State Director will consider the size of the tract and whether any part of it is adjacent to land owned by non-Indians, in addition to all other factors normally considered in determining the value and marketability of real estate.

(2) If a real estate mortgage is not taken, an agreement executed by the borrower will be recorded in the public records office serving the county in which the real estate is located. A copy of the agreement will be provided the BIA office serving the borrower tribe, provided that:

(i) The borrower will not at any future time mortgage any part of its land acquired at the time of the agreement or later acquired to anyone else without prior written permission of FHA.

(ii) The borrower will not modify its agreement involving income pledged to FHA with the tribal land acquisition enterprise or any other subsidiary without FHA's written consent.

(iii) The borrower will not assign any of the income from sources from which FHA is to receive its payments to any other creditor without FHA's written consent.

(iv) If the borrower should default in its annual payment to FHA, then FHA shall be authorized to take over and manage the lands from which income is assigned until sufficient income is received to cover FHA's costs of managing the lands and the amount due on the loan. The authorization to manage the lands shall include the authority to lease and collect rentals from the lands being managed and to contract with a person who will manage the property.

(d) Waiver of immunity. (1) The appropriate tribal official will execute on behalf of the tribe a waiver of immunity from suit in connection with the FHA loan.

(2) The waiver will be approved by the Secretary of Interior or his authorized representative.

§ 1823.410 Loan approval authority.

§ 1823.411 Purchase price.

The purchase price of land and rights and interest in land (such as easements, leases, permits, rights-of-way, water rights, and existing facilities for example) will not exceed their present market value, or, in condemnation cases the price established by the court.

§ 1823.412 Appraisals.

Present market value will be determined only after review of an appraisal report prepared in accordance with Subpart I of this part. Exceptions to the requirements of Subpart I of this part will be made in the case of loans to Indian tribes to the extent of permitting appraisal by approved BIA appraisers or qualified private appraisers approved jointly by the BIA and FHA representatives. In all cases, the BIA agency superintendent and the FHA State Director will concur on the appraised present market value.

§ 1823.413 Civil rights.

Indian tribes and tribal corporations as applicant-borrower-beneficiaries under this subpart, are not subject to Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 so long as the expected use of the land acquired does not include operation of a facility which would be open to the public and therefore, such applicant, subject to this condition, is not subject to Part 1816 of this chapter.

§ 1823.414 Review by National Office.

The complete docket including the proposed letter of conditions and the comments of the regional attorney on the attorney-in-charge will be submitted for review by the National Office prior to loan approval. The memorandum of transmittal must include the State Director's recommendations regarding approval.

§ 1823.415 Docket information.

(a) Material provided by applicant.

(b) Material provided by appropriate FHA personnel.

(1) Form FHA 442-1, "Appraisal Report (Farm Tract)."

(2) Form FHA 442-49, "Project Summary—Loans to Indian Tribes and Tribal Corporations."

(3) Form FHA 440-1, "Payment Authorization."

(4) Form FHA 440-3, "Record of Actions."

(6) Letter of Conditions.

(7) Form FHA 440-2, "County Committee Certification or Recommendation."

(8) Form FHA 442-48, "Letter of Intent to Meet Conditions."

§ 1823.416 State requirements.

Each State Director will, with the assistance of the Office of the General Counsel, supplement this subpart with State requirements, forms, worksheets, sample documents, and such other guidance as necessary to successfully carry out the program.

§ 1823.417 Check request and loan closing.

Checks will be requested and loans will be closed in accordance with §§ 1823.271 and 1823.272. Before any loan can be closed, the District Supervisor must notify the State Director in writing that all loan closing conditions have been met.

§ 1823.418 Loan supervision and servicing.

Loans will be supervised in accordance with Subpart G of Part 1802 of this chapter and serviced in accordance with Subpart F of Part 1801 of this chapter. The cooperation, assistance, and advice of appropriate BIA officials will be sought at all times.

NON-FEDERAL NAVIGATION FACILITIES

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 171 of the Federal Aviation Regulations to require that certain non-Federal navigation aids conform to revised standards for facility performance. The FAA has determined that future requirements for air navigation aids in the National Airspace System cannot be met with the number of frequencies now available for assignment. Examination of alternative solutions to this problem indicates that reduction of radio channel spacing from the present 100 kHz spacing to 50 kHz spacing is the most economical and practicable method of increasing the number of assignable frequencies. Concurrent with implementation of 50 kHz channel spacing, suppression of certain harmonic radiation and increased stabilization of radio frequencies will be essential to satisfactory operation of adjacent-channel facilities with 50 kHz channel spacing.

The Federal Communications Commission by regulation (47 CFR Parts 2 and 87) assigns frequencies in the aeronautical radio navigation band 108-117.975 MHz for non-Federal instrument landing systems (ILS), simplified directional facilities (SDF), and very high frequency omnidirectional radio ranges (VOR). The present provision in the FCC regulations for 100 kHz channel spacing results in the availability of 20 ILS channels and 80 VOR channels. The FCC by notice adopted on September 20, 1972

(Docket No. 19590, RM 1888; 37 FR 20872, Oct. 4, 1972), and at the request of the FAA, has proposed amendment of Parts 2 and 87 of the FCC regulations to provide for 50 kHz channel spacing in this frequency band. Adoption of the proposed amendments would double the availability of assignable channels for VOR and ILS.

The rapid expansion of aviation services has resulted in the need for additional terminal and en-route navigation aids. The limited number of assignable frequencies now available makes it impossible to provide for proposed and required navigation aids. This shortage of frequencies is most acute in the Boston-New York-Washington, Chicago-Detroit, and the San Francisco-Los Angeles areas, and effects both Federal and non-Federal installation programs. Installation of additional ILS and VOR facilities in these congested areas and elsewhere in the National Airspace System can only be accomplished with additional frequencies.

The FAA announced at the FAA Planning Review Conference in April 1970 that split channeling for the VOR, ILS, and TACAN/DME ("Y" channel) bands would be a necessity. FAA Advisory Circular AC 170-12 issued in October 1970 indicated that implementation of 50 kHz channel spacing was proposed to begin January 1, 1973, and that the new frequencies would be used initially only where necessary to accommodate new facilities in congested areas.

Advisory Circular 170-12 was also intended to serve as advance notice to aircraft operators that aircraft receiving equipment not designed for split channel operation would have limited service life expectancy in an expanding 50 kHz frequency environment.

Implementation of 50 kHz channel spacing will require an increase of frequency stability for the glide slope, localizer, SDF, and VOR ground transmitters. In order to provide for satisfactory adjacent-channel operation, the frequency tolerances of these transmitters must necessarily be reduced from the present 0.005 percent to 0.002 percent, and 9960-Hz subcarrier harmonics must be suppressed to the levels specified for 50-kHz frequency environment in Annex 10 to the Convention on International Aviation (ICAO).

With respect to VOR and ILS facilities operated by the United States (Department of Defense and FAA), stabilization of frequencies is expected to be accomplished by July 1, 1973, and in those areas where 50-kHz channel spacing is to be implemented and a requirement exists for suppression of harmonics, 9960-Hz subcarrier harmonics will be reduced to the levels specified in ICAO Annex 10. Additionally, it is expected that 50-kHz/Y channel assignments for new facilities to be operated by the United States will be made by the Office of Telecommunications Policy in areas where frequency saturation makes assignment of 100-kHz-spaced channels impossible. These channel assignments are to be made in such a manner as will avoid adjacent-channel interference for as long a period as is possible, and to enable aircraft equipped with avionics designed for 100-kHz channel spacing to continue to utilize all tunable frequencies in the area. It is anticipated that with the additional options available as a result of 50-kHz spacing, the requirement for suppression of harmonics at non-Federal facilities can be avoided until 1975.

Accordingly, while it is proposed that these amendments to Part 171 of the Federal Aviation Regulations be made effective on July 1, 1973, the requirement for suppression of harmonics would arise only with assignment of a nearby adjacent channel. In such a case, the operator of the non-Federal navigation facility would be given advance notice by the Administrator that 50-kHz channel spacing is to be implemented in the area and that a requirement for suppression of harmonics existed. Suppression of 9960-Hz subcarrier harmonics to the levels specified in Annex 10 to the Convention on International Aviation within 180 days would then be required by the proposed rule.

The FAA is informed that stabilization of the radio frequency in most non-Federal ILS, VOR, or SDF installations can be accomplished at a cost for materials of less than $75. The cost of suppressing harmonics will vary depending on the equipment installed. It is suggested that facility operators consult with the manufacturer of the equipment installed to ascertain the cost and feasibility of harmonics suppression.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend Part 171 of the Federal Aviation Regulations as follows:

1. By amending paragraph (a) of § 171.7 and by adding a new paragraph (e) to § 171.7 to read as follows:

§ 171.7 Performance requirements.

(a) The VOR must perform in accordance with the "International Standards and Recommended Practices, Aeronautical Telecommunications," Part I, paragraph 3.3 (Annex 10 to the Convention on International Civil Aviation), except that part of paragraph 3.3.2.1 specifying a radio frequency tolerance of 0.005 percent, and that part of paragraph 3.3.7 requiring removal of only the bearing information. In place thereof, the frequency tolerance of the radio frequency carrier must not exceed plus or minus 0.002 percent, and all radiation must be removed during the specified deviations from established conditions and during periods of monitor failure.

(e) Within 180 days after receipt of notice from the Administrator that 50-kHz channel spacing is to be implemented in the area and that a requirement exists for suppression of 9960-Hz subcarrier harmonics, the owner of the VOR shall modify the facility to perform in accordance with paragraph 3.3.5.7 of Annex 10 to the Convention on International Civil Aviation.

2. By adding a new paragraph (a) (4) to § 171.47 to read as follows:

§ 171.47 Performance requirements.

(4) The frequency tolerance of the radio frequency carrier must not exceed plus or minus 0.002 percent.

3. By amending paragraph (a) (4) of § 171.109 to read as follows:

§ 171.109 Performance requirements.

(4) The SDF must operate on odd tenths or odd tenths plus a twentieth MHz within the frequency band 108.1 MHz to 111.95 MHz. The frequency tolerance of the radio frequency carrier must not exceed plus or minus 0.002 percent.

4. By amending paragraph (a) (1) of § 171.111 to read as follows:

(1) The SDF must operate on odd tenths or odd tenths plus a twentieth MHz within the frequency band 108.1 MHz to 111.95 MHz. The frequency tolerance of the radio frequency carrier must not exceed plus or minus 0.002 percent.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the regulatory docket or notice number and be submitted in duplicate to: Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the General Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, AGC-24, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20591. All communications received on or before April 20, 1973, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action on the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

These amendments are proposed under the authority of sections 305, 307, 313(a), 601, and 606 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1346, 1348, 1354(a), 1421, and 1426), and section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act. (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR Part 87]

[Docket No. 19699, FCC 73-253]

AVIATION SERVICES

Notification Procedures of Aircraft Operating Under Fleet License

In the matter of amendment to Part 87 of the rules to provide for procedures to notify the Commission of the aircraft operating under a fleet license, Docket No. 19699.

1. The Commission has encountered difficulty in determining the owner or operator of aircraft radio stations operating in violation of the rules. Thus, in some cases it is not possible to notify the responsible person when a correction is needed in the operation of a station. In many cases it is particularly difficult to determine the owner or operator of aircraft containing radio equipment which was originally authorized under a fleet license. Such licenses are available to qualified applicants with two or more aircraft under their control. Changes to the complement of the aircraft fleets frequently occur during the term of a fleet license and usually the aircraft radio equipment is retained aboard the aircraft delivered to the new owner or operator.

2. Because of the transfer of aircraft from the control of one entity to another, the operation of contained aircraft radio transmitters also shifts from the originally authorized licensee to a new operator who may or may not be authorized to operate an aircraft radio station. The important point, however, is that transmissions from many aircraft are identified not by the usual radio call sign but by reference to the aircraft identification number. Thus, a transfer of aircraft to a new owner or operator requires a tracing procedure to determine and locate the current entity who has control over the aircraft and the contained radio. This imposes an impracticable and sometimes impossible burden on the Commission personnel concerned with the monitoring of aircraft radio transmissions in their efforts to locate the party responsible for operation of a station.

3. At one of the FCC field offices, it has lately been found that several aircraft transmitters were operating as much as 20 kHz off of their assigned frequencies, a dangerous condition which they were not able to bring to the attention of the owners. That particular office has a file of 97 aircraft numbers which it has not been able to trace to the owners or operators. This situation creates a hazard to the system which is, in many cases, quite unintentional on the part of the operators who would correct the out of tolerance condition if notified of the problem.

4. The Commission's rules provide for a fleet licensee to operate a number of radio equipped aircraft without specifically identifying the radio transmitters by serial number. Transfer of a radio transmitter from one aircraft owner to another as part of an aircraft sales transaction does not transfer authorization to use the transmitter. The license is, of course, not transferable from one owner or operator to another. Each new owner or operator of the aircraft must get his own license from the FCC unless he already holds a valid authorization. The previous owner or operator of the aircraft must notify the Commission that the aircraft is no longer covered by his fleet license.

5. Accordingly, it is proposed to establish notification procedures as set forth below. In preparing the proposed rules below, the Commission recognized that many aircraft stations are identified by radio telephone identifiers in accordance with § 87.115(e) of the Commission's rules. Nothing would be gained by notification of the aircraft that are identified in that manner, and they are exempt from the proposed procedure.

6. The proposed amendment, as set forth below, is issued pursuant to authority contained in section 4(i), and 303(b) (1) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

7. Pursuant to procedures set forth in § 1.415 of the Commission's rules, interested parties may file comments on or before April 23, 1973, and reply comments on or before May 3, 1973. All relative and timely comments and reply comments will be considered by the Commission before final action is taken in this proceeding. In reaching its decision in this proceeding the Commission may also take into account other relevant information before it in addition to the specific comments invited by this notice. Responses will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in the Commission's Broadcast and Docket Reference Room at its headquarters in Washington, D.C.

8. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.419 of the Commission's rules, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: March 7, 1973.

Released: March 12, 1973.

[SEAL] BEN F. WAPLE,

Secretary.

1. Amend Part 87, § 87.29(a) (2) to read as follows:

§ 87.29 Application for aircraft radio station license.

(2) An applicant, in applying for aircraft radio station license may specify on a single FCC Form 404, the total number of aircraft stations in his fleet. Under these circumstances, a single instrument of authorization (fleet license) may be issued for operation of all radio stations aboard the aircraft of the fleet. The Commission shall be advised of the specific aircraft included in the fleet in accordance with § 87.140.

2. Amend Part 87 by adding new § 87.140 as follows:

§ 87.140 Notification of aircraft in fleet.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, each applicant for a fleet license shall include, with the application for a fleet aircraft radio station license, the composition of the fleet. Each such application shall contain the aircraft registration number for each aircraft in the fleet. Additionally, each holder of a fleet license shall provide the Commission with notification of changes in the composition of the fleet immediately following the transfer of aircraft from the license holder to another owner or operator. Each change notice shall include for each aircraft the following:

- (1) Aircraft registration number.
- (2) New registered aircraft owners' name and address.
- (3) Fleet license holder.
- (4) FCC control number of the fleet license.

For change notification purposes, FCC Form—Is available at the Commission's Washington office and at each of its field offices. Change notices shall be sent to the Commission's office in Washington, D.C. 20554.

(b) The notification procedure set forth in paragraph (a) of this section does not apply to any aircraft station which will be identified solely by a radio-telephone designation in accordance with § 87.115(e).

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE ALLOWANCE Eligibility and Computation

The following proposed regulatory change to § 21.3021(a) provides that a child and wife of a serviceman who has a total disability evaluated as total and permanent in nature resulting from a service-connected disability are eligible for educational assistance benefits. The change to § 21.4272(d) also clarifies the present regulation concerning use of the measurement equivalency formula for computation of the educational assistance allowance when the veteran or eligible person pursues a program on other than the standard semester or quarter.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposal to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs (232H), Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Avenue NW., Washington, DC

20420. All relevant material received before April 20, 1973, will be considered. All written comments received will be available for public inspection at the above address only between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday (except holidays), during the mentioned 30-day period and for 10 days thereafter. Any person visiting Central Office for the purpose of inspecting any such comments will be received by the Central Office Veterans Assistance Unit in Room 132. Such visitors to any VA field station will be informed that the records are available for inspection only in Central Office and furnished the address and the above room number.

Notice is also given that it is proposed to make any regulations that are adopted effective the date of approval.

It is proposed to amend Part 21, Title 38, Code of Federal Regulations to read as follows:

1. In § 21.3021(a), paragraphs (1) (iii) and (3) (i) are amended to read as follows:

§ 21.3021 Definitions.

(a) "Eligible person" means:

(1) A child of a:

(iii) Veteran or serviceman who has a total disability permanent in nature resulting from a service-connected disability.

(3) The wife of a:

(1) Veteran or serviceman who has a total disability permanent in nature resulting from a service-connected disability.

2. In § 21.4272, paragraph (d) is amended to read as follows:

§ 21.4272 Collegiate undergraduate; credit-hour basis.

(d) Courses; measurement equivalency. Where a term is not a standard semester or quarter as defined in § 21.4200(b), the equivalent for full-time training will be measured by multiplying the credits to be earned in the session by 18 if credit is granted in semester hours, or by 12 if credit is granted in quarters, and dividing the product by the number of whole weeks in the session. The resulting quotient will be the semester hours on which educational assistance allowance will be computed using the criteria of § 21.4270 proper or the criteria of footnote 3 to that section, whichever is appropriate. In determining whole weeks for this formula, 3 days or less will be disregarded and 4 days or more will be considered a full week.

Approved: March 15, 1973.

By direction of the Administrator.

Deputy Administrator.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR NATIONAL DREDGING STUDY

Notice of Meeting

In accordance with section 10(a) (2) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Public Law 92-463) announcement is made that a meeting of the Advisory Committee for National Dredging Study is to be held on March 28, 29, and 30, 1973. The Committee was established by the Director of Civil Works, Corps of Engineers to provide advice on the requirements for the general outline of the National Dredging Study to be conducted by a management consultant firm. The study was recommended by the General Accounting Office in its report to Congress of March 23, 1972, titled, "Observation on Dredging Activities and Problems." In the reports of the House and Senate Appropriations Subcommittees on Public Works on the FY 1973 Budget Request specific reference was made to the GAO report and direction given to the Corps with respect to the GAO recommendation. The directives of the House and Senate Subcommittees are essentially requests to review in depth the Corps dredging policies and practices to determine how its dredging requirements can be accomplished in the most efficient, economical and timely manner; and further that due consideration should be given to those factors which directly affect reasonable bid prices from the dredging industry and possible unfair competition between Government-owned plant and contractor-owned plant. This is the first meeting of the Advisory Committee and the agenda provides for:

- (1) The establishment of the internal committee organization and rules of procedure.
- (2) The development of the scope and general outline of the study.
- (3) The development of the contractual requirements for the request for proposals for consultant services to accomplish the study. Within the facilities available (about 25 persons) the meeting will be open to observers. Observers may not participate in the proceedings of the meeting. Any member of the public who wishes to do so will be permitted to file a written statement with the Committee before or after the meeting.

The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. in Room 6-A-092, Forrestal Building, 1000 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC. A roster of Advisory Committee members may be obtained from Mr. Eugene B. Conner, DAEN-CWO-M, Office Agenda items are subject to change as priorities dictate.

During the open sessions shown above, interested persons may present relevant information or views orally to any committee for its consideration. Information or views submitted to any committee in writing before or during a meeting shall also be considered by the committee.

A list of committee members and summary minutes of meetings may be obtained from the contact person for the committee both for meetings open to the public and those meetings closed to the public in accordance with section 10(d) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

Most Food and Drug Administration advisory committees are created to advise the Commissioner of Food and Drugs on pending regulatory matters. Recommendations made by the committees on these matters are intended to result in action under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, and these committees thus necessarily participate with the Commissioner in exercising his law enforcement responsibilities.

The Freedom of Information Act recognized that the premature disclosure of regulatory plans, or indeed internal discussions of alternative regulatory approaches to a specific problem, could have adverse effects upon both public and private interests. Congress recognized that such plans, even when finalized, may not be made fully available in advance of the effective date without damage to such interests, and therefore provided that this type of discussion would remain confidential. Thus, law enforcement activities have long been recognized as a legitimate subject for confidential consideration.

These committees often must consider trade secrets and other confidential information submitted by particular manufacturers which the Food and Drug Administration by law may not disclose, and which Congress has included within the exemptions from the Freedom of Information Act. Such information includes safety and effectiveness information, product formulation, and manufacturing methods and procedures, all of which are of substantial competitive importance.

In addition, to operate most effectively, the evaluation of specific drug or device products requires that members of committees considering such regulatory matters be free to engage in full and frank discussion. Members of committees have frequently agreed to serve and to provide their most candid advice on the understanding that the discussion would be private in nature. Many experts would be unwilling to engage in candid public discussion advocating regulatory action against a specific product. If the committees were not to engage in the deliberative portions of their work on a confidential basis, the consequent loss of frank and full discussion among committee members would severely hamper the value of these committees.

The Food and Drug Administration is relying heavily on the use of outside experts to assist in regulatory decisions. The Agency's regulatory actions uniquely affect the health and safety of every citizen, and it is imperative that the best advice be made available to it on a continuing basis in order that it may most effectively carry out its mission.

A determination to close part of an advisory committee meeting does not mean that the public should not have ready access to these advisory committees considering regulatory issues. A determination to close the meeting is subject to the following conditions: First, any interested person may submit written data or information to any committee, for its consideration. This information will be accepted and will be considered by the committee. Second, a portion of every committee meeting will be open to the public, so that interested persons may present any relevant information or views orally to the committee. The period for open discussion will be designated in any announcement of a committee meeting. Third, only the deliberative portion of a committee meeting, and the portion dealing with trade secret and confidential information, will be closed to the public. The portion of any meeting during which nonconfidential information is made available to the committee will be open for public participation. Fourth, after the committee makes its recommendations and the Commissioner either accepts or rejects them, the public and the individuals affected by the regulatory decision involved will have an opportunity to express their views on the decision. If the decision results in promulgation of a regulation, for example, the proposed regulation will be published for public comment. Closing a committee meeting for deliberations on regulatory matters regulation will be published for public access to the committee itself or full public comment with respect to the decisions made based upon the committee's recommendation.

The Commissioner has been delegated the authority under section 10(d) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act to issue a determination in writing, containing the reasons therefor, that any advisory committee meeting is concerned with matters listed in 5 U.S.C. 552(b), which contains the exemptions from the public disclosure requirements of the Freedom of Information Act. Pursuant to this authority, the Commissioner hereby determines, for the reasons set out above, that the portions of the advisory committee meetings designated in this notice as closed to the public involve discussion of existing documents falling within one of the exemptions set forth in 5 U.S.C. 552(b), or matters that, if in writing, would fall within 5 U.S.C. 552(b), and that it is essential to close such portions of such meeting to protect the free exchange of internal views and to avoid undue interference with Agency and committee operations. This determination shall apply only to the designated portions of such meetings which relate to trade secrets and confidential information or to committee deliberations.

Dated: March 15, 1973.

SHERWIN GARDNER,
Acting Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Federal Aviation Administration
REDUCED CHANNEL SPACING FOR ILS, VOR, AND TACAN(DME)

Notice of Invitation for Comment

This notice requests comments and suggestions in accordance with Federal Aviation Administration policy of regular consultation with aviation users, the aviation industry, State and local governments, other Federal agencies, and the general public, concerning planning for development and improvement of the National Airspace System.

The FAA has determined that increased requirements for air navigation facilities in the National Airspace System (NAS) cannot be met with the number of frequencies now available for assignment for very high frequency omnidirectional radio ranges (VOR), instrument landing systems (ILS), simplified directional facilities (SDF), and tactical navigation distance measuring (TACAN(DME)) facilities.

The rapid expansion of aviation services in the NAS has resulted in the need for additional terminal and en route navigation facilities. The limited number of assignable frequencies now available makes it impossible to provide for proposed and required navigation aids. This shortage of frequencies is most acute in the Boston-New York-Washington; Chicago-Detroit; and the San Francisco-Los Angeles areas. Future requirements for installation of additional navigation aids in these congested areas and elsewhere in the NAS cannot be satisfied without increasing the number of radio frequency channels available for assignment.

Examination of alternative solutions to this problem indicates that reduction of radio channel spacing of these facilities from the present 100 kHz spacing to 50 kHz spacing is the most economical and practicable method of increasing the number of assignable frequencies. This action would double the availability of assignable channels for VOR, ILS, and SDF.

Concurrent with implementation of 50 kHz channel spacing, suppression of certain harmonic radiation and increased stabilization of radio frequencies for VOR and ILS facilities will be essential to compatible operation of adjacent-channel facilities with 50 kHz channel spacing.

The FAA announced at the FAA Planning Review Conference in April 1970, that split channeling for the VOR, ILS, and TACAN(DME) bands would be a necessity.

FAA Advisory Circular AC 170-12, issued in October 1970, indicated that implementation of 50 kHz channel spacing was proposed to begin January 1, 1973, and that the new frequencies would be used initially only where necessary to accommodate new facilities in congested areas. Advisory Circular AC 170-12 was also intended to serve as advance notice to aircraft operators that certain aircraft receiving equipment not designed for "split channel" operation might have limited service life in the new frequency environment.

The Federal Communications Commission by regulation (47 CFR Parts 2 and 87) assigns frequencies in the aeronautical radio navigation band 108-117.975 MHz for non-Federal ILS and VOR facilities. The present FCC regulations provide for 100 kHz channel spacing and result in the availability of 20 ILS channels and 80 VOR channels for assignment. The FCC by notice adopted on September 20, 1972 (Docket No. 19590, RM 1888; 37 FR 20872, October 4, 1972), and at the request of the FAA, has proposed amendment of Parts 2 and 87 of the FCC regulations to provide for 50 kHz channel spacing in this frequency band.

The Office of Telecommunications Policy assigns frequencies in the aeronautical radio navigation band for facilities operated by the United States.

Implementation of 50 kHz/Y channel spacing will commence early in calendar year 1973 by assignment of these new channels for facilities in areas where frequency saturation makes 100 kHz/X channel assignments impossible and by modifying all FAA VOR and ILS facilities to stabilize radio frequencies within 0.002 percent (in lieu of the present 0.005 percent tolerance). In areas where 50 kHz channel spacing is implemented, adjacent-channel VOR facilities will be modified to suppress undesired subcarrier harmonics, to insure compatible adjacent-channel operation of VOR and ILS facilities.

The Department of Defense has indicated that VOR and ILS facilities operated by the Army, Navy, and Air Force will be similarly modified by July 1, 1973.

The FAA is issuing a notice of proposed rule making (Docket No. 12649; Notice No. 73-9) proposing amendment of Part 171 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 171), Non-Federal Navigation Facilities, to require that all non-Federal VOR, SDF, and ILS facilities perform with a frequency tolerance not exceeding 0.002 percent, and to require that after notice from the Administrator that 50 kHz channel spacing is to be implemented in the area, and that a requirement exists for suppression of 9,960 Hz subcarrier harmonics, the facility be modified to perform in accordance with paragraph 3.3.5.7 of Annex 10 to the Convention on International Aviation.

The FAA recognizes that certain airborne receiving equipment now in use is not designed for split channel operation and may have limited service life in the new frequency environment. Many modern air carrier VOR-ILS receivers are understood to be capable of split-channel operation now, or with minor modification. Associated DME equipment is understood to have the capability of operating with Y channel TACAN(DME) facilities.

Many receivers in use by general aviation, however, have no provision for 50 kHz VOR-ILS or Y channel DME tuning. In addition, the receiver bandpass characteristics of many of these units will not permit their use in the new frequency environment. These receivers may receive disruptive interference from nearby adjacent-channel facilities, when 50 kHz has been widely implemented. It is understood that while some receivers may be economically modified for use with 50 kHz channel spacing, some others do not lend themselves to such modifications.

It is anticipated that the problem of adjacent-channel interference can be avoided at least until 1975 by application of interim facility separation criteria which provides for greater geographic spacing. Thereafter, if demands and requirements for additional facilities in the NAS compel compromise of this interim facility separation criteria, adjacent-channel interference may become an operational problem.

Equipment requirements for IFR flight now specified in § 91.33(d) (2) of the Federal Aviation Regulations include navigational equipment appropriate to the ground facilities to be used. As 50 kHz/Y channel implementation progresses an increasing number of en route and terminal facilities (50 kHz/Y channel facilities and 100 kHz/Y channel with adjacent-channel interference) would be unavailable for use with aircraft not equipped with avionics designed or modified for use with 50 kHz/Y channel facilities. IFR flight, with inappropriate equipment, attempting to utilize 50 kHz/Y channel facilities or 100 kHz/X channel facilities with adjacent-channel interference would be hazardous and in violation of the requirements of § 91.33(d) (2).

For flight planning purposes 50 kHz facilities will be identifiable by the operating frequency assigned. Locations where adjacent-channel interference would be encountered will be identified in Flight Information Publications. Additionally, 6-month advance notice of 50 kHz assignments for existing facilities, now operating with 100 kHz assignments, is planned to be given in Flight Information Publications.

A number of equipment manufacturers advise that modification kits and techniques have been developed for many units now in operational use. Owners and operators of airborne equipments are encouraged to investigate the feasibility of modifying present equipment and to ascertain the capabilities of new equipments prior to purchase.

Interested persons are invited to submit such written data and comments as they may desire on the program described herein. Comments should be submitted to: Director, Office of Aviation Policy and Plans, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20591, on or before April 20, 1973.

APPENDIX II—DEFINITION OF CODES FOR THE GENERAL NATURE OF EPA COMMENTS

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT OF THE ACTION
LO—Lack of Objections.
EPA has no objections to the proposed action as described in the draft impact statement, or suggests only minor changes in the proposed action.

ER—Environmental Reservations.
EPA has reservations concerning the environmental effects of certain aspects of the proposed action. EPA believes that further study of suggested alternatives or modifications is required and has asked the originating Federal agency to reassess these aspects.
EU—Environmentally Unsatisfactory.
EPA believes that the proposed action is unsatisfactory because of its potentially harmful effect on the environment. Furthermore, the Agency believes that the potential safeguards which might be utilized may not adequately protect the environment from hazards arising from this action. The Agency recommends that alternatives to the action be analyzed further (including the possibility of no action at all).

ADEQUACY OF THE IMPACT STATEMENT
Category 1—Adequate.
The draft impact statement adequately sets forth the environmental impact of the proposed project or action as well as alternatives reasonably available to the project or action.
Category 2—Insufficient Information.
EPA believes that the draft impact statement does not contain sufficient information to assess fully the environmental impact of the proposed project or action. However, from the information submitted, the Agency is able to make a preliminary determination of the impact on the environment. EPA has requested that the originator provide the information that was not included in the draft statement.
Category 3—Inadequate.
EPA believes that the draft impact statement does not adequately assess the environmental impact of the proposed project or action, or that the statement inadequately analyzes reasonably available alternatives. The Agency has requested more information and analysis concerning the potential environmental hazards and has asked that substantial revision be made to the impact statement.

If a draft impact statement is assigned a Category 3, no rating will be made of the project or action, since a basis does not generally exist on which to make such a determination.

[Docket No. 73-12]

SEA-LAND SERVICE, INC. ET AL.

Order of Investigation and Suspension Regarding Proposed IIA Surcharges in U.S. Atlantic and Gulf/Puerto Rico Trade

On March 17, 1973, and March 18, 1973, Sea-Land Service, Inc. (Sea-Land), Seatrain Lines Inc. (Seatrain), and Transamerican Trailer Transport Inc. (TTT) propose to put into effect surcharges in the trade between U.S. Atlantic ports and Puerto Rico amounting to 15.2 percent to allegedly offset increased labor costs resulting from their current contract with the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA). The surcharges were filed pursuant to special permissions authorizing that form of publication. In accordance with Amendment 1 to General Order No. 11 (46 CFR 512.3(d)(1)), each carrier has filed financial and other data in support of the increases.

The three carriers have used common methodology in arriving at the amount of surcharge requested. Basically they have computed the costs to them of each segment of the new IIA contract (October 1, 1971 to September 30, 1974) as compared with their costs under the contract ending September 30, 1971. The segments include:

- (a) Wages and fringe benefits at all ports;
- (b) Container royalties at all ports for containers loaded or stripped by non-ILA labor; and
- (c) Assessments by the New York Shipping Association.

The resulting dollar amounts, in the form of net increases in costs, were then applied to forecasted revenues from March 15, 1973, to September 30, 1974, to determine what percentage those revenues would have to be increased in order to recover the increased costs. In order to remain competitive, two carriers then lowered the amount of the proposed surcharges to the level of the third.

Twenty-five protests to these surcharges have thus far been received by the Commission raising various legal and factual issues. The Commission's staff has also reviewed the material filed in support of the increases and raises additional questions. Among the various issues are:

TTT's surcharge was filed 1 day later than those of Sea-Land and Seatrain.

Although the Sea-Land and Seatrain tariffs to which the surcharges apply include ports in the Gulf of Mexico as well as ports in the Atlantic, those two carriers have presented no data in support of application of the surcharges thereto.

(1) Whether costs incurred in the past may be recovered by a prospective rate increase.

(2) Whether costs which are based upon cargo carried in the past but which have become payable only at present can be used to justify a prospective rate increase.

(3) Whether costs which can be specifically identified with one port only (New York) should be recovered by a rate increase applicable to all ports in the trade.

(4) Whether costs which are assessed on a tonnage basis should be recovered on a revenue basis, thus giving preference to heavier and lower rated cargo.

(5) Whether the new IIA contract provides for productivity gains which would reduce the need for the proposed surcharges.

The rates upon which the surcharges are sought to be imposed are rates which are currently under investigation in Dockets Nos. 71-30, 71-42, and 71-43. In arriving at their projected 1972 rates of return in those proceedings, two of the carriers projected certain increases in IIA costs which are partially duplicative of the increases submitted in support of these surcharges.

Upon consideration of the carriers' data and of the facts stated above, the Commission is of the opinion that the proposed surcharges should be made the subject of a public investigation and hearing to determine whether they are unjust, unreasonable, or otherwise unlawful under sections 16 First and 18(a) of the Shipping Act, 1916, and sections 3 and 4 of the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933.

Under the circumstances, however, the Commission is of the opinion that the full exercise of its suspension authority would not be warranted. There are obviously cost increases under the new IIA contract, the full impact of which was unknown during the proceedings in Dockets Nos. 71-30, 71-42, and 71-43. By using Sea-Land's figures because of its position as the dominant carrier, and by eliminating costs which: (1) Have been admittedly incurred and paid in the past; (2) have not been adequately supported by sufficient data; and/or (3) which relate solely to expenses limited to the port of New York; the Commission has arrived at the conclusion that as an interim measure, that portion of the surcharge not exceeding 5.2 percent applicable to all U.S. Atlantic ports would not require suspension, although the entire surcharge will be subject to investigation herein.

The Commission is of the further opinion that the use of costs attributable to cargo carried in the past to justify prospective rate increases may be violative of the standards set forth in section 18(a) of the Shipping Act, 1916, and sections 3 and 4 of the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933.

Good cause appearing, therefore:

It is ordered, That pursuant to the authority of section 22 of the Shipping Act, 1916, and sections 3 and 4 of the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933, an investigation is hereby instituted into the lawfulness of the tariff pages and supplements listed in Appendix A hereto for the purpose of making such findings and orders as the facts and circumstances warrant. In the event the tariff matters hereby placed under investigation are further changed, amended, or reissued, such changes are hereby ordered to be made a part of this investigation;

It is further ordered, That pursuant to section 3, Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933, the aforementioned tariff pages and supplements are hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred to and including July 16, 1973, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission;

It is further ordered, That there shall be filed immediately by Sea-Land Service, Inc., Seatrain Lines, Inc., and Transamerican Trailer Transport, Inc., consecutively numbered supplements to the tariffs listed in Appendix A, which supplements shall bear no effective date, shall reproduce the portion of this order wherein the suspended matters are described, and shall state that the matters are suspended and may not be used until July 17, 1973, unless otherwise authorized by the Commission and that the suspended matters may not be changed, except as ordered herein, until this proceeding has been disposed of, or until the period of suspension has expired, whichever comes first, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission;

It is further ordered, That there may be filed by Sea-Land Service, Inc., Seatrain Lines, Inc., and Transamerican Trailer Transport, Inc., the tariff matter necessary to effectuate a surcharge of 5.2 percent on all rates between U.S. Atlantic ports and ports in Puerto Rico, such tariff matter to become effective on not less than 1 day's notice and to expire on July 16, 1973, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission;

It is further ordered, That pursuant to section 16 First of the Shipping Act, 1916, a determination shall be made as to whether these proposed increases, which attempt to recover costs based partially upon a tonnage assessment by a surcharge upon a rate (or revenue) basis, result in an undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to heavier and lower rated cargo, and/or subject lighter and higher rated cargo to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage;

It is further ordered, That pursuant to section 16 First of the Shipping Act, 1916, a determination shall be made as to whether the proposed application of the surcharge to all ports in the Trade gives undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to the port of New York or subjects the other ports to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage when at least a portion of the cost increases are applicable to only New York;

It is further ordered, That as part of this investigation, a determination shall be made as to whether the proposed surcharges listed in Appendix A are violative of section 18(a) of the Shipping Act, 1916;

It is further ordered, That copies of this order shall be filed with the appropriate tariff schedules in the Bureau of Compliance of the Federal Maritime Commission;

It is further ordered, That Sea-Land Service, Inc., Seatrain Lines, Inc., and Transamerican Trailer Transport, Inc., be named as respondents in this proceeding;

It is further ordered, That the following named parties be designated as petitioners in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure:

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM
BARNETT BANKS OF FLORIDA, INC.

Order Denying Acquisition of Bank

Barnett Banks of Florida, Inc., Jacksonville, Fla., a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act, has applied for the Board's approval under section 3(a)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(3)) to acquire 90 percent or more of the voting shares of Peninsula State Bank, Tampa, Fla. (Peninsula Bank).

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views, has been given in accordance with section 3(b) of the Act. The time for filing comments and views has expired and the Board has considered the application and all comments received in light of the factors set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

Applicant controls 37 banks with aggregate deposits of $1.1 billion, representing 6.6 percent of the deposits of commercial banks in Florida and is the second largest banking organization in the State. (All banking data are as of June 30, 1972, and reflect bank holding company formations and acquisitions approved through January 31, 1973.) The acquisition of Peninsula Bank, which has total deposits of $38.2 million, would increase Applicant's control of State deposits by 0.2 percentage points, and its rank among State banking organizations would not change.

Peninsula Bank controls 3.4 percent of the commercial deposits in the Tampa banking market as the second largest of the 10 remaining independent banks. The acquisition of Peninsula Bank would represent Applicant's third entry into this market. Applicant's larger market subsidiary, Barnett Bank of Tampa, Tampa, Fla. (Tampa Bank), located 4 miles northeast of Peninsula Bank, controls deposits of $16.6 million, representing 1.5 percent of total market deposits. Applicant's other market bank, Barnett Bank of Brandon, N.A., opened in October 1972 and is located 16 miles to the east in Brandon, Fla. Applicant also has two subsidiaries located approximately 20 miles from Tampa in Clearwater and St. Petersburg. The record indicates that approximately 75 percent of the deposits and 22 percent of the loans of Peninsula Bank are derived from the service area of Tampa Bank, and that approximately 14 percent of the deposits and 22 percent of the loans of Tampa Bank are derived from Peninsula Bank's service area. The Board concludes that substantial existing competition would be eliminated by consummation of this proposal.

The Tampa banking market encompasses the city of Tampa and its suburbs in Hillsborough County where 25 banks presently compete and eight of the State's 25 multibank holding companies are represented. The market is highly concentrated; the three largest holding companies control 69 percent of market deposits. Applicant's acquisition of subject bank would remove one of the remaining independent banks, located close to the downtown Tampa area, which could serve as a possible means of entry by a banking organization not presently represented in the market. It is the Board's judgment, based on this record, that area competition would be adversely affected by consummation of the proposed acquisition. Not only would substantial existing competition be eliminated and potential competition foreclosed, but a medium for deconcentrating the Tampa market would also be eliminated. Pursuant to the Act, the Board is required to deny this application based on its adverse competitive findings unless there are benefits accruing to the public which would prevail over and outweigh the adverse features cited above.

The financial condition of Applicant and its subsidiary banks appears to be generally satisfactory, especially in view of Applicant's commitment to improve the capital position of its subsidiaries. Management for Applicant's group is also generally satisfactory and prospects for Applicant and its system of banks appear favorable. The financial condition and managerial resources of Peninsula Bank are considered to be generally satisfactory and its prospects also appear favorable. Banking factors are consistent with approval of the application.

The banking needs of the Tampa area are satisfactorily served by existing financial institutions. Although Applicant proposes to assist Peninsula Bank in establishing trust services, in expanding data processing services, and in modernizing the bank's premises, it appears that none of these additions or improvements is of such import or benefit to the public that they would override the adverse effects this proposal would have on competition in the Tampa area. It is the Board's judgment that consummation of the proposed acquisition would not be in the public interest and the application should be denied.

On the basis of the record, the application is denied for the reasons summarized above.

By order of the Board of Governors,
effective March 13, 1973.

[SEAL] TYNAN SMITH,
Secretary of the Board.

COUNTY NATIONAL BANCORPORATION

Order Approving Acquisition of General Mortgage Company of St. Louis

County National Bancorporation, Clayton, Mo. (Applicant), a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act, has applied for the Board's approval under section 4(c)(8) of the Act and § 225.4(b)(2) of the Board's Regulation Y, to acquire all of the voting shares of General Mortgage Company of St. Louis (Company), St. Ann, Mo., a company that engages in the origination and servicing of real estate mortgage loans for its own account and others and acts as broker or agent with respect to credit life, credit disability, mortgage redemption, and homeowner's insurance in connection with extensions of credit. Such activities have been determined by the Board to be closely related to banking (12 CFR 225.4(a)(1), (3), and (9)).

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views on the public interest factors, has been duly published (37 FR 24852). Subsequently, Applicant requested separate Board consideration of the mortgage banking and insurance agency activities of Company and only the mortgage banking activities of Company are dealt with herein. The time for filing comments and views has expired and none relating to the mortgage banking activities of Company has been received.

Applicant controls one bank<sup>1</sup> with deposits of approximately $198.2 million, representing 4.7 percent of the commercial bank deposits in the St. Louis market.<sup>2</sup> Although Applicant's banking subsidiary originates and services mortgage loans for its own portfolio, its share of total mortgage loans in that market is less than 1 percent.

Company operates from a single office in St. Ann, Mo., where it is engaged in originating and servicing mortgage loans in the St. Louis market. In 1971, Company originated $10.9 million in mortgage loans for sale to investors and $2.3 million in construction loans for its own account. The combined share of total mortgage originations in the St. Louis market by Applicant and Company is substantially less than 2 percent of the total mortgage recordings in that market. With a mortgage servicing volume of $127.5 million, Company is the fourth largest mortgage company headquartered in St. Louis and is the 10th largest of the at least 25 mortgage banking companies with offices in the St. Louis market. In view of the relatively large number of other mortgage lenders in the market, elimination of this small amount of local competition would, in the Board's opinion, have no significantly adverse effect on mortgage lending in the area.

Approval of the proposed acquisition will make available to Company the financial and managerial resources of Applicant and permit Company to compete more effectively with the numerous mortgage departments of large banks and savings and loan associations in the area. Applicant also proposes to furnish additional funds to Company in order to increase the quantity of loans that Company can make for its own account. On balance, the Board concludes that these public benefits outweigh any possible adverse effect on competition.

Based upon the foregoing and other considerations reflected in the record, the Board has determined that the balance of the public interest factors the Board is required to consider under section 4(c)(8) is favorable. Accordingly, the application to acquire solely the Company's mortgage banking business is hereby approved. This determination is subject to the conditions set forth in § 225.4(c) of Regulation Y and to the Board's authority to require such modification or termination of the activities of a holding company or any of its subsidiaries as the Board finds necessary to assure compliance with the provisions and purposes of <sup>1</sup> By Order dated March 9, 1972 (1972 Federal Reserve Bulletin 405), the Board approved Applicant's application to acquire shares of a second bank, Big Bend Bank, Webster Groves, Mo. (deposits of $2.6 million). Approval, however, has been stayed under section 11(b) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1849(b)) as a result of an action by the Attorney General brought under the antitrust laws and arising out of the proposed acquisition.

FEDERATED TEXAS BANCORPORATION, INC.

Order Approving Formation of Bank Holding Company

Federated Texas Bancorporation, Inc., San Antonio, Tex., has applied for the Board's approval under section 3(a)(1) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(1)) to become a bank holding company through acquisition of 100 percent of the voting shares (less directors' qualifying shares) of (1) State National Bank of Corpus Christi, Tex., successor by merger to Corpus Christi State National Bank, Corpus Christi, Tex. (Corpus Christi Bank), (2) The American National Bank of Austin, Austin, Tex. (Austin Bank), and (3) The Alamo National Bank of San Antonio, San Antonio, Tex. (San Antonio Bank). The latter acquisitions are to be made through the acquisition of all of the shares of American First Corp., Austin, Tex., and Alamo Bancshares, Inc., San Antonio, Tex., both registered one-bank holding companies which own, respectively, all of the voting shares of Austin Bank and San Antonio Bank. The bank into which Corpus Christi Bank is to be merged has no significance except as a means to facilitate the acquisition of the voting shares of Bank. Accordingly, the proposed acquisition of shares of the successor organization is treated herein as the proposed acquisition of the shares of Bank.

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views, has been given in accordance with section 3(b) of the Act. The time for filing comments and views has expired, and none have been timely received. The Board has considered the application in light of the factors set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

Applicant is a newly-formed organization and has no operating history. Upon formation, Applicant would become the ninth largest banking organization and seventh largest bank holding company in Texas, and would control $537 million in deposits, representing 1.8 percent of Statewide deposits.<sup>1</sup>

Corpus Christi Bank ($179.2 million in deposits) is the largest of 26 banks located in the Corpus Christi SMSA, the relevant banking market, and controls 31.8 percent of deposits in that market. The second largest bank holding company in Texas—First City Bancorporation, Inc., Houston—has applied to acquire the second largest bank in Corpus Christi, with 20 percent of market deposits. The closest other proposed subsidiary bank is San Antonio Bank, located 145 miles northwest of Corpus Christi. Austin Bank ($177.2 million in deposits) is the third largest of 13 banks in the Austin SMSA banking market, controlling 17.6 percent of area deposits. The two larger banks control 28 and 23.8 percent of market deposits. Austin Bank is 80 miles northeast of San Antonio, where the closest proposed subsidiary bank would be located. San Antonio Bank ($180.6 million in deposits), the third largest of 35 banking organizations in the San Antonio banking market, defined as the San Antonio SMSA and Comal County, controls 9.7 percent of area deposits. The two larger banks in that banking market control 24.2 and 14.8 percent of market deposits.

It appears that consummation of the proposal would not have an adverse effect on existing competition inasmuch as each proposed banking subsidiary is located in a separate banking market, the closest of which are 80 miles apart. Deposit concentration in the markets would not be altered, and Statewide concentration would increase by only 1.8 percent. Approval of the application would not impede the future entry of outside bank holding companies nor inhibit the creation of additional bank holding companies in the markets involved. Approval would create a banking organization of sufficient size to compete effectively in the respective markets for the wholesale banking business which has been going to the larger banking organizations headquartered outside the markets. Competitive considerations are consistent with approval of the application.

Considerations relating to the financial and managerial resources and prospects as they relate to Applicant and the three proposed subsidiary banks are consistent with approval, in view of Applicant's commitment to inject additional capital into Austin Bank within 6 months after consummation. The major banking needs of the respective markets appear to be adequately served at the present time. However, the demand for more sophisticated banking services has grown as the southeastern part of Texas, in which Banks are located, has developed. However, it has been not the local banking organizations but rather the larger banking institutions headquartered in Dallas and Houston that have been providing such services. Approval would enable Applicant to better meet the need for the new and expanding services and allow it to better compete in the communities in which it operates, and these considerations lend weight toward approval. It is the Board's judgment that the proposed acquisition would be in the public interest and that the application should be approved.

On the basis of the record, the application is approved for the reasons summarized above. The transaction shall not be consummated (a) before April 12, 1973, or (b) later than June 13, 1973, unless such period is extended for good cause by the Board or by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas pursuant to delegated authority.

By order of the Board of Governors,
effective March 13, 1973.

Secretary of the Board.

FIRST BANCORP., INC. Order Granting Approval of Acquisition of Bank

First Bancorp., Inc., Corsicana, Tex., a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act, has applied for the Board's approval under section 3(a)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(3)), to acquire the successor by merger to Citizens National Bank in Ennis, Ennis, Tex. (Bank). The successor bank to Bank has no significance except as a means to facilitate the acquisition of voting shares of Bank. Accordingly, the proposed acquisition is treated herein as a proposed acquisition of the shares of Bank.

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views, has been given in accordance with section 3(b) of the Act. The time for filing comments and views has expired, and none have been timely received. The Board has considered the application in light of the factors set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

Applicant owns 24.7 percent of Bank and, in addition, controls one bank, First National Bank of Corsicana, with deposits of $41.7 million, representing less than one-half of 1 percent of all deposits of commercial banks in Texas. Acquisition of Bank (deposits of $16.8 million) would not significantly increase the concentration of banking resources in Texas.

There is little substantial existing competition between Applicant's banking subsidiary and Bank since they are located in different though adjacent banking markets and due to the fact of Applicant's substantial ownership interest in Bank. This latter factor also militates against the probability of future substantial competition developing between Applicant and Bank. The Board concludes that competitive considerations are consistent with approval of the application.

The financial condition, managerial resources, and future prospects of Applicant, its subsidiary bank, and Bank appear satisfactory, particularly in view of the fact that approval of this application will result in increased capital for Bank. These factors lend support for approval of the application. Considerations relating to the convenience and needs of the communities to be served lend some weight for support of approval of the application, since Applicant plans to provide greater management depth and certain specialized financial services, such as factoring and personal property leasing, which Bank does not presently offer. It is the Board's judgment that consummation of the proposed acquisition would be in the public interest and that the application should be approved.

On the basis of the record, the application is approved for the reasons summarized above. The transaction shall not be consummated (a) before April 12, 1973, or (b) later than June 13, 1973, unless such period is extended for good cause by the Board or by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, pursuant to delegated authority.

By order of the Board of Governors,
effective March 13, 1973.

Pursuant to section 10(a)(2) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, Public Law 92-463, 86 Stat. 770, the Securities and Exchange Commission announces the following public advisory committee meetings.

NOTICES

The Commission's Advisory Committee on a Model Compliance Program for Broker-Dealers, established on October 25, 1972 (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 9835), will hold meetings on March 27-28, 1973, at the offices of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., 1735 K Street NW., Washington, DC. The meeting on March 27 will commence at 10 a.m., e.s.t., and the meeting on March 28 will commence at 9 a.m., e.s.t.

This Advisory Committee was formed to assist the Commission in developing a model compliance program to serve as an industry guide for the broker-dealer community. Assisted by this Committee's work the Commission plans to publish a guide to broker-dealer compliance under the securities acts in order to advise broker-dealers of the standards to which they should adhere if investor confidence in the fairness of the marketplace is to be warranted and sustained. The Committee's recommendations are not intended to result in the expansion of Commission rules governing broker-dealers, but to inform broker-dealers as to the existing requirements and how they may comply with them.

The Committee's scheduled meetings will be for the purpose of reviewing drafts and proposals concerning the Committee's proposed report to the Commission on these compliance guidelines for broker-dealers.

These meetings are open to the public. Any interested person may attend and appear before or file statements with the Advisory Committee—which statements, if in written form, may be filed before or after the meeting or, if oral, at the time and in the manner and extent permitted by the Advisory Committee.

[SEAL] RONALD F. HUNT,
Secretary.

The purpose of this meeting will be to develop additional information for consideration by the ACRS in its review of the application of the Northern States Power Co. for op-

The following constitutes that portion of the committee's agenda for the above meeting which will be open to the public:

In addition to the above agenda item, the subcommittee will hold executive sessions at the beginning and at the end of the meeting to consider the above application which will not be open to the public.

These executive sessions will involve discussion of the individual opinions of the subcommittee members present and internal deliberations and formulation of recommendations. I have determined, under the authority of section 10(d) of Public Law 92-463 (the Federal Advisory Committee Act) that the discussion at these executive sessions, if written, would fall within exemption (5) of 5 U.S.C. 552(b); and that it is essential to close such portions of the meeting to protect the free interchange of internal views and to avoid undue interference with agency or committee operation.

Practical considerations may dictate alterations in the above agenda or schedule.

With respect to public participation in the open portion of the meeting, the following requirements shall apply:

(a) Persons wishing to submit written statements regarding the agenda item may do so by mailing 25 copies thereof, postmarked no later than March 27, 1973, to the Executive Secretary, Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545. (b) Those persons submitting a written statement in accordance with paragraph (a) above may request an opportunity to make oral statements concerning the written statement. Such requests shall accompany the written statement and shall set forth reasons justifying the need for such oral statements during a period of not more than 30 minutes at an appropriate time, chosen by the chairman of the subcommittee, between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. on the day of the meeting.

(c) Requests for the opportunity to make oral statements shall be ruled on by the chairman of the subcommittee, who is empowered to apportion the time available among those selected by him to make oral statements.

MOTOR CARRIER APPLICATIONS AND CERTAIN OTHER PROCEEDINGS

MARCH 16, 1973.

The following publications are governed by the new Special Rule 1.247 of the Commission's rules of practice, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, issue of December 3, 1963, which became effective January 1, 1964.

The publications hereinafter set forth reflect the scope of the applications as filed by applicant, and may include descriptions, restrictions, or limitations which are not in a form acceptable to the Commission. Authority which ultimately may be granted as a result of the applications here noticed will not necessarily reflect the phraseology set forth in the application as filed, but also will eliminate any restrictions which are not acceptable to the Commission.

APPLICATIONS ASSIGNED FOR ORAL HEARING

MOTOR CARRIERS OF PROPERTY

No. MC 22182 (Sub-No. 21) (Republication), filed November 24, 1971, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of January 6, 1972, and republished this issue. Applicant: NU-CAR CARRIERS, INC., 950 Haverford Road, Post Office Box 172, Bryn Mawr, PA 19010. Applicant's representative: Gerald K. Gimmel, 705 McLachlen Bank Building, 666 Eleventh Street NW., Washington, DC 20001. An Order of the Commission, Division 1, Acting as an Appellate Division, dated January 31, 1973, and served February 14, 1973, finds that a previous Order of the Commission, Review Board No. 1, dated September 5, 1972, and served September 12, 1972, should be modified to find that the present and future public convenience and necessity require operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of motor buses, in secondary movements, in truckaway service, (1) from Baltimore, Md., and points in that portion of the New York, N.Y., commercial zone as defined by the Commission in the Fifth Supplemental Report in Commercial Zones and Terminal Areas, 53 M.C.C. 451, within which local operations may be conducted under the exemption provided by section 203(b) (8) of the Interstate Commerce Act (the "exempt" zone), to points in the United States (except Alaska and Hawaii), and (2) between points in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida, restricted in (1) and (2) above against the transportation of shipments destined to the plantsites of General Motors Corp., GMC Truck and Coach Division, at Pontiac, Mich.; that applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform such service and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act and the Commission's rules and regulations thereunder. Because it is possible that other parties who have relied upon the notice of the application as published, may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority described above, issuance of a certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of this publication of the authority actually granted, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition for intervention or other relief in this proceeding setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been so prejudiced.
